Marinites Come To Family's Aid

By ANNE BARDWELL

Christmas came early to the Bill Huskey family yesterday as more than 35 persons appeared at their campsite in Samuel P. Taylor Park, offering the homeless family shelter and food for the holiday season.

Bill Huskey with his wife, Joy, and their five children had been camping in the park the past two weeks because they had been unable to find a house to rent after a chain of misfortunes left them homeless, jobless and sick in early November.

Among those, who came to the Huskeys' leaky tent in the park in response to an Independent-Journal story yesterday about their plight, was a couple which offered the family temporary housing in a summer home in Inverness.

By 11 p.m., the Huskeys had been moved into the large summer house by the couple who wish to remain unidentified.

"It was beautiful, all those people and their concern," said Joy Huskey today. She explained that the couple offered them the summer home "for a couple of weeks until we can find a place of our own to rent. We still need a bouse," Mrs. Huskey said.

Response to the article came early in the afternoon when a young couple from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo appeared at the campsite with a box of Christmas presents for the Huskey children who range in age from 2 to 12.

"They were so nice; they even wanted us to move into their one bedroom apartment with them," Mrs. Huskey said.

Shortly after dark, others began appearing at the campsite including an elderly couple who wanted the family to move into their home while they were gone over Christmas, two hippie girls who were living in a house with 14 other persons and wanted the Huskeys to join them, and many others who brought food, presents and concern, sympathy and a desire to help.

At one time there were 20 people there drinking coffee and

School's Advisers Urge Black Roles

Social and economic oppression of blacks, lack of black policemen and newsmen in Marin and poor communications were blamed by a special citizens committee yesterday as major contributors to problems of Sausalito's Martin Luther King School and the surrounding community.

The committee, appointed last month by King Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr., presented a 12-point report on "community concerns" to Walton and members of the King faculty at a meeting at the school yesterday.

A public meeting to present the report to interested residents, scheduled last night, was canceled and will probably be held later, a spokesman said.

Walton, who was not available for comment on the report today, indicated earlier he would study it, and reports from other committees, with an eye towards developing his program for the second semester at King.

One of the major concerns listed by the committee of parents, newsmen and King school staff was the "need of the Sausalito and Mill Valley police departments to help present a more positive image in the school district."

The report said black policemen must be hired in the two cities, adding, "one way this might be accomplished is to do away with the present policy of not hiring people with criminal records."

Committee member Gabe Jackson said at a meeting Monday night, when the report was hammered out in a six-hour session, that it would be difficult to find an otherwise eligible young black man in Marin City who did not have some sort of police record.

The citizens group also urged the hiring of liaison people from the black commu-

Market Bounds On Strength Of Burns Statement

NEW YORK (AP) — The long-suffering stock market rallied strongly today, bolstered by statements from Arthur F. Burns, nominee for chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

The widely watched Dow Jones industrial average closed up 13.33, the best day's gain since last April.

Analysts attributed the bound upward to Burns' statement before the Senate Banking Committee that if confirmed as chairman of the Federal Reserve, he would be watching with the closest attention to see when the current tight money policy could be made less restrictive.

The Federal Reserve's tight money policies have been widely cited in the investment community as one of the main causes of the stock market's recent steep slide—as measured by the Dow—to its lowest point in more than three years.

Senators Favor Burns For Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Arthur F. Burns won speedy approval of the Senate Banking Committee today to head the Federal Reserve System after he told members he believed an economic recession could be avoided.

Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the panel was unanimous in approving Burns to succeed William McChesney Martin as chairman of the board of governors of the system.

The pipe-smoking economist, who has served as counselor to President Richard M. Nixon during the past year, won high praise from Republicans and Democrats on the committee.

Nixon Tells Congress To Forget Popularity In Curbing Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon says his fight against inflation is in danger but could be rescued if Congress forgets "the cost in political popularity" and cuts down federal spending.

"At stake is nothing less than the future of the American economy," Nixon said in a Dutch-uncle letter sent to House and Senate leaders yesterday.

The President said his $192.9 billion federal spending ceiling is threatened by $6 billion in rising costs that are beyond his control and added millions dictated by congressional action—and inaction.

The letter, timed to coincide with Congress' efforts to pass a tax reform bill and complete action on appropriation measures for the current fiscal year, also said:

"The responsible path toward protecting the buying power of the consumer's dollar is clear. But the Congress has not appeared willing to take that path."

The keynote of Nixon's 1,200-word message was responsibility. "The Congress, along with the executive branch, carries the responsibility for the economic health of the nation," he told the leaders.

Nixon coupled his plea for responsibility with a new attack on the tax reform bill, now before a conference committee for long hours each day in an effort to compromise the Senate and House versions.

"The Congress appears to be well on its way to substituting tax reduction for tax reform," he said. "This will harm rather than help the average taxpayer. Sugar-coating a bitter pill is understandable, but all sugar-coating and no pill will not help the patient.

And because of the way money multiplies as it moves from spender to spender, Nixon said, "A billion dollars of federal spending or tax relief can add many times that amount to the escalation of our rising price levels."

"Inflation—the hole in everybody's pocket—is the most unfair tax of all," he said.

Despite the fact that a combination of congressional action and inaction "would load an additional $5 billion onto an already overheated economy," Nixon said, "recent Senate tax actions . . . would, if approved, actually take $1.6 billion away from revenues."

It is this combination of added spending—such as $1 billion the Senate added Tuesday to the health and education appropriation—and revenue loss written into the tax bill that appeared to disturb Nixon most.

He has said he will veto the bill if it contains both a personal exemption increase from $600 to $800 and a 15 per cent boost in Social Security payments, as the Senate version does.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence misjudged enemy strength in South Vietnam last year by at least 68,000 men.

This conclusion is inescapable after comparing a new official estimate with an earlier calculation of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong manpower for the fall of 1968.

The Pentagon said last night "revised best estimates of enemy strength in South Vietnam during the fall of 1968 now indicate an enemy force of at least 290,000."

Checking back a rundown issued in early September estimated enemy manpower in South Vietnam as of Oct. 25, 1968 ranged between 207,000 and 222,000.

There was no immediate official explanation for the wide variance in the estimates. But it tends to underscore Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's reluctance to deal publicly in numbers.

It also casts doubt on the Pentagon's new "best estimate" that there were at least 240,000 of the enemy in South Vietnam this fall.

The Pentagon put out the new figures for autumn 1968 and autumn 1969 after Laird, under questioning by newsmen said Tuesday: "I would estimate that the range of enemy presence in Vietnam is in the neighborhood of at least 40,000 below last year."

In trying to avoid citing specific figures, Laird said "it's not an easy task" to estimate enemy troop strength.

He has preferred to talk in generalities about North Vietnamese infiltration of the South, saying there has been an in-

U.S. Income Rise Continues Slow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income of Americans increased $3.2 billion last month, the third consecutive month of relatively slow growth, the Commerce Department reported today.

The department said personal income hit a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $766.9 billion in November.

The figures over the past three months have been well below the monthly average increase of about $5 billion in the first eight months of the year.

Government economists concluded that the slow growth in income was evidence that inflation was gradually being slowed.

GOP's Patronage Sweep Nearly Total

Appointive Jobs 94 Pct. Shifted; Some Demos Still

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proded by complaints from patronage-starved Republicans last spring, the Nixon administration has made a fairly clean sweep of replacing Democrats with GOP appointees in policy jobs.

Of 2,150 confidential or political posts available, Presidential Assistant Harry Flemming said in an interview, 2,020, or 94 per cent have been handed over to Republicans.

Nonetheless, dozens of holdovers from Democratic administrations remain. Some are in policy jobs, but most of them are below the "assistant secretary" level, mainly in assignments that tend to be handled by career government employees and seldom turn over with a change of administrations.

There have been some cries of foul from Democrats. Mostly they are complaints that office holders in supposedly safe career berths found their jobs "abolished"—and new posts created with Republican appointees.

One veteran Democratic holdover observed, privately, that Republicans have acted no differently than did the Democrats when John F. Kennedy became president.

"In fact," he said, "the Republicans are a little slow about it, if anything.

"The guys who are complaining are usually the ones who wouldn't be in the government except for the same kind of pull."

Flemming acknowledged that "the age old tactics of abolishing jobs" have been used in some agencies but said it "is not as common as people would think."

Asked whether President Richard M. Nixon is satisfied that Republicans have taken effective control of the government machinery, White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said:

"We are pleased with the progress. There are some exceptions, especially in agencies where reorganization plans are pending, but the major policy positions have been filled to our satisfaction."

A series of forceouts has made recent headlines. Latest was Nixon's announcement yesterday he would fire Robert M. Morgenthau as U.S. attorney for the southern New York district. Nixon is nominating Republican lawyer Whitney North Seymour to replace Morgenthau, who was Democratic candidate for governor of New York in 1961.

A few days earlier Dr. Herbert L. Ley Jr. was ousted as commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration. Two of Ley's top aides also were removed by Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch.

The two aides were offered other jobs in HEW; one is taking the offer, the other is retiring.

Raymond H. Lapin of San Francisco, fired by Nixon as president of the Federal National Mortgage Association, is putting up a battle in the courts.

Lapin, an appointee of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, is a Democrat in a post that will pay $85,000 a year when FNMA's transition from a federal mortgage banking agency to a private corporation is completed. But more than that juicy patronage plum is at stake.

Though popular in the housing and finance industry, Lapin had clashed with Secretary of Housing George Romney on how FNMA should support the housing market.

The familiar abolish-the-job device was used last week to oust Kenneth Burns, a Texas Democrat who got a $25,000 job last December, a month after Nixon's election victory. Burns was solicitor of the Federal Maritime Commission.

Church Bloc Asks Dec. 24 Peace Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prominent church leaders endorsed the idea today of making this Christmas Eve a day of prayer for peace in Vietnam.

A Christmas peace statement sponsored by the Vietnam Moratorium Committee was read by the Rt. Rev. Paul Moore, Episcopal suffragan bishop of Washington and supported in person by the president of the National Council of Churches, Mrs. Cynthia Wedel.

THE ENDORSERS

Bishop Moore, recently elected bishop coadjutor of New York, noted that the call to prayer had been endorsed by the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., Yale University chaplain; Mrs. Martin Luther King, widow of the civil rights leader; Bishop Charles Golden of the United Methodist Church, San Francisco; Auxiliary Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton of the Detroit Roman Catholic archdiocese; Father John Sheerin, editor of Catholic World, and theologian Reinhold Niebuhr.

Mrs. Wedel told a news conference she believes many members of the National Council believe "the present administration is sincrely trying to end the war" and that its efforts should be helped by prayers for peace. She said her endorsement of the Christmas Eve call "is not a blanket endorsement of Moratorium Committee activities, but we hope we can support many of them."

'GIVE UP DAY'

The moratorium statement urges Americans to "give up one day of merrymaking during this season and make it instead a day of penitence and mourning for all the victims."

It asks that "on this day of prayer you think about the immorality of this war . . . and think about our responsibility to the innocent victims of this war who want only to live in peace in their own land."

Finch Wrestles Loyalty Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Say you are a Republican Cabinet secretary who discovers one of your department's public information officers firing darts at a picture of President Richard M. Nixon.

Or you find that a second and high ranking information official has not stopped one of his subordinates from ordering for government distribution several thousand reprints of a laudatory magazine article about Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, a potential Democratic challenger to Nixon in 1972.

What to do? If you are Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch, you would move to transfer these three to unglamorous new posts, presumably to encourage their resignations.

And you would cast about for ways to place more Repulicans in top information posts reserved for supposedly nonpolitical career civil servants.

A plan now under consideration would transfer the top information jobs in seven major bureaus from civil service status to noncareer, politically appointed posts.

Baxter Omohundro, Finch's chief of information, argues the shift is logical because he said the seven information chiefs must have a good working relationship with and the absolute confidence of their agency heads.

"Rubbish," says one of Finch's bureau information chiefs, who understandably requested anonymity. "All they want to do is run party loyalists into these jobs for patronage reasons."

The girl with the Nixon dart board has been shifted from the Food and Drug Administration to the Administration on Aging.

The official involved in the Muskie reprint operation has been offered a newly created and undefined post as assistant information chief for "extradepartmental affairs." He is resisting the change.

The reprints have been confiscated and locked in a closet near Finch's office.

The one-time Democratic editor has been offered a new post with the Social Security Administration in Baltimore,

The Pentagon put out the new figures for autumn 1968 and autumn 1969 after Laird, under questioning by newsmen said Tuesday: "I would estimate that the range of enemy presence in Vietnam is in the neighborhood of at least 40,000 below last year."

In trying to avoid citing specific figures, Laird said "it's not an easy task" to estimate enemy troop strength.

He has preferred to talk in generalities about North Vietnamese infiltration of the South, saying there has been an in-

U.S. Income Rise Continues Slow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income of Americans increased $3.2 billion last month, the third consecutive month of relatively slow growth, the Commerce Department reported today.

The department said personal income hit a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $766.9 billion in November.

The figures over the past three months have been well below the monthly average increase of about $5 billion in the first eight months of the year.

Government economists concluded that the slow growth in income was evidence that inflation was gradually being slowed.

Millions See Tiny Tim's TV Nuptials

TINY TIM AND MISS VICKY — Herbert Buckingham Khaury and Victoria May Budinger pose in the TV studio where they were wed during a taping of the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show. Five hours later last night the wedding of the falsetto-warbling entertainer and his teen-age bride was watched by a TV audience estimated at up to 35 million.

(AP Whirephoto)

Then Tiny Tim sang "The Wedding Song for Miss Vicky" and "You Were There" in his warbling falsetto.

The ceremony, in NBC's Manhattan studios, was taped before 250 guests and telecast five hours later. NBC estimated that 30 to 35 million viewers watched the vows, stealing the top audience ratings for the night.

Tiny Tim and his 17-year-old bride had their backs to the camera throughout the nondenominational service performed by the Rev. William Glenesk of Brooklyn's Spencer Memorial Church. Then they joined Carson and his other guests in the standard lounge format.

The couple vowed to be "sweet, gentle, kind, patient, not puffed up, charitable, slow to anger and swift to forgive." They were surrounded by 10,000 tulips flown from Holland.

Miss Budinger, with hair bobbed and in an off-white Victorian-style gown of peau de soie with lace collar and sleeves, was given away by her father, Alan Budinger of Haddonfield, N.J.

Carson proposed a champagne toast, but the couple said they didn't drink liquor. Tiny Tim mixed a milk-and-honey tonic that he said was "the good Lord's food."

They leave today for a Bahamas honeymoon. The first three days will be spent apart, Tiny Tim said, in accordance with the Old Testament tradition of Tobias.

"I really think there has to be l-o-v-e at first sight," Tiny Tim said, recalling how he met "Miss Vicky" in a Philadelphia department store last June as he autographed copies of his book. "It's just like a hit song, you know it right away."

Tiny Tim — whose own estimate of his age runs from 37 to "ageless" to the mid-40s — rode to fame on his warble and ukelele after years as an obscure performer in small New York music clubs.

His biggest hit was "Tiptoe Through the Tulips." Nick Lucas, who first popularized the song, was a wedding guest and sang the song on the "Tonight" show.

A New TV, Radio Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional support was asked today for an expanded educational television series testing the ability of creative television to teach everything from primary to adult courses.

The success of the "Sesame Street" series for preschool children should be amplified, followed up, said John W. Macy Jr., president of the Corp. for Public Broadcasting. His remarks were prepared for his appearance before a House education and labor subcommittee.

"What is needed," Macy said, "is a dramatic example of how the techniques of television, not merely a television camera trained on an instructor, can help the teacher in the classroom reach the students with lessons of importance."

Beaks Earn Bills

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Jackdaws, magpies and a rook have collected more than 3,000 pounds (7,200 dollars) for Southampton's children's hospital. Passersby push coins for charity through the wire screens of a nearby aviary to see the birds take the money in their beaks.

Raid Across Suez

CAIRO (AP) — An Egyptian infantry unit crossed the northern Suez Canal before dawn today, attacked Israeli positions and destroyed one tank and two armored cars, the Egyptian military command claimed.

Israel denied the loss of the tank and armored cars, but admitted that about 30 raiders in two groups crossed the canal during the night. It said Egyptian fire killed an Israeli male nurse as he tended a wounded soldier, and "several" Egyptians were casualties.

The Egyptian announcement, broadcast by Cairo Radio, said there were three Egyptian casualties.

New Rail Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The renewed threat of a nationwide railroad shutdown after New Year's poses a post-holiday hangover for the Nixon administration following union members' rejection of the biggest wage proposal in their history.

"I'm naturally disappointed," Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said yesterday. He had directed government efforts to reach the tentative settlement after three days of gruelling, marathon bargaining two weeks ago.

"The agreement was shot down by a vote of close to 2-1," said Vice President J. W. O' Brien of the AFL-CIO Sheet Metal Workers with 8,000 members involved.

Members of three other AFL-CIO shopcraft unions in the dispute — Machinest, Electricians and Boilermakers — narrowly approved the proposal, but the unions had agreed none would accept unless all did. Thus about 5,000 Sheet Metal Workers who voted "No" killed the settlement involving a total of 48,000 men.

New Batteries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas spent five days in the hospital last month having the batteries of his heart pacemaker replaced, a spokesman says.

Douglas was at Walter Reed Armu hospital from Nov. 3 to Nov. 8. The pacemaker was implanted in the 71-year-old justice in June 1968 to correct an abnormally slow pulse rate.

"He's healthier than you or I," his spokesman remarked yesterday.

Holiday Visitors

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor have flown in from Geneva for their first visit to the United States in a year.

They told reporters at Kennedy Airport yesterday they would stay a while in New York before going on to Hawaii to visit Miss Taylor's brother Howard.

Antiwar Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New Mobilization Committee has launched a month-long crusade to focus national attention on the Vietnam war, starting with a "no Christmas-as-usual" campaign and ending with massive demonstrations on Memorial Day.

The "winter-spring offensive" announced by the committee yesterday will include antiwar demonstrations on Good Friday, March 27, and an antitax demonstration on April 15, the deadline for filing federal income tax returns.

Stewart Meacham, cochairman of the committee, said at a news conference that "as long as the government is carrying on its tragically criminal policy in Vietnam, there can be no Christmas as usual."

McCloskey Urges A Federal Panel In Pollution Battle

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — U.S. Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-11th Dist. (Calif.) proposed yesterday the creation of a federal commission or cabinet office of pollution and waste disposal.

The commission, McCloskey told a Yale University audience, would have the power to tax industries for the pollution or waste they produce.

The tax, he said, would provide industries with something they now lack—an economic incentive to do something about the pollution and waste they produce.

The commission on pollution and waste disposal was one of two commissions the congressman proposed.

The second would be on national land use and would demarcate those areas in the country "which shall be agricultureal, conservation and urban."

The land use commission would have a revolving fund out of which it would pay land owners whose property decreases in value as a result of the commission's land use designations.

"All of a sudden, after 190 years," said the congressman, "conservation is the watchword, not development."

The laws that have grown out of this traditional enthusiasm for "development," he said, "are out of date and will have to be changed, tinkered with, modified."

Daylight Saving Time is not new. Benjamin Franklin wrote about it in 1784 but few took him seriously.

Cult Leader In Tate Case Asks Trial Role

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles M. Manson, facing trial on murder-conspiracy charges in seven slayings, wants to act as his own attorney.

The 35-year-old cult leader made the surprise request yesterday to Superior Court Judge William B. Keene, who said he would consider it.

Manson, bearded and long-haired, approached the bench with pad and pencil in hand and said, "Your honor, I am competent to stand and talk to you . . . I have the awareness to understand the charges against me and I have some knowledge of the law."

HIS DECLARATION

The soft-spoken defendant declared, "There is no way I can give up my own voice in this matter. If there is no way I can speak freely, it ties my hands and I might as well not have a defense."

Manson is charged along with four of his followers in the gunshot-stabbing deaths of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons at her rented Benedict Canyon estate Aug. 9.

All five also are accused in the knifing deaths the following night of wealthy Hollywood grocer Leno LaBianca and his wife, Rosemary. A sixth member of the Manson "family" is charged only in the LaBianca killings.

Manson was led into court for the specially convened hearing flanked by two attorneys, Luke McKissack, 32, and Lawrence Steinberg, 51. Court aides, and apparently McKissack and Steinberg anticipated merely a motion to substitute the private attorneys for the public defender's office as counsel for the defendant.

WOULD LIKE HELP

But Manson told Keene: "I would like to represent myself, and then I would like Mr. McKissack and Mr. Steinberg to help me if possible."

The court denied the request for the time being, saying, "This will require some interrogation by me to determine if Mr. Manson is capable of representing himself." Keene promised a decision Dec. 22, the date set for Manson's plea.

When Steinberg and McKissack objected to the delay on the decision, Manson said with a broad smile, "I think the judge has said what he has said. He is the man."

Indicted Mayor Says 'Business As Usual'

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio pledged "business as usual" today despite his indictment by a federal grand jury probing alleged official corruption in New Jersey's largest city.

Demands for the ouster of Addonizio and of other officials indicted yesterday on charges involving extortion and tax evasion drew this reply from Gov. Richard J. Hughes:

"New Jersey law does not authorize removal of a public official because he is under indictment."

Addonizio made it clear he had no intention of resigning.

The indictments allege extortion of $253,000 from the engineering firm of Constrad, Inc., a contractor on various city projects, including sewer construction and urban renewal.

The indictments contained 65 counts alleging each of the 15 defendants obtained payments of $500 to $37,000 from Constad, Inc.

The mayor surrendered about an hour after the indictments and was released on $25,000 bail by Judge Robert F. Shaw of U.S. District Court who ordered the mayor's travel restricted to New Jersey. The mayor is to be arraigned before Shaw tomorrow.

The indictments resulted from one of three investigations U.S. Atty. Frederick B. Lacey has been conducting in New Jersey. The others are aimed at gambling and alleged links between the Mafia and the U.S. Internal Revenue Service in the state.

Two former New Jersey IRS officials have been indicted, and on Tuesday a federal grand jury in Newark indicted 55 persons, including alleged Mafioso Simone "Sam the Plumber" DeCavalcante, on charges connected with an alleged $20 million a year interstate gambling operation.

The Star Ledger, a Newark morning nwespaper, said in an editorial on the indictment of the city officials that "the best interests of the city would be served if those under a cloud of suspicion were to remove themselves from office."

The Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce urged "the legally constituted authorities to suspend these men from office immediately and until these grave charges are either proven or disapproved."

Addonizio, however, said he planned to continue governing the city on an "effective and efficient basis" with "business as usual."

Declining to comment on the charges against him, he said: "I will have my day in court."

Trestle Tragedy Fatal To Child

LIVERMORE (UPI) — Robert Peck, a 10-year-old Cub Scout from Hayward, died of multiple injuries yesterday—the second victim of a tragic outing which ended when four hikers jumped from a railroad trestle to avoid a freight train.

Scoutmaster Robert Morris, 34, Hayward, was killed in the 35-foot leap to the rocky creek bed Sunday.

Morris was leading his Cub pack of six boys across a trestle in the Niles Canyon area when the train approached as they were halfway across.

Morris, the Peck boy and two other youngsters leaped from the trestle while the other three boys scrambled onto the trestle's girders, clear of the train.

The two other jumpers, including Morris' 10-year-old son, are in serious condition.

Bank Reports $20 Counterfeit Bill

The Bank of Marin in San Rafael reported receiving a $20 counterfeit bill yesterday, according to San Rafael police.

The bill, which had been changed from a one dollar denomination to $20, has been turned over to the U.S. Secret Service, police said.

CONCERN

nity who would work with the police in setting up discussion groups with students and parents.

The Independent-Journal also should hire at least two black reporters, the report said. "Most of the committee felt that the press did not always deal honestly with issues of the school district," the report said. "But it was also expressed by the press that they often had difficulty getting information and that there was a lack of honesty from the administration.

"We felt since the press helps make up the Community Concerns Committee (Mill Valley Record editor Katherine S. Mills and I-J reporter Larry D. Hatfield were named members by Walton), these concerns could possibly be solved through the committee.

"One example of concern was the printing of young people's names (in reports on felony arrests). Another was the hiring of at least two black reporters by the major newspaper of Marin who can relate to the black community."

Problems are being caused in the schools, the report said, without explaining, because "social and economic oppression keeps people in their present living conditions without choice." Jackson explained that this meant that conditions, particularly economic, in Marin City force many people to live there whether they want to or not and some of the resulting problems are carried into the classroom.

Another concern was the district's taking over of the controversial free breakfast program from the Black Panthers. "It was felt that it was being handled capably by the Panthers who are a part of the community and because of political pressure put on the administration was taken out of their hands, thereby dehumanizing a segment of our community by suggesting they were incapable."

The report also expressed concern over the recent conviction of Panther captain George Gaines on a charge of disturbing the peace as a result of an incident with a white Sausalito woman at the breakfasts last spring.

Committee members emphasized that all members of the committee did not endorse all of the points raised or recommendations made but that the report was a summary of various concerns reported to different members of the panel by people in the community.

Other concerns voiced by the committee included:

The county board of education's overruling of several denials by the Sausalito school board of interdistrict transfer requests from parents wanting to take their children out of the district.

The lack of direct involvement in the community by Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy.

The need for presenting current events — as reported from all media ranging from the Black Panther paper to John Birch publications and from the Berkeley Barb to the Catholic Monitor and Wall Street Journal — in all classes as well as history.

The lack of "visible interest" in the work of the committee by the community.

Members of the panel, which recommended that it be expanded and continued, included Brian Beard of Marin City, Alfred and Susan Lowry of Mill Valley, Lenita Thomas of Marin City and Jackson, Mrs. Mills and Hatfield. It was chaired by Dr. Edward Shev who is a consultant to the Sausalito Police Department.

New Jersey Is Decommissioned

The veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the war in Vietnam will be mothballed in the Naval Inactive Ship Maintenance Facility at Bremerton.

Her last duty was 152 days of support of ground troops in Vietnam, and she was being prepared at Long Beach for more duty there Aug. 21 when the Defense Department said she was to be decommissioned as an economy move.

GOP

ocrat Ralph Yarborough and Republican John Tower, are feuding over Republican efforts to throw Democrats out of two U.S. marshal jobs and a U.S. attorney's post. Republicans have been nominated for the jobs but Yarborough is blocking Senate action on all three.

Yarborough's nephew, Richard B. Hardee, holds the $24,450 job as U.S. attorney for the eastern district of Texas, and the senator contends he was named for a four-year term that does not expire until 1972. Tower argues that marshals and U.S. attorneys serve at the president's pleasure.

Among Democratic holdovers in high places are two prominent members of the State Department. Sargent Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President Kennedy, is still U.S. ambassador to France, and Ellsworth Bunker remains as ambassador to South Vietnam. There has been no hint of any plans to replace either man.

At the Pentagon almost half the 29 top ranking civilians were held over from Democratic administrations, and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has even promoted several.

Nixon and Laird have moved more slowly than either Kennedy or Dwight D. Eisenhower in shaking up the Pentagon. To preserve continuity in wartime, Stanley S. Resor has been continued as Secretary of the Army, Robert C. Moot as Pentagon budget director and Dr. John S. Foster Jr. as research director.

Other departments, Labor and Post Office, for example, have been swept quite clean of Democrats in top brackets, and many of the independent agencies are wholly in Republican hands.

Still, said Flemming, he is deluged with requests for jobs that don't exist. He estimates there are only 150 positions left at the noncareer level, where political appointments can be made, while 1,000 to 1,500 letters a week pour into his office.

Flemming, whose White House office is a clearance point for the agency heads, who do the actual hiring, works closely with another presidential assistant, Peter M. Flanagan, and with Howard Russell, patronage aide to Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton.

Their work has largely stilled public complaints from GOP job seekers, but it took time.

One elderly man came with his wife and a paper bag full of food. He told Huskey: "I'm a laborer too. . .God made this green earth for us to share and I want to share with you."

Among those offering help today was Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla restaurant in Sausalito. Offering $1,000 toward payment on a new home, for the Huskeys, Miss Stanford said, "It's a helluva thing in this affluent society to have a family with five kids out in the cold like that. Government's got money to offer every nitwit for every kind of nonsense, but not for a thing like this."

Mrs. Huskey views yesterday as the turning point in the family's 10 months of bad luck and she voiced optimism that the family soon will find a permanent home at the $150 a month rent they can afford.

But, first they have to buy a car. Theirs broke down Tuesday, worn out in their continuing search for a house.

"I know we'll find a house. . .after yesterday. It was beautiful. . . .So many people, rich and poor, all kinds of people caring. . ."

crease within the past few weeks.

However, his apparent lack of confidence in figures raises questions about the validity of claims that infiltration has gone up or down in any given period.

Working level officers long have indicated in private conversations they have little faith in infiltration figures.

They place greater relience on estimates of the number of enemy who have entered South Vietnam, as distinguished from those who are in the infiltration pipeline.

But obviously, based on the dramatically changed estimates of enemy manpower in South Vietnam as of a year ago, even these statistics on "order of battle" appear suspect.

Estimates of the extent of the enemy's presence in South Vietnam are made in large part following questions of enemy prisoners, identification of enemy units in the battle area and analysis of captured documents, as well as from such sources as agents.

Sources in Saigon reported yesterday North Vietnamese truck activity along the Ho Chi Minh Trail was four times heavier in October than in November and it is still increasing.

Trucks carry ammunition and supplies with most infiltrators walking to South Vietnam in a journey that takes some three months, according to expert opinion.

Experienced officers acknowledged it is very difficult to gauge the number of men moving on foot in small parties along many different routes.

Especially questionable are estimates of the number of men who may pass through the entire pipeline into South Vietnam because some North Vietnamese soldiers moving South are diverted into central and northern Laos for operations there.

INFLATION

out, the combination he described would total $6.6 billion in lost revenues, which is more than the $5.9 billion budget surplus the Budget Bureau predicts for the fiscal year ending next June.

No one speaking for the administration has specifically predicted a deficit, but a member of the Federal Reserve Board, J. Dewey Daane, said last month a sizable one could occur if the income surtax isn't extended, the 7 per cent investment tax credit isn't repealed and spending goes over the $192.9 billion ceiling.

The surtax and investment credit repeal are in the tax reform bill.

In his letter, Nixon said consumer prices are firmly tied to government spending and consumer confidence to a belief the "government will maintain its commitment to a responsible fiscal policy."

Three hours after the letter was released, the House voted Nixon and the Federal Reserve Board the power to impose sweeping anti-inflationary controls over all forms of credit.

OBITUARIES

Rev. O. A. Robertson Dies At 57

Funeral for Rev. O. A. (Bob) Robertson, 57, former pastor of the Southern Marin Assembly of God Church, was held today at the Eggan and Lance mortuary, Santa Rosa. Burial was at Santa Rosa Memorial Park.

Rev. Robertson died Tuesday at a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness. A native of San Jose, he had been pastor of the Calvary Assembly of God Church, Santa Rosa, for three years.

He served as pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Sausalito from 1952 to 1957. The church has since relocated to Mill Valley.

Rev. Robertson was a graduate of the Glad Tidings Bible Institute of San Francisco and has served as an evangelist and as a pastor in Salinas.

He is survived by his wife, Frances E.; two daughters, Constance Robertson of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Jewell Morris of Salinas; two sisters, Ruth G. Sander and Hildegard Snyder of San Jose; and two brothers, Ralph H. Robertson of Seattle, Wash. and Donald E. Robertson of Sacramento.

Contributions may be made to the O. A. Robertson Memorial Fund, Calvary Assembly of God Church, 1257 Valerie Way, Santa Rosa.

HOWARD MAKELIM

Funeral for Howard Grant Makelim of Santa Rosa, father of Mrs. E. J. Frideger of San Anselmo, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Welti Mortuary, Santa Rosa. Private entombment will be in Chapel of the Chimes, Santa Rosa.

Makelim, 85, died Tuesday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness.

A native of Michigan, he had lived in Sonoma County for the past 25 years.

He was the retired owner of a San Francisco automotive electrical company.

He was a 50-year member of the Automobile Old Timers Club and past president of the American Bloodhound Club.

He also is survived by his wife, Hazel; a second daughter, Dorothy Edouart of Newport Beach, Orange County, and 10 grandchildren.

His family asked that memorial contributions go to the Heart Association or to donor's favorite charity.

LILLIAN MAURICE

Lillian Maurice, amateur artist and musician, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 75.

A native of Shrewsbury, Shropshire County, England, Mrs. Maurice came to this country in 1914 settling in Milwaukee, Wis., where she resided until moving to Fairfax 10 years ago.

For the last two years she has lived with her son, Charles L. Maurice, chairman of the Art Department at San Rafael High School, at 160 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley.

She was a member of Fairfax Women's Club.

Other survivors include two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund are preferred by the family.

Driver Hurt In Three-Car Crash

Robert Ferris Deming, 39, of 216 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, was under observation at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael today for a sprained back suffered yesterday when his car was involved in a three-car rear-ender on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near College Avenue in Kentfield.

The California Highway Patrol said a car driven by Dianna Bachich, 17, of 124 Mabry Way, San Rafael, was struck in the rear by Deming's car which was hit in the rear of one driven by John Wisler, 55, of 12 Dell Street, Mill Valley.

WARDELL BURR

Wardell David Burr, 83, of Petaluma, was found dead at his home last night at 414 Seventh Street.

Burr had collapsed at the kitchen table while writing Christmas cards and death was apparently due to natural causes, according to the Sonoma County coroner's office.

A native of Kilingworth, Conn., he had been employed as an accountant for 50 years with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. After his retirement he lived in St. Petersburg, Fla., and moved to Petaluma four years ago.

His wife, Mary, died Dec. 7. Burr was a member of the United Methodist Church of Petaluma.

He is survived by three daughters, Phyllis Ann Lando of San Francisco, Sabrina Sanders of Weatherfield, Conn., and Clarinda Philips of Clinton, N.Y.; seven grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Private inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

DANNY STEWARD

The boy, Danny Lee Steward, died in the hospital emergency room at 1:27 p.m. after being rushed from his home at 47 Woodland Avenue, apartment 10, the county coroner's office said.

The coroner said the child had suffered seizures a year ago after falling from his crib.

The child, born in Merced, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steward and a brother, Robert.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, with burial in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

GIUSEPPINA ZARO

Giuseppina Zaro, 72, of San Rafael, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long issuess.

Mrs. Zaro, a native of Lonate Pozzolo, Italy, had lived in California and in Marin for 43 years, her last residence being at 5 Wood Street, San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, Carlo Zaro of the home; a son, Eraldo Zaro of Mill Valley, three grandchildren, and two sisters and a brother in Italy. She was a member of Branch 24, Catholic Ladies Aid Society.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, in the mission chapel. Burial will be private. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Mission Chapel of St. Raphael's Church. Friends may call until 5 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

nity who would work with the police in setting up discussion groups with students and parents.

The Independent-Journal also should hire at least two black reporters, the report said. "Most of the committee felt that the press did not always deal honestly with issues of the school district," the report said. "But it was also expressed by the press that they often had difficulty getting information and that there was a lack of honesty from the administration.

"We felt since the press helps make up the Community Concerns Committee (Mill Valley Record editor Katherine S. Mills and I-J reporter Larry D. Hatfield were named members by Walton), these concerns could possibly be solved through the committee.

"One example of concern was the printing of young people's names (in reports on felony arrests). Another was the hiring of at least two black reporters by the major newspaper of Marin who can relate to the black community."

Problems are being caused in the schools, the report said, without explaining, because "social and economic oppression keeps people in their present living conditions without choice." Jackson explained that this meant that conditions, particularly economic, in Marin City force many people to live there whether they want to or not and some of the resulting problems are carried into the classroom.

Another concern was the district's taking over of the controversial free breakfast program from the Black Panthers. "It was felt that it was being handled capably by the Panthers who are a part of the community and because of political pressure put on the administration was taken out of their hands, thereby dehumanizing a segment of our community by suggesting they were incapable."

The report also expressed concern over the recent conviction of Panther captain George Gaines on a charge of disturbing the peace as a result of an incident with a white Sausalito woman at the breakfasts last spring.

Committee members emphasized that all members of the committee did not endorse all of the points raised or recommendations made but that the report was a summary of various concerns reported to different members of the panel by people in the community.

Other concerns voiced by the committee included:

The county board of education's overruling of several denials by the Sausalito school board of interdistrict transfer requests from parents wanting to take their children out of the district.

The lack of direct involvement in the community by Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy.

The need for presenting current events — as reported from all media ranging from the Black Panther paper to John Birch publications and from the Berkeley Barb to the Catholic Monitor and Wall Street Journal — in all classes as well as history.

The lack of "visible interest" in the work of the committee by the community.

Members of the panel, which recommended that it be expanded and continued, included Brian Beard of Marin City, Alfred and Susan Lowry of Mill Valley, Lenita Thomas of Marin City and Jackson, Mrs. Mills and Hatfield. It was chaired by Dr. Edward Shev who is a consultant to the Sausalito Police Department.

New Jersey Is Decommissioned

The veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the war in Vietnam will be mothballed in the Naval Inactive Ship Maintenance Facility at Bremerton.

Her last duty was 152 days of support of ground troops in Vietnam, and she was being prepared at Long Beach for more duty there Aug. 21 when the Defense Department said she was to be decommissioned as an economy move.

GOP

ocrat Ralph Yarborough and Republican John Tower, are feuding over Republican efforts to throw Democrats out of two U.S. marshal jobs and a U.S. attorney's post. Republicans have been nominated for the jobs but Yarborough is blocking Senate action on all three.

Yarborough's nephew, Richard B. Hardee, holds the $24,450 job as U.S. attorney for the eastern district of Texas, and the senator contends he was named for a four-year term that does not expire until 1972. Tower argues that marshals and U.S. attorneys serve at the president's pleasure.

Among Democratic holdovers in high places are two prominent members of the State Department. Sargent Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President Kennedy, is still U.S. ambassador to France, and Ellsworth Bunker remains as ambassador to South Vietnam. There has been no hint of any plans to replace either man.

At the Pentagon almost half the 29 top ranking civilians were held over from Democratic administrations, and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has even promoted several.

Nixon and Laird have moved more slowly than either Kennedy or Dwight D. Eisenhower in shaking up the Pentagon. To preserve continuity in wartime, Stanley S. Resor has been continued as Secretary of the Army, Robert C. Moot as Pentagon budget director and Dr. John S. Foster Jr. as research director.

Other departments, Labor and Post Office, for example, have been swept quite clean of Democrats in top brackets, and many of the independent agencies are wholly in Republican hands.

Still, said Flemming, he is deluged with requests for jobs that don't exist. He estimates there are only 150 positions left at the noncareer level, where political appointments can be made, while 1,000 to 1,500 letters a week pour into his office.

Flemming, whose White House office is a clearance point for the agency heads, who do the actual hiring, works closely with another presidential assistant, Peter M. Flanagan, and with Howard Russell, patronage aide to Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton.

Their work has largely stilled public complaints from GOP job seekers, but it took time.

FAMILY

One elderly man came with his wife and a paper bag full of food. He told Huskey: "I'm a laborer too. . .God made this green earth for us to share and I want to share with you."

Among those offering help today was Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla restaurant in Sausalito. Offering $1,000 toward payment on a new home, for the Huskeys, Miss Stanford said, "It's a helluva thing in this affluent society to have a family with five kids out in the cold like that. Government's got money to offer every nitwit for every kind of nonsense, but not for a thing like this."

Mrs. Huskey views yesterday as the turning point in the family's 10 months of bad luck and she voiced optimism that the family soon will find a permanent home at the $150 a month rent they can afford.

But, first they have to buy a car. Theirs broke down Tuesday, worn out in their continuing search for a house.

"I know we'll find a house. . .after yesterday. It was beautiful. . . .So many people, rich and poor, all kinds of people caring. . ."

crease within the past few weeks.

However, his apparent lack of confidence in figures raises questions about the validity of claims that infiltration has gone up or down in any given period.

Working level officers long have indicated in private conversations they have little faith in infiltration figures.

They place greater relience on estimates of the number of enemy who have entered South Vietnam, as distinguished from those who are in the infiltration pipeline.

But obviously, based on the dramatically changed estimates of enemy manpower in South Vietnam as of a year ago, even these statistics on "order of battle" appear suspect.

Estimates of the extent of the enemy's presence in South Vietnam are made in large part following questions of enemy prisoners, identification of enemy units in the battle area and analysis of captured documents, as well as from such sources as agents.

Sources in Saigon reported yesterday North Vietnamese truck activity along the Ho Chi Minh Trail was four times heavier in October than in November and it is still increasing.

Trucks carry ammunition and supplies with most infiltrators walking to South Vietnam in a journey that takes some three months, according to expert opinion.

Experienced officers acknowledged it is very difficult to gauge the number of men moving on foot in small parties along many different routes.

Especially questionable are estimates of the number of men who may pass through the entire pipeline into South Vietnam because some North Vietnamese soldiers moving South are diverted into central and northern Laos for operations there.

out, the combination he described would total $6.6 billion in lost revenues, which is more than the $5.9 billion budget surplus the Budget Bureau predicts for the fiscal year ending next June.

No one speaking for the administration has specifically predicted a deficit, but a member of the Federal Reserve Board, J. Dewey Daane, said last month a sizable one could occur if the income surtax isn't extended, the 7 per cent investment tax credit isn't repealed and spending goes over the $192.9 billion ceiling.

The surtax and investment credit repeal are in the tax reform bill.

In his letter, Nixon said consumer prices are firmly tied to government spending and consumer confidence to a belief the "government will maintain its commitment to a responsible fiscal policy."

Three hours after the letter was released, the House voted Nixon and the Federal Reserve Board the power to impose sweeping anti-inflationary controls over all forms of credit.

OBITUARIES

Rev. O. A. Robertson Dies At 57

Funeral for Rev. O. A. (Bob) Robertson, 57, former pastor of the Southern Marin Assembly of God Church, was held today at the Eggan and Lance mortuary, Santa Rosa. Burial was at Santa Rosa Memorial Park.

Rev. Robertson died Tuesday at a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness. A native of San Jose, he had been pastor of the Calvary Assembly of God Church, Santa Rosa, for three years.

He served as pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Sausalito from 1952 to 1957. The church has since relocated to Mill Valley.

Rev. Robertson was a graduate of the Glad Tidings Bible Institute of San Francisco and has served as an evangelist and as a pastor in Salinas.

He is survived by his wife, Frances E.; two daughters, Constance Robertson of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Jewell Morris of Salinas; two sisters, Ruth G. Sander and Hildegard Snyder of San Jose; and two brothers, Ralph H. Robertson of Seattle, Wash. and Donald E. Robertson of Sacramento.

Contributions may be made to the O. A. Robertson Memorial Fund, Calvary Assembly of God Church, 1257 Valerie Way, Santa Rosa.

HOWARD MAKELIM

Funeral for Howard Grant Makelim of Santa Rosa, father of Mrs. E. J. Frideger of San Anselmo, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Welti Mortuary, Santa Rosa. Private entombment will be in Chapel of the Chimes, Santa Rosa.

Makelim, 85, died Tuesday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness.

A native of Michigan, he had lived in Sonoma County for the past 25 years.

He was the retired owner of a San Francisco automotive electrical company.

He was a 50-year member of the Automobile Old Timers Club and past president of the American Bloodhound Club.

He also is survived by his wife, Hazel; a second daughter, Dorothy Edouart of Newport Beach, Orange County, and 10 grandchildren.

His family asked that memorial contributions go to the Heart Association or to donor's favorite charity.

LILLIAN MAURICE

Lillian Maurice, amateur artist and musician, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 75.

A native of Shrewsbury, Shropshire County, England, Mrs. Maurice came to this country in 1914 settling in Milwaukee, Wis., where she resided until moving to Fairfax 10 years ago.

For the last two years she has lived with her son, Charles L. Maurice, chairman of the Art Department at San Rafael High School, at 160 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley.

She was a member of Fairfax Women's Club.

Other survivors include two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund are preferred by the family.

WARDELL BURR

Wardell David Burr, 83, of Petaluma, was found dead at his home last night at 414 Seventh Street.

Burr had collapsed at the kitchen table while writing Christmas cards and death was apparently due to natural causes, according to the Sonoma County coroner's office.

A native of Kilingworth, Conn., he had been employed as an accountant for 50 years with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. After his retirement he lived in St. Petersburg, Fla., and moved to Petaluma four years ago.

His wife, Mary, died Dec. 7. Burr was a member of the United Methodist Church of Petaluma.

He is survived by three daughters, Phyllis Ann Lando of San Francisco, Sabrina Sanders of Weatherfield, Conn., and Clarinda Philips of Clinton, N.Y.; seven grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Private inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

DANNY STEWARD

The boy, Danny Lee Steward, died in the hospital emergency room at 1:27 p.m. after being rushed from his home at 47 Woodland Avenue, apartment 10, the county coroner's office said.

The coroner said the child had suffered seizures a year ago after falling from his crib.

The child, born in Merced, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steward and a brother, Robert.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, with burial in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

GIUSEPPINA ZARO

Giuseppina Zaro, 72, of San Rafael, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long issuess.

Mrs. Zaro, a native of Lonate Pozzolo, Italy, had lived in California and in Marin for 43 years, her last residence being at 5 Wood Street, San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, Carlo Zaro of the home; a son, Eraldo Zaro of Mill Valley, three grandchildren, and two sisters and a brother in Italy. She was a member of Branch 24, Catholic Ladies Aid Society.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, in the mission chapel. Burial will be private. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Mission Chapel of St. Raphael's Church. Friends may call until 5 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Driver Hurt In Three-Car Crash

Robert Ferris Deming, 39, of 216 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, was under observation at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael today for a sprained back suffered yesterday when his car was involved in a three-car rear-ender on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near College Avenue in Kentfield.

The California Highway Patrol said a car driven by Dianna Bachich, 17, of 124 Mabry Way, San Rafael, was struck in the rear by Deming's car which was hit in the rear of one driven by John Wisler, 55, of 12 Dell Street, Mill Valley.

Board In Cautious Tax Increase Role

Caution kept a tight rein last night, while San Rafael Board of Education members discussed a possible tax rate increase election that may be held before next July.

Repeatedly stressing determination to have firm, factural fiscal information for the taxpaying voters, the board members refused even to set an election date, much less approve staff predictions as to how much money the high school and elementary districts need in coming years.

Plank and Condrotte last night had already drafted one revised presentation, after the board raised questions a week earlier about their predictions of district needs and incomes.

As presented last night, Condrotte's figures estimated local tax income for the high school district at $3,370,533 for fiscal 1968-69, but dropping to $3,357,396, next year. This was sharply questioned, and Condrotte revised the 69-69 figure to $3,221,000.

The board also wanted spending and income specifics to back Condrotte's predictions of deficits of $267,138 for 1970-71 and $401,310 the next year in the high schools, and $176,107 and $475,779 in the elementary district, if tax rates don't go up.

The board also wants to await the report due Jun. 13 from its citizens advisory committee. Don R. Wellington, chairman of that group's budget finance subcommittee, last night told the board that he is attempting to prepare a coast-per-pupil chart on the predictions for the district through fiscal 1971-72. He hopes to have the figures ready for the board's Dec. 23 meeting.

"We'd better be prepared" with figures to support the proposed tax rate maximum increase "or we haven't a ghost of a chance," Childress asserted. "I have a feeling we'd better practice these projections on our wives" until they are perfectly logical, Kramer said as he bored in on apparent inconsistencies in the predictions.

Board members also were worried about a propitious election day.

The earliest possible date, if the board voted next week to go ahead, would be March 17 — "Saint Patrick's Day, and I don't know if any Irishman would be unhappy," quipped Plank. If the board waits for the citizens report, April 7 would be the earliest feasible date; putting it off to April 14 would place the tax rate ballot the day before federal and state income tax deadline and four days after the April 10 deadline for local property taxes.

Either date might be bad psychologically, board members worried. But if the ballot were delayed as late as the June 2 statewide general election, next year's budget would be against the wall in terms of timing.

The board decided to wait at least for next week's re-revised fiscal predictions before wrestling further with the problem.

Reagan Told Boycott By Chavez Fails

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's farm advisers have told him the national boycott against California table grapes has failed and Reagan commented, "I'm delighted."

"The boycott has been a costly nuisance, but it has not been a success," said Allan Grant, president of the state Board of Agriculture and also president of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

At the same meeting, the advisory board agreed yesterday to conduct an information campaign in support of national farm labor legislation that — they hope — would protect growers against strikes at harvest time.

A GRAPE EATER

In expressing support for the growers, Reagan told the board meeting, "I've probably eaten more grapes during the past year than ever."

The boycott has been led by Cesar Chavez, head of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, in an effort to force big grape growers to recognize his union as a collective bargaining agent for farm laborers.

Chavez told a news conference at the University of Oregon Tuesday that his union was winning the boycott against growers in the San Joaquin Valley, one of the world's richest farm areas, and neighboring desert valleys.

'MATTER OF TIME'

"It's just a matter of time, now," Chavez said in Oregon.

But Grant told Reagan, who had been home in bed with a touch of flu most of the day, "I can say unequovically, the boycott has failed."

He added, "I cant' say it has not been costly."

Later, Grant declined to estimate the loss.

Holiday Present To Teachers In San Rafael: 1.9 Pct. Pay Hike

San Rafael high school and elementary teachers have a 1.9 per cent raise to pad their Christmas stockings.

The San Rafael Board of Education voted 4-0 last night, with member Paul L. Jones absent, to give the raise agreed on with the district teachers' negotiating committee. It was retroactive to the beginning of the school year, to go on top of the 6 per cent raise agreed on at budget time.

Board member John C. Pfeiffer, who along with Supt. John F. Plank represented the board in the negotiations, recalled last night that the teachers originally sought a 15 per cent hike, later adjusted the request to 10 per cent, and eventually agreed to a 6 per cent figure pending the adjustment that took place last night.

The negotiating committee had asked for 2.5 per cent when the adjusted districts' state income figures came in this fall, but acceded to board efforts to hold the high school district's reserves as near $100,000 as possible.

Total budget adjustments voted last night leave the high school district with $86,546 and the elementary district with $245,396 undistributed reserves remaining. The board was able to restore funds for a number of programs cut out of the original budget, because state income outpaced earlier predictions.

Adjustments included $18,000 for bus transportation in the elementary district and $12,000 in the high schools; and insurance premiums of $5,612 for the elementary and $9,621 for the high schools.

The teacher raises total $46,359 in the elementary district and $46,930 in the high schools, according to Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte. Other budget changes to finance substitute and overtime clerical and custodial help, outdoor education classes already functioning and more single-session kindergartens, contract with KQED and to add a reading resource teacher for one half year brought the total elementary district additions to $80,711.

The teacher raises were warmly received by most of the 12-person audience — mostly teachers — and Pfeiffer and board chairman Herman L. Childress praised the cooperation of the teachers negotiating committee. Committee members said they liked the ability to communicate informally with board spokesmen at negotiating sessions.

Donald R. Wellington, chairman of the budget finance subcommittee of the board's citizen advisory group cautioned:

"A very important party is getting left out — the party that foots the bill." He added, "negotiating sessions are great," but the taxpayer must be considered. "Let the people in," he cautioned, otherwise, "they'll let the board know with a little X in a box."

"We certainly do not want to hold anything back from the taxpayer or the general public," assured Childress.

Teachers also raised the question of adjusting pay in the adult school program, and were told to make their aims known to the teachers' negotiating committee.

Board In Cautious Tax Increase Role

Caution kept a tight rein last night, while San Rafael Board of Education members discussed a possible tax rate increase election that may be held before next July.

Repeatedly stressing determination to have firm, factural fiscal information for the taxpaying voters, the board members refused even to set an election date, much less approve staff predictions as to how much money the high school and elementary districts need in coming years.

Instead, board chairman Herman L. Childress sent Supt. John F. Plank and Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte "back to the old Ouija board" to answer questions raised by board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. and others.

Plank and Condrotte last night had already drafted one revised presentation, after the board raised questions a week earlier about their predictions of district needs and incomes.

As presented last night, Condrotte's figures estimated local tax income for the high school district at $3,370,533 for fiscal 1968-69, but dropping to $3,357,396, next year. This was sharply questioned, and Condrotte revised the 69-69 figure to $3,221,000.

The board also wanted spending and income specifics to back Condrotte's predictions of deficits of $267,138 for 1970-71 and $401,310 the next year in the high schools, and $176,107 and $475,779 in the elementary district, if tax rates don't go up.

The board also wants to await the report due Jun. 13 from its citizens advisory committee. Don R. Wellington, chairman of that group's budget finance subcommittee, last night told the board that he is attempting to prepare a coast-per-pupil chart on the predictions for the district through fiscal 1971-72. He hopes to have the figures ready for the board's Dec. 23 meeting.

"We'd better be prepared" with figures to support the proposed tax rate maximum increase "or we haven't a ghost of a chance," Childress asserted. "I have a feeling we'd better practice these projections on our wives" until they are perfectly logical, Kramer said as he bored in on apparent inconsistencies in the predictions.

Board members also were worried about a propitious election day.

The earliest possible date, if the board voted next week to go ahead, would be March 17 — "Saint Patrick's Day, and I don't know if any Irishman would be unhappy," quipped Plank. If the board waits for the citizens report, April 7 would be the earliest feasible date; putting it off to April 14 would place the tax rate ballot the day before federal and state income tax deadline and four days after the April 10 deadline for local property taxes.

Either date might be bad psychologically, board members worried. But if the ballot were delayed as late as the June 2 statewide general election, next year's budget would be against the wall in terms of timing.

The board decided to wait at least for next week's re-revised fiscal predictions before wrestling further with the problem.

Reagan Told Boycott By Chavez Fails

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's farm advisers have told him the national boycott against California table grapes has failed and Reagan commented, "I'm delighted."

"The boycott has been a costly nuisance, but it has not been a success," said Allan Grant, president of the state Board of Agriculture and also president of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

At the same meeting, the advisory board agreed yesterday to conduct an information campaign in support of national farm labor legislation that — they hope — would protect growers against strikes at harvest time.

A GRAPE EATER

In expressing support for the growers, Reagan told the board meeting, "I've probably eaten more grapes during the past year than ever."

The boycott has been led by Cesar Chavez, head of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, in an effort to force big grape growers to recognize his union as a collective bargaining agent for farm laborers.

Chavez told a news conference at the University of Oregon Tuesday that his union was winning the boycott against growers in the San Joaquin Valley, one of the world's richest farm areas, and neighboring desert valleys.

'MATTER OF TIME'

"It's just a matter of time, now," Chavez said in Oregon.

But Grant told Reagan, who had been home in bed with a touch of flu most of the day, "I can say unequovically, the boycott has failed."

He added, "I cant' say it has not been costly."

Later, Grant declined to estimate the loss.

Holiday Present To Teachers In San Rafael: 1.9 Pct. Pay Hike

San Rafael high school and elementary teachers have a 1.9 per cent raise to pad their Christmas stockings.

The San Rafael Board of Education voted 4-0 last night, with member Paul L. Jones absent, to give the raise agreed on with the district teachers' negotiating committee. It was retroactive to the beginning of the school year, to go on top of the 6 per cent raise agreed on at budget time.

Board member John C. Pfeiffer, who along with Supt. John F. Plank represented the board in the negotiations, recalled last night that the teachers originally sought a 15 per cent hike, later adjusted the request to 10 per cent, and eventually agreed to a 6 per cent figure pending the adjustment that took place last night.

The negotiating committee had asked for 2.5 per cent when the adjusted districts' state income figures came in this fall, but acceded to board efforts to hold the high school district's reserves as near $100,000 as possible.

Total budget adjustments voted last night leave the high school district with $86,546 and the elementary district with $245,396 undistributed reserves remaining. The board was able to restore funds for a number of programs cut out of the original budget, because state income outpaced earlier predictions.

Adjustments included $18,000 for bus transportation in the elementary district and $12,000 in the high schools; and insurance premiums of $5,612 for the elementary and $9,621 for the high schools.

The teacher raises total $46,359 in the elementary district and $46,930 in the high schools, according to Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte. Other budget changes to finance substitute and overtime clerical and custodial help, outdoor education classes already functioning and more single-session kindergartens, contract with KQED and to add a reading resource teacher for one half year brought the total elementary district additions to $80,711.

The teacher raises were warmly received by most of the 12-person audience — mostly teachers — and Pfeiffer and board chairman Herman L. Childress praised the cooperation of the teachers negotiating committee. Committee members said they liked the ability to communicate informally with board spokesmen at negotiating sessions.

Donald R. Wellington, chairman of the budget finance subcommittee of the board's citizen advisory group cautioned:

"A very important party is getting left out — the party that foots the bill." He added, "negotiating sessions are great," but the taxpayer must be considered. "Let the people in," he cautioned, otherwise, "they'll let the board know with a little X in a box."

"We certainly do not want to hold anything back from the taxpayer or the general public," assured Childress.

Teachers also raised the question of adjusting pay in the adult school program, and were told to make their aims known to the teachers' negotiating committee.

Chrysler Boss Sees Slight Drop In '70

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler board chairman Lynn Townsend predicted today 1970 sales of new cars will be "strong but not quite as strong as 1968 and 1969."

In his annual year-end statement, Townsend said the sales outlook for the year immediately ahead was "far from clear."

"It would be difficult to select any year-end period in the past when the prospects for the coming year were harder to assess, or when conditions affecting the automobile industry were more complex or more unpredictable," Townsend said.

He refused to join the heads of the other Big Three auto companies in setting a figure on possible sales. Last week Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. predicted 1970 sales between 9 million and 9.5 million, including imports, and yesterday General Motors board chairman James M. Roche predicted they would range from 9.2 million to 9.5 million units.

Townsend pointed out that it now takes about 7 million cars a year just to replace those being scrapped, and that about 300,000 young persons each month become old enough to drive and own an automobile.

But he pointed to tight money conditions and a general mood of uneasiness about the future among the car-buying public as negative factors.

He said that if some of the strictures of the economy were removed, 1970 sales could be better than those in 1969, "and with a combination of unfavorable developments, they could be worse."

But he predicted that in the decade ahead, the auto industry would reach sales of 15 million cars and trucks a year, compared with about 11.5 million this year. Worldwide, he said, car and truck sales should approach 40 million by 1980 compared with 30 million at the present time.

Closed Talks On Evaluation Of Employees

Trustee Glen E. Twitchell said the closed session was to "evaluate" an employee, but said there were no charges pending against the employee. He noted the employee was not a teacher.

The Brown Act allows closed meetings only to hire or fire, or to hear charges against an employee or officer, and, in the case of school trustees, to instruct staff on salary negotiations.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff, who was not present at the closed session, said it lasted about half an hour.

Twitchell told the Independent-Journal that no decisions were made at the session.

In open session, trustees postponed to their Jan. 12 meeting a decision on accepting a bid to lease the old Lagunitas School building, which was abandoned 13 months ago as unsafe under the Field Act. The act sets standards for earthquake safety in school buildings.

Two bids to lease the school were received, and trustees urged the two bidders to consider a joint lease.

The two were Jean Berensmeier, who bid $1 a day per classroom used, and the Montessori School of San Rafael, which bid on a sliding scale over a five-year period.

The Federal Communications Commission was established in 1934.

Marin Young Republicans In Revival

The Marin County chapter of the Young Republicans, moribund for almost two years after a bitter split in the last primary election, was resurrected last night with election of new officers.

Robert J. Murphy of San Anselmo was elected as president, Peter Brekhus of Greenbrae as vice president, Carol Gallagher of Novato as secretary, and Richard Hippard of San Rafael as treasurer.

Murphy is a former legislative aide to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and now is an attorney with Bagley's San Rafael law firm.

The chapter endorsed Bagley's opponent in the 1968 primary, Clay Barham, former assistant to San Rafael cosmetics tycoon William Penn Patrick.

Mrs. Gallagher was president of the chapter during the primary fight.

Murphy reported that the members, meeting at Grekhus' home, adopted a new constitution "designed to promote Republican unity." It bans endorsement of any candidate in a contested primary election without unanimous approval of the chapter's directors, he reported.

The document also bars "position papers" by the group.

Chrysler Boss Sees Slight Drop In '70

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler board chairman Lynn Townsend predicted today 1970 sales of new cars will be "strong but not quite as strong as 1968 and 1969."

In his annual year-end statement, Townsend said the sales outlook for the year immediately ahead was "far from clear."

"It would be difficult to select any year-end period in the past when the prospects for the coming year were harder to assess, or when conditions affecting the automobile industry were more complex or more unpredictable," Townsend said.

He refused to join the heads of the other Big Three auto companies in setting a figure on possible sales. Last week Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. predicted 1970 sales between 9 million and 9.5 million, including imports, and yesterday General Motors board chairman James M. Roche predicted they would range from 9.2 million to 9.5 million units.

Townsend pointed out that it now takes about 7 million cars a year just to replace those being scrapped, and that about 300,000 young persons each month become old enough to drive and own an automobile.

But he pointed to tight money conditions and a general mood of uneasiness about the future among the car-buying public as negative factors.

He said that if some of the strictures of the economy were removed, 1970 sales could be better than those in 1969, "and with a combination of unfavorable developments, they could be worse."

But he predicted that in the decade ahead, the auto industry would reach sales of 15 million cars and trucks a year, compared with about 11.5 million this year. Worldwide, he said, car and truck sales should approach 40 million by 1980 compared with 30 million at the present time.

Closed Talks On Evaluation Of Employees

Trustee Glen E. Twitchell said the closed session was to "evaluate" an employee, but said there were no charges pending against the employee. He noted the employee was not a teacher.

The Brown Act allows closed meetings only to hire or fire, or to hear charges against an employee or officer, and, in the case of school trustees, to instruct staff on salary negotiations.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff, who was not present at the closed session, said it lasted about half an hour.

Twitchell told the Independent-Journal that no decisions were made at the session.

In open session, trustees postponed to their Jan. 12 meeting a decision on accepting a bid to lease the old Lagunitas School building, which was abandoned 13 months ago as unsafe under the Field Act. The act sets standards for earthquake safety in school buildings.

Two bids to lease the school were received, and trustees urged the two bidders to consider a joint lease.

The two were Jean Berensmeier, who bid $1 a day per classroom used, and the Montessori School of San Rafael, which bid on a sliding scale over a five-year period.

The Federal Communications Commission was established in 1934.

Marin Young Republicans In Revival

The Marin County chapter of the Young Republicans, moribund for almost two years after a bitter split in the last primary election, was resurrected last night with election of new officers.

Robert J. Murphy of San Anselmo was elected as president, Peter Brekhus of Greenbrae as vice president, Carol Gallagher of Novato as secretary, and Richard Hippard of San Rafael as treasurer.

Murphy is a former legislative aide to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and now is an attorney with Bagley's San Rafael law firm.

The chapter endorsed Bagley's opponent in the 1968 primary, Clay Barham, former assistant to San Rafael cosmetics tycoon William Penn Patrick.

Mrs. Gallagher was president of the chapter during the primary fight.

Murphy reported that the members, meeting at Grekhus' home, adopted a new constitution "designed to promote Republican unity." It bans endorsement of any candidate in a contested primary election without unanimous approval of the chapter's directors, he reported.

The document also bars "position papers" by the group.

Sports Car Stolen

A 1966 Porsche, License RXH 937, owned by Monroe S. Green of 450 Bella Vista Avenue, Belvedere, was stolen between 10:30 p.m. yesterday and 7:30 a.m. today from in front of 430 Bella Vista Avenue, police reported.

Parents Recruited In Pot War

By FRANK FARRARA

Shoreline Unified School District trustees last night called for parent cooperation to halt marijuana smoking by Tomales High School students.

Tomales High is a handsome new building in rolling ranch land far from the urban drug scene, but marijuana has marred that rural scene, and trustees faced up to it last night.

Residents of small towns such as Marshall, Inverness, Bodega Bay, Point Reyes Station and Tomales gathered to tackle the marijuana problem that has plagued the big cities and the suburbs.

The gathering came less than a week after District Supt. Charles E. McCully suspended 20 Tomales High School students for use of marijuana.

Trustees backed McCully's action, and there was applause when a resident said McCully should be commended.

Board President Robert Giacomini said McCully "did a hell of a job" in stopping marijuana use before it became more widespread.

McCully said it became apparent to him about three weeks ago "there was a problem in the use of drugs by students in this district. I could have turned my head and pretended it wasn't going on, or I could take some action, and I chose to take action."

McCully said the "drug problem didn't reach this point over the last six weeks, the last two months or a year," but during the past three years.

Tomales High School was "on the verge of becoming the center for the flow of drugs, the transportation of drugs by students," he asserted.

After reports from students and residents that the problem was worse than he thought it was, he began to gather information, he said.

Students gave the information voluntarily and there was "self-admission" of marijuana smoking, he reported.

"There was no intent to place a record on any individual student, and it wasn't an attempt to build a legal case, but an attempt to build a parent case."

The aim, McCully said, "was to bring awareness to the parents and the community that the problem is here."

He said drug use at the high school "is still less than 10 per cent" as compared to "40 to 60 to 70 per cent" in other high schools in the state.

Some of the students suspended were trying marijuana for the first time, a few had been smoking it for three years and several had been smoking it for about a year, McCully reported. One student also has used LSD and methadrine, he said.

Most of the suspended students will return to school by the end of this week, and all will be back by Jan. 5, McCully said.

The support of students, staff and parents will be needed to meet the problem, he said.

"Without the help of parents, we can't move one inch, "McCully asserted. "Maybe we have caught it in the bud and we want to keep it from going farther; in fact, reduce it."

Hal Evans of Marshall pledged the cooperation of a group of six residents who "want to start the ball rolling" toward a program to meet the drug abuse problem.

Another resident, representing parents in the Point Reyes-Inverness Park area, asked board cooperation with their group "to stop the flow of marijuana in and around" the high school.

Trustee LeRoy Erickson felt the district has to take a firm stand on use of marijuana, which he pointed out is illegal.

McCully said if there were a second violation by a student, "there would be a little more severe action taken."

He said he "has reason to believe the source was from outside the district."

This led one resident to comment: "It has to come from outside, you can't grow it out here where its so damn foggy," and there was general laughter.

Giacomini said the problem is not unique, but that the district has a superintendent who was willing to dig into it. In other districts, superintendents are "afraid they would have to kick out 60 to 70 per cent of the school," he asserted.

Giacomini criticized parents who don't know where their children are, what they're doing or where they're going.

"Students have to be led to some extent. You just can't turn them loose, and I hope the school district is trying to teach them right from wrong as far as the use of narcotics," he said.

McCully said he didn't have a specific answer to the problem, but suggested that the district study drug abuse programs that have been successful in other districts, and consider a program for parents.

Donald E. Whitney of Tomales suggested that the district consider consulting the residents of Synanon House in Marshall, an organization which houses drug addicts.

McCully pointed out that conferences were held this past weekend with parents of suspended students, and he conceded "that some people weren't exactly happy with the way it was handled."

One of the parents in teh audience said he felt the crackdown was necessary and "handled pretty well," but some of his son's rights were violated. He advised against using a scare technique or threats, and advocated using a "good program" on drug abuse.

If the district's program isn't good, "they're going to laugh at you," he said.

After the meeting the board went into a closed session on hiring, and the residents gathered in small groups in the hallway and the district office to talk about youth and marijuana.

Shoreline Trustees Eye Synanon Future

Shoreline Unified School District trustees were advised last night to follow closely reported plans of Synanon to develop a city of 20,000 population at Marshall.

A member of the audience warned of the impact such a development would have on the district, particularly since Synanon has qualified as a tax-exempt organization.

If there were 20,000 persons in the proposed city, and Synanon not paying taxes it would put a burden on the district, he said.

Board President Robert Giacomini said trustees were aware of the implications such development would have for the district, but hadn't yet tackled the matter.

Shoreline Unified School District Also:

CAR RULES—Adopted regulations on use of cars and motorcycles by students, which prohibit use during the lunch period unless the parents sign a release request and it is approved by the Tomales High School office. The rules also designate the parking lot as off-limits during school hours.

FINAL PAYMENT — Authorized final payment of $93,859 to Olson and Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa for construction of the new Tomales High School, with about $9,000 to be withheld pending completion of punch list items.

ADULT EDUCATION — Heard a report from Supt. Charles E. McCully that the Marin Junior College District is interested in offering adult education courses in the district, and a questionnaire is being sent out to determine interest for having classes for 12 weeks starting March 30.

GIFTS — Accepted as a gift a generator for West Marin School from C. B. Gearhart of Point Reyes Station, and expressed appreciation to Sanderson Ford-Mercury Sales of Petaluma for loan of a pickup for the agriculture department at Tomales High School and to Pelline Chevrolet Co. for loan of a car for the high school homecoming.

TEACHERS ORGANIZATION — Officially recognized the Shoreline Education Association as the organization representing teachers. McCully said the association had 50 members, representing 96 per cent of the teaching staff.

CLOSED SESSION — Went into closed session to discuss the hiring of a teacher.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is at 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the District Office, John Street, Tomales.

"Students have to be led to some extent. You just can't turn them loose, and I hope the school district is trying to teach them right from wrong as far as the use of narcotics," he said.

McCully said he didn't have a specific answer to the problem, but suggested that the district study drug abuse programs that have been successful in other districts, and consider a program for parents.

Donald E. Whitney of Tomales suggested that the district consider consulting the residents of Synanon House in Marshall, an organization which houses drug addicts.

McCully pointed out that conferences were held this past weekend with parents of suspended students, and he conceded "that some people weren't exactly happy with the way it was handled."

One of the parents in teh audience said he felt the crackdown was necessary and "handled pretty well," but some of his son's rights were violated. He advised against using a scare technique or threats, and advocated using a "good program" on drug abuse.

If the district's program isn't good, "they're going to laugh at you," he said.

After the meeting the board went into a closed session on hiring, and the residents gathered in small groups in the hallway and the district office to talk about youth and marijuana.

Shoreline Trustees Eye Synanon Future

Shoreline Unified School District trustees were advised last night to follow closely reported plans of Synanon to develop a city of 20,000 population at Marshall.

A member of the audience warned of the impact such a development would have on the district, particularly since Synanon has qualified as a tax-exempt organization.

If there were 20,000 persons in the proposed city, and Synanon not paying taxes it would put a burden on the district, he said.

Board President Robert Giacomini said trustees were aware of the implications such development would have for the district, but hadn't yet tackled the matter.

Shoreline Unified School District Also:

CAR RULES—Adopted regulations on use of cars and motorcycles by students, which prohibit use during the lunch period unless the parents sign a release request and it is approved by the Tomales High School office. The rules also designate the parking lot as off-limits during school hours.

FINAL PAYMENT — Authorized final payment of $93,859 to Olson and Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa for construction of the new Tomales High School, with about $9,000 to be withheld pending completion of punch list items.

ADULT EDUCATION — Heard a report from Supt. Charles E. McCully that the Marin Junior College District is interested in offering adult education courses in the district, and a questionnaire is being sent out to determine interest for having classes for 12 weeks starting March 30.

GIFTS — Accepted as a gift a generator for West Marin School from C. B. Gearhart of Point Reyes Station, and expressed appreciation to Sanderson Ford-Mercury Sales of Petaluma for loan of a pickup for the agriculture department at Tomales High School and to Pelline Chevrolet Co. for loan of a car for the high school homecoming.

TEACHERS ORGANIZATION — Officially recognized the Shoreline Education Association as the organization representing teachers. McCully said the association had 50 members, representing 96 per cent of the teaching staff.

CLOSED SESSION — Went into closed session to discuss the hiring of a teacher.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is at 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the District Office, John Street, Tomales.

East German Boss In Bonn Overture

BONN, Germany (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East German president and Communist Party chief, sent a message today to President Gustav Heinemann of West Germany, apparently setting the stage for a new dialogue between the two Germanys.

It was the first such contact between the heads of state of the two countries since November 1951, when Presidents Wilhelm Pieck of East Germany and Theodor Heuss of West Germany exchanged letters.

Unruh Raps Land Sale To Reagan Appointee

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's office had no direct comment yesterday on reports that one of his appointees bought a 29-acre tract of land and 50 homes at Lake Oroville for half the appraised value.

Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh, a candidate for governor, said earlier that the Republican governor should tell Californians why the official was allowed to bid on the land.

The winning bid was submitted by Roger Carl Chandler, 43, a Yuba City real estate man who now holds a $25,000-a-year post on the California Youth Authority Board.

Unruh said the sale showed "at best, monumentally poor judgment by an administration supposedly dedicated to economy in government."

Asked for comment, Ed Gray, Reagan's associate press secretary, said, "Our only comment on the Unruh statement would be: Sounds like politics by a man who apparently doesn't have enough to do'."

Gray was asked if the press office had any comment on the reports about the land sale itself and he said no.

Meanwhile, the State General Services Department denied a statement by one of the unsuccessful bidders for the property —used by state workers during construction of the dam—that he was not permitted to bid on the same basis as Chandler.

Milton Harmon of Sacramento said his bid would have been $279,802, or $3,464 higher than Chandler's if it had been considered on the same basis as Chandler's.

This would have included a $28,886 "bonus" submitted under one of Harmon's bids.

H. C. Vincent Jr., chief land agent for the General Services Department, said Chandler bid in two ways: one series of bids listing each parcel of land and a bid for the entire property. The second, lump-sum bid was $28,886 higher than the total of the separate bids, Vincent said, and Harmon thus argued that it should be considered a "bonus" bid which would apply to the separate parcel bid sequence.

Vincent said Harmon "did come in and discuss his contention in the department. We did offer him the opportunity to discuss it directly with the director. He so did."

But Vincent said the department's attorney held that the bid could not be considered in the method Harmon wanted because it was not submitted on that basis.

The Redding Record-Searchlight reported Tuesday that Vincent's statements about the sale conflicted with records that showed Vincent gave Golden Oaks College a full week to come up with a cash bond after the bid opening and questioned whether Harmon shouldn't have received the same consideration.

Vincent said yesterday there was no negotiation of any sort with the college because "it was our contention that they had no bid."

Unruh contended in his statement that the sale amounted to "an almost instant profit to Chandler of a quarter of a million dollars." He said he would introduce legislation to prevent state officials from bidding on surplus state property.

32-YEAR POSTAL CAREER

From Rail Car Job To Postmaster

By ALAN JONES

From Kansas City, Mo., to Corte Madera, and from the now-vanished railroad mail cars to the postmaster's office. That sums up the 32-year postal career of Edward J. Victor, newly retired after more than 16 years as Corte Madera's postmaster.

Victor was honored Monday night by the Corte Madera Town Council with a resolution of commendation for his service.

The postmaster missed this year's Christmas mail rush by retiring Oct. 31, but the timing had nothing to do with the season. By retiring before Nov. 1 he took advantage of a change in pension plans linked to the cost of living, which made a 4 per cent difference in his retirement income.

Victor spent his first Christmas with the post office in Kansas City, where he signed on as a substitute in May 1937. He worked in the postal transportation service in the Kansas City terminal. The transportation service was considered elite, he said. Beginning substitutes there earned 75 cents an hour, compared with 65 cents for substitutes in the regular post office.

When World War II came, Victor went to New London, Conn., and got his mate's ticket there, then sailed with the merchant marine out of San Francisco.

The Victor family liked the area so well that after the war he applied for a transfer to the Bay Area in the postal service.

It meant a return to the bottom of the substitute list, but the transfer came through, and in a few months Victor was back on regular status.

For several years, he was clerk in charge of a three-man crew that rode the mail car from San Rafael to Eureka, sorting mail all the way. After a 45-minute layover, they made the return run to San Rafael, which meant the crew worked straight through from 4 p.m. until 7:15 or 7:30 the next morning.

After two round trips, the crew got three days off. The mail train work was pro-rated so that a work day of six hours, 25 minutes was considered the equivalent of an 8-hour day, Victor said.

The mail trains are gone now from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and in fact from the whole 12th district — California, Nevada, and the Pacific — Victor said.

After taking a Civil Service test for the post, Victor was appointed acting postmaster at Corte Madera on Sept. 30, 1953. They had to get someone else for his Oct. 1 run to Eureka.

Victor said the postal department as a whole is on the right track in efforts to move "the tremendous volume of mail built up over the last 10 years."

The only way to keep up with the flood, he said, will be more mechanization. If mail volume keeps growing at the same rate, it won't be possible to build big enough buildings for all the people needed to handle it manually in major cities, he said.

Mail volume has doubled in 10 years, he said.

Mechanization has been slowed, however, he said, by the limited budget the department has for experiments and development of new machines.

Some of the new machinery, he said, includes a Mark Two facer and canceler, which can handle 30,000 letters a minute. Another development is an automatic sorting machine, in which one operator can key mail from a console so it is dropped in the proper bin for California or New York.

This country's postal operation can't be compared with those of other nations. The U.S. handles more mail than the rest of the world put together, Victor said.

Victor plans to "relax for a couple of months," then perhaps take a part-time job until his wife Louise retires in July from her teaching job in the Larkspur School District.

"We'll play it by ear after that," he said. They plan to travel and cultivate their hobbies. "I'm a golfer and she paints, so we'll keep busy," he said.

Moon Rock On View In Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—A walnut size scrap of the moon went on display in Saigon today and hundreds turned out to see it.

Within minutes after the U.S. Information Agency's moon rock display opened, several hundred children and a few adults had passed through the hot, steamy room in which the small gray bit of the moon rested in its top-hat shaped plastic container.

The exhibit was on the second stop of a tour of Southeast Asia. In Bangkok, it drew about 1,000 persons an hour "and we expect about the same number here," said Robert Stirling of Tucson, Ariz., the USIA rock escort.

The female python lays about 100 eggs which she keeps warm with her body until hatched all the while going without food.

Marijuana Case Goes To Juvenile Court

The case of John Keats Thomson Jr., 19, of San Rafael, has been accepted by Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

Thomson, who is accused of possessing marijuana, was arrested Nov. 19 on Tiburon Boulevard when deputies stopped his car because it had only one tail light. The deputies said they found butts of what appeared to be pot in the car.

U.S. Vietnam Death Toll Near 40,000

SAIGON (AP) — American battlefield deaths in nine years of the Vietnam War will total more than 40,000 by Jan. 1 if the current rate continues.

The U.S. Command announced today that 85 Americans were killed in action last week, 15 less than the previous week. This raised the number of U.S. battlefield dead since Jan. 1, 1961 to 39,827.

For the past six weeks, the total of U.S. combat dead has averaged about 100, and there is no expectation that this will decrease substantially any time soon.

836 WOUNDED

The U.S. Command also reported 836 Americans wounded in action last week, a sizeable increase over the 592 wounded the week before. A total of 261,256 Americans have now been wounded in the war.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 421 government troops were killed in action last week, 10 more than the week before, and 1,436 government troops were wounded.

A spokesman said South Vietnamese casualties since Jan. 1, 1960, totals 97,541 killed and 216,128 wounded. The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed 2,396 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, a slight drop from the previous week's revised toll of 2,450. The U.S. casualty summary said allied forces now have killed at least 582,378 enemy troops since Jan. 1, 1961.

OVER MILLION

These summaries add up to a total of 1,197,130 troops killed or wounded on both sides of the war since Jan. 1, 1960.

In the northern Mekong Delta, meanwhile, where South Vietnamese infantrymen from the 9th Division clashed for the second day in a row with Viet Cong forces. This time the South Vietnamese reported killing 16 of the enemy 50 miles southwest of Saigon, with government casualties three killed and four wounded.

The day before the Viet Cong ambushed a 9th Division battalion in the same region, killed 20 men and wounded 63. Two Viet Cong dead were claimed.

The U.S. Command reported 14 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the night, but said casualties were light.

Forest Knolls Burglary Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of burglary against Richard Lee Wagner, 22, of Sonoma, was dismissed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for lack of evidence.

Wagner had been arrested Nov. 30 outside Larry's Market in Forest Knolls when sheriff's deputies answered a silent burglar alarm.

Georgia Board Of Education Hit With Integration Order

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A panel of three federal judges has ordered the Georgia Board of Education to terminate state funds to school districts which have not filed desegregation plans by March 1970.

The far-reaching decision yesterday also:

Defines an integrated school system as one in which 75 per cent of all pupils of a minority race are enrolled in integrated facilities.

Requires the state board with the assistance of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), to process and review all school desegregation plans in the state before April 1, 1970.

Directs the state board, in cases where desegregation plans are not in compliance with court standards, to insure compliance by May 1, 1970.

Orders each of the desegregation plans fully implemented by Sept. 1, 1970.

The decision was believed to be the first in the nation placing the responsibility for school desegregation at the state level. In the past, such action has been directed at local boards with the possible cutoff of federal school funds used as the prime method of enforcement.

It also marked the first time a federal court has designated specific standards for school desegregation.

The decision by U.S. Dist. Court Judges Sidney O. Smith Jr., Newell Edenfield and Albert Henderson Jr. came on a Justice Department suit filed last August.

The suit, seeking state-enforced integration of all Georiga schools, was the first ever filed by the federal government against a state. It followed an announced shift in school desegregation enforcement from HEW to the Justice Department.

32-YEAR POSTAL CAREER

From Rail Car Job To Postmaster

By ALAN JONES

From Kansas City, Mo., to Corte Madera, and from the now-vanished railroad mail cars to the postmaster's office. That sums up the 32-year postal career of Edward J. Victor, newly retired after more than 16 years as Corte Madera's postmaster.

Victor was honored Monday night by the Corte Madera Town Council with a resolution of commendation for his service.

The postmaster missed this year's Christmas mail rush by retiring Oct. 31, but the timing had nothing to do with the season. By retiring before Nov. 1 he took advantage of a change in pension plans linked to the cost of living, which made a 4 per cent difference in his retirement income.

Victor spent his first Christmas with the post office in Kansas City, where he signed on as a substitute in May 1937. He worked in the postal transportation service in the Kansas City terminal. The transportation service was considered elite, he said. Beginning substitutes there earned 75 cents an hour, compared with 65 cents for substitutes in the regular post office.

When World War II came, Victor went to New London, Conn., and got his mate's ticket there, then sailed with the merchant marine out of San Francisco.

The Victor family liked the area so well that after the war he applied for a transfer to the Bay Area in the postal service.

It meant a return to the bottom of the substitute list, but the transfer came through, and in a few months Victor was back on regular status.

For several years, he was clerk in charge of a three-man crew that rode the mail car from San Rafael to Eureka, sorting mail all the way. After a 45-minute layover, they made the return run to San Rafael, which meant the crew worked straight through from 4 p.m. until 7:15 or 7:30 the next morning.

After two round trips, the crew got three days off. The mail train work was pro-rated so that a work day of six hours, 25 minutes was considered the equivalent of an 8-hour day, Victor said.

The mail trains are gone now from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and in fact from the whole 12th district — California, Nevada, and the Pacific — Victor said.

After taking a Civil Service test for the post, Victor was appointed acting postmaster at Corte Madera on Sept. 30, 1953. They had to get someone else for his Oct. 1 run to Eureka.

Tax Reform Conferees Set To A $6.5 Billion In Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Provisions worth about $6.5 billion in either increased benefits or tax cuts appear certain to be missing from the tax reform bill that finally emerges from a House-Senate conference committee.

The 14-member committee has finished most of its work on the measures's reform provisions and hopes to complete action on the rest of the bill by tonight.

In an effort to compromise the differences between the House and Senate versions, versions, and head off a threatened presidential veto, the conferees apparently are set to delete at least nine provisions from the Senate bill while compromising other additions passed by that chamber.

However the apparently doomed provisions do not include the proposal to increase the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $300. Although opposed by the Nixon administration, this is expected to remain in the bill, probably in reduced and postponed terms, in view of strong support in the House.

Among the Senate provisions for which conferees are sharpening their shears are:

An annual tax credit up to $325 for college expenses. It would cost $1.8 billion a year.

Deductions by handicapped persons for special cost of getting to work, $90 million.

A special increase to $100 of the minimum Social Security monthly payment—in addition to the 15 per cent general increase which appears sure of approval. The extra feature would cost $2 billion.

President Richard M. Nixon has said he would veto a bill that provided a 15 per cent boost in Social Security benefits and a $200 increase in the personal exemption.

A 7.50 a month increase in welfare payments; $150 million.

Continuation of the investment credit for the first $20,000 of annual investment by a company; $720 million, and continuation of the credit for investments in depressed areas; $70 million.

Caroling Party Is Scheduled Tonight

The annual Christmas caroling party of the Homestead Valley Community Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Brown's Hall and was not held last night as erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent Journal.

Carolers will assemble at the Homestead School at 7 o'clock and stroll carrying candles and singing to the hall where refreshments will be served.

Wounded Policeman Switches Hospitals

Vilho Ahola, the Petaluma policeman shot on duty Nov. 7, has been transferred to a new hospital for more intensive therapy for his paralyzed legs.

Ahola, who had been a patient at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital, has been moved to the Oak Knoll Section of the Community Hospital of Sonoma County where more rehabilitation therapy is available.

Ahola suffered a gunshot wound of the neck which left him completely paralyzed, but he has since regained the use of his arms, back and torso. While he reports some feeling in his toes, his legs remain paralyzed.

The officer overcame two infections after the emergency surgery to remove a .25 caliber bullet lodged against the spinal cord.

His accused assailant, Walter Lee Hale, 52, is awaiting a Feb. 16 jury trial in Sonoma County Superior Court. Ahola had been helping Hale's estranged wife, Helen, remove personal items from her home at 718 I Street when the incident occurred.

Stanford Co-Ed Attacked, Beaten

STANFORD (UPI)—A 24-year-old Stanford co-ed was in fair condition today after being raped and beaten near the main entrance to the campus.

The victim, a graduate student in language, was riding her bicycle from Palo Alto to the school Tuesday evening when a man jumped out at her, threw a blue quilted jacket over her face and dragged her into the nearby bushes.

She told police she was raped and then beaten by her assailant, whom she described as white, about 30, about six feet tall and 190 pounds with close-cropped hair.

KITCHEN TREAT FOR UNUSUAL PET

Little Danny Hampton of Chadds Ford, Pa., watches Perry the opossum lick a spoon held by Mrs. Hampton. The marsupial was found injured beside a road, nursedy by the Hamptons and turned loose — but refused to return to the wilds. It now sleeps beneath a rocker most of the day and roams the house at night. It even shares a food dish with the family cat. (AP Wirephoto)

Pesticide Restrictions Are Studied

Use of pesticides will come under more restrictions and stricter enforcement from next month, two state officials warned yesterday at a gathering of about 30 pest control operators at Civic Center.

Marin Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard, who presided at the meeting, said the state officials explained the new regulations that will go into effect in January. Speakers were Rex Magee, senior analyst, and Jose Joseph Shoemaker, program supervisor for crops and agricultural chemicals, State Department of Agriculture.

Legislation passed this year strictly limits the use of DDT, and requires detailed reports from pest control operators, said Ballard. "The aim is to record what types of spray material are being used in what quantities in which locations," he added. "This is because of the danger of environmental pollution."

Beginning Jan. 1, each agricultural application of pesticide must be reported to the agricultural commissioner. In Marin, almost all pest control work is on residences. Pest control operators who work on residence will make monthly reports to the state instead of reporting each spray application separately, said Ballard.

Disposal of pesticide containers is also strictly controlled. In Southern Marin, containers must go to Richmond, and in the rest of the county, discarded containers are taken to the Redwood Sanitary fill dump, north of Novato, Ballard explained.

Pollution Measures Hit; Signature Cuts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A statewide drive to qualify two air pollution control measures for the 1970 ballot has been set back by huge cuts in the numbers of signatures on initiative petitions.

The cuts were made by county clerks checking the signatures against voter records. The deadline for the counties to certify their counts to the secretary of state's office was yesterday.

With only a handful of small counties yet to report, the totals reported by Asst. Secty. of State H. P. Sullivan were 152,922 on the petition for the first measure, and 149,240 for the second.

The first, a constitutional amendment putting the cost of eliminating pollution on the sources instead of on taxpayers and consumers, needs 525,276. The second, a statute revision giving polluters five years to end pollution, needs 325,173.

The chairman of the campaign, Edwin A. Koupal of Los Angeles, had reported last month that almost 300,000 signatures were gathered on each petition statewide. He predicted that 18 to 20 per cent would be disqualified for failure to match voter records.

Sullivan's office did not have a count of the total number of signatures filed with county clerks for verification.

Koupal's group, the People's Lobby, is using the 60-day supplementary period in a scramble to gather the rest of the signatures. These supplementary petitions must be filed with the county clerks by Jan. 26.

In Marin, more than one third of the signatures collected were disqualified, with the number of valid signatures totaling 3,171 on the amendment and 3,365 on the statute.

Chairman of the Marin campaign is Mrs. E. P. Franklin of Fairfax.

City's Sleuths Seeking Stenches

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sanitation inspectors have been ordered to find the source of noxious odors which have enveloped parts of the city in recent weeks.

Dr. Ellis Sox, city health director, said yesterday slaughter houses and rendering plants in the Butchertown area may be responsible, but a combination of factors could be the cause of the unpleasant odors.

"We've had problems before with natural odors from the mud flats, exhaust fumes from automobiles and trains, and burning at the dumps," Sox said. "We'll just stand them (the inspectors) with their faces into the wind and find out what is causing the stink."

Hires Operators

Cycle Driver's Condition Poor From Collision

A 20-year-old San Anselmo man was reported in poor condition in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit with serious head injuries suffered when his motorcycle hit a car head-on yesterday on Lucas Valley Road near Thunder Ranch.

Robert Warren Gatson, of 462 Laurel Avenue, and a passenger, Lisa Munson, 15, of 14 Mount Susitna Court, San Rafael, were injured when their cycle crossed the center line and hit a car driven by Nicholas John Roberts, 31, of Wintergreen Terrace, San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said.

Miss Munson was under observation at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for a fractured finger and multiple cuts and bruises.

The patrol said prosecution of Gatson for felony drunken driving may be sought pending anlysis of blood samples taken at the hospital.

The mishap was at 5:15 p.m.

Belben New Head Of Gallinas Village CSD

The Gallinas Village Community Services District board last night elected Herbert C. Belben Jr. chairman for 1970, secretary Marguerite F. Clark reported.

The board also discussed plans for improvement of Rosal-Adrian Park as proposed by county planners.

Ecumenical Housing Sponsoring 280 Units

The Ecumenical Association for Housing, organized exactly one year ago, is sponsoring a total of 280 rental units for low and moderate income families, president Douglas P. Ferguson announced last night.

The association welcomed its 32nd member, Co-op-Marin, represented by Mrs. Edward (Jackie) Parnell of Tiburon.

Among housing projects underway, the most advanced are the 61 units which the First Congregational Church of Santa Venetia is sponsoring on Merrydale Road at North San Pedro Road in San Rafael. Rev. Francis Geddes reported that working drawings are one-third complete, and negotiations are under way with the builder.

Edwin Weed of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of Belvedere said rezoning hearings are proceeding before the Tiburon Planning Commission to allow moderate income housing at the Hilarita Housing Project. Weed said the preliminary drawings indicate a mixture of townhouses and apartments in clusters, interspersed with open space and greenbelts.

William Parnow of the Catholic Social Services agency reported that his board of directors has hired architects Kaplan and McLaughlin of San Francisco to proceed with preliminary plans and a feasibility study on 45 units of elderly housing at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

David Francis of Methodist Church of Mill Valley said his church, together with the Community Church of Mill Valley and three other churches, plan to sponsor 75 to 80 rental units at the Shelter Ridge Housing Project on the west side of Highway 101, south of the Mill Valley turnoff. Warner Odenthal is the developer.

Martin Mackey, executive director, announced that the annual business meeting and election of officers will be held Jan. 21 at 8 p.m. at Civic Center. Named to the nominating committee were Dean Weibel of Marin Lutheran Church, Ellen Wagner of Novato, and Neil B. Little Jr. of Sausalito.

Cong Tribunal Sentences Pair

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong tribunal, conducted on the outskirts of Saigon, sentenced one Vietnamese to death and another to five years in prison for serving as "henchmen and spies" for the United States, a Viet Cong radio broadcast said today.

The broadcast, by the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio, claimed 1,000 persons attended the trial Dec. 13 somewhere in the northern part of Long An Province, southwest of the capital.

It said Nguyen Van Tram, 31, was sentenced to death for hurling a grenade that killed a number of persons and Nguyen Van Tre, 29, was given a five-year sentence for serving as a government spy.

BEAM
THE WORLD'S FINEST BOURBON
JIM BEAM
KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY
JAMES B. BEAM DISTILLING CO.

It's the holiday season, 1795. Jacob Beam and his family are buckboarding it around the Kentucky countryside. Chinning with the neighbors. Giving gifts. Jacob Beam is giving his closest friends a bit of himself. Some Beam Bourbon. It comes right from his own choicest grains. His own secret formula. And his secret knack for making the best-tasting, lightest Bourbon within a two days' ride. It's a rare gift, because Jacob never seems to be able to make enough to keep up with the demand.

Today, T. Jeremiah Beam, pictured here, makes Jim Beam Bourbon just like Jacob did, generations of Beams ago. And he's gift-wrapped it in a handsome holiday package. Give it to some of your friends and you'll sort of be doing what old Jacob did. You'll be giving a bit of yourself. And that's still the rarest gift of all. "World's finest Bourbon since 1795."

German Hotel Blaze Kills 3

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI) Fire swept through the five-story Hotel Albany early today, forcing guests to leap from windows.

Three persons were killed and 12 others, including two Americans, were injured.

One of the injured Americans was identified as Air Force Sgt. Timothy Spaccapelo, of Cleveland, Ohio. He suffered only cuts and bruises but was detained in a hospital for observation.

The other American was identified only as an airman from Torrejon Air Force Base in Spain. He too suffered cuts and bruises.

After 20 Years China Still A Nation Of Great Mystery

By FREDERICK NOSSAL

HONG KONG (TNS) — Twenty years after Mao Tse-tung founded the People's Republic, China remains the most remote and mysterious of all the great nations.

The enigmatic Middle Kingdom is less accessible to most foreigners than any other land on earth.

This year, two Americans landed on the moon a quarter of a million miles away, and the historic feat was watched by the whole world — except by the Chinese. Indeed to many in the West, the moon today must seem far more real than the puzzling nation that has locked itself away from the rest of mankind.

And yet the riddle of the Peking regime's behavior is easily explained. First of all, it is a reaction against the abuse and injustices piled upon China by more powerful nations last century and earlier this century.

Britain, Russia, France, Germany and Japan forced a weak China to give up territory and grant trading concessions harmful to its economy.

Secondly, by wrapping itself in a virtually impenetrable mantle of secrecy, China manges to hide many of the failures and frustrations of its revolution.

The Communist takeover in 1949 brought a great social, cultural, political and economic revolution to China, and there is not a shadow of a doubt that Mao's leadership has corrected numerous ills in the country.

But any experiment as ambitious and sweeping as the changes the Peking regime imposed upon the Chinese nation must lead also to abuses and to errors, to disenchantment and violent reactions among certain people.

China, 20 years after Mao Tse-tung's regime assumed power, is a nation of fantastic contrasts and contradictions. Mao can claim that as regards political power, his revolution has succeeded in that no other faction and no foreign nation has been able to unseat the Communist government in Peking.

But the very fact that earlier this decade some of his closest associates turned against Mao and his doctrines — following the economic failures of the Great Leap Forward — provides dramatic proof that many Chinese feel the revolution has not lived up to the initial promises made by its leaders.

Yet the basic causes for some of the setbacks lie as much with China's history and geography as with the men in Peking. China is a vast land, the second largest nation on earth after the Soviet Union. It straddles the Asian continent.

China reaches from the borders of Kazakhstan eastward almost as far as the Sea of Japan, from Siberia and Mongolia south to the Himalayan ice shield and to the jungles of Burma, Laos and Vietnam.

It is the most populous land on earth, with a population of between 700,000,000 and 800,000,000. Nobody is certain of the exact figure which is another of Peking's closely-kept secrets. Despite its size and its millions, China is not yet a very powerful nation by global standards.

Its military might is limited by economic factors. China has a small arsenal of nuclear weapons. But it does not have the means to create an ultramodern army, navy and air force that could compete effectively with either the United States or the Soviet Union.

By world standards, China is not a big trader. Total annual trade both ways is around $4 billion — considerably less than one fifth of the total foreign trade of Canada, which has only about one fortieth of China's population.

The Peking regime's first 20 years divides readily into four distinct periods. The first is the years of the early 1950s when the Communists, flushed with victory, consolidate their national power.

They succeed in unifying China — in itself a great historic feat, for the country had been fragmented during most of this century by squabbling warlords, its economy ruined by Chiang's corrupt administration.

The world and particularly other Asian governments are dazzled by Peking's early triumphs. Mao and his more fanatic supporters become overconfident.

The second period begins with the creation of the rural communes in 1958, and the ill-fated Great Leap Forward. More than 500,000,000 Chinese peasants are lumped into about 26,000 administrative units called people's communes. The idea was to simplify and centralize Communist Party authority.

This was the third of the four distinct time spans, and it lasted from about 1961 until 1965. It is too late to do much about the Sino-Soviet split, and even the pro-Moscow factions in Peking admit that the Russians behaved abominably in withdrawing all foreign experts in a matter of weeks in 1960, and even taking away blueprints in order to sabotage industrial development and production in China.

During these years, Chairman Mao felt the leadership of the nation slipping from his hands. The economic situation in China improved, but in Mao's view the revolution had taken the wrong turning.

After 20 Years China Still A Nation Of Great Mystery

By FREDERICK NOSSAL

HONG KONG (TNS) — Twenty years after Mao Tse-tung founded the People's Republic, China remains the most remote and mysterious of all the great nations.

The enigmatic Middle Kingdom is less accessible to most foreigners than any other land on earth.

This year, two Americans landed on the moon a quarter of a million miles away, and the historic feat was watched by the whole world — except by the Chinese. Indeed to many in the West, the moon today must seem far more real than the puzzling nation that has locked itself away from the rest of mankind.

And yet the riddle of the Peking regime's behavior is easily explained. First of all, it is a reaction against the abuse and injustices piled upon China by more powerful nations last century and earlier this century.

Britain, Russia, France, Germany and Japan forced a weak China to give up territory and grant trading concessions harmful to its economy.

Secondly, by wrapping itself in a virtually impenetrable mantle of secrecy, China manges to hide many of the failures and frustrations of its revolution.

The Communist takeover in 1949 brought a great social, cultural, political and economic revolution to China, and there is not a shadow of a doubt that Mao's leadership has corrected numerous ills in the country.

But any experiment as ambitious and sweeping as the changes the Peking regime imposed upon the Chinese nation must lead also to abuses and to errors, to disenchantment and violent reactions among certain people.

China, 20 years after Mao Tse-tung's regime assumed power, is a nation of fantastic contrasts and contradictions. Mao can claim that as regards political power, his revolution has succeeded in that no other faction and no foreign nation has been able to unseat the Communist government in Peking.

But the very fact that earlier this decade some of his closest associates turned against Mao and his doctrines — following the economic failures of the Great Leap Forward — provides dramatic proof that many Chinese feel the revolution has not lived up to the initial promises made by its leaders.

Yet the basic causes for some of the setbacks lie as much with China's history and geography as with the men in Peking. China is a vast land, the second largest nation on earth after the Soviet Union. It straddles the Asian continent.

China reaches from the borders of Kazakhstan eastward almost as far as the Sea of Japan, from Siberia and Mongolia south to the Himalayan ice shield and to the jungles of Burma, Laos and Vietnam.

It is the most populous land on earth, with a population of between 700,000,000 and 800,000,000. Nobody is certain of the exact figure which is another of Peking's closely-kept secrets. Despite its size and its millions, China is not yet a very powerful nation by global standards.

Its military might is limited by economic factors. China has a small arsenal of nuclear weapons. But it does not have the means to create an ultramodern army, navy and air force that could compete effectively with either the United States or the Soviet Union.

By world standards, China is not a big trader. Total annual trade both ways is around $4 billion — considerably less than one fifth of the total foreign trade of Canada, which has only about one fortieth of China's population.

The Peking regime's first 20 years divides readily into four distinct periods. The first is the years of the early 1950s when the Communists, flushed with victory, consolidate their national power.

They succeed in unifying China — in itself a great historic feat, for the country had been fragmented during most of this century by squabbling warlords, its economy ruined by Chiang's corrupt administration.

The world and particularly other Asian governments are dazzled by Peking's early triumphs. Mao and his more fanatic supporters become overconfident.

The second period begins with the creation of the rural communes in 1958, and the ill-fated Great Leap Forward. More than 500,000,000 Chinese peasants are lumped into about 26,000 administrative units called people's communes. The idea was to simplify and centralize Communist Party authority.

This was the third of the four distinct time spans, and it lasted from about 1961 until 1965. It is too late to do much about the Sino-Soviet split, and even the pro-Moscow factions in Peking admit that the Russians behaved abominably in withdrawing all foreign experts in a matter of weeks in 1960, and even taking away blueprints in order to sabotage industrial development and production in China.

During these years, Chairman Mao felt the leadership of the nation slipping from his hands. The economic situation in China improved, but in Mao's view the revolution had taken the wrong turning.

German Hotel Blaze Kills 3

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI) Fire swept through the five-story Hotel Albany early today, forcing guests to leap from windows.

Three persons were killed and 12 others, including two Americans, were injured.

One of the injured Americans was identified as Air Force Sgt. Timothy Spaccapelo, of Cleveland, Ohio. He suffered only cuts and bruises but was detained in a hospital for observation.

The other American was identified only as an airman from Torrejon Air Force Base in Spain. He too suffered cuts and bruises.

Hare Quits 'Chairman In Exile' Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dr. Nathan Hare, the fired chairman of San Francisco State College's black studies department, has given up his role as "chairman in exile" to concentrate on scholarship. (See San Francisco State story, page 24.)

Hare issued a statement last night in which he said his best personal contribution to the black liberation movement could be as a scholar and social critic.

"We have failed to develop a viable ideology for black liberation," he said. "I have seen the black movement for liberation failing in this country, bit by bit."

"On the one hand, we have trained scholars with black skins secluded in the Ivory—or Ebony—Towers. On the other, the street activist running around without a plan or theory, somewhat like a chicken that has been beheaded."

Hare was fired last spring by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley for disrupting a faculty meeting. Hare pledged to stay on and run the department, but in August he abandoned that plan to work on his new magazine, "Black Scholar."

Militant students had continued to consider Hare the "chairman in exile" of the black studies department, which is embroiled in a dispute with Hayakawa and the college administration.

Hare denied he was pulling his punches or abandoning the movement in forsaking the campus disputes for a role as scholar.

"It only means that I am changing my style of fighting in the effort to help free my people," said the former prizefighter.

G.E. Product Picketing Is Scheduled

The Marin County Labor Council last night agreed to start informational picketing tomorrow evening of stores in Marin selling General Electric products, reported secretary and outgoing council president Charles B. Weers.

The pickets will be to inform shoppers of the strike against General Electric, and will not be directed against the local stores themselves. Weers said.

The council voted to support a proposal by County Administrator Alan Bruce to place Fair-Marin under control of the administrator and the supervisors. The council feels the present Fair-Marin board does not represent the people of the county but only a small group, Weers said.

The council also supported a proposal by Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. to put the director of the human rights commission in charge of the New Careers program, with authority to hire a coordinator for the program.

The council will ask the supervisors to appoint the council's new president, Thomas Beyer, to the advisory committee on aid to dependent children. The committee could use labor's experience and knowledge in the fields of employment and housing, Weers said, but there is no labor representation now.

The council also reaffirmed its support of the Delano grape strikers, and will continue to take part this weekend in picketing of Safeway stores carrying table grapes.

Drug Firms Face Giant Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five of the nation's major drug manufacturers have been accused of conspiracy and monopoly in the interstate and foreign marketing of broad spectrum antibiotics.

International Rectifier Corp. and four pharmaceutical subsidiaries filed a U.S. District Court suit yesterday seeking treble damages of $81 million. from the five.

Named defendants were American Cyanamid Co.; Bristol-Myers Co.; Chas. Pfizer Co., Inc.; E. R. Squibb & Sons, Inc.; Upjohn Co., and Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. Subsidiaries of the firms were named co-conspirators.

Peter Palmer Named Health Panel Leader

Peter W. Palmer, a former senior social worker for the county, was elected chairman of the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board last night at Marin General Hospital.

Palmer was elected in a 5 to 4 vote over incumbent chairman Paul A. Steinman.

The Advisory board members decided they would ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors for the precise wording of a new contract which the county wants to work out with the Marin General Hospital District.

County supervisors want to put mental health outpatient services, now under the hospital jurisdiction, under the control of the county director of mental health services, Dr. Leon R. Wanerman.

The advisory board members are seeking specific reasons for the proposed change; asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella's report to the supervisors, and an evaluation from the Marin General Hospital District.

The advisory board also decided to hold a special workshop session before the next regular meeting of Jan. 21 to discuss how various subcommittees will operate. Palmer will set the time and place for the workshop.

The board decided to continue investigation of mental health services in general and children's services in particular, and to send a report on children's services to each member of the board of supervisors.

Injuries Minor

Mary Ann Degenhardt, 48, of 86 Biscayne Road, San Rafael, was treated for a cut lip today after her car smashed into a traffic light on the corner of Second and Union streets at 5:04 a.m., San Rafael police reported.

Fairfax Woman's Condition Is Good

A Fairfax woman, who had apparently taken an overdose of pills, was found lying on the floor of her home by police about 1 a.m. today.

The woman, Bernice Hollis, in her 40s, of 155 Tamalpais Road, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital. Police said she had telephoned a friend or relative in San Rafael before apparently consuming the pills and San Rafael police alerted Fairfax authorities.

County supervisors want to put mental health outpatient services, now under the hospital jurisdiction, under the control of the county director of mental health services, Dr. Leon R. Wanerman.

The advisory board members are seeking specific reasons for the proposed change; asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella's report to the supervisors, and an evaluation from the Marin General Hospital District.

The advisory board also decided to hold a special workshop session before the next regular meeting of Jan. 21 to discuss how various subcommittees will operate. Palmer will set the time and place for the workshop.

The board decided to continue investigation of mental health services in general and children's services in particular, and to send a report on children's services to each member of the board of supervisors.

Injuries Minor

Mary Ann Degenhardt, 48, of 86 Biscayne Road, San Rafael, was treated for a cut lip today after her car smashed into a traffic light on the corner of Second and Union streets at 5:04 a.m., San Rafael police reported.

Fairfax Woman's Condition Is Good

A Fairfax woman, who had apparently taken an overdose of pills, was found lying on the floor of her home by police about 1 a.m. today.

The woman, Bernice Hollis, in her 40s, of 155 Tamalpais Road, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital. Police said she had telephoned a friend or relative in San Rafael before apparently consuming the pills and San Rafael police alerted Fairfax authorities.

JUDGE ACCUSED — New Orleans Criminal District Judge Edward Haggerty Jr. (background) hides his face after being arrested. Stag Party Raid Nabs Shaw Judge

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police crashed a stag party in a motel room last night and arrested everyone present, including the judge who presided at the Clay Shaw trial.

Newsmen who came on what they thought would be a routine raid saw silver-haired Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. struggling to get away. He was subdued and handcuffed.

Police Maj. Joseph Murry said Haggerty was booked on charges of soliciting for prostitution, obscenity, resisting arrest and four counts of assault on a policeman.

Haggerty, 55, of New Orleans, a judge in the state Criminal District Court, presided at the month-long trial of Shaw, who was cleared of a charge of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Murry said three women and 10 other men arrested at the midcity motel were each booked on the obscenity charge.

The newsmen, who included television cameramen, were allowed in the room about a minute after police broke in.

Haggerty's brief struggle with officers was in the full glare of TV cameras. The judge suffered a small cut on the forehead.

Police Sgt. William Nolan said a stag movie was being shown in conjunction with live entertainment. He did not elaborate.

Vehicles Barred From Part Of Tahoe Forest

I-J Special Report

NEVADA CITY — The northern portion of the Granite Chief area in the Tahoe National Forest has been declared a roadless recreation area, the Forest Service announced yesterday.

The announcement, made by Tahoe Forest Supervisor Henry Branagh, is the result of detailed studies of the 39,500 acre area west of the Lake Tahoe Basin, and a public meeting held last October in Auburn.

For study purposes, the Granite Chief area was divided into two areas: northern and southern. The decision for the northern 15,700 acres, composed of the North Fork, Picayune, and Whisky Creek Units, is to manage them as a roadless summer and winter public recreation area. All motorized vehicles will be excluded. Minimum recreation facilities will be provided as necessary to maintain the natural environmental character.

Branagh said, "There will be no harvesting of timber on National Forest land in this area. Development of resorts, residences, and commercial winter sports will not be permitted."

The decision for management of the National Forest land within the 24,000 acre southern area (Diamond Crossing, Greyhorse, and West Meadow Units) is to continue management under ranger district multiple use plans with one exception. An eight-square-mile tract lying generally north of Bear Pen Creek in the Diamond Crossing Unit will be closed to public vehicular travel. Supervisor Branagh said:

"Our reasons behind the dicision for the southern area include the extensive private land holdings in this area, the benefits such as pleasure driving, camping, and picnicking which will be provided to the public by the Lake Tahoe-French Meadows Road, and the need to properly manage and utilize the timber resources to help satisfy the nation's need for wood fiber."

Inmate Stages A Prison Crisis

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A state prison inmate, disgruntled over his failure to get a parole, held 23 persons hostage with a foot-long, homemade dagger yesterday before releasing them unharmed after five hours.

The prisoner, Haywood Quinn, 34, surrendered after state Corrections Commissioner Lake Russell agreed to his demands, which included cash payments to the hostages for their inconvenience.

Presbytery Criticizes Genesis Use In Texts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Representatives of the San Francisco Bay Area's Presbyterians have criticized the state Board of Education's recent ruling that textbooks should include the Biblical version of creation along with Darwin's theory of evolution.

It was announced yesterday that about 200 representatives of the Bay Area's 44,000 Presbyterians passed a resolution which said:

"The Presbytery of San Francisco regrets the action of the state Board of Education in specifying that the Genesis account of creation be taught in the schools of California as an alternative to the findings of scientific investigation.

"Such an action completely misunderstands the significance of the Genesis account and raises serious questions, both about the teaching of religion in the public schools and about the integrity of the education process.

"As Christians we find no conflict between the emphasis in Genesis that God is the creator and the objective findings of science that creation has occurred by means of an unimaginably long and complex evolutionary process . . ."

The resolution, however, urges teaching of the Bible as literature in public schools.

Previously the board's action was criticized by Episcopal Dean C. Julian Bartlett of San Francisco's Grace Cathedral, who called it "incredible, appalling, preposterous" and "a clear violation of the constitutional prohibition respecting the establishment of religion."

THE STARS ABOVE

Andromeda In Sky Looks Unlike Girl

Andromeda, the Lady in Chains, is a constellation that does not look anything like what it is supposed to represent. It is just two lines of stars, some of which are hard to see if the night sky is the least bit hazy.

Like some other figures, it shares one of its stars with another. Alpha Andromedae, also called Alpheratz, was once considered a part of Pegasus, forming one corner of the Great Square. It still is sometimes called Delta Pegasi, even though it has definitely been given to Andromeda.

To locate Andromeda, face southward at 9 p.m., Standard Time, and look at the region of the sky that is four-fifths of the distance up from the southern horizon to the overhead point.

Andromeda is also interesting in that it contains a nebula that can be seen without telescopic aid. The nebula itself contains almost any kind of object you would ever expect to see. It has had novae, or exploding stars of extreme brightness, which to be seen at all at such a distance must have been terribly hot and bright. There are also Cepheid variables within it which are a help in computing its distance.

The distance of the nebula (M31) is now computed to be about 1.75 million light-years away. The light we see now left there before anything resembling modern man had appeared on the earth.

The symmetrical form of the galaxy and the favorable position have shown us much of the nature of our own Milky Way galaxy.

Sanitary Board Acts On Odors

Directors authorized engineer J. Warren Nute to proceed with improvements estimated to cost $39,200 in a report submitted by Nute earlier this month, Clerk Belle Albert reported.

At the board meeting held Tuesday night, Douglas De La Fontaine was named president and Beverly Wheeler, secretary. New members Eber D. Russell, George B. Szabo and Henry C. Whitescarver were seated.

No Burglary Case Charges

No complaint has been issued against Frank J. Vargas, 19, of Petaluma, who had been held in connection with a Petaluma burglary Saturday.

Vargas, who had been away without leave for one week from Fort Lewis, Wash., was turned over to military police. It was incorrectly reported that Vargas had been arrested by Pacifica police. He had been arrested by Petaluma police on a traffic warrant issued by Pacifica police.

He had been questioned about a burglary at the home of a neighbor, Joseph M. Cabral, 95-A Corona Road, where a television set, two clocks, a portable heater and jewelry were taken.

THE STARS ABOVE

Andromeda In Sky Looks Unlike Girl

Andromeda, the Lady in Chains, is a constellation that does not look anything like what it is supposed to represent. It is just two lines of stars, some of which are hard to see if the night sky is the least bit hazy.

Like some other figures, it shares one of its stars with another. Alpha Andromedae, also called Alpheratz, was once considered a part of Pegasus, forming one corner of the Great Square. It still is sometimes called Delta Pegasi, even though it has definitely been given to Andromeda.

To locate Andromeda, face southward at 9 p.m., Standard Time, and look at the region of the sky that is four-fifths of the distance up from the southern horizon to the overhead point.

Andromeda is also interesting in that it contains a nebula that can be seen without telescopic aid. The nebula itself contains almost any kind of object you would ever expect to see. It has had novae, or exploding stars of extreme brightness, which to be seen at all at such a distance must have been terribly hot and bright. There are also Cepheid variables within it which are a help in computing its distance.

The distance of the nebula (M31) is now computed to be about 1.75 million light-years away. The light we see now left there before anything resembling modern man had appeared on the earth.

The symmetrical form of the galaxy and the favorable position have shown us much of the nature of our own Milky Way galaxy.

Sanitary Board Acts On Odors

Directors authorized engineer J. Warren Nute to proceed with improvements estimated to cost $39,200 in a report submitted by Nute earlier this month, Clerk Belle Albert reported.

At the board meeting held Tuesday night, Douglas De La Fontaine was named president and Beverly Wheeler, secretary. New members Eber D. Russell, George B. Szabo and Henry C. Whitescarver were seated.

HELP THROUGH PROJECT HELP

Collecting and packing toys, household goods, clothing and furniture to be distributed to needy Marin families are volunteers for Project Help, an Economic Opportunity Council service. From left are Mrs. Richard Schwartz, Richard Nielsen, project coordinator; and Mrs. Robert Mault. Several Marin women's organizations are providing volunteers to gather articles to meet requests that come through the Project Help offices. Here the sorting is done at the Central Marin location, 918 C Street, San Rafael. Donations of foods, clothing and appliances are also collected at the Novato Center, 875 Grant Avenue, and in Southern Marin at the Manzanita Center, Marin City. Churches are also assisting, and a committee of low income persons will aid in distribution. The project is serving as a central clearing house for groups and persons who wish to donate foods and goods to other families.

Holiday Table Setting Ideas

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Let your imagination run wild in setting a holiday table, advises Beatrice Stotter, long-time designer of table accessories.

There's no need to stick with traditional Yuletide colors — reds, greens and gold. Use a color scheme selected to your taste in china, glassware, tablecloth or place mats.

"Reminders of the Yuletide season — holly in a silver bowl or an arrangement of greens in a centerpiece — may be very pretty, but a handsomely coordinated table will look festive in any season," she explains.

Pink and white table: Pink and white china, pink glass, white and pink centerpiece, pink place mats or pink and white tablecloth. Fill the centerpiece with pink and white Christmas ornaments.

WHITE AND purple: All white china on purple place mats, white cloth, a purple centerpiece and clear crystal.

Green and blue: Moss green place mats, blue plates, green glasses, a blue bowl filled with greens.

Mrs. Stotter, a well-known Cleveland hostess before she brought her talents to New York a decade ago, likes a traditional table with a white linen-like look for special occasions. She uses modern china and keeps table accessory colors "pretty much the same, but not the same tone," she says. Handsome old sugar bowls and vegetable dishes hold the flowers of the season.

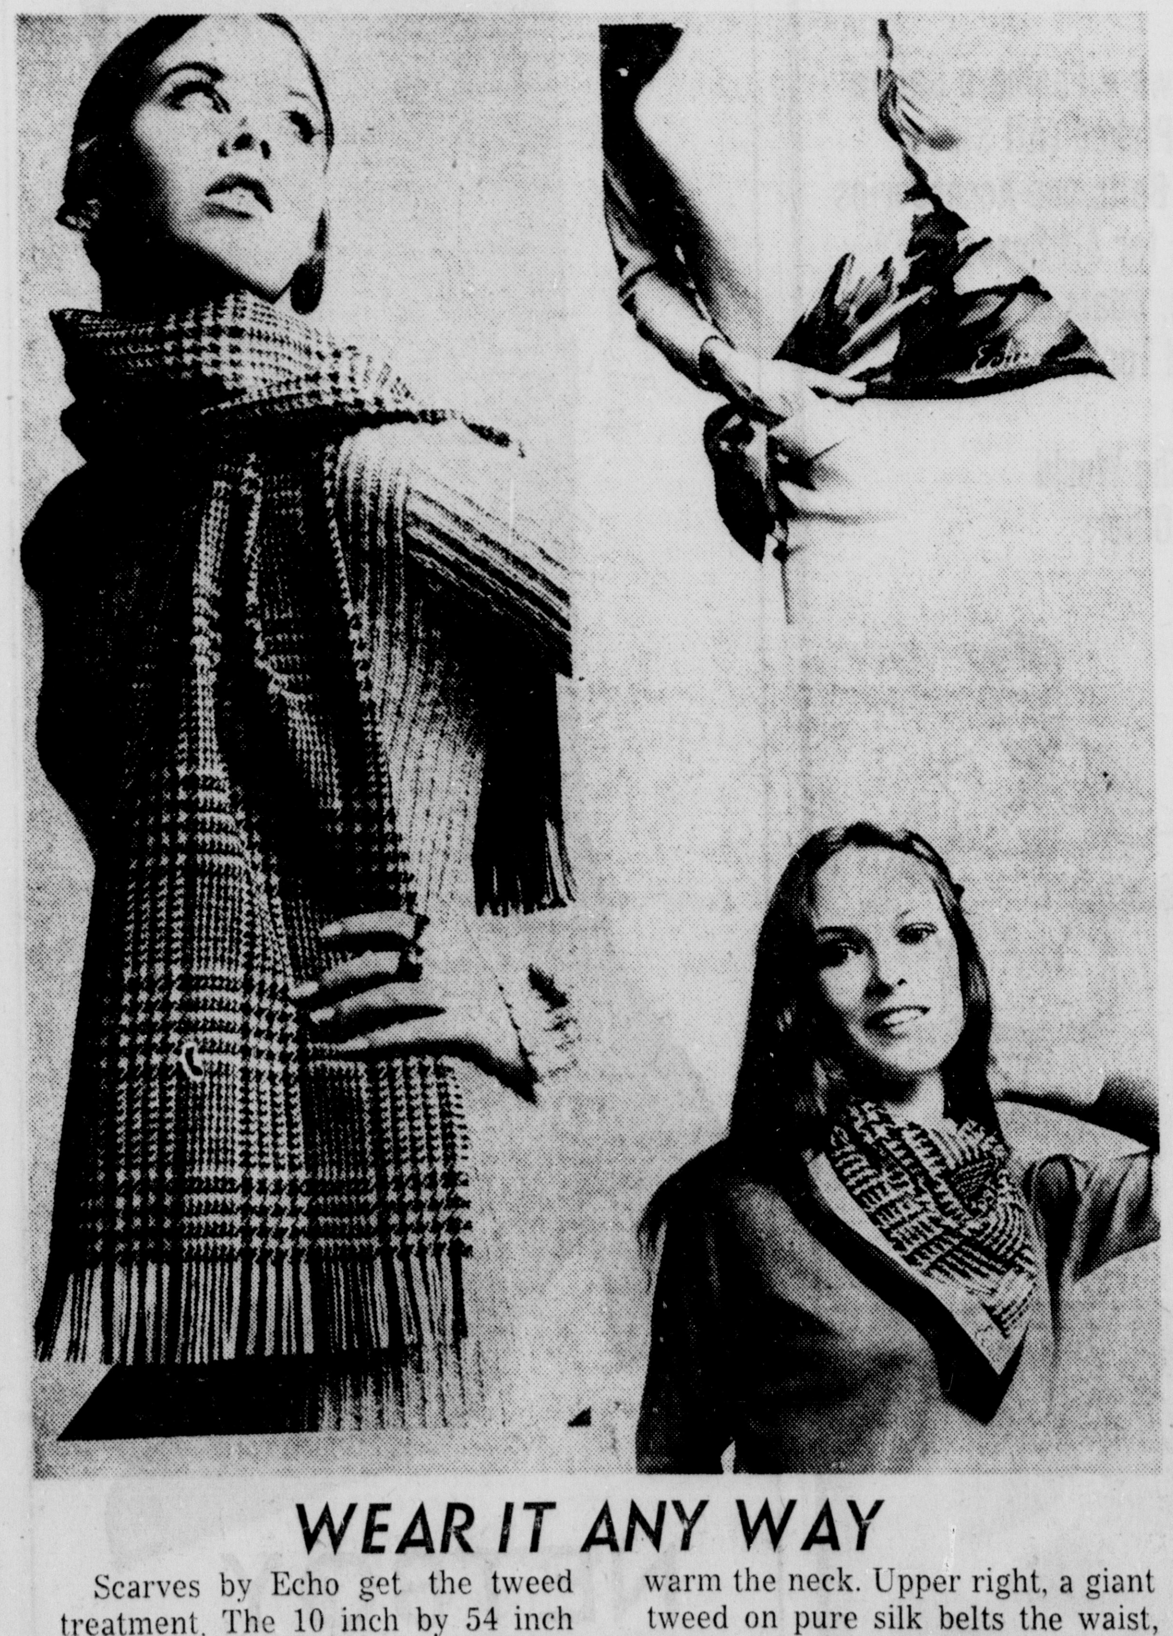
A basic white or off-white cloth is a good start toward organizing a chic table on any occasion she points out. However, she has designed pretty pastel plastic cloths with liners to be used on special occasions.

ALTHOUGH SHE favors traditional accessories, she was the first to introduce the soup-can look and other mod accessories, she says. She and her design staff have fashioned wedge-shape pizza trays, popcorn scuttles, a shrimp boat and a celery-decorated tray. She has a black and white Caesar salad container in the authentic shape and design of Rome's Coliseum. There are plastic party plates with fit-through glasses and ruby red plastic glasses with holly trim.

The table accessory business was started 15 years ago when she bought some place mats her late husband didn't like. He tried to produce something better in plastic and foam and finally after two years they had the answer. Today their firm is the largest producer of vinyl place mats in the United States.

She and her son, James, continually case the market to determine new colors and patterns. Current motifs include mushrooms, zodiac signs and the perennially popular early American. "A great many people seem to have early American dining rooms," they say.

BEST SELLING colors in place mats, are mustard gold and moss green. Brown is sold only in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Big city areas — Washington, San Francisco, New York — prefer more sophisticated combinations, such as black and white. Mrs. Stotter says Californians set the most conservative tables, "Because everything else they own is so far out." The South likes flamboyant designs, probably because they use more traditional furnishings. In the last decade there has been a nationwide trend from standard and conservative designs to contemporary color combinations such as orange and pink.



WEAR IT ANY WAY

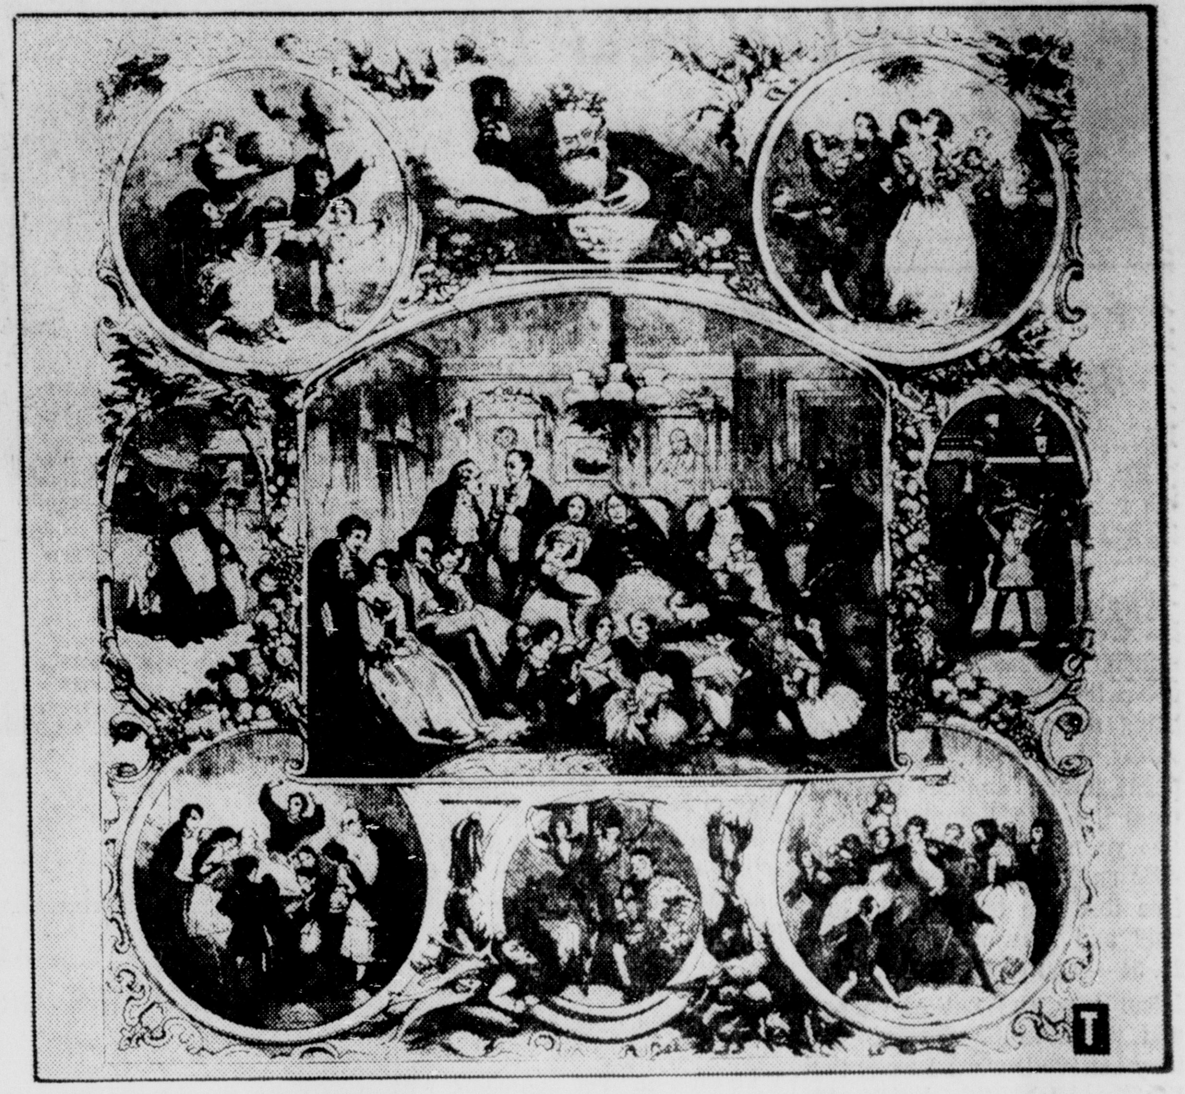
Happy Christmas Customs



EGGNOG, PLUM pudding, mistletoe, carollers and family-get-togethers are only a part of the colorful, centuries-old Christmas picture. The story of this holiday spirit has provided great pleasure in the past with some very old traditions and some surprisingly recent ones.

When next you hear a Christmas carol, see a holly wreath or sniff a holiday aroma that reminds of happy times past, give a thought to the entertaining history of Christmas sights, scents and sounds.

One Swiss custom, not yet imported to the United States, has to do with the selection of a future mate. If any young boy or girl drinks from nine different fountains on Christmas Eve, while the midnight church bells are swinging and ringing and then runs to church, the future mate will be seen standing on the door steps.

ALSO JOYOUSLY affirming that the essence of Christmas is love, a Spanish custom is the Urn of Fate. Names of friends are placed in a large bowl and on Christmas Day each person draws the name of the one who shall be his best friend until next December.

A Christmas symbol in many regions, the custom of the Christmas tree is said to be of German origin from the eighth century with Martin Luther introducing the tree lighted with candles. The holly wreath goes back in time to the crucifixion. Christ's crown of thorns is reputed to have been made of holly leaves. Early Romans, ornamented their temples and homes with the pungent green boughs, decorating with the mistletoe they revered as a symbol of peace. Tremendous powers were attributed to the mistletoe by British Druids, and, today, the mighty power of the mistletoe makes kissing acquaintances out of strangers meeting under it during the holiday season of goodwill.

Love in legend and love in verse have both been associated with Christmas, and in 1775, a young Frenchman, Jean-Francois Houbigant, decided to put love in a bottle. He developed a mastery of perfumery so great that it made millions for him and his family, shook up the entire French perfume industry, and earned him the patronage of Marie Antoinette and kind words from Guy de Maupassant.

To this day — 194 years later — thousands of women who receive perfume little realize that gratitude belongs not only to the donors, but also to a 23-year-old Frenchman who decided he'd try to put love in a bottle.

IN CONTRAST TO the French concept of gift-giving, adopted by many Americans, the Mexican approach is sometimes a game played with great gusto. A large jar of earthenware, called a pinata, is filled with gifts and hung from the ceiling or a tree. Blindfolded, the children then try to break the jar with a stick. When someone succeeds, they all scramble for the candy, fruit and gifts inside, filling the air with sounds of their laughter.

Not always were Christmas sounds joyous, however. Solemnity distinguished the celebrations, prior to the 13th century. Chants and litanies were sung in Latin, too theological for popular use. Under the influence of Francis of Assisi, in 1224, carols finally arose written in the vernacular for spontaneous group singing. In England, however, the Puritans condemned such merry celebrations and carried this feeling to America where colonists forbade festivities by law. The first settlers considered them pagan. Christmas again became a time of merriment and gift-giving around the middle of the 19th century when later immigrants arrived.

Today many aspects of the Christmas celebration are enjoyed by people of all faiths, and the season includes moments of solemnity as well as festive occasions. Music, too, consists of the great works of Handel or carols adopted from many lands.

One of the most popular of all the Christmas carols, "Silent Night" ("Stille Nacht"), was written because an organ broke down. Josef Mohr, parish priest in the Austrian Tyrol, 151 years ago, feared his parishioners would be disappointed at the mishap on the day of Christmas Eve. He wrote the words, asked his friend, Franz Gruber to complete the melody and in a few hours the two men accompanied by a guitar sang the carol masterpiece for the first time on Christmas Eve in 1818. This melody has long lingered on in a world that continues to cherish a parish priest's love-gift of a song.

Unconscious Infanticide

WASHINGTON, D.C. (WMNS) — Latin American mothers of too many children engage in "unconscious infanticide" to rid themselves of burdensome babies, suggests Dr. Benjamin Viel, a distinguished medical professor at the University of Chile.

Distraught mothers in large, poor families may kill by ignoring serious illnesses, without admitting to themselves that they want their babies to die, the doctor suggests. This would explain why, in Santiago, first-born infants die at the rate of 60 per 1,000 while infant deaths rise to about 100 among the third- and fourth-born and to 300 per 1,000 in families with 10 or more children.

"We must face the shameful fact," adds Dr. Viel in a paper published by the Population Reference Bureau, "that high mortality continues through the pre-school years." Children under five account for nearly half of all Latin American deaths. Countries with lower birth rates also have lower child death rates.

Advocating contraceptives for everyone as the most "humane, effective solution," the physician notes that smaller families can relieve the family tensions that lead mothers to unconscious infanticide and abortion.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma.

Wedding forms should be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs received more than seven days after the wedding.

An engagement form may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be picked up at the I-J office after publication. Snapshots, polaroid or color pictures are not suitable.

This is confetti

It means New Year's Eve is coming. It means what dress? What wrap? What marvelous thing to do to your hair? We can't help with number three, but one and two are very much our department. Among the things we'd like to suggest. Something tunic-y over pants-that-dance. Something that glitters. (Really glitters!) Something black. Something bias cut. Something satin. And anything with a deeply V'd Chanel-ish neck. Like to see our confetti things? Do. Any one of them will make your New Year's Eve as New Year's Eve as it really should be.

Donations of foods, clothing and appliances are also collected at the Novato Center, 875 Grant Avenue, and in Southern Marin at the Manzanita Center, Marin City. Churches are also assisting, and a committee of low income persons will aid in distribution. The project is serving as a central clearing house for groups and persons who wish to donate foods and goods to other families.

Holiday Table Setting Ideas

By VIVIAN BROWN

SECOND SECTION Thursday, Dec. 18, 1969 17

Let your imagination run wild in setting a holiday table, advises Beatrice Stotter, long-time designer of table accessories.

There's no need to stick with traditional Yuletide colors — reds, greens and gold. Use a color scheme selected to your taste in china, glassware, tablecloth or place mats.

"Reminders of the Yuletide season — holly in a silver bowl or an arrangement of greens in a centerpiece — may be very pretty, but a handsomely coordinated table will look festive in any season," she explains.

Pink and white table: Pink and white china, pink glass, white and pink centerpiece, pink place mats or pink and white tablecloth. Fill the centerpiece with pink and white Christmas ornaments.

WHITE AND purple: All white china on purple place mats, white cloth, a purple centerpiece and clear crystal.

Green and blue: Moss green place mats, blue plates, green glasses, a blue bowl filled with greens.

Mrs. Stotter, a well-known Cleveland hostess before she brought her talents to New York a decade ago, likes a traditional table with a white linen-like look for special occasions. She uses modern china and keeps table accessory colors "pretty much the same, but not the same tone," she says. Handsome old sugar bowls and vegetable dishes hold the flowers of the season.

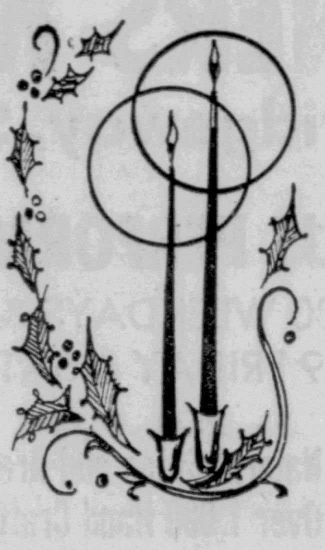
A basic white or off-white cloth is a good start toward organizing a chic table on any occasion she points out. However, she has designed pretty pastel plastic cloths with liners to be used on special occasions.

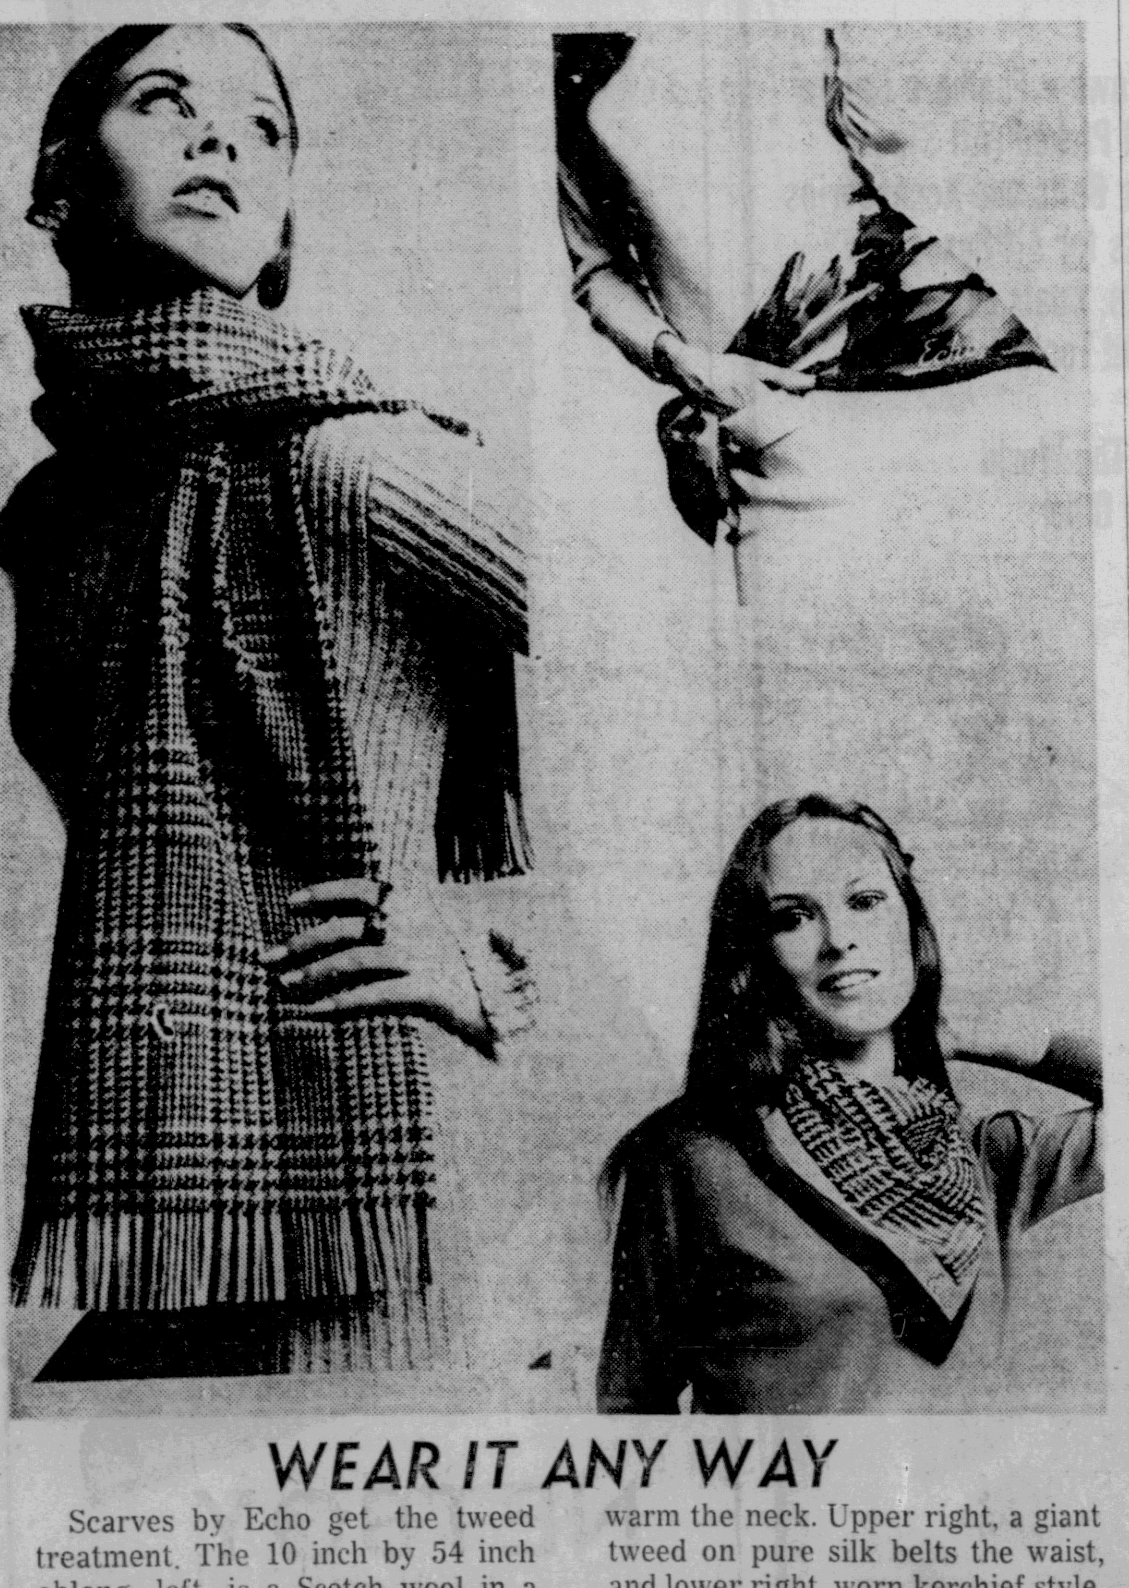
ALTHOUGH SHE favors traditional accessories, she was the first to introduce the soup-can look and other mod accessories, she says. She and her design staff have fashioned wedge-shape pizza trays, popcorn scuttles, a shrimp boat and a celery-decorated tray. She has a black and white Caesar salad container in the authentic shape and design of Rome's Coliseum. There are plastic party plates with fit-through glasses and ruby red plastic glasses with holly trim.

The table accessory business was started 15 years ago when she bought some place mats her late husband didn't like. He tried to produce something better in plastic and foam and finally after two years they had the answer. Today their firm is the largest producer of vinyl place mats in the United States.

She and her son, James, continually case the market to determine new colors and patterns. Current motifs include mushrooms, zodiac signs and the perennially popular early American. "A great many people seem to have early American dining rooms," they say.

BEST SELLING colors in place mats, are mustard gold and moss green. Brown is sold only in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Big city areas — Washington, San Francisco, New York — prefer more sophisticated combinations, such as black and white. Mrs. Stotter says Californians set the most conservative tables, "Because everything else they own is so far out." The South likes flamboyant designs, probably because they use more traditional furnishings. In the last decade there has been a nationwide trend from standard and conservative designs to contemporary color combinations such as orange and pink.





WEAR IT ANY WAY

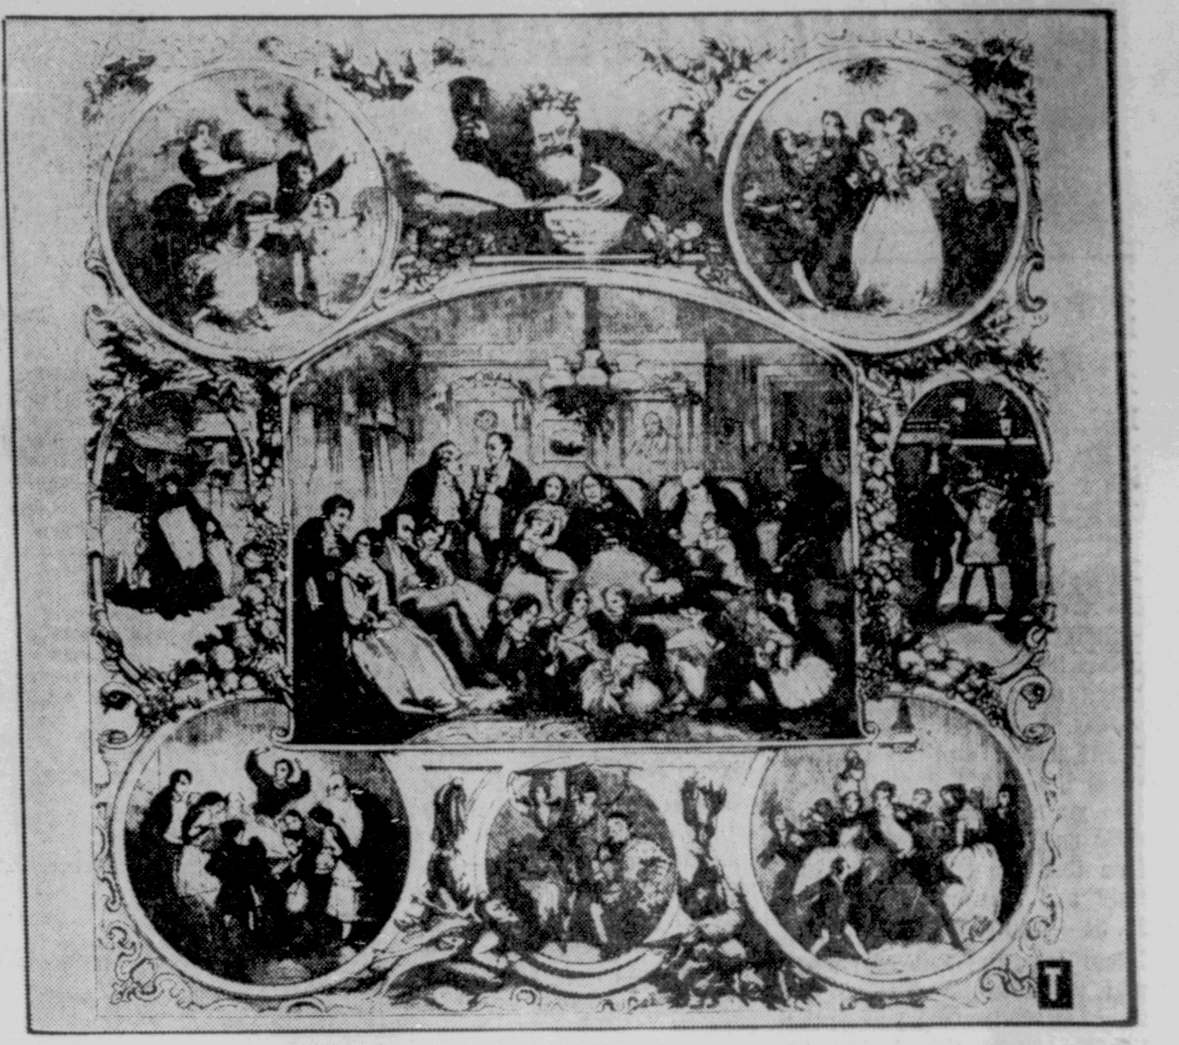
Happy Christmas Customs



EGGNOG, PLUM pudding, mistletoe, carollers and family-get-togethers are only a part of the colorful, centuries-old Christmas picture. The story of this holiday spirit has provided great pleasure in the past with some very old traditions and some surprisingly recent ones.

When next you hear a Christmas carol, see a holly wreath or sniff a holiday aroma that reminds of happy times past, give a thought to the entertaining history of Christmas sights, scents and sounds.

One Swiss custom, not yet imported to the United States, has to do with the selection of a future mate. If any young boy or girl drinks from nine different fountains on Christmas Eve, while the midnight church bells are swinging and ringing and then runs to church, the future mate will be seen standing on the door steps.

ALSO JOYOUSLY affirming that the essence of Christmas is love, a Spanish custom is the Urn of Fate. Names of friends are placed in a large bowl and on Christmas Day each person draws the name of the one who shall be his best friend until next December.

A Christmas symbol in many regions, the custom of the Christmas tree is said to be of German origin from the eighth century with Martin Luther introducing the tree lighted with candles. The holly wreath goes back in time to the crucifixion. Christ's crown of thorns is reputed to have been made of holly leaves. Early Romans, ornamented their temples and homes with the pungent green boughs, decorating with the mistletoe they revered as a symbol of peace. Tremendous powers were attributed to the mistletoe by British Druids, and, today, the mighty power of the mistletoe makes kissing acquaintances out of strangers meeting under it during the holiday season of goodwill.

Love in legend and love in verse have both been associated with Christmas, and in 1775, a young Frenchman, Jean-Francois Houbigant, decided to put love in a bottle. He developed a mastery of perfumery so great that it made millions for him and his family, shook up the entire French perfume industry, and earned him the patronage of Marie Antoinette and kind words from Guy de Maupassant.

To this day — 194 years later — thousands of women who receive perfume little realize that gratitude belongs not only to the donors, but also to a 23-year-old Frenchman who decided he'd try to put love in a bottle.

IN CONTRAST TO the French concept of gift-giving, adopted by many Americans, the Mexican approach is sometimes a game played with great gusto. A large jar of earthenware, called a pinata, is filled with gifts and hung from the ceiling or a tree. Blindfolded, the children then try to break the jar with a stick. When someone succeeds, they all scramble for the candy, fruit and gifts inside, filling the air with sounds of their laughter.

Not always were Christmas sounds joyous, however. Solemnity distinguished the celebrations, prior to the 13th century. Chants and litanies were sung in Latin, too theological for popular use. Under the influence of Francis of Assisi, in 1224, carols finally arose written in the vernacular for spontaneous group singing. In England, however, the Puritans condemned such merry celebrations and carried this feeling to America where colonists forbade festivities by law. The first settlers considered them pagan. Christmas again became a time of merriment and gift-giving around the middle of the 19th century when later immigrants arrived.

Today many aspects of the Christmas celebration are enjoyed by people of all faiths, and the season includes moments of solemnity as well as festive occasions. Music, too, consists of the great works of Handel or carols adopted from many lands.

One of the most popular of all the Christmas carols, "Silent Night" ("Stille Nacht"), was written because an organ broke down. Josef Mohr, parish priest in the Austrian Tyrol, 151 years ago, feared his parishioners would be disappointed at the mishap on the day of Christmas Eve. He wrote the words, asked his friend, Franz Gruber to complete the melody and in a few hours the two men accompanied by a guitar sang the carol masterpiece for the first time on Christmas Eve in 1818. This melody has long lingered on in a world that continues to cherish a parish priest's love-gift of a song.

Unconscious Infanticide

WASHINGTON, D.C. (WMNS) — Latin American mothers of too many children engage in "unconscious infanticide" to rid themselves of burdensome babies, suggests Dr. Benjamin Viel, a distinguished medical professor at the University of Chile.

Distraught mothers in large, poor families may kill by ignoring serious illnesses, without admitting to themselves that they want their babies to die, the doctor suggests. This would explain why, in Santiago, first-born infants die at the rate of 60 per 1,000 while infant deaths rise to about 100 among the third- and fourth-born and to 300 per 1,000 in families with 10 or more children.

"We must face the shameful fact," adds Dr. Viel in a paper published by the Population Reference Bureau, "that high mortality continues through the pre-school years." Children under five account for nearly half of all Latin American deaths. Countries with lower birth rates also have lower child death rates.

Advocating contraceptives for everyone as the most "humane, effective solution," the physician notes that smaller families can relieve the family tensions that lead mothers to unconscious infanticide and abortion.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma.

Wedding forms should be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs received more than seven days after the wedding.

An engagement form may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be picked up at the I-J office after publication. Snapshots, polaroid or color pictures are not suitable.

This is confetti

It means New Year's Eve is coming. It means what dress? What wrap? What marvelous thing to do to your hair? We can't help with number three, but one and two are very much our department. Among the things we'd like to suggest. Something tunic-y over pants-that-dance. Something that glitters. (Really glitters!) Something black. Something bias cut. Something satin. And anything with a deeply V'd Chanel-ish neck. Like to see our confetti things? Do. Any one of them will make your New Year's Eve as New Year's Eve as it really should be.

Female Francis Worries About Being Drafted After College

DEAR HELEN:

My name is spelled Francis, but I am a girl. I guess "uncle" figures if it isn't spelled with an "e," you're draftable.

First I got a notice that I was deferred because I was still in school. I threw it away. Then I got a little nudge asking me to bring them up to date on my status. Just for fun, I did! I've been getting similar greetings from the government for about two years, and I think they're hilarious, especially since I'm a five foot two blonde with long hair and measurements of 34, 22, 34 — and pierced ears.

But now I'm out of college, and liable to be drafted. Will they believe it when I write that I'm — FRANCIS, WITH AN "E"

DEAR FRANCES:

If they won't take your written word, then toddle on down to the draft board and show them — your pierced ears — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Recently a girl wondered why newspapers don't publish the picture of the groom. It's true that space is limited, but there's another reason:

Most newspapers require wedding pictures in advance, so the story won't be delayed in printing.

You can't pose the bridegroom with his prospective bride in her gown before the ceremony, for that's against tradition, and bad luck. A man isn't supposed to see the wedding gown until she walks down the aisle.

So the bride gets her wedding photo two weeks beforehand, and the groom is the forgotten man in newspapers. — BRIDE OF ONE MONTH

Note to prospective brides: Don't take anyone's word for it. Check with your local newspaper to find out whether bride-and-groom pictures will be accepted. Rules vary, and so do reasons. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

By the time this reaches print, maybe the government will already have sentenced the soldiers who wiped out the village of My Lai.

I won't deny they're guilty of inhuman acts, but when we annihilated a whole city — Hiroshima — with an atom bomb, was anyone court-martialed? Think how many more women and children were killed on that black day than at My Lai in Vietnam. Yet somehow we cheered.

Each time bombers are ordered to attack, they know innocent people will die. But because they don't see them die, I guess the government thinks it's different. If airmen refused to fly a mission (in the same way the Army is saying enlisted men should have refused to fire their guns) it would be mutiny. From the grovelling things they make you do in basic training to the commands shouted on the battlefield, you're taught to obey, not think. But if you obey the wrong order, suddenly you're a murderer.

War is an evil, dirty, killing business; so how can they tell us to slaughter one way but not another? How can they say one company is guilty when another squadron kills thousands in a planned attack — and gets decorated for it?

Don't think I'm in favor of murder. It makes me sick at my stomach, so sick I could vomit up the whole system that insists you can set rules to kill by. I'm living for the day when they give a war and nobody comes, but I've almost given up. — PEACE

Toasting Drinks

A drink to eat was customary in old England, especially on feast days. Christmas, for one, was made merrier by breaking fruit cake into a huge wassail bowl. Then hot ale, often sugared and spiced to temper and cover the bitterness of long ago ale, was poured in to make the eat - drinks for a group. Or guests might be passed individual bowls — chilled carolers often brought their own — To be filled with the warming ale. In it they dipped their wigs, those sweet caraway buns. After eating these there was still enough pungent drink for toasting each and all a very merry Christmas.

Paula Heffernan Bride Of Gregg Bartolomei

Gregg Bartolomei claimed Paula Heffernan as his bride on Friday at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Heffernan of Hayward. She chose as her only attendant Jan Brogan of Hayward, and Ken Leach of Santa Venetia served as best man for Gregg.

Following a reception at the bridegroom's parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bartolomei in Novato, the couple went on a wedding trip to Southern California. They will live in Novato.

The bride is the sister of John, Mary Beth and Julie Heffernan of Hayward. She was graduated from James Logan High School in Union City.

The bridegroom was graduated from Novato High School. He is employed at Koch and Sons in Corte Madera.

Miss Fredette To Be A Bride

A Jan. 17 wedding at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato is planned by Cynthia Sherrill Fredette and Warren Paul Boyd, both of Novato.

Cynthia is the daughter of Mrs. Anita Fredette of Novato and Lester Fredette of Hollywood. Her twin sister is Mrs. Glenn Thorsson of Novato. Tim Tuck of San Jose and Richard Tuck of Petaluma are her brothers. She is a senior at San Marin High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boyd of Novato are the future bridegroom's parents, and he is the brother of Michael Boyd and Allan Stevens of Hawaii. A graduate of Novato High School, Warren is employed by San Rafael Plastics.

This enchanting dress of crepe is pleated front and back on a yoke which is trimmed with schiffli. The colors are maple or cerise. 28.00

Chicken Top Buy For The Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that broiler-fryer chickens are a top meat buy and are featured on the department's plentiful foods list for December. Roasts and steaks are beef items in best supply. Smoked picnics and hams will be the most abundant in the pork line. Fish buys to look for, according to the Interior Department, are canned Maine sardines, canned fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna.

Fresh vegetables in best supply are onions, potatoes, cabbage, and sweet potatoes. Traditional Christmas fruits now abundant are apples, oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines. Other foods on plentiful foods list for December are dry beans, dry split peas, lentils, canned peaches, canned pears, canned tomatoes, and tomato products.

IN THE WEST:

Beef, pork and turkeys are higher in all Western markets while other red meats, chickens, and butter remain mostly unchanged from last week.

Beef ribs are 1 to 7 cents a pound higher in California markets, loins are 3 to 4 cents higher in Los Angeles and most other cuts are 1 to 2 cents higher in all markets.

Pork loins are 2 cents higher and Boston butts are 1 to 3 cents higher. Sliced bacon is 1 to 4 cents higher and slab bacon is as much as 6 cents higher in Portland. Smoked hams are 1 to 3 cents higher in all markets.

Young hen turkeys are as much as 7 cents higher in Los Angeles and 2 to 3 cents higher in other markets. Young toms are 2 to 4 cents higher in most markets.

Veal is 2 cents higher in Portland.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, cabbage, onions and potatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the west are sole fillets, canned tuna, Pacific oysters, rockfish fillets, cod fillets, and Pacific snapper fillets, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Crepes

In Monaco, pousse-cafe crepes are stacked, spectacularly, with a different liqueur poured between each layer. But first powdered sugar is sprinkled on the thin pancakes to absorb and emphasize each of the 5 to 7 liqueur flavors.

Check Christmas Toys With Safety In Mind

If Santa Claus doesn't deliver the toy your child wants for Christmas, he'll have a good reason.

Each year toys get more complex and sophisticated. As fascinating as they can be, even to parents, some of these toys present a potential danger to children.

All of Santa's helpers should keep the following toy safety check list in mind.

1. Does the toy have chemicals that any explode or poison?
2. Is the toy inflammable?
3. Is the finish on the toy labeled "antitoxic"?
4. Does the toy use electricity, batteries or flame which may shock, ignite, or burn?
5. Does the toy have sharp or jagged edges that could cut and injure?
6. Does the toy have removable parts that might be swallowed and cause strangulation?
7. Is the toy too heavy for a child to lift without injuring himself?
8. Can the toy be used safely without adult supervision?

Pru Brown Heads March Of Dimes Teen Action Program

PRU BROWN, left, new Marin County chairman for the March of Dimes Teen Action Program, discusses the teen-age group's activities with the national TAP chairman, Kathy Garver, who plays Cissy on the television program "Family Affair."

The election of 17-year-old Pru Brown of Belvedere as Marin County Teen Action Program chairman has been approved by the executive chapter of the Marin March of Dimes.

Pru, the daughter of Mrs. Phoebe Brown, is a senior at Redwood High School. She has been involved in the TAP volunteer program since the beginning of the semester, and her plans for fund raising by the teen-age group include a Santa Claus pancake breakfast Saturday at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. Pancakes will be served from 9 a.m. until noon.

A wishing well will be on the mall at Northgate from Monday through Wednesday to benefit the March of Dimes.

Next month the teen-age group will stage a "drive around" to distribute information on the prevention of birth defects to North Marin residents.

"Prevention of birth defects is a problem which affects our generation," says Pru, "and we feel we can help influence what is going on in this area."

CAROLYN L. THOMPSON

Engagement Is Announced

Mrs. Carolyn Scott of Glendale has announced the engagement of her daughter Carolyn Lucille Thompson of San Anselmo to Vin Edward Howell of San Rafael.

The future bride, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, is the sister of Nellie M. Thompson of Fairfax, Arthur R. Thompson, Ramona M. McConnell and Richard Scott, all of Glendale. She is the daughter of the late Arthur R. Thompson.

Mrs. Elaine C. Howell of San Rafael is the future bridegroom's mother. He was graduated from San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin and is employed by L. P. McNear Company of San Rafael

Non-Poisonous Mushroom Rules Are Similar To Russian Roulette

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With the onset of the rainy season in California, somebody asked State Agriculture Department officials to explain how to tell a poisonous wild mushroom from one that's safe to eat.

The department issued some guidelines which it admitted are similar to the rules for Russian roulette:

"Eat only one variety at a time, and make sure they are freshly mature and free from insect larvae.

"COOK WILD mushrooms well.

"Eat only small amounts when testing an untried species, and don't overindulge under any circumstances.

"Finally, have only one member of the family at a time eat a new species of wild mushroom."

But the department says the best advice its experts can give is: do your mushroom hunting in your grocery store.

Dr. Douglas Barbe, a plant pathologist with the department, says even people in the business of telling the difference have trouble telling the difference.

"ACTUALLY THERE are relatively few deadly poisonous wild mushrooms and very few really good ones," Barbe said. "Most mushrooms are merely tasteless or bitter. It just isn't worth the risk of fatal poisoning."

He said figures show there are more deaths from mushroom poisoning than from rattlesnake bites.

The most dangerous of the poisonous mushrooms belong to the "Amanita" species. They account for 90 per cent of all mushroom poisoning deaths, Barbe said.

The "Amanita phalloides," tan to greenish-olive in color with radiating fibrils on the cap, is so deadly that only a small amount may prove fatal.

And it tastes good, so the wild mushroom fancier doesn't suspect anything, and the poisoning symptoms don't show up for eight to 12 hours.

Barbe said the palloides mushrooms peel easily, which shoots down the myth that a mushroom which peels easily is safe to eat.

Presbyterian Women Elect New President

Mrs. James W. McFarlane of San Rafael is the new president of the United Presbyterian Women of the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael. She says the purpose of the organization is to further the outreach of the Presbyterian church.

MRS. JAMES W. McFARLANE

The women have a luncheon planned next month and will continue the sale of the cook book they produced in commemoration of the church's centennial year.

A member of the organization since 1957, Willma McFarlane and her husband, who is regional co-ordinator for the American College of Hospital Administrators, have lived in Marin for 13 years. They have two daughters: Mrs. Victor Engleman of Edwards Air Force Base and Lynne, a senior at the University of California at Davis.

Mrs. McFarlane is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles. Her hobbies are golf, photography, knitting, hand stitchery, needle point and gardening.

Life May Be Better, If Not Longer

LONDON (WMNS) — Will new medical and scientific discoveries allow us to live longer or has our average life expectancy been stretched just about as far as it can go?

The crystal ball of a noted British physician, Sir Solly Zuckerman, suggests that we may all be stuck — British and American women with a life span of about 75 years, British men with about 70 years and American men with 67 years. By the year 2000, says Sir Solly, the general health will certainly be better, but people will probably live no longer than now.

Like dogs and cats and other domestic animals, says the scientist, people seem to have a natural span of life. Improvements in living conditions and in medical care can prevent premature deaths but apparently cannot affect this natural life span.

As evidence, Sir Solly points out that lavish American expenditures for medical research have not enabled American men to live as long as men in Britain, where medical research operates on a shoestring.

New Stewardess

Heidi Sue Burman, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Edward J. Burman of Kentfield, has completed training as a hostess for Braniff International airlines and has been assigned to the airline's flight crew base at Dallas, Tex.

Another Oil Leak Develops In Channel

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — An oil slick covering 50 square miles of the Pacific drifted slowly southward today after a new leak developed from an offshore drilling rig in the Santa Barbara Channel, scene of a massive oil slick early this year.

The fresh seepage, detected yesterday, spurted between 6,000 and 9,000 gallons of oil from a weld in an undersea pipe at the same Union Oil Co. platform where the disastrous blowout started last Jan. 28.

That slick spread over 1,800 square miles of the Pacific in 11 days, blackened beaches in Santa Barbara County and smirched the Southern California coast for miles north and south.

At last report, the new tear-drop-shaped slick was five miles off Ventura County coastal communities as oil company crews worked to skim it up before it could reach beach areas.

Union Oil divers told the Coast Guard there was an eight-inch split in a pipe carrying crude oil from the platform to Union's Rincon plant in Ventura County. Officials immediately stopped the flow in the pipe and said it would take about 36 hours to repair the break.

Floating booms were placed around the slick and skimmer boats began pumping the crude oil from the surface of the sea.

Thuy Once Again Boycotts Paris Session On Vietnam

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's chief negotiator boycotted the Paris peace talks for the second week today, and his deputy charged that President Richard M. Nixon is "sabotaging the conference."

Col. Ha Van Lau, substituting for Ambassador Xuan Thuy at the 47th weekly session, said Nixon "reiterates his old talk about 'negotiation from a position of strength,' . . . refuses to appoint a new head of the U.S. delegation, deliberately downgrades the Paris conference on Vietnam and carries out his scheme of sabotaging the conference."

Thuy absented himself from the negotiations a week ago when Philip C. Habib took over as acting American delegation chief after the departure of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The Viet Cong's chief delegate, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, continues to attend the meetings.

Lau said Nixon's speech Monday night announcing withdrawal of 50,000 more U.S. troops by April 15 was an example of the Nixon administration's "obstinate and perfidious" scheme of aggression in Vietnam.

He said the United States' real intention is to obtain a Pax Americana in Vietnam by maintaining troops in the South indefinitely.

He also attacked Sir Robert Thompson, the British expert on warfare in Southeast Asia who made a detailed survey of the situation in Vietnam for Nixon. Lau called him "an inveterate valet of colonialism" and said Nixon's counsulting him proved that the President "is following the path of colonialism."

Lau said the new U.S. troop withdrawal "is evidently in the framework of the policy of piece meal withdrawal, of prolongation of the U.S. military occupation and war of aggression in Vietnam."

He said Nixon feels a rapid withdrawal would mean defeat and humiliation for the United States. But the North Vietnamese delegate declared: "We have made it clear on many occasions that the Vietnamese people want in no way to humiliate anyone."

Lau also attacked Nixon's references to "honor" in relation to the American presence in Vietnam. The colonel said the only "honor" Nixon wants is the maintenance of the current regime in Saigon and the continued presence of American troops in South Vietnam.

Cable In Canal Plan Protested

Owners of Rancho del Pantano near Novato are objecting to plans by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install an underwater cable across Rush Canal, north of the city.

The objection, filed with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which issues permits for such installations, said the cable may interere with plans for dredging the canal and could be a hazard to maintenance.

An Army spokesman said the complaint will be turned over to PG&E to allow the utility to negotiate with the property owners.

Fire Engine To 'Pops' Fielder

BOSTON (UPI)—Arthur Fielder, fire buff and conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra, received a unique present yesterday on his 75th birthday —a 1938 fire engine.

Fiedler, famous for his penchant for attending fires, received the gift from his wife and son who purchased it from the Marblro, N.H., fire department.

Earlier in the day, Fiedler got a ride to work in a Brookline fire engine which met him at his front door.

Bad Checks Denied

Peter B. Maggi Jr., 38, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to two felony counts of possessing bad checks with intent to defraud San Rafael stores on Sept. 12. A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 23.

$2.5 Million In School Bonds Sold

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest yesterday sold $2.55 million worth of school construction bonds at the 5 per cent interest rate.

United California Bank bought $1.2 million worth of 15-year bonds to provide facilities for Way School District in San Diego. The bank purchased a $535,000 issue to finance compensatory education facilities for a disadvantaged area in the City of San Diego.

A third issue totaling $820,000 was bought by the Irvine Co., of Newport Beach for construction in the San Joaquin School District in Orange County.

Mrs. Priest said the state only has sold $13 million worth of bonds in fiscal 1969-70 compared to a normal volume of about $250 million. She blamed a constitution-set 5 per cent interest ceiling for the failure to sell more bonds.

San Francisco Symphony Giving Handel As A Christmas Present

By GARY TISCHLER

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's Christmas presentation this week will be a performance of Handel's "The Messiah" at the Opera House tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Josef Krips will conduct. Performing with the orchestra will be soprano Heather Harper, mezzo-soprano Birgit Finnila, tenor Richard Lewis, bass Thomas Paul and the San Francisco Opera Chorus.

A seldom-heard Vivaldi masterpiece, the sacred military oratorio "Judith Triumphaus," will be presented by the Giannini Polyphonic Chorale and Chamber Orchestra Sunday at 8 p.m. at St. Ignatius Church, Fulton Street and Ash Avenue in San Francisco.

DRAMA

"The Boys in the Band" may be leaving soon.

Mart Crowley's unanimously acclaimed Off-Broadway drama about a group of homosexuals is still playing to standing-room-only crowds in New York but not at the Committee Theater. Negotiations are underway to return the West Coast company to Los Angeles' Huntington Hartford Theater, unless business picks up considerably here. Performances are nightly except Monday at 8:30, with two shows Saturday at 7:30 and 10:40 p.m. and two on Sunday at 3:30 and 8:30 p.m. No performances are set for this Tuesday and Wednesday but an extra show will be added Dec. 29 and two performances are set for New Year's Eve.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe will present a Children's Christmas Puppet Show Tuesday and Wednesday and Dec. 26, 27 and 28 at the Live Oak Park in Berkeley at 2 and 4 p.m. daily.

There will be no Christmas performance of "Oh! Calcutta!", the nude musical revue at the On Broadway Theater but a matinee will be added beginning Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Two benefit performances for St. Aidan's Church of T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" will be presented by the Theater of Man in the sanctuary of the church at 101 Gold Mine Drive and Diamond Heights Boulevard, tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m.

"Jaques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris," the musical hit currently housed at the Marines' Memorial Theater, has been extended indefinitely.

Other attractions:

Geary Theater — "Hair," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday at 2 and 7:30 p.m.; Thursday at 2 and 8:30 p.m.

On Broadway Theater — "Oh! Calcutta!", nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday at 4:45 and 10:45 p.m.

Guatamala Road Crash Kills 26

GUATEMALA (AP) — A bus and an automobile collided last night and crashed into a 1,200-foot ravine, killing at least 26 persons and injuring 25.

The accident happened 90 miles west of Guatemala City.

The police worked through the night recovering the dead and injured from the bushes in the bottom of the ravine. They said the toll might rise because they had not determined the total number traveling in the two vehicles.

Thuy Once Again Boycotts Paris Session On Vietnam

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's chief negotiator boycotted the Paris peace talks for the second week today, and his deputy charged that President Richard M. Nixon is "sabotaging the conference."

Col. Ha Van Lau, substituting for Ambassador Xuan Thuy at the 47th weekly session, said Nixon "reiterates his old talk about 'negotiation from a position of strength,' . . . refuses to appoint a new head of the U.S. delegation, deliberately downgrades the Paris conference on Vietnam and carries out his scheme of sabotaging the conference."

Thuy absented himself from the negotiations a week ago when Philip C. Habib took over as acting American delegation chief after the departure of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The Viet Cong's chief delegate, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, continues to attend the meetings.

Lau said Nixon's speech Monday night announcing withdrawal of 50,000 more U.S. troops by April 15 was an example of the Nixon administration's "obstinate and perfidious" scheme of aggression in Vietnam.

He said the United States' real intention is to obtain a Pax Americana in Vietnam by maintaining troops in the South indefinitely.

He also attacked Sir Robert Thompson, the British expert on warfare in Southeast Asia who made a detailed survey of the situation in Vietnam for Nixon. Lau called him "an inveterate valet of colonialism" and said Nixon's counsulting him proved that the President "is following the path of colonialism."

Lau said the new U.S. troop withdrawal "is evidently in the framework of the policy of piece meal withdrawal, of prolongation of the U.S. military occupation and war of aggression in Vietnam."

He said Nixon feels a rapid withdrawal would mean defeat and humiliation for the United States. But the North Vietnamese delegate declared: "We have made it clear on many occasions that the Vietnamese people want in no way to humiliate anyone."

Lau also attacked Nixon's references to "honor" in relation to the American presence in Vietnam. The colonel said the only "honor" Nixon wants is the maintenance of the current regime in Saigon and the continued presence of American troops in South Vietnam.

Cable In Canal Plan Protested

Owners of Rancho del Pantano near Novato are objecting to plans by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install an underwater cable across Rush Canal, north of the city.

The objection, filed with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which issues permits for such installations, said the cable may interere with plans for dredging the canal and could be a hazard to maintenance.

An Army spokesman said the complaint will be turned over to PG&E to allow the utility to negotiate with the property owners.

Fire Engine To 'Pops' Fielder

BOSTON (UPI)—Arthur Fielder, fire buff and conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra, received a unique present yesterday on his 75th birthday —a 1938 fire engine.

Fiedler, famous for his penchant for attending fires, received the gift from his wife and son who purchased it from the Marblro, N.H., fire department.

Earlier in the day, Fiedler got a ride to work in a Brookline fire engine which met him at his front door.

Bad Checks Denied

Peter B. Maggi Jr., 38, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to two felony counts of possessing bad checks with intent to defraud San Rafael stores on Sept. 12. A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 23.

$2.5 Million In School Bonds Sold

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest yesterday sold $2.55 million worth of school construction bonds at the 5 per cent interest rate.

United California Bank bought $1.2 million worth of 15-year bonds to provide facilities for Way School District in San Diego. The bank purchased a $535,000 issue to finance compensatory education facilities for a disadvantaged area in the City of San Diego.

A third issue totaling $820,000 was bought by the Irvine Co., of Newport Beach for construction in the San Joaquin School District in Orange County.

Mrs. Priest said the state only has sold $13 million worth of bonds in fiscal 1969-70 compared to a normal volume of about $250 million. She blamed a constitution-set 5 per cent interest ceiling for the failure to sell more bonds.

San Francisco Symphony Giving Handel As A Christmas Present

By GARY TISCHLER

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's Christmas presentation this week will be a performance of Handel's "The Messiah" at the Opera House tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Josef Krips will conduct. Performing with the orchestra will be soprano Heather Harper, mezzo-soprano Birgit Finnila, tenor Richard Lewis, bass Thomas Paul and the San Francisco Opera Chorus.

A seldom-heard Vivaldi masterpiece, the sacred military oratorio "Judith Triumphaus," will be presented by the Gianni-ni Polyphonic Chorale and Chamber Orchestra Sunday at 8 p.m. at St. Ignatius Church, Fulton Street and Ash Avenue in San Francisco.

DRAMA

"The Boys in the Band" may be leaving soon.

Mart Crowley's unanimously acclaimed Off-Broadway drama about a group of homosexuals is still playing to standing-room-only crowds in New York but not at the Committee Theater. Negotiations are underway to return the West Coast company to Los Angeles' Huntington Hartford Theater, unless business picks up considerably here. Performances are nightly except Monday at 8:30, with two shows Saturday at 7:30 and 10:40 p.m. and two on Sunday at 3:30 and 8:30 p.m. No performances are set for this Tuesday and Wednesday but an extra show will be added Dec. 29 and two performances are set for New Year's Eve.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe will present a Children's Christmas Puppet Show Tuesday and Wednesday and Dec. 26, 27 and 28 at the Live Oak Park in Berkeley at 2 and 4 p.m. daily.

There will be no Christmas performance of "Oh! Calcutta!", the nude musical revue at the On Broadway Theater but a matinee will be added beginning Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Two benefit performances for St. Aidan's Church of T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" will be presented by the Theater of Man in the sanctuary of the church at 101 Gold Mine Drive and Diamond Heights Boulevard, tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m.

"Jaques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris," the musical hit currently housed at the Marines' Memorial Theater, has been extended indefinitely.

Other attractions:

Geary Theater — "Hair," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday at 2 and 7:30 p.m.; Thursday at 2 and 8:30 p.m.

On Broadway Theater — "Oh! Calcutta!", nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday at 4:45 and 10:45 p.m.

Committee Theater — "The Boys in the Band," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday at 8 and 10:30 p.m.

M. H. de Young Memorial Museum — American masterworks at Newport, through Jan. 18; Charles Eames toy tops, through Jan. 11; "140 Years of Danish Glass," through Jan. 11.

San Francisco Museum of Art — Contemporary black artists, through Dec. 28; photographs by Wynn Bullock, through Jan. 4.

Guatamala Road Crash Kills 26

GUATEMALA (AP) — A bus and an automobile collided last night and crashed into a 1,200-foot ravine, killing at least 26 persons and injuring 25.

The accident happened 90 miles west of Guatemala City.

The police worked through the night recovering the dead and injured from the bushes in the bottom of the ravine. They said the toll might rise because they had not determined the total number traveling in the two vehicles.

Cinema I Opening Is Set

Workmen have been on the job long hours to get Cinema I, the new Corte Madera showhouse of Cinerama Corp. of California, completed in time for tomorrow night's opening to the public.

It will feature the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film "2001: A Space Odyssey," a drama of exploration and adventure produced by Stanley Kubrick and presented in Super Panavision Metrocolor. Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood head a cast of international stage and screen players which includes William Sylvester, Dan Richter, Douglas Rain, Leonard Rossiter, Margaret Tyzack, Robert Beatty, Sean Sullivan and Frank Miller.

Cinema I will be the newest operation of Blumenfeld Theaters, a pioneer in the showing of motion pictures in Marin County. Its first opening of the old Orpheus (now the Rafael) on Fourth Street, San Rafael, was almost a half-century ago.

From this beginning, Marin became one of the principal areas of Blumenfeld expansion, and in a chain that spreads throughout the state this county now boasts 10 of its theaters, including two drive-ins. Cinema I is one of the largest of Marin's indoor showhouses, with a seating capacity of 750 persons, all on one floor. Rows of loge-type seats are spaced farther apart than in conventional theaters. There is no center aisle, since patrons may move in freely toward the center from each side without disturbing seated occupants.

The building was constructed by Elvin Stendell, Inc., from plans by William B. David Associates. The interior decorating, which features full draping of the walls for soundproofing and acoustical balance, was supervised by Burt Franklin Design. Cost of the entire theater was reported at $750,000.

The 56-foot wide semicircular screen is believed to be the largest in California. It is designed to minimize distortion from any seat in the house.

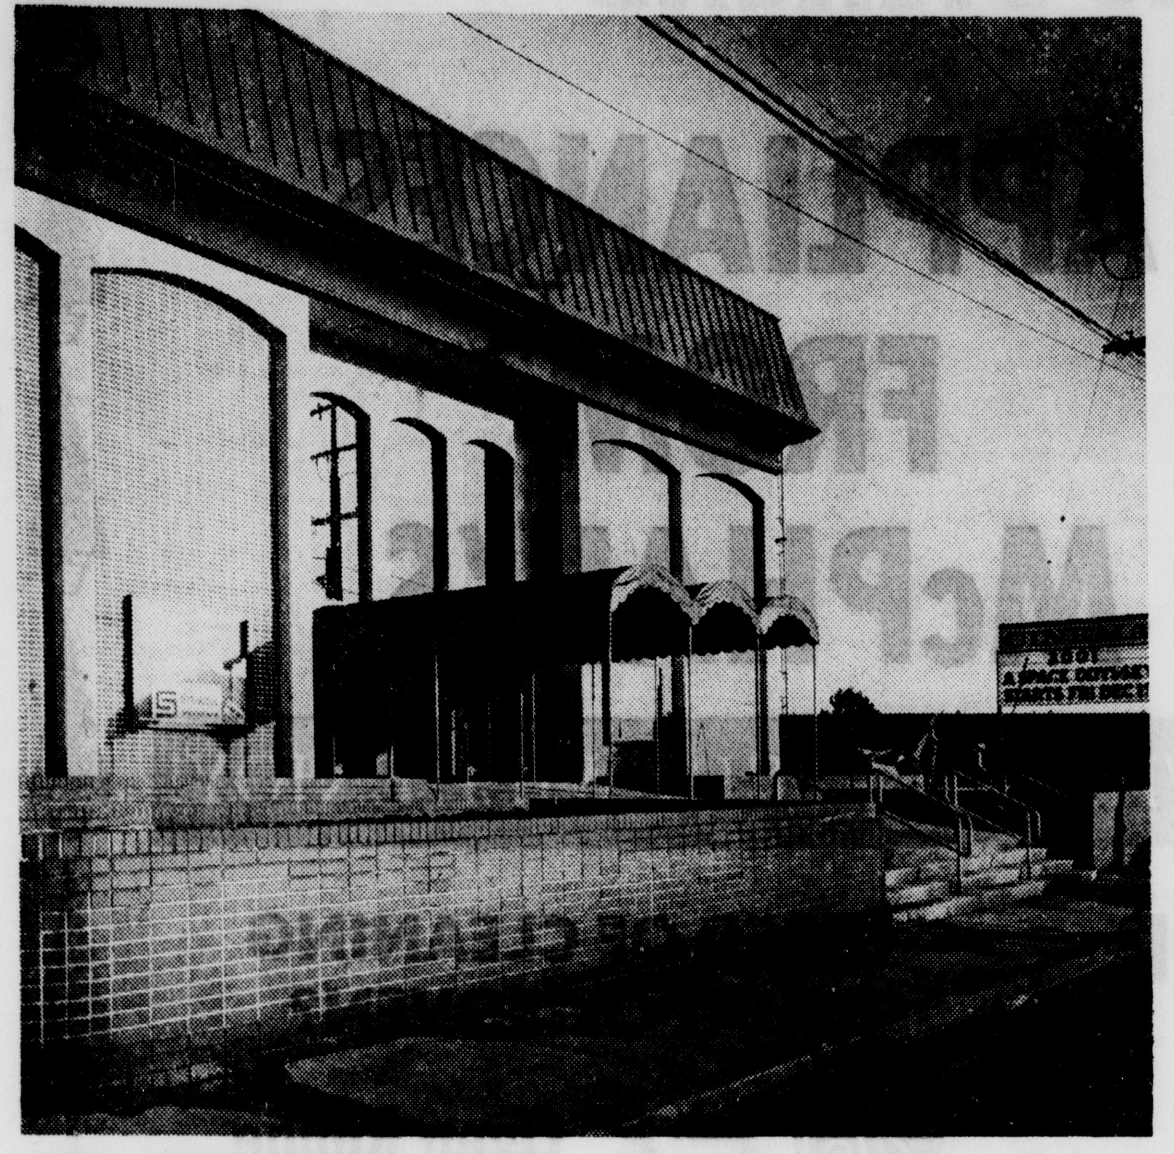
Charles Whitney of Terra Linda has been selected as manager of the new showhouse. A native of New York, he has managed the Northgate Theater for the past three years. Prior to coming to Marin he was manager of the Astor Theater on Broadway, New York, for 18 years.

Cinema I is located at 4 Tamal Vista Drive in Corte Madera, between Marin Cooperative and the Corte Madera Shopping Center. It will be open seven nights a week and feature current "road shows."



NEW CORTE MADERA SHOWHOUSE — Mansard roof and elevated entrance are featured in the architecture of Cinema I, new theater opening tomorrow night on Tamal Vista Drive, Corte Madera. Owned by Cinerama Corp. of California and to be operated by Blumenfeld Theaters, it will be one of Marin's largest indoor theaters, seating 750 persons.

Countless Problems Arise In Filming Space Odyssey

The challenges confronting producer-director Stanley Kubrick and writer Arthur C. Clarke in collaborating on the screen play for "2001: A Space Odyssey," presented by MGM in Super Panavision and Metrocolor, must be counted among the most unique ever encountered by moviemakers. After examining scientific progress in each area of human activity, they had to come up with a conception of life as it will be lived 31 years from now.

On the surface, it might not appear a formidable problem. It could be pointed out that the year 2001 is no further away than 1935 in reverse. What will be so very different?

The question is related to the generally accepted premise that science will double its present store of knowledge in the next seven years. It once took man 10,000 years to accomplish this feat. Just 15 years ago, the rate of doubling was one decade. Now that it is down to seven years it seems safe to predict that this is a curve on an accelerating graph. What then will happen in 1973? Will the doubling then take just five years? If that is the case, what will life be like in 1978? By this reckoning, the year 2001 is a long way off in terms of human accomplishment.

Some of the greatest changes, as predicted by Kubrick and Clarke, will come about as a result of the computer. We already have reached third-generation machine. The computers of today are made by computers which in turn were made by computers, which means that no one today knows how to make a really complex computer. Only the machines themselves can do that.

But computers, although they will be responsible for much of the progress in the years ahead, aren't the whole story.

Marinite Wins Purchase Award

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — "Scabs Underbrush," a felt pen work on paper by Woodacre artist William T. Wiley, has been selected as one of eight purchase awards in the 1970 National Drawing Exhibition at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

The eight works, selected from 1,627 entries, will be incorporated into the permanent collection of the museum. The contest was held by the San Francisco Women Artists.

The exhibition will be on view through Jan. 4.

Dayton, Ohio was founded by a group of Revolutionary War Veterans.

Three More Pass Bar Examination

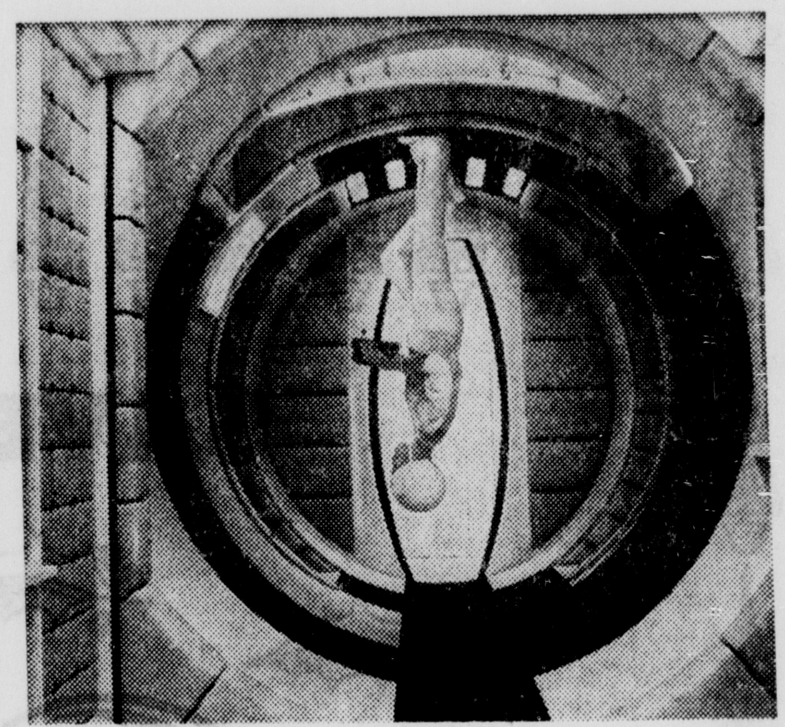
Their names were omitted from a list of Marin and southern Sonoma candidates passing the examination which appeared in Tuesday's Independent-Journal.



DEFIES GRAVITY — In "2001: A Space Odyssey," unfolding a drama of adventure and exploration into the future, a stewardess carrying a weightless food tray, enters the cockpit area of the spacecraft Aries to serve a meal to the crew. Special shoes enable her to cling to the walls of the vehicle in any position even when she appears to be moving upside-down.

'2001' Opener Brings Kubrick To Forefront

"2001: A Space Odyssey" marks Stanley Kubrick's first motion picture since his controversial and widely successful "Dr. Strangelove, Or How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb."

His new adventure into the future encompasses a sweep in history from the dawn of man to some 31 years in the future.

Filmed in Super Panavision and Metrocolor, it was produced and directed by Kubrick and was co-written by Kubrick and Arthur C. Clarke, noted space authority and science fiction writer.

Six months before the cameras turned, Kubrick and Clarke were joined by a team of 36 technical designers from 12 countries, whose responsibility was to anticipate and visualize in sets and props the startling technological progress of the start of the 21st Century. More than 40 major industrial and scientific concerns from the United States and Europe supported the film with design construction.

In another era of film making, the stars, Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood, could well have reached peak screen heroics with roles duplicating the feats of Christopher Columbus, Daniel Boone, Scott of the Antarctic or other explorers who have won a place in history through the enaction of their dreams.

As two astronauts involved in a deep space probe, they worked alone in a 40-foot tall set, with Kubrick directing the scenes outside with the assistance of television screens and a sound hook-up. As the action was transmitted to Kubrick on the screen, it was also videotaped, with the result that seconds later the actors were able to watch themselves in a runthrough of their scenes before trying another "take."

The space ship "Discovery" dominated one of the 11 sound stages at MGM's British studios.

Armored Truck Overturns And Money 'Flows'

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — An armored truck overturned on icy Interstate 75 near here today and a large quantity of money spilled out when the vehicle's door flew open.

Armed guards immediately took positions outside the area where the truck flipped over on the median strip and apparently all the money, said to be hundreds of thousands of dollars, was recovered.

A motorist who stopped to offer assistance was told to "move on" by the guards armed with shotguns.

One guard was hurt but not seriously.

The truck was righted and continued south.

Bolinas Board Votes Sewer Pact

A joint powers agreement with the Stinson Beach County Water District to pave the way for a joint sewer system for Stinson Beach and Bolinas was was approved by the Bolinas Public Utility District board last night, Secretary Jane Phillips reported today.

The vote for the agreement, already approved by the Stinson Beach board was 4 to 1, with new member James E. Kerr voting against it.

The agreement was a necessary step before the two communities can go ahead with securing financing and setting up a special assessment district for a joint system.

Filmed in Super Panavision and Metrocolor, it was produced and directed by Kubrick and was co-written by Kubrick and Arthur C. Clarke, noted space authority and science fiction writer.

Six months before the cameras turned, Kubrick and Clarke were joined by a team of 36 technical designers from 12 countries, whose responsibility was to anticipate and visualize in sets and props the startling technological progress of the start of the 21st Century. More than 40 major industrial and scientific concerns from the United States and Europe supported the film with design construction.

In another era of film making, the stars, Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood, could well have reached peak screen heroics with roles duplicating the feats of Christopher Columbus, Daniel Boone, Scott of the Antarctic or other explorers who have won a place in history through the enaction of their dreams.

As two astronauts involved in a deep space probe, they worked alone in a 40-foot tall set, with Kubrick directing the scenes outside with the assistance of television screens and a sound hook-up. As the action was transmitted to Kubrick on the screen, it was also videotaped, with the result that seconds later the actors were able to watch themselves in a run-through of their scenes before trying another "take."

The space ship "Discovery" dominated one of the 11 sound stages at MGM's British studios.

Armored Truck Overturns And Money 'Flows'

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — An armored truck overturned on icy Interstate 75 near here today and a large quantity of money spilled out when the vehicle's door flew open.

Armed guards immediately took positions outside the area where the truck flipped over on the median strip and apparently all the money, said to be hundreds of thousands of dollars, was recovered.

A motorist who stopped to offer assistance was told to "move on" by the guards armed with shotguns.

One guard was hurt but not seriously.

The truck was righted and continued south.

Bolinas Board Votes Sewer Pact

A joint powers agreement with the Stinson Beach County Water District to pave the way for a joint sewer system for Stinson Beach and Bolinas was was approved by the Bolinas Public Utility District board last night, Secretary Jane Phillips reported today.

The vote for the agreement, already approved by the Stinson Beach board was 4 to 1, with new member James E. Kerr voting against it.

The agreement was a necessary step before the two communities can go ahead with securing financing and setting up a special assessment district for a joint system.

Commonwealth

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky is one of four commonwealths in the United States. The other three — Virginia, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania — all were former British colonies.

San Francisco State Still Seethes Inwardly

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — A year later, an outward calm prevails on what was once the battlefield of San Francisco State College. But below the surface simmers a war of a different kind.

The undercurrent struggle, masked by tranquility and study, is the legacy of riotous events of last winter, when curses, bombs, rocks and policy billy clubs were the way of life on the 18,000-student campus.

STORM CENTER

At the storm center of contention is the Black Students Union, the same BSU which called the shots for both black and white militants in some four months of uproar last year.

Today, the BSU repeatedly and forcefully advertises its goals: "revolution . . . struggle . . . exposure of the inequalities of a dying America . . ."

Despite the fierce words, top administration officials of the institution say they are convinced pressure by the black community will keep the lid on any renewal of major physical violence.

While sharing this view, some top faculty leaders, however, believe the campus "is a volcano ready to blow up . . . seething beneath the surface."

The tight focus of the BSU is on the college's new Black Studies Department, now accommodating 460 students, mostly black, under an all-black faculty of 12 part-time and six full-time instructors.

'LIKE . . . NO SOUL'

A recent editorial in the BSU's publication, Black Fire, said: "Students must make progress both ideologically and polictically . . . not to have a correct political point of view is like having no soul."

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, president of the college, said in a news conference that campus black militants were carrying on a "reign of terror" among Negro faculty members in an attempt to take over the department.

Urban Whitaker, dean of undergraduate studies and acting dean of ethnic studies, said intimidation of faculty members has included smashing of car windows, slashing of tires, the beating of two white students, interceptions of mail and attempts at class disruption.

"The problem is not black versus white," he said. "It's over a difference of opinion among black students and black faculty over the purpose of the (Black Studies) program. That program has to be educational as opposed to revolutionary indoctrination."

The administration, appraised that the militants were going off the campus to recruit support within the black community, decided to do the same thing.

The Baptist Ministers Union of 108 pastors, leaders of most of the church-going Negro community, were asked to investigate the "reign of terror" charges.

CLERIC SPEAKS UP

On Nov. 18, the Rev. G. L. Bedford, president of the union and a disciple of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., announced virtually looking the campus black militants in the eye:

"Let me make it crystal clear, as a militant advocate of peace, that we Christian clergymen do not condone violence as a measure of reason on any level, at any place, or at any time . . . we of the Baptist Ministers Union are not separatists and neither do we subscribe to the separatist ideology of racism—black or white."

Today, it appears to have boiled down to black versus black in the new Black Studies Department.

A college spokesman today confirmed a story in Black Fire that Whitaker has threatened to cut off salaries of the entire Black Studies faculty.

The spokesman also said Whitaker has ordered paychecks for Black Studies student employees held up under the Economic Opportunity Program and has fired radical student administrator Nesbit Crutchfield.

In a "restricted" confidential memo reprinted in Black Fire, Whitaker called the situation in Black Studies "an extreme emergency" and said he did not know whether it "can be resolved peacefully."

Whitaker said he had informed the Black Studies faculty that unless they agree to meet with either him or Hayakawa to discuss their differences with the administration, he would cut off their pay.

"The basic necessity for these unhappy decisions is that what is being forced upon us is not student involvement but student control," he said in his memo.

"The fact of the matter is . . . that a group of students is in substantial control of some vitally important activities. The fact is, further, that they are performing important duties in a subprofessional manner.

"And it seems possible that the actions I am taking to relieve this problem will be part of a chain . . . leading to some severe confrontations with potentially very serious side effects."

NEW CROSSING BRINGS POSSIBLE HAZARD

Opening of the new Highway 101 overcrossing to Coleman School in San Rafael (left) has apparently brought a traffic hazard to pupils approaching the overcrossing from the west side of Highway 101. To reach the bridge, pupils must enter the street and cross unguarded Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on Paloma Avenue, near Lincoln. Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori said a crossing guard will be placed at the location when Coleman School buses, which pick up pupils on Lincoln are discontinued because of the new overcrossing. More safety precautions also may be taken, he said. Students bounded across the $140,000 overcrossing—first tubular girder bridge in the country—this week after its official opening on Tuesday. Bridge Toll Boosts 'Appall' McCarthy

Hikes in Golden Gate Bridge tolls for commuters and busses, approved last Friday by bridge district directors, should be rescinded, Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, said today.

"I am appalled by the action," McCarthy said in a press statement. "Tolls should be kept as low as possible," he said.

"It has been suggested that the bridge directors are trying to perpetuate themselves in office, and in my opinion, there is a great deal of truth of this suggestion," he said.

(The Marin County Board of Supervisors, however, consistently has favored continuation of the bridge district after its bonds are repaid in 1971. Continuation of the district would be the surest way to keep its revenue for solving Marin-San Francisco traffic congestion, the supervisors have said.)

McCarthy's statement said the bridge could be put into the state highway system, predicting "we could make certain bridge revenues are used for improving transportation between Marin County and San Francisco."

McCarthy has tried unsuccessfully for years to win passage of legislation to put all transportation facilities in the Bay Area under a regional authority.

As of Dec. 26, commuter books on the bridge will go from $6.50 to $10 for a 25-round trip book. After June 1970, commuter books will be eliminated The bus tolls, effective Jan. 1, go from 26 cents to $2 for each round trip, which has triggered a Greyhound Lines West move to add a flat $1 charge to all coupon books for Marin commute passengers.

Marijuana-By-Mail Leads To San Rafael Arrest

A 23-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of having marijuana for sale and possessing other dangerous drugs after San Rafael police, tipped-off by the U.S. Customs Bureau, discovered 14 ounces of pot in a package mailed to the suspect from a serviceman stationed overseas.

Police Inspector Gilbert F. Freitas said Gary Michael Lindsey was arrested at his home at 12:40 p.m. at 9½ F Street shortly after the parcel arrived from an S. D. Thompson apparently stationed in Asia.

Police found pot hidden in a pillow in the package, Freitas said. Other dangerous drugs, including mescaline, were also discovered inside Lindsey's home, he added.

Police had been alerted by customs agents who had intercepted the package, Freitas explained. Letters found in Lindsey's house indicated, according to Freitas, that Thompson had been supplying the suspect with as much narcotics "as you can sell," Frietas said.

Army investigators are continuing the investigation overseas, according to Freitas. It is believed Thompson is stationed in Korea, but this fact has not been verified, he added.

Lindsey, who was booked in Marin County Jail, is free after posting $1,000 bail. Heis scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Youth To Sponsor A Rock Concert

The Mill Valley Youth Commission last night voted to sponsor a benefit rock dance for the Mill Valley Drop-In House, secretary Kim Ritter reported.

The dance, tentatively set for Feb 13, will be held at the community recreation center and will feature Marin County rock bands.

Commissioners also voted to sponsor a county music festival in the spring which would include the Marin Symphony, various rock bands, country and western and other musical groups, Miss Ritter said.

2,000 SPEAK TO ST. NICK

More than 2,000 Marin and Southern Sonoma children spoke to Santa Claus last night, bringing to 3,957 the number of youngsters who participated in the "Call Santa" project sponsored by the Independent-Journal and three junior chambers of commerce.

Helping with the two-day telephone project were the San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley Junior chambers.

Posse Combs Tam Valley For Fugitive

Southern Marin law enforcement officers converged on a heavily wooded section of Tamalpais Valley shortly before noon today in an attempt to capture a possible burglar who was considered possibly armed and dangerous.

At least two shots had been fired, according to sketchy police reports.

The suspect was still at large at noon. Armed units of the sheriff's office, California Highway Patrol and the Mill Valley Police Department were combing the heavily populated area near Shoreline Highway and Loring Avenue for the man whose car ran off the road there.

Sheriff's deputies said the suspect apparently was surprised during an attempted burglary of a San Geronimo Valley home when the occupant returned. The man fled west and roadblocks were thrown up at Marshall and further south on Shoreline Highway.

A deputy's patrol unit then picked up the suspect car somewhere west of Mill Valley and followed in hot pursuit, deputies said. It was not immediately clear whether the suspect was forced off the road or drove off deliberately.

Three sheriff's units, three Mill Valley units and several CHP units were on the scene at noon. Police were armed with shotguns in their search for the man, who at that time was on foot, deputies said.

Conservationist Alliance Folds

Alliance For Conservation decided to go out of business last night, reported Kay Spitler of Mill Valley.

The organization was dissolved after a unanimous vote decided the alliance had served its original purpose in having various conservation groups get to know each other, Mrs. Spitler explained.

The alliance is hoping that its function of serving as an information body and coordinator between conservation groups will be taken over by a newly formed speakers bureau of the Marin Conservation League, she added.

Evidence Insufficient To Continue Toliver Pay Probe

The Marin County district attorney's office said today there was insufficient evidence for a criminal complaint to be issued against Sausalito School District charging illegal action in raising the salary of James T. Toliver Jr., a principal's assistant.

"It is the opinion of this office that the evidence presented is insufficient to prove that Toliver's salary was set in executive session and for that reason no criminal complaint for a violation of the Brown Act will be issued," announced Joshua Thomas, deputy district attorney.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales ordered an inquiry into the matter after the Independent-Journal disclosed in October that Toliver's pay had been increased more than that of other teaching employees in the district, without knowledge of the public.

Thomas blamed the lack of public knowledge on the procedure used by the district board.

At the board's budget sessions last June, he said, "neither the press nor the public was supplied with a copy of a line-item budget which contained the amount that Toliver and other employees of the district were to receive. Although the district board, at those sessions, was aware of what Toliver's salary was to be, the public was not.

"None of the tape records of the school board meetings reviewed indicated that the board specifically discussed Toliver's salary . . . In addition, the budget required to be forwarded to the Marin County superintendent of schools is in a form that merely contains a general statement of amounts budgeted for certain personnel classifications with no specific names mentioned.

"Although the board's action in adoption of the proposed budget containing Toliver's salary and those of the other employees was legal, having been done in open session, the failure to supply detailed information to the public prevented its being aware of the action taken and created the impression that the action was taken in executive meetings."

Thomas suggested that "residents of the Sausalito School District may wish to have this procedure changed in the future."

The Sausalito School District board on June 16 agreed to a 7.5 per cent salary scale increase for teaching employees. Toliver, however, was raised from $12,500 to $14,024 — a 12.2 per cent increase.

Last year, Toliver received a raise from $9,650 to $12,500, an increase of 29.5 per cent. The district attorney's investigation did not go into whether last year's increase was granted properly in open board session.

More Volunteer Firemen Sought

The Stinson Beach volunteer firemen last night decided to launch a recruiting drive to expand the number of people available to fight fires in the shore area, Fire Chief Col. George White reported today.

White said anyone interested in taking the training for the volunteers should call him in Stinson Beach. The department now has about 14 members although all of them are not active, he said.

"It's difficult to get people out," he said, "But if they realize this is the only fire protection they have, they might come. The whole idea is to protect our own homes and there's no reason why a dozen guys should do all the work."

Revolver Stolen

A loaded .38 caliber revolver was stolen Friday or Saturday from Gallagher's Hardware and Lumber, 4224 Redwood Highway, San Rafael police reported today.

Hashish Raid Trio Charged, Girl Freed

Three men arrested in a raid on a Tamalpais Valley motel Tuesday where narcotics agents said they seized a large quantity of hashish was well as more than $24,000 in cash were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on drug charges.

David Stuart King, 25, of Billings, Mont., and Jeffrey David Wyard, 25, of Missolua, Mont., were charged with possessing marijuana for sale, and George S. Garr, 23, who gave the Fountain Motel as his address, was accused of possessing marijuana.

No charge was filed against a young woman, Linda Ann Reinbold, 19, who was also arrested at the motel.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein refused to release the men on their own recognizance and set bail for King and Wyard at $7,500 and at $5,000 for Garr.

They were to appear in court today to enter pleas to the charges.

NEW CROSSING BRINGS POSSIBLE HAZARD

Opening of the new Highway 101 overcrossing to Coleman School in San Rafael (left) has apparently brought a traffic hazard to pupils approaching the overcrossing from the west side of Highway 101. To reach the bridge, pupils must enter the street and cross unguarded Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on Paloma Avenue, near Lincoln. Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori said a crossing guard will be placed at the location when Coleman School buses, which pick up pupils on Lincoln are discontinued because of the new overcrossing. More safety precautions also may be taken, he said. Students bounded across the $140,000 overcrossing—first tubular girder bridge in the country—this week after its official opening on Tuesday. Bridge Toll Boosts 'Appall' McCarthy

Hikes in Golden Gate Bridge tolls for commuters and busses, approved last Friday by bridge district directors, should be rescinded, Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, said today.

"I am appalled by the action," McCarthy said in a press statement. "Tolls should be kept as low as possible," he said.

"It has been suggested that the bridge directors are trying to perpetuate themselves in office, and in my opinion, there is a great deal of truth of this suggestion," he said.

(The Marin County Board of Supervisors, however, consistently has favored continuation of the bridge district after its bonds are repaid in 1971. Continuation of the district would be the surest way to keep its revenue for solving Marin-San Francisco traffic congestion, the supervisors have said.)

McCarthy's statement said the bridge could be put into the state highway system, predicting "we could make certain bridge revenues are used for improving transportation between Marin County and San Francisco."

McCarthy has tried unsuccessfully for years to win passage of legislation to put all transportation facilities in the Bay Area under a regional authority.

As of Dec. 26, commuter books on the bridge will go from $6.50 to $10 for a 25-round trip book. After June 1970, commuter books will be eliminated The bus tolls, effective Jan. 1, go from 26 cents to $2 for each round trip, which has triggered a Greyhound Lines West move to add a flat $1 charge to all coupon books for Marin commute passengers.

Marijuana-By-Mail Leads To San Rafael Arrest

A 23-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of having marijuana for sale and possessing other dangerous drugs after San Rafael police, tipped-off by the U.S. Customs Bureau, discovered 14 ounces of pot in a package mailed to the suspect from a serviceman stationed overseas.

Police Inspector Gilbert F. Freitas said Gary Michael Lindsey was arrested at his home at 12:40 p.m. at 9½ F Street shortly after the parcel arrived from an S. D. Thompson apparently stationed in Asia.

Police found pot hidden in a pillow in the package, Freitas said. Other dangerous drugs, including mescaline, were also discovered inside Lindsey's home, he added.

Police had been alerted by customs agents who had intercepted the package, Freitas explained. Letters found in Lindsey's house indicated, according to Freitas, that Thompson had been supplying the suspect with as much narcotics "as you can sell," Frietas said.

Army investigators are continuing the investigation overseas, according to Freitas. It is believed Thompson is stationed in Korea, but this fact has not been verified, he added.

Lindsey, who was booked in Marin County Jail, is free after posting $1,000 bail. Heis scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Youth To Sponsor A Rock Concert

The Mill Valley Youth Commission last night voted to sponsor a benefit rock dance for the Mill Valley Drop-In House, secretary Kim Ritter reported.

The dance, tentatively set for Feb 13, will be held at the community recreation center and will feature Marin County rock bands.

Commissioners also voted to sponsor a county music festival in the spring which would include the Marin Symphony, various rock bands, country and western and other musical groups, Miss Ritter said.

2,000 SPEAK TO ST. NICK

More than 2,000 Marin and Southern Sonoma children spoke to Santa Claus last night, bringing to 3,957 the number of youngsters who participated in the "Call Santa" project sponsored by the Independent-Journal and three junior chambers of commerce.

Helping with the two-day telephone project were the San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley Junior chambers.

Posse Combs Tam Valley For Fugitive

Southern Marin law enforcement officers converged on a heavily wooded section of Tamalpais Valley shortly before noon today in an attempt to capture a possible burglar who was considered possibly armed and dangerous.

At least two shots had been fired, according to sketchy police reports.

The suspect was still at large at noon. Armed units of the sheriff's office, California Highway Patrol and the Mill Valley Police Department were combing the heavily populated area near Shoreline Highway and Loring Avenue for the man whose car ran off the road there.

Sheriff's deputies said the suspect apparently was surprised during an attempted burglary of a San Geronimo Valley home when the occupant returned. The man fled west and roadblocks were thrown up at Marshall and further south on Shoreline Highway.

A deputy's patrol unit then picked up the suspect car somewhere west of Mill Valley and followed in hot pursuit, deputies said. It was not immediately clear whether the suspect was forced off the road or drove off deliberately.

Three sheriff's units, three Mill Valley units and several CHP units were on the scene at noon. Police were armed with shotguns in their search for the man, who at that time was on foot, deputies said.

Conservationist Alliance Folds

Alliance For Conservation decided to go out of business last night, reported Kay Spitler of Mill Valley.

The organization was dissolved after a unanimous vote decided the alliance had served its original purpose in having various conservation groups get to know each other, Mrs. Spitler explained.

The alliance is hoping that its function of serving as an information body and coordinator between conservation groups will be taken over by a newly formed speakers bureau of the Marin Conservation League, she added.

Evidence Insufficient To Continue Toliver Pay Probe

The Marin County district attorney's office said today there was insufficient evidence for a criminal complaint to be issued against Sausalito School District charging illegal action in raising the salary of James T. Toliver Jr., a principal's assistant.

"It is the opinion of this office that the evidence presented is insufficient to prove that Toliver's salary was set in executive session and for that reason no criminal complaint for a violation of the Brown Act will be issued," announced Joshua Thomas, deputy district attorney.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales ordered an inquiry into the matter after the Independent-Journal disclosed in October that Toliver's pay had been increased more than that of other teaching employees in the district, without knowledge of the public.

Thomas blamed the lack of public knowledge on the procedure used by the district board.

At the board's budget sessions last June, he said, "neither the press nor the public was supplied with a copy of a line-item budget which contained the amount that Toliver and other employees of the district were to receive. Although the district board, at those sessions, was aware of what Toliver's salary was to be, the public was not.

"None of the tape records of the school board meetings reviewed indicated that the board specifically discussed Toliver's salary . . . In addition, the budget required to be forwarded to the Marin County superintendent of schools is in a form that merely contains a general statement of amounts budgeted for certain personnel classifications with no specific names mentioned.

"Although the board's action in adoption of the proposed budget containing Toliver's salary and those of the other employees was legal, having been done in open session, the failure to supply detailed information to the public prevented its being aware of the action taken and created the impression that the action was taken in executive meetings."

Thomas suggested that "residents of the Sausalito School District may wish to have this procedure changed in the future."

The Sausalito School District board on June 16 agreed to a 7.5 per cent salary scale increase for teaching employees. Toliver, however, was raised from $12,500 to $14,024 — a 12.2 per cent increase.

Last year, Toliver received a raise from $9,650 to $12,500, an increase of 29.5 per cent. The district attorney's investigation did not go into whether last year's increase was granted properly in open board session.

More Volunteer Firemen Sought

The Stinson Beach volunteer firemen last night decided to launch a recruiting drive to expand the number of people available to fight fires in the shore area, Fire Chief Col. George White reported today.

White said anyone interested in taking the training for the volunteers should call him in Stinson Beach. The department now has about 14 members although all of them are not active, he said.

"It's difficult to get people out," he said, "But if they realize this is the only fire protection they have, they might come. The whole idea is to protect our own homes and there's no reason why a dozen guys should do all the work."

Revolver Stolen

A loaded .38 caliber revolver was stolen Friday or Saturday from Gallagher's Hardware and Lumber, 4224 Redwood Highway, San Rafael police reported today.

Marinwood CDS Panel Rejects Ditch Plan

Marinwood Community Services District directors declined last night to accept a proposed offer of a drainage ditch alongside a townhouse development on the south side of Miller Creek Road at Las Gallinas Avenue.

The developer had suggested that he deed the ditch to the district instead of meeting its proposal that the ditch be fenced or covered, reported the district's business manager-secretary, Genevieve T. Bolding.

But the directors agreed that maintenance of the ditch would be beyond the district's responsibilities for fire protection and recreation, she said.

The net result of the board's decision was to make the issue moot, since the development has been approved by the Marin County Planning Commission, she said.

Marinwood Community Services District directors also:

REAPPOINTED — Reappointed, for 1970, fire commissioners Boyd Wells, Kenneth Katz and Dale Schmidt and park and recreation commissioners Richard O'Brien, Henry Fuqua and Mrs. Duncan Gordon.

CADET — Received a $610 check from the Marin County Juvenile Court Auxiliary to meet the cost for the rest of this fiscal year of paying a cadet fireman $1.65 an hour.

PAY — Approved extra steps in pay grade for fireman Kenneth Fowler, from $687 to $732 a month, for doing an "outstanding" job as training officer, and for fireman Eugene Reed, from $663 to $697 a month.

End To Saucer Probe Welcomed By Association

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A 10,000-member saucer-watching association today welcomed the Air Force's decision to stop its investigation of flying saucers. It paves the way for a fresh, more thorough scientific study, the group said.

The National Investigations Committee for Aerial Phenomena (NICAP) said Air Force abandonment of a 21-year-old Project Bluebook program means unidentified flying objects (UFOs) "can now be given the serious, scientific attention they require, free from military considerations."

Bonn Puts Ban On Use Of DDT

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government today banned the use of DDT and other pesticides because their side effects are damaging to humans.

In announcing the ban, the Ministry of Agriculture said the use of DDT had declined in West Germany in recent years.

The United States has banned DDT and the British government put curbs on its use last night.

Could The Pill End Marin Dog, Cat Population Boom?

Birth control pills for animals are entirely possible, a Marin veterinarian asserted today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" — but in the meantime a subsidized sterilization clinic might be worthwhile.

The speaker, Dr. William E. Rushworth of San Rafael, said it really should be called " a hysterectomy program rather than a spaying program" because of the surgery involved. In this he agreed with a fellow veterinarian on the program, Dr. Rombert M. Bramman of San Rafael.

Research in birth control pills for animals is now going on, Rushworth reported.

The two veterinarians said they and their colleagues would support a subsidized spaying clinic to help reduce the excess of cats and dogs in Marin. Both stressed, however, that the operation is not a simple one which can be done quickly and cheaply.

The two joined Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, and Earl C. Codding of San Anselmo in discussion of a petition campaign by Margaret Goodyear of Mill Valley for a county-subsidized spaying clinic.

Codding said he felt such a clinic should not be free, but should be subsidized to the extent that the cost would not prevent pet owners from participating. He urged licensing of cats to help pay the costs, in which he was joined by Rushworth.

Bramman noted many problems in connection with a sterilization program: funding, what owners would be eligible, where the operations would be done,etc.

Morse devoted his talk principally to setting forth the problem of unwanted pets. The Humane Society, he said, "will wholeheartedly cooperate with anything that will help cut down the problem."

Volks Bus Stolen

A 1958 Volkswagen bus, license BCT 372, was stolen between 9 p.m. yesterday and 7 a.m. today from 65 Millard Road, Larkspur police reported. The bus is owned by John R. Warne of 26 Madera Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Okinawa has been called by military men "the keystone of the Pacific."

Condominium Gains Nod In Sausalito

A 12-unit condominium development proposed for 319 Sausalito Boulevard was sent to the Sausalito City Council last night with a unanimous recommendation by the city planning commission for approval, City Clerk Miriam Ansell reported today.

The development will be built by developer Malcolm Dewees and Mini Spice, Inc.

The planning commission delayed action, pending more study, on another use permit application for a 431 -unit apartment development of the old American Distillery property adjacent to the north city limits.

Mrs. Ansell said the commission wants more time to study height, parking and other plans for the multi million dollar development proposed by Lafayette builder Joseph Duffell.

In other action, the commission set 8 p.m. Jan. 7 at city hall for a public hearing on proposed amendments to the city's ordinance relating to enlargement, extension or reconstruction of buildings which have nonconforming uses.

New Plea For TV Teaching

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has kicked off an investigation of broadcast operations of the parent companies of six major radio and television station licensees.

The FCC said yesterday it will probe problems raised by ownership of broadcast stations by conglomerates and other companies with nonbroadcast enterprises.

Questionnaires sent to the six firms call for submission of documents containing their instructions to broadcast subsidiaries. These include arrangements for preclearance of programs and safeguards to prevent companies' nonbroadcast interest from affecting station programming.

The six firms chosen for the pilot study are Avco Corp., Chris-Craft Industries Inc., Cox Enterprises Inc., Fuqua Industries Inc., E.W. Scripps Co. and Travelers Insurance Co.

San Marin Players To Open Trilogy Tonight

The San Marin High School Players will present "The World of Sholom Aleichem" at 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Saturday at the Novato Community House.

The play is directed by D. Nancy De Luca. Kathryn Scarabino is stage manager and Nancy Paris and Eric Prohaska are assistant directors.

"Bontche Schweig" a dream play displays a courtroom scene in heaven. The cast is Elaine Womack, Teri Loegering, Gail Guiliano, Emily Eckhoff, Lars Ehrnstrom, Luc Nixon, Eric Prohaska, Carol Child, David Gregory, Aila Karpio and Patricia Herrington.

In the play "High School" Nancy Paris and Daniel Sill attempt to get their son, Luc Nixon, into a good high school, Emily Eckhoff, Rick Wilson, Kathryn Scarabino, Eric Prohaska, Terri Loegering, Dave Gregory, Peter Homer and Harold Amolsch add to the plot as complications set in.

Station Wagon Reported Taken

A station wagon stolen at 2 a.m. today in Larkspur was recovered at 4:45 a.m. parked outside a Corte Madera apartment building, police reported.

Owner Patricia Halbe of 105 Baltimore Avenue, Corte Madera, told Larkspur police the car was stolen at 445 Magnolia Avenue when she stopped at a tavern for a few minutes.

House Of Lords Bans Death Penalty

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords today permanently banished the death penalty for murder in Great Britain after a two-day debate that crossed party lines.

The Lords approved without a formal vote count a Labor government motion to make permanent a four-year experiment idling the hangman despite strong conservative opposition and public opinion polls showing renewed support for using the gallows.

A key to the abolition victory in what both parties called a matter of conscience appeared to be the alternative: a return to the unpopular 1957 Homicide Act. Even the hanging lobby wanted to avoid that because of complicated definitions in it of which murders could be punished by death.

Stubborn attempts by Lords who still favored the gallows failed to delay the showdown verdict proposed by Home Secretary James Callaghan.

Lord Brooke of Cumnor proposed that the vote be delayed until murder and violence statistics for 1969 were available in mid-1970. Lord Dilhorn, former Conservative lord chancellor, moved that the experimental abolition be continued until 1973.

The abolition, which may last only until a Conservative government gains power, covered only murder, not capital crimes of state or of the armed forces.

The actual voting, figured to be close, came on an amendment to the government's original motion proposed by Lord Dilhorn. This would have extended to 1973 the experimental abolition of hanging in order to compile statistics on the deterrent value of the noose.

The Lords voted against it, 220-174.

Lords backing hanging then gave up the battle and the government motion was declared approved "without division," a parliamentary phrase meaning no further vote was needed.

The vote climaxed 40 years of attempts to root out the death penalty for murder. The House of Lords delayed even an experimental recess for 20 years until 1964. It finally approved temporary abolition to end July 31, 1970, beginning in November 1965.

If Parliament had taken no action, the Homicide Act would have returned as law, a result apparently pleasing to neither side. The act divided murder into capital and noncapital categories.

Capital crimes were defined as murders committed in the course of theft, by shooting or explosion, to prevent arrest, of policemen and prison officials and second murders.

No. 51552

Application of Pacific Gas and Electric Company for authority, among other things, to increase its rates and charges for electric service. (Electric)

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY hereby gives notice that in Application No. 51552 filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on December 15, 1969, it has requested authorization to increase its rates and charges for electric service and to make various changes in its electric rate schedules.

The proposed rates will increase PGandE's electric revenues about 9½% to meet the increasing costs of providing electric service to the Company's more than 2.5 million electric customers. The proposed increase to domestic customers will average $1.12 per month over present rates. This is the first request by PGandE to increase its electric rates since 1957.

The principal increase in PGandE's expenses causing this proposal is the cost of money necessary to pay for the construction of facilities which are required to provide adequate electric service to PGandE's customers. The cost of bond money, which is a major source of such funds, has recently risen to more than 9%. Because of the existing and prospective future status of the financial market, a rate of return of not less than 7.8% on the depreciated original cost rate base of PGandE's Electric Department is required. The proposed rates are intended to produce such a rate of return. Rate zone changes to reflect changes in population and customer densities are also proposed. Various rate schedules are proposed to be consolidated and closed to new customers. Wording changes in the rate schedules are proposed to make them more meaningful and easier to understand.

A copy of the application and related exhibits may be examined at the offices of the California Public Utilities Commission, State Building, 350 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California 94102; at Pacific Gas and Electric Company, 245 Market Street, San Francisco, California 94106, Room 832; and c/o the Division Managers in PGandE's Division Headquarters in Eureka, Red Bluff, Chico, Marysville, Sacramento, Auburn, San Rafael, San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Salinas, Fresno, and Stockton.

This notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Rule 24 of the revised Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission.

No. 51552

Application of Pacific Gas and Electric Company for authority, among other things, to increase its rates and charges for electric service. (Electric)

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY hereby gives notice that in Application No. 51552 filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on December 15, 1969, it has requested authorization to increase its rates and charges for electric service and to make various changes in its electric rate schedules.

The proposed rates will increase PGandE's electric revenues about 9½% to meet the increasing costs of providing electric service to the Company's more than 2.5 million electric customers. The proposed increase to domestic customers will average $1.12 per month over present rates. This is the first request by PGandE to increase its electric rates since 1957.

The principal increase in PGandE's expenses causing this proposal is the cost of money necessary to pay for the construction of facilities which are required to provide adequate electric service to PGandE's customers. $2 Million Center Gets Shot Down

The Larkspur City Council last night pretty well shot down plans for a $2 million shopping center proposed for a site at Doherty Drive and Magnolia Avenue by requiring that a gas station be eliminated and more parking spaces added.

Stewart Bowie, president of SDC, a corporation with headquarters in Corona del Mar, Orange County, said after a conditional use permit for the project had been approved, that "I doubt that we'll be back."

He had earlier in the meeting said that the gas station was economically necessary for the center. Councilmen objected to the service station because there is another one nearby, because of access and because they wanted more parking spaces.

SDC's plans called for 23,000-square-foot Alpha Beta supermarket supported by 15,500 square feet of smaller shops and the gas station on a site now occupied by the Larkspur Lumber Co.

A use permit allowing commercial use in an area planned for industrial uses was denied 2-2 by the Larkspur Planning Commission last month. The developers were appealing that decision last night.

The Larkspur City Council also:

OVERCROSSING — Asked the County of Marin to allocate $50,000 from County Urban Thoroughfare Funds for the city's share in the cost of reconstruction of the railroad overcrossing on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the Greenbrae Interchange.

IMPROVEMENTS — Accepted street improvements on Oak Road and Redwood Avenue.

GIFT — Accepted and thanked the Niven family for a gift of a $35,400-piece of land for the Ward Street extension.

SALARY — Voted to raise City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst's salary from $1,450 a month to $1,550 with Mayor Neil Brixon voting no.

PARKING BAN — Moved the no parking zone from the east side to the west side of Redwood Avenue.

STREET — Voted to repair Magnolia Avenue between Branch and Alexander avenues after learning that the Larkspur-Corte Madera School District will pay for a sidewalk.

MEMORY — Adjourned in memory of H. H. (Steve) Wheeler, former mayor who died Dec. 3.

Correct Date For Health Panel Session

The annual meeting of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council will be held Jan. 14, not Jan. 24, as incorrectly reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The meeting, at which board members will be elected, will begin at 8 p.m. in the administration building of the Civic Center.

Doctors Urging State Health Cabinet Rank

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Medical Association is proposing creation of a new cabinet-level state health agency consolidating all state health and health-related activities.

The proposal was presented yesterday to the State Health Planning Council by Dr. Malcolm Todd of Long Beach, past president of the CMA.

He told the council, an advisory board to Gov. Ronald Reagan and Human Relations Secretary Spencer Williams, that health services, including Medi-Cal, now total 18 per cent of the state budget and warrant agency status.

The council referred the proposal to its task force on organization, which also is considering a plan presented five months ago by Williams' agency to consolidate health services into one department.

"We felt that the philosophical approach taken in that document had as a net effect lowering the status of health. In effect it made the Department of Health into a bureau," said Richard W. Lemos, CMA director of government relations.

He said the CMA proposal would upgrade health services in state government.

"As the Human Relations Agency is now constituted, it does not give to the health elements all the attention which they should receive," Lemos said.

"The Health Agency should serve as the vehicle for consolidation of some of the 86 boards, committees and councils (relating to health) . . ." the CMA proposal said.

"This includes 33 boards, committees and councils which relate to the State Department of Public Health, 25 to the Department of Mental Hygiene, and 20 to the Department of Health Care Services. Eight statutory boards are associated with the healing arts element of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards which will be included in the health agency," the report added.

Monagan Slated To Propose Major Legislative Reshuffle

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The biggest legislative reorganization since 1966 will be proposed tomorrow by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

Monagan will go before a Capitol news conference and propose a constitutional amendment revising the present methods of holding legislative sessions.

If adopted by the lawmakers and approved by the voters in June 1970, the plan would mean the biggest change for the legislature since Californians enacted Prop. 1-A in 1966 and gave the state annual legislative sessions.

Under the latest plan, Capitol sources said, sessions would last for two years. Now, they last for only part of a year.

Under the present system, a bill that hasn't passed at adjournment is automatically dead. Under the new plan, a bill that cleared the Assembly one year but failed to pass the Senate would still be alive the following year. If it then passed the Senate, it would go to the governor.

Advocates say it would save time and state printing costs.

In addition, Monagan plans to propose that the Legislature be given complete control of when it meets.

At present, the Legislature must hold daily sessions of the Senate and the Assembly, even if there is no business to transact. Critics have said this time often should be spent in more productive committee hearings.

Alabama ranks fifth nationally in peanut production.

MARIN CIVIC BALLET

'Nutcracker' To Be Danced On Saturday And Sunday

An energetic, dedicated group of young dancers is polishing the "Nutcracker" in preparation for four performances Saturday and Sunday.

Fairies and flowers and snowflakes and dozens of other characters will fill the stage of the Fine Arts Theater at College of Marin, dancing out the whimsical ballet to the strains of Tchaikovsky's composition.

The ballet opens with a Christmas party, moves into the snow forest and later to the palace of the sugar plum fairy.

Performances will be presented at 2:30 and 8 p.m. both days.

Members of the cast and the parts they will play are Richard Hein, burghermeister; Gretchen Antonioli, his wife; Ellen Frank, Clara; Craig Randolph, Franz; Ruth Syndon, the Duchess; Ernest Widlund, Drosselmeyer; Holly Berryman, governess; Irmgard and William Koller, Sara McKinnon and Rocky White, all guests;

Katharin Donaldson, Devra Jarvis, Nancy Klamons, Marianne Knox, Jennifer Nicolaisen, Lynn Rothmann, Michele Shibata, Lisa Vukisevich, Kathy Bell, Mindy Jonas, Sharon Jupp, Jill Kamler, Carolyn McCarthy, Moira MacMahon and Christina Rolling, all children;

Theresa Glasner, Celeste Henninger, Carrie Ives, Karen Koster, Susan Lenoff, Ann Little, Piper Mertie, Gretchen Phils and Carmelita Quiros, all mice;

1968 Station Wagon
Unusual circumstances enable us to offer this rare vehicle at an extraordinary low price. V-4 engine, 4-speed transmission, with free-wheeling option, rear 3rd seat, FM-AM radio, Michelin tires, low 1-owner mileage. Lovely white with flawless red vinyl interior. Superb Swedish craftmanship. Our sale price of only $1999 can be financed at low bank rates with a very small trade-in equity or cash down. YWG 893.

If you're fussy and particular and looking for the best and cleanest older station wagon for the money—see this wagon before you buy any.

Local, one-owner wagon that defies the fact that it's 6 years old. There isn't a speck of wear anywhere inside or out, and if you've looked at any wagons, this is a rare trait.

Fully equipped including power steering, automatic, radio and heater. DNV 679.

If you're fussy and particular and looking for the best and cleanest older station wagon for the money—see this wagon before you buy any.

Local, one-owner wagon that defies the fact that it's 6 years old. There isn't a speck of wear anywhere inside or out, and if you've looked at any wagons, this is a rare trait.

Legal Notices

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that the City of San Anselmo will receive bids for Placing 72,000 square feet of base rock and armor coat and necessary ditch cleaning on Redwood Road between Fernwood Drive and Melville Avenue in the City of San Anselmo, California, each bid to be in accordance with plans and specifications and other contract documents now on file in the City Clerk's Office at the City Hall, San Anselmo, California, where they may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per set which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within seven (7) days after the bid opening.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local laws thereto applicable, the City Council of San Anselmo has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or Mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder. A copy of these rates is on file in the City Engineer's Office, City Hall, San Anselmo.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any sub-contractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the Office of the City Clerk, City Hall, San Anselmo, California; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for ten (10) per cent of the amount of the bid made payable to the order of the City of San Anselmo, San Anselmo, California, on or before 4:00 p.m., December 23, 1969, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud in the aforementioned office of the City Clerk.

The above-mentioned check or bond shall be as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded to him, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the City of San Anselmo, California.

The City of San Anselmo, California, reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or waive any informality in a bid.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening hereof.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN, CALIFORNIA

RESOLUTION NO. 69-372
RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO DISPOSE OF SURPLUS REAL PROPERTY.

WHEREAS, the County of Marin is the owner of certain hereinafter described real property not necessary for its use which is hereby declared surplus;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED as follows:

1. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, pursuant to Sections 25520, et seq., of the Government Code, does hereby declare its intention to sell said property. A public meeting of the Board will be held at the Chambers of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on the 10th day of February, 1970, at 11:30 o'clock A.M., at which time sealed proposals to purchase said property will be received and considered. Said property intended to be sold is generally known as the "COURTHOUSE SQUARE" and is described as follows:

That certain real property situate in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

Block 31 as shown on "Plat of the Townsite of the Town of San Rafael, "filed October 14, 1873, in Rack 1 of Maps at Pull 4, Marin County Records.

2. The minimum acceptable price for said property is Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($750,000).

3. The terms of sale shall be as follows:

(a) All bids must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check payable to "COUNTY OF MARIN" in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the amount bid. This sum shall be deposited in an escrow opened to complete the purchase and sale. If the purchase is not consummated, as specified herein, for any reason whatsoever, County shall be entitled to retain $10,000 of said sum as reimbursement of the loss County will suffer if the sale is not completed.

(b) The remainder of the purchase price, including the amount on deposit, must be paid to County, through escrow, within nine months from the date of award. The purchaser may, at his option, pay the purchase price in full, in advance of the above dates. Until the sale is actually completed, purchaser shall have no interest in the property.

(c) A grant deed to the property will be delivered to escrow by County with instructions to the escrow holder to record and deliver the deed to the purchaser immediately after the County certifies that full payment of the purchase price has been received. County shall pay all escrow charges except title insurance premiums. County shall be entitled to retain all interest earned on the funds deposited in escrow.

(d) Possession of said property will be delivered upon consummation of the sale.

4. All bidders will be required to submit bids on a form supplied by County. Oral bids will be considered in the manner provided by law, but no oral bids will be accepted from bidders who have not established their responsibility by submission of a written bid and deposit. An additional deposit need not be made for an oral bid, but the successful bidder's original deposit must be increased to five per cent (5%) of his bid within five (5) days after award.

5. The County reserves the right to remove and retain the memorial statue located on the grounds. If the Courthouse Building is demolished at any time, the cornerstone thereof shall be returned to County.

6. No real estate commission shall be paid in connection with said sale.

7. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any errors or irregularities in any bid. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of ten (10) days after submission.

8. The Clerk of this Board shall cause three copies of the within resolution, signed by the Chairman of this Board, to be posted in three public places within the County at least fifteen (15) days before the date of said hearing and the opening of said bids and shall cause notice of the adoption of this resolution to be published once a week for three (3) consecutive weeks prior to the hearing on said matter, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, held on the 9th day of December, 1969, by the following vote:

AYES: SUPERVISORS William A. Gnoss, Louis H. "Bud" Baar, Peter R. Arrigoni, John F. McInnis.
NOES: NONE.
ABSENT: SUPERVISOR Michael Wornum.

/s/ JOHN F. McINNIS
Chairman of the Board
ATTEST:
/s/ GEO. H. GNOSS, Clerk

All persons who desire a bid form and/or additional information relating to the foregoing are directed to contact the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Bellach's

Isn't THIS the recliner Dad really wants?
You bet it is--and a FANTASTIC VALUE

SAVE $40 Regular $159⁹⁵ value NOW $119⁹⁵

- Generous proportions, 41" tall x 33" wide.
- 3-way mechanism, perfect support in each position.
- Luxurious foam padding in seat, back, arms, footrest.
- Magnificent good looks.
- Sumptuous, practical, leather-look vinyl.
- Rich, clear colors; Charcoal Brown, Charcoal Olive.
- Solidly braced all-hardwood frame.
- Substantial savings — priced now at what you'd expect to pay in an after Christmas clearance.

Probably only once or twice in a lifetime will you buy a chair for Dad. So naturally you want it to be a good one — one Dad himself would pick for comfort, durability, for value. Well, here it is. Utteryly superb in every way. Sure to please Dad on Christmas. Certain to make him think of you each time he settles into its relaxing comfort through the years.

Yes, this is a noble chair indeed. Some recliners are a wee bit skimpy for total relaxing, but not this one. It's a full 41" high, a generous 33" wide. The seat is a roomy 21"x21". Some chairs tilt without changing the tilter's position — but this chair's back and seat move independently. Thus, whether Dad leans back to watch TV or reclines fully for a snooze, the back and seat adjust perfectly to assure his total comfort. Some chairs feel pretty hard after you've been sitting for awhile, but not this chair. It's foam-lavished. Yes, every point of contact is deliciously foam padded, from deeply tufted back to the 5" thick foam seat. Even the arms and footrest are comfortably foam padded. And every ounce of foam is effectively supported and permanently anchored to always stay in place without every becoming lumpy.

Oh, this is a handsome chair, too. Dad will surely be the envy of his friends when they see it. You'll be proud you gave it to Dad, proud of the way it looks in your home. The fabric has the appearance of fine leather, but it's really a far more practical plastic. Not ordinary plastic, mind you, but supple, luxurious vinyl that's also tough and resistant to snags. Easy to keep clean, too — just wipe soil away with a damp cloth. The colors are rich and clear.

Like we said, this is THE recliner Dad wants. We bought enough to get the price way down, so you can buy for Christmas giving at a clearance price. But the VALUE here is so sensational our supply won't last forever. So don't disappoint DAD — don't miss this FANTASTIC RECLINER VALUE. Make your selection NOW (phone your order if you can't come in). We'll hold your chair and deliver before Christmas — you tell us when. One more thing: you can give Dad this chair without wrecking your Christmas budget. Just place it on our Revolving Charge Plan, BankAmericard or Master Charge. But do it NOW.

RESOLUTION NO. 69-372

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO DISPOSE OF SURPLUS REAL PROPERTY.

WHEREAS, the County of Marin is the owner of certain hereinafter described real property not necessary for its use which is hereby declared surplus;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED as follows:

1. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, pursuant to Sections 25520, et seq., of the Government Code, does hereby declare its intention to sell said property. A public meeting of the Board will be held at the Chambers of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on the 10th day of February, 1970, at 11:30 o'clock A.M., at which time sealed proposals to purchase said property will be received and considered. Said property intended to be sold is generally known as the "COURTHOUSE SQUARE" and is described as follows:

That certain real property situate in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

Block 31 as shown on "Plat of the Townsite of the Town of San Rafael, "filed October 14, 1873, in Rack 1 of Maps at Pull 4, Marin County Records.

2. The minimum acceptable price for said property is Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($750,000).

3. The terms of sale shall be as follows:

(a) All bids must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check payable to "COUNTY OF MARIN" in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the amount bid. This sum shall be deposited in an escrow opened to complete the purchase and sale. If the purchase is not consummated, as specified herein, for any reason whatsoever, County shall be entitled to retain $10,000 of said sum as reimbursement of the loss County will suffer if the sale is not completed.

(b) The remainder of the purchase price, including the amount on deposit, must be paid to County, through escrow, within nine months from the date of award. The purchaser may, at his option, pay the purchase price in full, in advance of the above dates. Until the sale is actually completed, purchaser shall have no interest in the property.

(c) A grant deed to the property will be delivered to escrow by County with instructions to the escrow holder to record and deliver the deed to the purchaser immediately after the County certifies that full payment of the purchase price has been received. County shall pay all escrow charges except title insurance premiums. County shall be entitled to retain all interest earned on the funds deposited in escrow.

(d) Possession of said property will be delivered upon consummation of the sale.

4. All bidders will be required to submit bids on a form supplied by County. Oral bids will be considered in the manner provided by law, but no oral bids will be accepted from bidders who have not established their responsibility by submission of a written bid and deposit. An additional deposit need not be made for an oral bid, but the successful bidder's original deposit must be increased to five per cent (5%) of his bid within five (5) days after award.

5. The County reserves the right to remove and retain the memorial statue located on the grounds. If the Courthouse Building is demolished at any time, the cornerstone thereof shall be returned to County.

6. No real estate commission shall be paid in connection with said sale.

7. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any errors or irregularities in any bid. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of ten (10) days after submission.

8. The Clerk of this Board shall cause three copies of the within resolution, signed by the Chairman of this Board, to be posted in three public places within the County at least fifteen (15) days before the date of said hearing and the opening of said bids and shall cause notice of the adoption of this resolution to be published once a week for three (3) consecutive weeks prior to the hearing on said matter, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, held on the 9th day of December, 1969, by the following vote:

AYES: SUPERVISORS William A. Gnoss, Louis H. "Bud" Baar, Peter R. Arrigoni, John F. McInnis.

NOES: NONE.

ABSENT: SUPERVISOR Michael Wornum.

/s/JOHN F. McINNIS
Chairman of the Board

ATTEST:
/s/GEO. H. GNOSS, Clerk

All persons who desire a bid form and/or additional information relating to the foregoing are directed to contact the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Bellach's

Isn't THIS the recliner Dad really wants?
You bet it is--and a FANTASTIC VALUE

SAVE $40 Regular $159.95 value NOW $119.95

- Generous proportions, 41" tall x 33" wide.
- 3-way mechanism, perfect support in each position.
- Luxurious foam padding in seat, back, arms, footrest.
- Magnificent good looks.
- Sumptuous, practical, leather-look vinyl.
- Rich, clear colors; Charcoal Brown, Charcoal Olive.
- Solidly braced all-hardwood frame.
- Substantial savings — priced now at what you'd expect to pay in an after Christmas clearance.

Probably only once or twice in a lifetime will you buy a chair for Dad. So naturally you want it to be a good one — one Dad himself would pick for comfort, durability, for value. Well, here it is. Utterly superb in every way. Sure to please Dad on Christmas. Certain to make him think of you each time he settles into its relaxing comfort through the years.

Yes, this is a noble chair indeed. Some recliners are a wee bit skimpy for total relaxing, but not this one. It's a full 41" high, a generous 33" wide. The seat is a roomy 21"x21". Some chairs tilt without changing the tilter's position — but this chair's back and seat move independently. Thus, whether Dad leans back to watch TV or reclines fully for a snooze, the back and seat adjust perfectly to assure his total comfort. Some chairs feel pretty hard after you've been sitting for awhile, but not this chair. It's foam-lavished. Yes, every point of contact is deliciously foam padded, from deeply tufted back to the 5" thick foam seat. Even the arms and footrest are comfortably foam padded. And every ounce of foam is effectively supported and permanently anchored to always stay in place without every becoming lumpy.

Oh, this is a handsome chair, too. Dad will surely be the envy of his friends when they see it. You'll be proud you gave it to Dad, proud of the way it looks in your home. The fabric has the appearance of fine leather, but it's really a far more practical plastic. Not ordinary plastic, mind you, but supple, luxurious vinyl that's also tough and resistant to snags. Easy to keep clean, too — just wipe soil away with a damp cloth. The colors are rich and clear.

Like we said, this is THE recliner Dad wants. We bought enough to get the price way down, so you can buy for Christmas giving at a clearance price. But the VALUE here is so sensational our supply won't last forever. So don't disappoint DAD — don't miss this FANTASTIC RECLINER VALUE. Make your selection NOW (phone your order if you can't come in). We'll hold your chair and deliver before Christmas — you tell us when. One more thing: you can give Dad this chair without wrecking your Christmas budget. Just place it on our Revolving Charge Plan, BankAmericard or Master Charge. But do it NOW.

TV REVIEW

'Hee Haw' Back With Its Corn

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hee Haw" returned to CBS last night with all the characters and jokes that made the program a summer-season hit. The question, which only time can answer, is whether the barnyard humor that charmed the hot-weather audience bored by reruns will exert the same fascination at another season.

Most attractive aspect of the show is its music. The beat was infectious and the tunes attractive. There was even a song with off-beat lyrics, "Okie From Muskogee," sung by Merle Haggard—a pro-Establishment song that condemned pot and advocated respect for the flag.

The viewer must react to the show's jokes in one of three ways. Take a sample one-liner: "People in the roofing business tend to get shingles." The viewer must find this (A) novel and funny, (B) corny and square, or (C) so corny and square that it is funny.

At least, "Hee Haw" is honest. When the jokes are old and pretty bad, the jokesters are likely to be standing in the middle of a cornfield when they tell them.

Roy Clark, who is more interesting when he is playing the guitar than when clowning, and Buck Owens, who has an interesting singing style, are the stars of the show. They are surrounded by a large assortment of country-style comic and excellent country-western singers, including Haggard and Tammy Wynette.

The program has been called, imprecisely, a country-style "Laugh-In"—but it had what sounded like an enthusiastic studio audience laughing its old, old jokes.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 7:30 p.m.—"The Little Drummer Boy" is an animated musical special for the Christmas season featuring the off-camera voices of Greer Garson, Jose Ferrer, Teddy Eccles and the Vienna Choir Boys.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 8 p.m.—"Together Again For The First Time" is a one-hour special with Bing Crosby, Carol Burnett, Juliet Prowse and Roy Clark presenting a musical salute to the Yule season, highlighted by a Christmas pantomime.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 10 p.m.—Dean Martin welcomes George Gobel, Gina Lollobrigida, Orson Welles, Charles Nelson Reilly and the Golddiggers to his show.

Tam Valley Youth Denies Assault Count

Michael James Locatelli, 19, of Tamalpais Valley, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 2.

Locatelli was arrested Tuesday after he allegedly shot at a friend who had been visiting him and his wife as the friend drove away from the Locatelli residence.

TV REVIEW

'Hee Haw' Back With Its Corn

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hee Haw" returned to CBS last night with all the characters and jokes that made the program a summer-season hit. The question, which only time can answer, is whether the barnyard humor that charmed the hot-weather audience bored by reruns will exert the same fascination at another season.

Most attractive aspect of the show is its music. The beat was infectious and the tunes attractive. There was even a song with off-beat lyrics, "Okie From Muskogee," sung by Merle Haggard—a pro-Establishment song that condemned pot and advocated respect for the flag.

The viewer must react to the show's jokes in one of three ways. Take a sample one-liner: "People in the roofing business tend to get shingles." The viewer must find this (A) novel and funny, (B) corny and square, or (C) so corny and square that it is funny.

At least, "Hee Haw" is honest. When the jokes are old and pretty bad, the jokesters are likely to be standing in the middle of a cornfield when they tell them.

Roy Clark, who is more interesting when he is playing the guitar than when clowning, and Buck Owens, who has an interesting singing style, are the stars of the show. They are surrounded by a large assortment of country-style comic and excellent country-western singers, including Haggard and Tammy Wynette.

The program has been called, imprecisely, a country-style "Laugh-In"—but it had what sounded like an enthusiastic studio audience laughing its old, old jokes.

Tam Valley Youth Denies Assault Count

Michael James Locatelli, 19, of Tamalpais Valley, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 2.

Locatelli was arrested Tuesday after he allegedly shot at a friend who had been visiting him and his wife as the friend drove away from the Locatelli residence.

Gabriel Named NFL's Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Gabriel, the sturdy Los Angeles Rams' quarterback who reached his peak in 1969, has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by a 48-man panel of writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

The 6-foot-4, 220-pound former North Carolina State passer led the Rams to the Coastal Division title with room to spare and was roaring toward an unbeaten season until upended by the Minnesota Vikings Dec. 7.

Gabriel received 21 full votes and a portion of another ballot that was split among Gabriel, Calvin Hill of Dallas and Joe Kapp of Minnesota.

Kapp, the man who helped engineer the Rams' defeat at the hands of the Vikings, was Gabriel's closest competitor with eight votes. Carl Eller, the Minnesota defensive end who leads the charge of the Purple Gang, was next with seven, an unusually high total for a defensive player.

Sonny Jurgensen, called by Washington Coach Vince Lombardi the greatest quarterback in the game, and perhaps ever, had four votes for his efforts in leading the Redskins to their best record since 1955.

Calvin Hill, the surprising Dallas rookie from Yale, also had four votes and a portion of a fifth.

Deacon Jones, veteran Los Angeles defensive end, Dick Butkus, the Chicago Bears' super middle linebacker, and Alex Garras, Detroit's fine defensive tackle, each had one.

The honors were won last year by Earl Morrall, who led Baltimore to the league title as a fill-in for the injured John Unitas. Morrall, used sparingly this year, did not get a vote.

Gabriel, an eight-year veteran, got his big chance in 1965 when Bill Munson suffered a knee injury. Gabriel refused to give the job back to Munson the following year. Eventually, Munson was traded to Detroit, leaving Gabriel in control.

Some knowing football people put Gabriel in the same class with Green Bay's Bart Starr in his mastery of ball-control plays. In addition to throwing 23 touchdowns and completing 204 of 375 passes for 2,439 yards, Gabe also can take off with the ball.

He ranks third on the team as a rusher and has carried the ball into the end zone for five touchdowns.

Gabriel was interviewed in mid-season and asked about the improvement in his play.

"I think my play-calling and over-all generalship are improving," he said. "I'm more experienced in getting rid of the ball.

"I was taught in college that if all the receivers are covered, it's best to eat the ball. Now I'm usually able to throw it safely. It hurts my percentage but it saves yardage."

Gabriel was a first-round draft pick by the Rams for 1962. A native of North Carolina, he and his wife and three sons now live in Long Beach.

NO GO FOR THE GOAL — Minnesota's Claude Larose (16) fires a shot at the goal as Oakland Seal Doug Roberts makes an over-the-shoulder block on the play in Oakland. The shot was foiled, however. (AP Wirephoto)

Oilers Hoping To Prove Oddsmakers All Wrong

Raiders 13-Point Picks To Win Playoff Battle

OAKLAND (AP) — Houston doesn't dispute the odds listing the Oakland Raiders as 13-point favorites to win their American Football League playoff game in the Coliseum Sunday, but the Oilers still think they can prove them wrong.

"Off the comparative records of the two teams," said Houston publicist Jim McLemore, who preceded the team here, "I would say the spread seems about right. But I think the game may be a lot closer."

BEATHARD

The Oilers pin much of their hopes for an upset — which would get them into the AFL title game against the winner of Saturday's New York-Kansas City game—on the performance of quarterback Pete Beathard.

"In the last five games," said McLemore, "Pete has looked the best since we've had him. He's beginning to arrive at being the football player people expected him to be."

Benched in favor of Bob Davis at the start of a game with Boston last week, Beathard came on to complete 17 of 24 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns as the Oilers made up a 16-point deficit and beat the Patriots 27-23.

GOOD SHAPE

In addition, the Oilers, 6-6-2, will be in their best physical condition of the year. Beathard suffered an ankle sprain late in the game last week, but it turned out to be minor and he will start against the Raiders, who finished the regular season at 12-1-1.

Nor does the Houston quarterback lack for receivers. Alvin Reid leads the AFL's tight ends in receptions with 51. Jerry Levias and Jim Beirne each have 42.

NEW DIMENSION

"Jerry gives us a new dimension," said McLemore, "since he's moved in as a starter. He's the most exciting player we've ever had."

The Raiders also are concerned about Houston's ground game.

Hoyle Granger, healthy for the first time last week, gained 139 yards on 25 carries. Woody Campbell has also come on strong in the Oilers' backfield after returning from 10 months duty in Vietnam.

Football Is 2nd Choice For NFL's No. 1 Coach

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — If Harry "Bud" Grant had been, in his own words, "good enough" as a professional basketball player, he might not have ever gotten involved with professional football.

But Grant wasn't, at least in his own mind, so after two years in the National Basketball Association with the Minneapolis Lakers, he became a Philadelphia Eagle, later switched to Canadian football, became a coach and came back to the National Football League three years ago.

Grant, now coach of the Minnesota Vikings, was named Coach of the Year in the NFL by an overwhelming vote of a panel for The Associated Press.

The former basketball player received 42 full votes to two for his nearest competitor, Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

Receiving one ballot each were Vince Lombardi of Washington, Blanton Collier of Cleveland and George Allen of Los Angeles. One vote was split three ways among Grant, Landry and Allen.

After earning his fourth letter in football at Minnesota, Grant joined the Lakers because "I could play pro basketball in Minneapolis, which was my home, and my wife was pregnant, and besides pro football didn't pay very much in those days."

But after two years of sitting on the bench watching the great Laker quintet of that era headed by George Mikan, Jim Pollard and Vern Mikkelsen, Grant decided to join the Eagles, who had drafted him No. 1 two years before.

He played for Philadelphia two years, earning All-Pro honors his first season as a defensive end and playing offensive end the second.

Make Mine Basketball, Says DeMaestri's Son

Life is sometimes like this:

Joe DeMaestri Jr., whose dad played a lot of shortstop for 11 years in the major leagues, is quite an all-star basketball player at Novato High but doesn't cotton to the national pastime. . . .

Beth Kaufman of Greenbrae, who founded the tremendous Age-Group swimming program and has spent a lifetime devoted to water safety and sports, tells about three of her grandsons who have earned block letters, none in swimming. . . .

NEWEST Burma Shave-type road signs at Sears Point International Raceway: "Rolling Stones Gather Elsewhere. . . ."

Speaking of such, SPIR's young president, Craig Murray, says he'll pass this Sunday's Raiders-Oilers game in Oakland because, "I can't stand the traffic jams," Murray being an expert in traffic problems at the Sonoma motorsports complex. . . .

DEANNE BROWN of San Rafael is organizing a fastpitch softball team open to all femmes aged 14 and older to compete in a Bay Area league next spring. The team will be called "The Spinnakers" because, says the skipper, "The name fits our canal area of San Rafael and also sounds graceful, lithe and feminine." Also, she adds, "Our uniforms will be bristol blue with bright lemon yellow trim. The shorts will be 'short' (for those who have the figure to wear such shorts). The others will be slightly longer."

Ah, the Bloomer Girls are alive and playing softball in San Rafael.

THE MARIN 49ER Boosters Club's post-season dinner Jan. 9 at Marin Country Club in Novato will be coeducational, which should be good news to Judy Todt of San Rafael, who earlier this year complained:

Shouldn't Be Just For Men

"The fact the Boosters Club excludes women is not only more than discrimination, but seems to me extremely bad business. When the 49ers could use every fan they can get, it would seem to me ladies should be welcome with open arms. (Seconded.)

"When the booing begins in the stands, who is it but the little woman who turns to her mate to try and calm the fever. Good grief, we should be public relations emissaries for the 49ers.

"Needless to say, if I were the type to start a Carrie Nation crusade, the Marin Boosters would be number one on my list.

"Incidentally, the San Francisco 49er Boosters Club is crying for broads to attend their luncheons."

Seals Find The Right Combo

OAKLAND (AP) — A new front line appears to be just what the Oakland Seals needed to get back to winning.

Center Earl Ingarfield scored twice in the third period last night to give the Seals a 3-1 National Hockey League victory over the Minnesota North Stars.

It was Oakland's second straight victory and left them undefeated in three games — counting a tie — since veteran defenseman Carol Vadnais joined Ingarfield and Bill Hicke on the front line.

Ingarfield's scoring gave him eight points — counting five assists — for the last three games. In the previous nine games before the switch, Ingarfield had gone scoreless.

Ingarfield, Vadnais and Hicke have produced 15 points altogether since the switch.

Minnesota took a 1-0 lead at 10:23 of the first period on Danny Grant's goal and Gary Jarrett of Oakland tied it at 11:58 of the second period.

Marin Cagers Extend Win Streak To Five

And the Tars keep rolling along.

The busy cagers of College of Marin won their fifth straight game last night, ripping into Napa, 84-69, in a game that saw 11 Tars hit the scoring column.

The Tars, after starting out losing three of their first four games, are now 6-3 on the season, with a chance to win four games in one week. They'll host Yuba at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Cabrillo at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Four Tars hit in double figures last night, headed by Tom Seidenberg's 17 points. Pat Schafer added 16 points, Pat Purcell put through 12 points and Chip Tyson had 10.

"That wasn't one of our best games," Tar coach John Panagakis said. "And things could get rough for us tomorrow. Yuba's scrappy and we're awfully tired."

Santa Clara's Cage Dreams Go Up In Smoke

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Cougars hosted the eighth ranked Broncs in a high-powered cage tussle last night and took a convincing 91-76 triumph. It was the seventh straight win for Houston, apparently back among the basketball elite again.

Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey combined for 44 points, but Awtrey got in foul trouble early which hurt the Broncs.

It will take just about an unbeaten season the rest of the way for Santa Clara to get them back in the national picture.

Ex-Marin Swim Star Heads Chico St. Team

Dennis Good, former Junior College All-American swimmer with College of Marin, has been elected captain of the Chico State College swim team for the 1969-1970 season.

Good, a Tamalpais High School grad, finished second in the 400 individual medley in the Far Western Conference and took All-American honors in the event at last year's small college national meet in Springfield Mass.

Gabriel Named NFL's Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Gabriel, the sturdy Los Angeles Rams' quarterback who reached his peak in 1969, has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by a 48-man panel of writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

The 6-foot-4, 220-pound former North Carolina State passer led the Rams to the Coastal Division title with room to spare and was roaring toward an unbeaten season until upended by the Minnesota Vikings Dec. 7.

Gabriel received 21 full votes and a portion of another ballot that was split among Gabriel, Calvin Hill of Dallas and Joe Kapp of Minnesota.

Kapp, the man who helped engineer the Rams' defeat at the hands of the Vikings, was Gabriel's closest competitor with eight votes. Carl Eller, the Minnesota defensive end who leads the charge of the Purple Gang, was next with seven, an unusually high total for a defensive player.

Sonny Jurgensen, called by Washington Coach Vince Lombardi the greatest quarterback in the game, and perhaps ever, had four votes for his efforts in leading the Redskins to their best record since 1955.

Calvin Hill, the surprising Dallas rookie from Yale, also had four votes and a portion of a fifth.

Deacon Jones, veteran Los Angeles defensive end, Dick Butkus, the Chicago Bears' super middle linebacker, and Alex Garras, Detroit's fine defensive tackle, each had one.

The honors were won last year by Earl Morrall, who led Baltimore to the league title as a fill-in for the injured John Unitas. Morrall, used sparingly this year, did not get a vote.

Gabriel, an eight-year veteran, got his big chance in 1965 when Bill Munson suffered a knee injury. Gabriel refused to give the job back to Munson the following year. Eventually, Munson was traded to Detroit, leaving Gabriel in control.

Some knowing football people put Gabriel in the same class with Green Bay's Bart Starr in his mastery of ball-control plays. In addition to throwing 23 touchdowns and completing 204 of 375 passes for 2,439 yards, Gabe also can take off with the ball.

He ranks third on the team as a rusher and has carried the ball into the end zone for five touchdowns.

Gabriel was interviewed in mid-season and asked about the improvement in his play.

"I think my play-calling and over-all generalship are improving," he said. "I'm more experienced in getting rid of the ball.

"I was taught in college that if all the receivers are covered, it's best to eat the ball. Now I'm usually able to throw it safely. It hurts my percentage but it saves yardage."

Gabriel was a first-round draft pick by the Rams for 1962. A native of North Carolina, he and his wife and three sons now live in Long Beach.

NO GO FOR THE GOAL — Minnesota's Claude Larose (16) fires a shot at the goal as Oakland Seal Doug Roberts makes an over-the-shoulder block on the play in Oakland. The shot was foiled, however. (AP Wirephoto)

Make Mine Basketball, Says DeMaestri's Son

Life is sometimes like this:

Joe DeMaestri Jr., whose dad played a lot of shortstop for 11 years in the major leagues, is quite an all-star basketball player at Novato High but doesn't cotton to the national pastime. . . .

Beth Kaufman of Greenbrae, who founded the tremendous Age-Group swimming program and has spent a lifetime devoted to water safety and sports, tells about three of her grandsons who have earned block letters, none in swimming. . . .

NEWEST Burma Shave-type road signs at Sears Point International Raceway: "Rolling Stones Gather Elsewhere. . . ."

Speaking of such, SPIR's young president, Craig Murray, says he'll pass this Sunday's Raiders-Oilers game in Oakland because, "I can't stand the traffic jams," Murray being an expert in traffic problems at the Sonoma motorsports complex. . . .

DEANNE BROWN of San Rafael is organizing a fastpitch softball team open to all femmes aged 14 and older to compete in a Bay Area league next spring. The team will be called "The Spinnakers" because, says the skipper, "The name fits our canal area of San Rafael and also sounds graceful, lithe and feminine." Also, she adds, "Our uniforms will be bristol blue with bright lemon yellow trim. The shorts will be 'short' (for those who have the figure to wear such shorts). The others will be slightly longer."

Ah, the Bloomer Girls are alive and playing softball in San Rafael.

THE MARIN 49ER Boosters Club's post-season dinner Jan. 9 at Marin Country Club in Novato will be coeducational, which should be good news to Judy Todt of San Rafael, who earlier this year complained:

Shouldn't Be Just For Men

"The fact the Boosters Club excludes women is not only more than discrimination, but seems to me extremely bad business. When the 49ers could use every fan they can get, it would seem to me ladies should be welcome with open arms. (Seconded.)

"When the booing begins in the stands, who is it but the little woman who turns to her mate to try and calm the fever. Good grief, we should be public relations emissaries for the 49ers.

"Needless to say, if I were the type to start a Carrie Nation crusade, the Marin Boosters would be number one on my list.

"Incidentally, the San Francisco 49er Boosters Club is crying for broads to attend their luncheons."

Oilers Hoping To Prove Oddsmakers All Wrong

Raiders 13-Point Picks To Win Playoff Battle

OAKLAND (AP) — Houston doesn't dispute the odds listing the Oakland Raiders as 13-point favorites to win their American Football League playoff game in the Coliseum Sunday, but the Oilers still think they can prove them wrong.

"Off the comparative records of the two teams," said Houston publicist Jim McLemore, who preceded the team here, "I would say the spread seems about right. But I think the game may be a lot closer."

BEATHARD

The Oilers pin much of their hopes for an upset — which would get them into the AFL title game against the winner of Saturday's New York-Kansas City game—on the performance of quarterback Pete Beathard.

"In the last five games," said McLemore, "Pete has looked the best since we've had him. He's beginning to arrive at being the football player people expected him to be."

Benched in favor of Bob Davis at the start of a game with Boston last week, Beathard came on to complete 17 of 24 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns as the Oilers made up a 16-point deficit and beat the Patriots 27-23.

GOOD SHAPE

In addition, the Oilers, 6-6-2, will be in their best physical condition of the year. Beathard suffered an ankle sprain late in the game last week, but it turned out to be minor and he will start against the Raiders, who finished the regular season at 12-1-1.

Nor does the Houston quarterback lack for receivers. Alvin Reid leads the AFL's tight ends in receptions with 51. Jerry Levias and Jim Beirne each have 42.

NEW DIMENSION

"Jerry gives us a new dimension," said McLemore, "since he's moved in as a starter. He's the most exciting player we've ever had."

The Raiders also are concerned about Houston's ground game.

Hoyle Granger, healthy for the first time last week, gained 139 yards on 25 carries. Woody Campbell has also come on strong in the Oilers' backfield after returning from 10 months duty in Vietnam.

Football Is 2nd Choice For NFL's No. 1 Coach

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — If Harry "Bud" Grant had been, in his own words, "good enough" as a professional basketball player, he might not have ever gotten involved with professional football.

But Grant wasn't, at least in his own mind, so after two years in the National Basketball Association with the Minneapolis Lakers, he became a Philadelphia Eagle, later switched to Canadian football, became a coach and came back to the National Football League three years ago.

Grant, now coach of the Minnesota Vikings, was named Coach of the Year in the NFL by an overwhelming vote of a panel for The Associated Press.

The former basketball player received 42 full votes to two for his nearest competitor, Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

Receiving one ballot each were Vince Lombardi of Washington, Blanton Collier of Cleveland and George Allen of Los Angeles. One vote was split three ways among Grant, Landry and Allen.

After earning his fourth letter in football at Minnesota, Grant joined the Lakers because "I could play pro basketball in Minneapolis, which was my home, and my wife was pregnant, and besides pro football didn't pay very much in those days."

But after two years of sitting on the bench watching the great Laker quintet of that era headed by George Mikan, Jim Pollard and Vern Mikkelsen, Grant decided to join the Eagles, who had drafted him No. 1 two years before.

He played for Philadelphia two years, earning All-Pro honors his first season as a defensive end and playing offensive end the second.

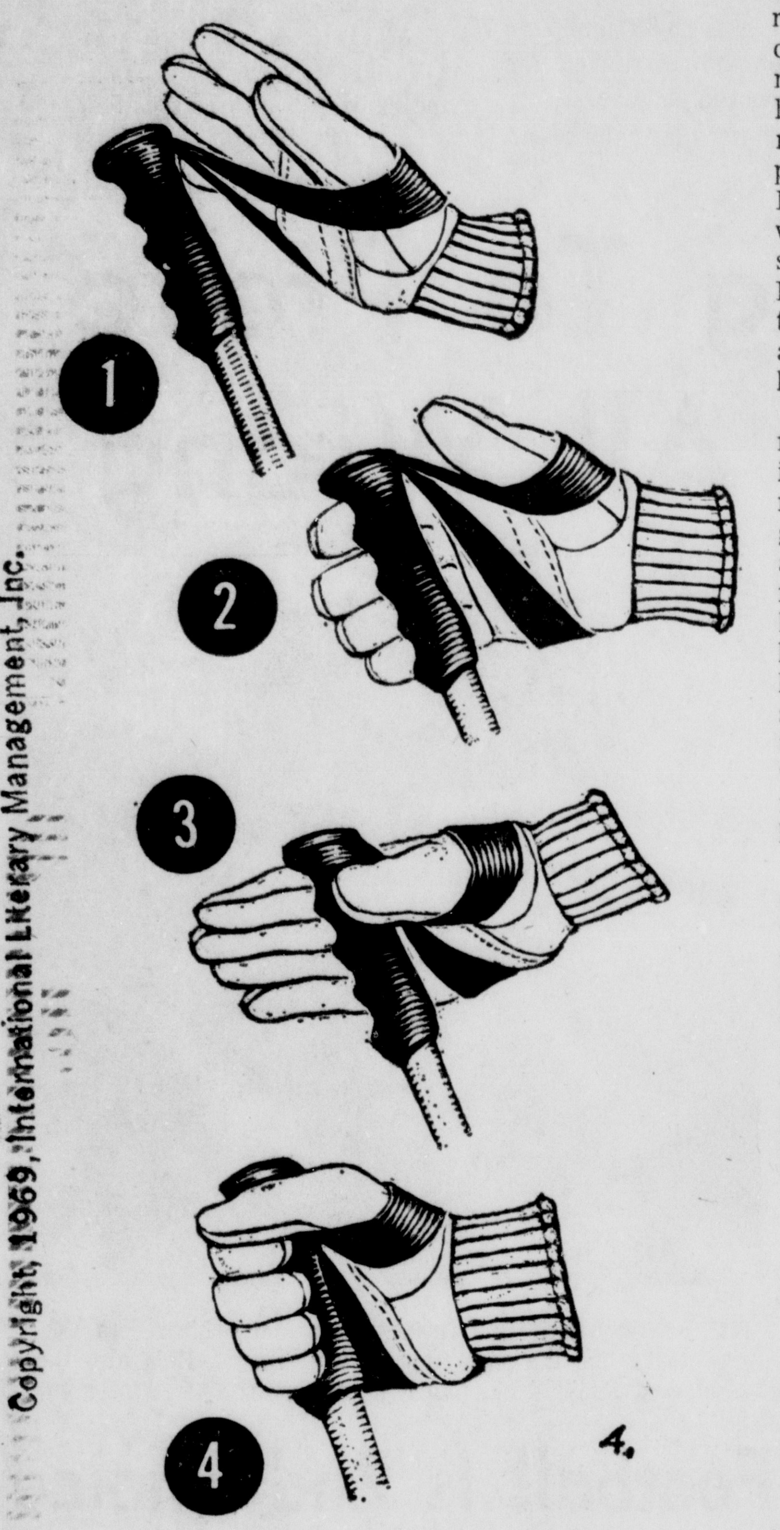
SKIING WITH JEAN-CLAUDE KILLY

You Should Get Proper Grip On Those Ski Poles



Copyright, 1969, International Literary Management, Inc.

Very early in my racing career, I lost a race because I was careless about how I gripped my poles. I had allowed my leather straps to stretch so much that when the tip of my pole held to the snow more than I expected it to, the pole was wrenched free of my hand. Ever since then, you can believe that I make sure that the straps fit tightly — are short enough to fit as snugly to my hand as my hand fits my glove.

Many ski instructors have told me how important it is for novice skiers to hold their poles right. When they don't, the fingers have to squeeze the grip and this tenses up the arm and makes all movements stiff. I know that if an advanced skier hasn't a good grip on his poles, he won't be able to rely on their support during le moment critique — that critical moment that occurs every time you make a fast, sharp turn. Here's how you should grip your poles:

1. If the strap is leather, give the smooth side a half twist inwards so that the loop formed will rest smooth and flat around your glove. Some of the poles which now come with plastic straps have them pre-twisted to conform to your grip. Always slip your hand, including the thumb, through the loop made by the strap by passing it up from underneath.

2. Then pull back on the strap so it rests against the back of your hand.

3. Grasp the pole with your thumb on one side, fingers on the other. Both parts of the strap should now rest between your hand and the pole.

4. Now press down on the strap to take up any slack. The top of your hand with the glove on should now rest no more than one-half inch from the top of the ski pole. If more of the pole protrudes above the top of your hand, then the strap should be shortened.

Packers' Jim Grabowski Expects To Be Traded

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Running back Jim Grabowski, the Green Bay Packers' No. 1 choice in the National Football League's 1966 draft, has been relegated to the roll of a sub and he expects to be traded before next season.

But, though he claims he's tempted to make public statements complaining about it he won't.

Grabowski opened the season as a starter and had been a starter ever since the year after he signed for a reported $400,000.

Now he is a substitute and all he did in last Sunday's game was act as deep blocker on punts.

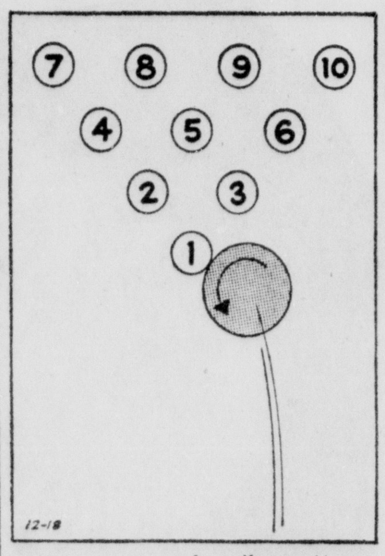
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



For a normal strike pattern, the ball must hit the 5-pin. That's why it's called the "king pin." The good hook "digs into" the 1-3 pocket. The ball is not excessively deflected and carries directly into the 5-pin. A straight ball or big curve will deflect.

Some Ski Resorts Closed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Several ski resorts in the Northern California mountains announce they'll be closed until the next storm brings nore snow, but a number of others are still operating.

Yesterday's report from the California State Automobile Association:

Highway 395: Mammoth Mountain, 21 inches, fair to good, rocks showing, daily.

YEAR-ROUND GROUP

A Ski Club For Swingers

By GARY TISCHLER

Santa Claus, in traditional basic red and flowing white, ambles in between people and tables, ho-hoing all the way.

"Where are you going, Santa?" somebody asks.

The scene is a rather spacious ballroom on the ninth floor of the Merchandise Mart on Market Street in San Francisco. Christmas presents, all homemade, or home-bought, that will later be raffled off with proceeds going to the U.S. Ski team, occupy one table up front by the microphone, along with a trophy for a future race. There are some 100 people present, most of them reasonably young, all single, all avid but not necessarily great skiers.

SKIT

Is that any way to run a ski club?

You bet it is, at least if it's close to Christmas, and it's the Swingers Only Ski Club, a slightly different sort of club for singles, which manages to get in some skiing in the winter.

This particular meeting (nobody wore skis) was the club's annual Christmas Party, and also a regular weekly meeting. If it was not typical, it's because it was Christmas, and the place was full of cheer and holiday music.

EXPECTED

The San Francisco club, which has its duplicate in the peninsula and is expected to have another offshoot in Marin County in the near future, is a growing, going thing that fits the need of people who are both single and like to ski and don't like to lose touch after the snow has disappeared.

It's only a couple of years old, but it is mushrooming. This particular chapter includes several Marinites and one half of one, Jan Ruth, the club's energetic booster, whose parents live in Sleepy Hollow.

Despite the name of the club, there are no people lounging around nibbling on grapes. They all seem like very pleasant and amiable people, who span certain age groups, a variety of white collar occupations and any number of nationalities. The lead role in the skits, which ambled along good naturedly for all of an hour, for instance is Igor Goulaevsky, the club's only Russian, and there are Swedes, like Ruth Hjeresen of Sausalito, Germans, Italians, and British lassies like newcomer Margaret Downs, who is attacking the slopes again this year despite breaking a leg last season, according to the club's mimeographed newspaper, the S.O. Skigram.

Other Marinites include Bill Cargill of Tiburon, Bonny Lynn Adami of Corte Madera, Dick Forster of Tiburon, Helen Liton of Sausalito, Mary Ann Gallardo of San Rafael and Dick Ferrero of Sausalito.

The club's main charm and advantage seems to be that it's an easy, attractive and reasonably inexpensive way ($20 in dues) for ski nuts or even beginners to get together and go together to the ski spas by way of charter and group rate set ups. And some of the trips are far flung, such as the planned outings to Jackson Hole, Wyo., Jan. 31-Feb. 8 and Whistler Mountain, B.C., Feb. 28-March 7. And there is skiing almost every weekend in the Tahoe area, including such items as the Aristocrat Race later next year, which is for beginners or intermediate skiers only.

The club doesn't die and fade away when the skis are packed away. There's other things — party-meetings or get togethers, such as a recent softball game in San Anselmo, hiking, car rallies, camping, scuba diving, wine-tasting, tennis, water-skiing and canoe trips.

Redwood Runner On Norcal Team

By GARY TISCHLER

Whatever else you might want to say about Redwood High School's cross-country season, one thing is fairly certain — the Giants had what you could call reasonably good personnel.

In particular, they had Kevin Pusser, whom Northern California coaches apparently considered a decent sort of runner, since they have named him to a 22-man first team of All-Northern California runners.

The poll covered the Northern, Central, North Coast, San Joaquin, San Francisco, and Oakland sections. Ron Elijah of Novato, the Marin County Athletic League champ, was named to the second team and Mike Arago of Tamalpais was given honorable mention.

Elijah, incidentally, took high school honors in the recent 26-mile Petaluma marathon, finishing fourth overall for the Marin Athletic Club.

Steve Dean of Sacramento State won that race and Darrell Beardall of Santa Rosa and the Marin A. C. took a third. Don Makela, former Novato distance standout, finished seventh.

TOURNAMENT LEFTOVERS—The Drake Tournament produced its share of oddities, and that's not including San Rafael's upset win over Lowell of San Francisco in the finals.

Gordon Glasgow, the Lowell forward who was the tournament's most valuable player last year, didn't even make the all-tournament team this season.

Drake's team brought a perfect 2-0 record into the tournament, the only team with an unblemished mark. The Pirates came out with a 2-3 record.

The Berkeley team which dealt Redwood only its second loss of the year at the Fresno Tournament is reputed to be the best ever at that school, which should be something else, since coach Skip Hensley's Yellow Jackets did have something of a powerhouse for two years running not too long ago, when Phil Chenier was there. Chenier is now playing with the University of California varsity.

Redwood's Bill Challender, the 6-7 junior center, may have come of age in Fresno.

Challender came up against 6-10 John Lambert of Berkeley and outscored him 19-17, proving that, when he wants to, Challender can hold his own.

Bill Secor of Tamalpais, scored 78 points over three games at the Healdsburg Tournament, just four points shy of the tournament scoring record.

NOVATO HIGH SCHOOL'S wrestling loss to John F. Kennedy of Fremont was something of a rarety, and not just by the score, which was a convincing 36-16 count.

"They destroyed us," Novato coach Ralph Cutler said. "They really did a job on us."

It was only the second loss in 52 matches for the Hornets, who had a 40-dual meet streak snapped by a one-point loss to Montgomery of Santa Rosa last year.

MARIN CATHOLIC won a soccer game Tuesday but lost a goalie. The Wildcats upset Tamalpais, 2-0, for only their second win of the season, but goalie Dave Lemont suffered a broken collarbone when he was kicked in the shoulder.

BROADHEADSVILLE, Pennsylvania, is alive and well, finally.

Pleasant Valley High School, from the town of the above name, hadn't won a basketball game in 88 tries, but all that's changed since the school downed Notre Dame of East Stroudsburg Tuesday, 63-40. No matter that Notre Dame has nothing to do with the Irish or that it doesn't have a senior class as yet. Broadheadsville would probably have taken a win over the local kennel club.

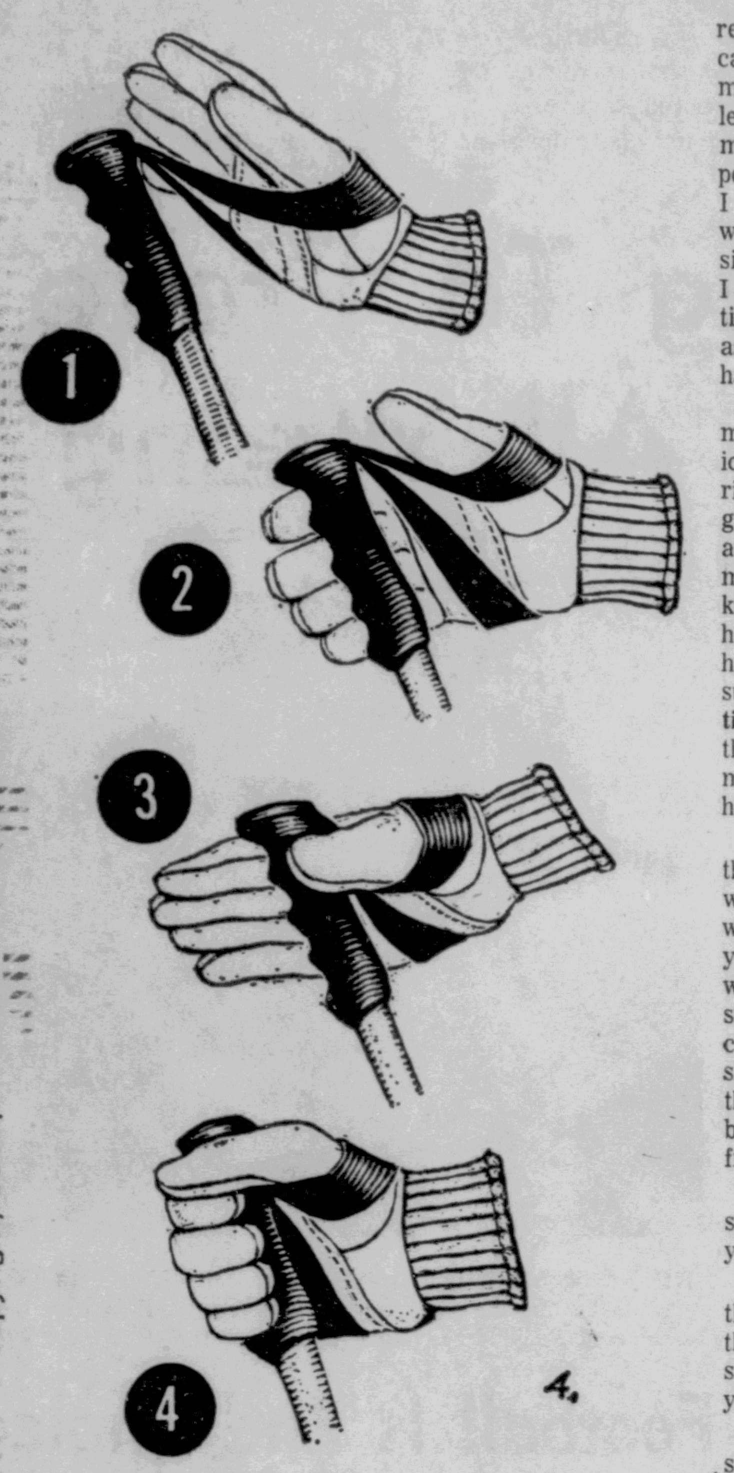
You Should Get Proper Grip On Those Ski Poles



Copyright, 1969, International Literary Management, Inc.

Very early in my racing career, I lost a race because I was careless about how I gripped my poles. I had allowed my leather straps to stretch so much that when the tip of my pole held to the snow more than I expected it to, the pole was wrenched free of my hand. Ever since then, you can believe that I make sure that the straps fit tightly — are short enough to fit as snugly to my hand as my hand fits my glove.

Many ski instructors have told me how important it is for novice skiers to hold their poles right. When they don't, the fingers have to squeeze the grip and this tenses up the arm and makes all movements stiff. I know that if an advanced skier hasn't a good grip on his poles, he won't be able to rely on their support during le moment critique — that critical moment that occurs every time you make a fast, sharp turn. Here's how you should grip your poles:

1. If the strap is leather, give the smooth side a half twist inwards so that the loop formed will rest smooth and flat around your glove. Some of the poles which now come with plastic straps have them pre-twisted to conform to your grip. Always slip your hand, including the thumb, through the loop made by the strap by passing it up from underneath.

2. Then pull back on the strap so it rests against the back of your hand.

3. Grasp the pole with your thumb on one side, fingers on the other. Both parts of the strap should now rest between your hand and the pole.

4. Now press down on the strap to take up any slack. The top of your hand with the glove on should now rest no more than one-half inch from the top of the ski pole. If more of the pole protrudes above the top of your hand, then the strap should be shortened.

Packers' Jim Grabowski Expects To Be Traded

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Running back Jim Grabowski, the Green Bay Packers' No. 1 choice in the National Football League's 1966 draft, has been relegated to the roll of a sub and he expects to be traded before next season.

But, though he claims he's tempted to make public statements complaining about it he won't.

Grabowski opened the season as a starter and had been a starter ever since the year after he signed for a reported $400,000.

Now he is a substitute and all he did in last Sunday's game was act as deep blocker on punts.

FOOTBALL

CLEMSON, S.C. — Cecil Wayne "Hootie" Ingram, an assistant on the University of Arkansas staff, was named the head coach at Clemson, succeeding Frank Howard.

PHILADELPHIA — George Makris, head coach at Temple University, resigned after 10 years of coaching the Owls.

AUTO RACING

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Richard Petty announced he was leaving the Ford stock car racing team to return to the Plymouth team.

GENERAL

DECATUR, Ala. — Richard Grammer, starting center on the University of Alabama football team drowned in the Tennessee River while on a hunting trip.

HIGHLAND PARK, N.J. — Harvey Harman, 69, executive director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and former coach at Rutgers, Penn, Sewanee and Haverford, died at his home after a long illness.

GOLF

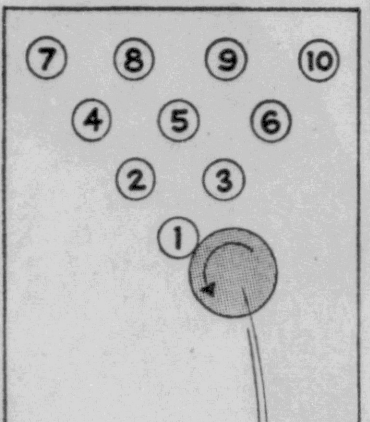
AUCKLAND, New Zealand — John Lister of New Zealand, held the lead in the New Zealand Golf Tournament with a second-round 71, and a 36-hole total of 138.

HORSE RACING

SAN MATEO — Juan Gonzalez rode five winners at Bay Meadows, including City Glitter, $16.80 in the feature.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



For a normal strike pattern, the ball must hit the 5-pin. That's why it's called the "king pin." The good hook "digs into" the 1-3 pocket. The ball is not excessively deflected and carries directly into the 5-pin. A straight ball or big curve will deflect.

Some Ski Resorts Closed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Several ski resorts in the Northern California mountains announce they'll be closed until the next storm brings nore snow, but a number of others are still operating.

Yesterday's report from the California State Automobile Association:

Yosemite: Badger Pass, closed till next snow.

Mount Shasta: Ski Bowl, snowing, 48 inches, daily from Saturday.

Highway 395: Mammoth Mountain, 21 inches, fair to good, rocks showing, daily.

MEET AT THE TROPHY—Bill Cargill of Tiburon and Ruth Hjeresen of Sausalito, two Marin members of the Swingers Ski Club, get together at the club's annual Christmas party. (Independent-Journal Photo)

YEAR-ROUND GROUP

A Ski Club For Swingers

By GARY TISCHLER

Santa Claus, in traditional basic red and flowing white, ambles in between people and tables, ho-hoing all the way.

"Where are you going, Santa?" somebody asks.

"Up to the bar," Santa roars, since nobody's nephew is around.

The scene is a rather spacious ballroom on the ninth floor of the Merchandise Mart on Market Street in San Francisco. Christmas presents, all home-made, or home-bought, that will later be raffled off with proceeds going to the U.S. Ski team, occupy one table up front by the microphone, along with a trophy for a future race. There are some 100 people present, most of them reasonably young, all single, all avid but not necessarily great skiers.

SKIT

Is that any way to run a ski club?

You bet it is, at least if it's close to Christmas, and it's the Swingers Only Ski Club, a slightly different sort of club for singles, which manages to get in some skiing in the winter.

This particular meeting (nobody wore skis) was the club's annual Christmas Party, and also a regular weekly meeting. If it was not typical, it's because it was Christmas, and the place was full of cheer and holiday music.

EXPECTED

The San Francisco club, which has its duplicate in the peninsula and is expected to have another offshoot in Marin County in the near future, is a growing, going thing that fits the need of people who are both single and like to ski and don't like to lose touch after the snow has disappeared.

It's only a couple of years old, but it is mushrooming. This particular chapter includes several Marinites and one half of one, Jan Ruth, the club's energetic booster, whose parents live in Sleepy Hollow.

Despite the name of the club, there are no people lounging around nibbling on grapes. They all seem like very pleasant and amiable people, who span certain age groups, a variety of white collar occupations and any number of nationalities. The lead role in the skits, which ambled along good naturedly for all of an hour, for instance is Igor Goulaevsky, the club's only Russian, and there are Swedes, like Ruth Hjeresen of Sausalito, Germans, Italians, and British lassies like newcomer Margaret Downs, who is attacking the slopes again this year despite breaking a leg last season, according to the club's mimeographed newspaper, the S.O. Skigram.

Other Marinites include Bill Cargill of Tiburon, Bonny Lynn Adami of Corte Madera, Dick Forster of Tiburon, Helen Liton of Sausalito, Mary Ann Gallardo of San Rafael and Dick Ferrero of Sausalito.

The club's main charm and advantage seems to be that it's an easy, attractive and reasonably inexpensive way ($20 in dues) for ski nuts or even beginners to get together and go together to the ski spas by way of charter and group rate set ups. And some of the trips are far flung, such as the planned outings to Jackson Hole, Wyo., Jan. 31-Feb. 8 and Whistler Mountain, B.C., Feb. 28-March 7. NFL Games Reduced To Pure Pantomime

Expansion is a wonderful thing. How else can you turn 17 regular-season football games into exhibition games?

They quit using real bullets in the NFL several weeks ago. The games you have just seen are pure pantomime and any resemblance to real ones, living or dead, is purely coincidental.

THE NFL has now played a total of 80 exhibition games — 63 of them pre-season, and the rest of them, so to speak, post-season.

They play 112 regular season games. Subtract the 17 charades, games played after the championships were decided, and you get 95 contests vs. 80 ballets.

In the AFL, the outcome was as foregone as a cowboy movie. At the fadeout, Joe Namath, as usual, got the girl, rounded up the rustlers, and ran the bad guys out of town. They've stacked that division with so many stiffs, Caltech is trying to get in. It's the Ivy League of the Professionals. For the Jets, it was 14 weeks of shadow-boxing. They have now lost nine games in two years, yet are the "world champions." The funny part of it is, they could have lost 12 games in two years and still made it.

FOR THE Rams, the Vikings, Browns and Cowboys, the last few weeks of the season are like fighting a war after armistice has been declared. The "tilt" sign went on the season as early as Thanksgiving.

IT IS well-established that a soldier's, or an army's, morale is better when on the attack. Any football coach or player knows you get more injuries when you're not trying. Once you stop hitting in the game and start punching, you listen for the bones to crack. Remove incentive, and it becomes like a card game with your wife or a golf game with the boss. You don't want to win, but you don't want anybody to know it. You keep up appearances. You play 14 games to eliminate three teams, and then only two games to eliminate three teams. It's as cockeyed as playing four days of sleepless poker, then the winners match high card for the whole table. It's like deciding a heavy-weight championship fight in the final two minutes of fighting, even though one guy is ahead 14 rounds to none.

BUT, THE nice part about it is, it's going to get worse. Expansion is like taking one peanut. Once you get a taste of it, you keep going.

Next year, all pro football comes under one blanket — security blanket. The first casualty will be the Jets. In a division which will include the Baltimore Colts (and the oncoming Boston Patriots), they may have to work up a sweat on the way to the title. They may have to bleed a little. The Cleveland Browns, on the other hand, just got a pass to the playoffs. Their division includes Houston, Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh, a lot of teams that wouldn't be two-point favorites over their tackling dummies.

THE NFL portion of the new football congomerate is no nearer alignment than the Balkans. That's because every team wants to get in a division that has lots of seats and sunlight and a scarcity of players. New Orleans is the darling of the stag line at this dance. Atlanta is admirable. Dallas is everybody's second-choice. But, the way things shape up, Minnesota may find itself in a division by itself. It is geographically, athletically, financially, and aesthetically undesirable, football's stepchild. Minnesota is too good, too cold, too inaccessible — and too far from the Ed Sullivan Show. It is like a southpaw in the ring game — nobody wants to fight it.

SO, WITH every major team trying to get in a division with teams that draft from Harvard, the prospect is that, any year now, all the divisional championships will have been decided by Columbus Day and, for the last 50 games, we may not only have Paper Lions, we may have a Paper League.

Brave Texas Football Star Walks Around On Crutches

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fred Steinmark, the starting safety for the national champion Texas Longhorns who had a cancerous leg amputated less than a week after the regular season ended, walked around on crutches last night.

A spokesman for M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston said Steinmark "has begun his rehabilitation." It was the first time Steinmark has been out of his hospital bed since his cancerous left leg was removed at the hip last Friday.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, one of Steinmark's regular visitors, watched his former junior defensive standout hobble about the fourth floor hospital corridor.

"The kid's amazing," Royal said.

Royal is one of only two persons outside the Steinmark family allowed to see the 20-year-old Steinmark. The other is Linda Wheeler, Steinmark's sweetheart from Wheatridge, Colo.

The hospital spokesman said it was not known how long the preliminary rehabilitation would take or at what pace doctors plan to exercise Steinmark.

Gridder Drowns

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) — Richard Grammer, starting center on the 1969 Alabama football team, accidentally drowned Wednesday while on a duck hunting trip on the Tennessee River. Grammer was a three letter man at Alabama.

Five Distance Runners Added To Indoor Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five more outstanding middle distance runners will compete Jan. 3 in the All-American Games indoor track and field meet at the Cow Palace, it was announced today.

The latest additions are Czechoslovakian star Jozef Plachy, veteran American runners Wade Bell and John Lilly and newcomers Pat Collins and Bill Wehrwein.

Plachy ran the 800 meters in 1:45.4 twice last season, fastest time in the world at that distance during the year. Bell has gone that distance in 1:45.1.

Lilly, with an outdoor half-mile best of 1:48.4, will join Plachy and Bell in the 1,000. Collins and Wehrwein will compete in the 600.

Tourney Time For Two Prep Cage Teams

Marin Catholic and San Marin high schools, two of the less succsssful basketball teams in the Marin County Athletic League, will take their chances in a pair of tournaments this weekend, while the rest of the prep teams will be going in single non-league games.

Marin Catholic opens tonight in the Cardinal Newman Rose City Tournament in Santa Rosa with a game against Eureka High School at 8 o'clock. If the Wildcats, who have won only one game this year, win this one, they may get a crack at meeting two early season foes, Cardinal Newman and St. Patrick's of Vallejo. The Wildcats lost to both.

San Marin, 2-3 on the season, will be competing in the four-team Sugar City Tournament at John Swett High School in Crockett tomorrow and Saturday. The Mustangs meet John Swett at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow while Benicia plays Lick Welmerding at 7 p.m.

Redwood High meets its alumni in Larkspur tomorrow at 7 p.m. and coach Dick Hart reports that any and all alumni, no matter when they were graduated, will be allowed to play for the alumni squad.

Salesian of Richmond is at Drake in a 3:30 afternoon game tomorrow while in night games at 8:15 tomorrow, Balboa of San Francisco visits Novato, Petaluma goes to Santa Rosa to meet Piner, Terra Linda is at Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park, San Rafael plays host to Vallejo and St. Vincent's of Petaluma is at Mendocino.

Celtics Streak Ended

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a typical Boston scoring streak—except that it was against the Celtics and not by them.

The Celtics were trailing Milwaukee 75-72 last night, when the Bucks outscored them 16-2 and went on to a 124-106 victory.

However, Boston stayed out of last place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division as Detroit lost to San Diego 114-107.

Baltimore outlasted Atlanta 138-133 and Seattle topped Cincinnati 117-104 in the other NBA games.

Lew Alcindor, Flynn Robinson and Jon McGlocklin sparked the Milwaukee streak that beat Boston with four points each. Alcindor finished with 29 points, Robinson 27 and McGlocklin 20. Henry Finkel scored 23 for the Celtics who had a three-game winning streak snapped.

San Diego kept Detroit in the Eastern Division cellar by sending the Pistons to their fourth straight loss as Jim Barnett scored seven of the Rockets' nine points in the last 2½ minutes. Barnett scored 21 points and Bernie Williams added 19 for San Diego. Jimmy Walker topped Detroit with 21.

Baltimore, second in the East, jumped to a 39-25 lead after one quarter by hitting 16 of 24 field goal attempts and Western Division-leading Atlanta could not get the lead although the Hawks tied the game six times in the last half.

Jack Marin scored 32 points and Gus Johnson set up many baskets and led the assault on the boards for Baltimore. Lou Hudson fired in 44 points for Atlanta.

Rookie Lucius Allen scored a career high of 23 points, 10 in the third period, as Seattle overcame a 17-point deficit in defeating Cincinnati. Oscar Robertson led the Royals with 28 points.

NFL Games Reduced To Pure Pantomime

Expansion is a wonderful thing. How else can you turn 17 regular-season football games into exhibition games?

They quit using real bullets in the NFL several weeks ago. The games you have just seen are pure pantomime and any resemblance to real ones, living or dead, is purely coincidental.

THE NFL has now played a total of 80 exhibition games — 63 of them pre-season, and the rest of them, so to speak, post-season.

They play 112 regular season games. Subtract the 17 charades, games played after the championships were decided, and you get 95 contests vs. 80 ballets.

In the AFL, the outcome was as foregone as a cowboy movie. At the fadeout, Joe Namath, as usual, got the girl, rounded up the rustlers, and ran the bad guys out of town. They've stacked that division with so many stiffs, Caltech is trying to get in. It's the Ivy League of the Professionals. For the Jets, it was 14 weeks of shadow-boxing. They have now lost nine games in two years, yet are the "world champions." The funny part of it is, they could have lost 12 games in two years and still made it.

FOR THE Rams, the Vikings, Browns and Cowboys, the last few weeks of the season are like fighting a war after armistice has been declared. The "tilt" sign went on the season as early as Thanksgiving.

IT IS well-established that a soldier's, or an army's, morale is better when on the attack. Any football coach or player knows you get more injuries when you're not trying. Once you stop hitting in the game and start punching, you listen for the bones to crack. Remove incentive, and it becomes like a card game with your wife or a golf game with the boss. You don't want to win, but you don't want anybody to know it. You keep up appearances. You play 14 games to eliminate three teams, and then only two games to eliminate three teams. It's as cockeyed as playing four days of sleepless poker, then the winners match high card for the whole table. It's like deciding a heavy-weight championship fight in the final two minutes of fighting, even though one guy is ahead 14 rounds to none.

BUT, THE nice part about it is, it's going to get worse. Expansion is like taking one peanut. Once you get a taste of it, you keep going.

Next year, all pro football comes under one blanket — security blanket. The first casualty will be the Jets. In a division which will include the Baltimore Colts (and the oncoming Boston Patriots), they may have to work up a sweat on the way to the title. They may have to bleed a little. The Cleveland Browns, on the other hand, just got a pass to the playoffs. Their division includes Houston, Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh, a lot of teams that wouldn't be two-point favorites over their tackling dummies.

THE NFL portion of the new football congomerate is no nearer alignment than the Balkans. That's because every team wants to get in a division that has lots of seats and sunlight and a scarcity of players. New Orleans is the darling of the stag line at this dance. Atlanta is admirable. Dallas is everybody's second-choice. But, the way things shape up, Minnesota may find itself in a division by itself. It is geographically, athletically, financially, and aesthetically undesirable, football's stepchild. Minnesota is too good, too cold, too inaccessible — and too far from the Ed Sullivan Show. It is like a southpaw in the ring game — nobody wants to fight it.

SO, WITH every major team trying to get in a division with teams that draft from Harvard, the prospect is that, any year now, all the divisional championships will have been decided by Columbus Day and, for the last 50 games, we may not only have Paper Lions, we may have a Paper League.

Brave Texas Football Star Walks Around On Crutches

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fred Steinmark, the starting safety for the national champion Texas Longhorns who had a cancerous leg amputated less than a week after the regular season ended, walked around on crutches last night.

A spokesman for M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston said Steinmark "has begun his rehabilitation." It was the first time Steinmark has been out of his hospital bed since his cancerous left leg was removed at the hip last Friday.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, one of Steinmark's regular visitors, watched his former junior defensive standout hobble about the fourth floor hospital corridor.

"The kid's amazing," Royal said.

Royal is one of only two persons outside the Steinmark family allowed to see the 20-year-old Steinmark. The other is Linda Wheeler, Steinmark's sweetheart from Wheatridge, Colo.

The hospital spokesman said it was not known how long the preliminary rehabilitation would take or at what pace doctors plan to exercise Steinmark.

Gridder Drowns

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) — Richard Grammer, starting center on the 1969 Alabama football team, accidentally drowned Wednesday while on a duck hunting trip on the Tennessee River. Grammer was a three letter man at Alabama.

Five Distance Runners Added To Indoor Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five more outstanding middle distance runners will compete Jan. 3 in the All-American Games indoor track and field meet at the Cow Palace, it was announced today.

The latest additions are Czechoslovakian star Jozef Plachy, veteran American runners Wade Bell and John Lilly and newcomers Pat Collins and Bill Wehrwein.

Plachy ran the 800 meters in 1:45.4 twice last season, fastest time in the world at that distance during the year. Bell has gone that distance in 1:45.1.

Lilly, with an outdoor half-mile best of 1:48.4, will join Plachy and Bell in the 1,000. Collins and Wehrwein will compete in the 600.

Tourney Time For Two Prep Cage Teams

Marin Catholic and San Marin high schools, two of the less succsssful basketball teams in the Marin County Athletic League, will take their chances in a pair of tournaments this weekend, while the rest of the prep teams will be going in single non-league games.

Marin Catholic opens tonight in the Cardinal Newman Rose City Tournament in Santa Rosa with a game against Eureka High School at 8 o'clock. If the Wildcats, who have won only one game this year, win this one, they may get a crack at meeting two early season foes, Cardinal Newman and St. Patrick's of Vallejo. The Wildcats lost to both.

San Marin, 2-3 on the season, will be competing in the four-team Sugar City Tournament at John Swett High School in Crockett tomorrow and Saturday. The Mustangs meet John Swett at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow while Benicia plays Lick Wilmerding at 7 p.m.

Redwood High meets its alumni in Larkspur tomorrow at 7 p.m. and coach Dick Hart reports that any and all alumni, no matter when they were graduated, will be allowed to play for the alumni squad.

Salesian of Richmond is at Drake in a 3:30 afternoon game tomorrow while in night games at 8:15 tomorrow, Balboa of San Francisco visits Novato, Petaluma goes to Santa Rosa to meet Piner, Terra Linda is at Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park, San Rafael plays host to Vallejo and St. Vincent's of Petaluma is at Mendocino.

BIG DECISION

West leads the queen of spades, and South must make his big decision at the first trick. If South doesn't take the king, he may never win a spade trick.

Let's see what happens if South does take the king of spades at the first trick. South must get three diamond tricks to make his contract, and he will land on his feet if he can guess which opponent has the queen of diamonds. South can therefore afford to take the first spade trick if he is the sort of genius who never misguesses the location of a queen.

If South has been known to misguess a queen he can make sure of his contract by refusing the first spade trick. He may never win a spade trick, but his contract is still safe.

LEADS HEART

Assume that West shifts to a heart at the second trick. Declarer wins in dummy and leads the jack of diamonds for a finesse through East. If this finesse happened to lose, West would be unable to do any damage since South still has his spade stopper.

Since the diamond finesse happens to win, declarer continues with the ten of diamonds for another finesse. South gets five diamonds and makes his game very easily.

CONTINUES SPADES

If West continues the spades at the second trick, South takes the diamond finesse through West. The finesse loses to East's queen, but East is out of spades, thanks to the holdup at the first trick. South can win any return and make game with four diamonds, one spade, three hearts and two clubs.

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. You have the high-card requirements for a jump to two notrump, but there is no advantage in suppressing the fine diamond suit. If you partner has a good hand, you might be able to make a slam in diamonds. If partner shows no dramatic interest in diamonds, you can try notrump next.

India Buys Rice

NEW DELHI (AP) — India has signed agreements to buy 100,000 tons of rice from Thailand this year according to a joint commuinque from the two nations.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 18, the 352nd day of 1969 with 13 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1787, New Jersey ratified the proposed Constitution of the United States.

In 1865, the 13th Amendment to the Constitution which abolished slavery in the United States, became law.

In 1915, President Woodrow Wilson, then a widower for more than a year, married Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, widow of a Washington jeweler.

In 1965, Gemini 7 returned to earth after 14 days in orbit where it completed the first manned space rendezvous with Gemini 6.

A thought for the day: American novelist Gertrude Franklin Atherton wrote, "No matter how hard a man may labor, some woman is always in the background of his mind. She is the one reward of virtue."

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Hobby, Gift Boutique Opens Its Doors On Miracle Mile

A new shop opened in San Anselmo is the Gemini Hobby and Gift Boutique, located at 412 Red Hill Avenue on the Miracle Mile.

This is in the Essex Building, where sisters Mrs. Verde Suerte and Mrs. June Grime of San Rafael have taken Suite 2 on the lower floor. They sell hobbycraft goods and gifts, party centerpieces, fill special orders and do Christmas packaging. Mrs. Suerte previously has a similar store in Sacramento. This is a first venture for Mrs. Grime.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays during the Christmas shopping season. Regular store hours after that will be from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Closed on Sundays.

RETURNING TO SAN RAFAEL in a removal of its headquarters from San Francisco is Education Technology, Inc., to be located at 28 Ritter Avenue (off Lincoln Avenue at Second Street).

This company is engaged in designing and building motorized and mobile classrooms and also manufactures and installs electronic equipment for use in teaching languages. It is headed by Mrs. Babette Wurtz of Kentfield as president. Vice president Gordon Brattland lives in Carmichael and Arthur Smith, sales coordinator, is another Kentfield resident.

Education Technology has leased 2,000 square feet on Ritter Avenue through Coldwell, Banker and Co. and is expected to take occupancy right after the first of the year. The company was previously located in San Rafael before moving to San Francisco three years ago.

THE NEW MAYFAIR MARKET nearing completion at Fourth and H Streets, San Rafael is now scheduled to have its opening during the first or second week in January.

BUILDER John Ribeiro has started another combination office and warehouse building of 15,000 square feet on Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park. Completion is expected about the middle of February. Leasing is being handled by William W. Hoey and Co.

THE BOURBON SHOPS are now open until 10 p.m. during the week and until midnight on Fridays and Saturdays. They are open every day of the year including Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but close at 6 p.m. on these holidays.

In Marin, stores are located in Marinwood, Northgate Shopping Center, at 36 Medway Road and in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael and on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

LEN GROSS of Kentfield, chairman of the board of the San Francisco and Los Angeles advertising agency, Gross, Pera and Rockey, has received a certificate of appreciation from the 12th Coast Guard District for outstanding publicity work. He seves as district staff officer for public relations for the districts' Coast Guard Auxiliary and has been associated with this group for almost two years.

INSURANCE: Max Martin, Kenneth Proctor, Willis Elliott, Stuart Burt, Ivor Davies and Leonard Peck represented the Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association at the recent meeting of California Insurance Agents Association directors . . . The Marin Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. has recognized Herbert Kristal, Mrs. Beatrice Mead, Elmer Papineau, Clifford Lerud, Steen Schellenberg, Robert Lampert, Marvin Pearl, Charles Amodeo, Arthur Brody, Al Miller, James McNeil, Alan Birch, Donald Sands, Edward Mitchell, Albert E. Hand, Alder Henrie, Nicholas Dollwet, Robert Nelson, David R. St. Johnson and Mrs. Louise Lamb for their years of service in the organization.

NEW BOARD MEMBER — William M. Roth of Ross has been appointed a director of Crocker-Citizens National Bank and its parent company, Crocker National Corp. He was appointed to the board in 1963 but resigned to accept a presidential appointment as deputy special representative for trade negotiations with the rank of ambassador. As successor to the late Christian Herter he represented the United States in the conclusion of the Kennedy Round of Tariff negotiations.

Wall Street Bounds At Burns Views

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market today chalked up its best gain in months in response to comment from incoming Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns that he hopes the Fed will soon reconsider its tight credit policy. Trading was brisk.

Burn's statement to the Senate Banking Committee, which unanimously approved his nomination to the post, was construed as a sign there soon may be some relaxation of the squeeze on money, a major factor in the market's deep slide during 1969.

The UPI market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a gain of 1.02 per cent.

Of the 1,625 issues traded, 982 advanced and 409 retreated. Turnover exceeded 15,000,000 shares, well ahead of yesterday's pace.

Electronics sported impressive gains in a number of instances, while oils also followed a firmer pattern. IBM was one of the strongest features in the electronics, closing up 8¾ at 360¼.

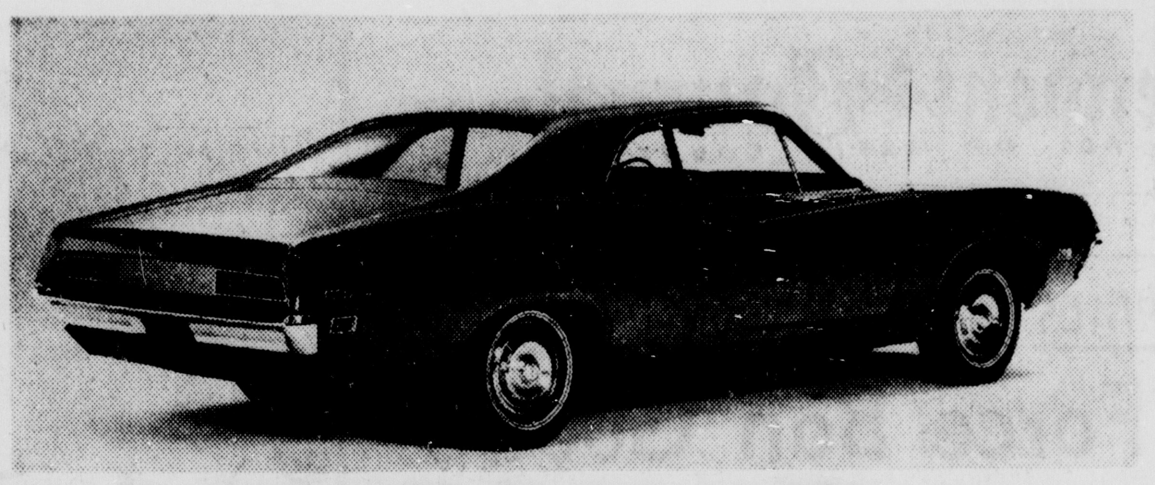
Chemicals, rails, airlines and aircrafts also pointed higher in many cases.

Among the most active issues were Atlantic Richfield, Reynolds Tobacco, and American Telephone. AT&T, closing up 3-4 at 49 1-4, reported new highs in revenues for the three months and 12 months ended Nov. 30.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading.

Purchases Chain

CHICAGO (UPI) — Household Finance Co. has bought Von's Grocery Co., operator of 87 food stores on the West Coast, for more than two million shares of preferred stock.



NEW LOOK OF THE FALCON

Ford's economy car will come in a new size and style in the 1970 models to be introduced in January. It will be offered in three models using the Ford intermediate body—a two-door sedan, four-door sedan and four-door station wagon. Sedans will have six inches longer wheelbases; the station wagon adds one inch. Cars will be sold in Marin at L. J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato; Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael; and J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera.

Mobile Home Plan

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Tiffany Industries, Inc. says it will build a $25 million community of mobile homes on 150 acres it will purchase in Dallas. The firm says it may buy another 150 acres. The 300-acre development would accommodate about 1,600 mobile furnished homes, ranging in price from $6,000 to $12,000.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Sears Enters Field Of Mutual Funds

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Sears has recently entered the mutual fund field. Will this increase their earnings substantially? — E.S.

A. Shares of Allstate Enterprises Stock Fund will be available to the public at $10 after January 1. Until March 31 there will be no sales fee on purchases. After the latter date the shares will be sold through Sears Allstate Insurance agents and its outlets at a 7 per cent load charge. The initial 7.5 million share offering will certainly not have any noticeable effect on earnings. However successful retailing of additional shares (50 million are authorized under the registration statement) and other funds that may be set up could eventually contribute significantly.

A master merchandiser, Sears should have no difficulty in selling its fund. Its insurance subsidiary, set up after World War II, earned $89 million in 1968. Its growth is directly attributed to a highly effective advertising pitch. With approximately 154 million shares now outstanding, contributions from the new venture will have to be sizable in order to filter down to the per share level.

Q. My husband and I have our own investment club. We take turns buying semiannually. For the next three years prior to retirement we will be able to double our investments. A list of our 17 holdings follows. Do these fit our needs of safety, income and growth in that order? Which could we add to? — C.W.

A. You and your husband have done an excellent job in building a portfolio of high-quality issues. Although you have a fairly large number of companies to follow, you both apparently enjoy this aspect of investing. Your purchases made periodically since 1960 have gained an average of 103 per cent, a better record than some professionals. Large gains in Coca-Cola and Kresge more than offset five small losses.

New money can be used to increase holdings in American Home Products, Duquesne Light, General Electric, General Motors, Nat'l. Distillers, Sears, Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. At retirement if greater income is needed some pruning can be done in your lower yield issues.

Gas Utility Industry Has A Good 1969

NEW YORK (UPI) — The gas utility and pipeline industry chalked up record sales and earnings in 1969, according to figures released by the American Gas Association.

The association reported revenues reached $9.4 billion, an increase of 7.5 per cent over the $8.8 billion earned in 1968. Sales also were up 7.5 per cent to a record 155.6 billion therms.

By year end the industry's customer total reached 41.5 million, most of whom were residential users. The association said by 1980 more than 50 million Americans will be using natural gas.

About 32,000 miles of new underground pipeline was added, the association said, bringing the total to 893,000 miles of pipeline. The industry spent $3 billion on new construction during the year raising total plant investment to about $38 billion.

The association noted, however, a 40 per cent drop in exploratory well drilling since 1956 with "activity markedly down the past two years."

Saturn Airways Buys Three Lockheed Craft

OAKLAND (BW) — Purchase of three Lockheed L100-30 turbo-prop cargo aircraft by Saturn Airways has been announced by Howard J. Korth, chairman of the board and president of the U.S. supplemental air carrier.

According to Korth, the three all-cargo aircraft are scheduled for delivery in mid-1970. The purchase price for the three aircraft and related spare parts amounted to $13 million.

Some Realtors Make a Life's Work Out of Knowing the Investment Market.

—Do You?

Have you this special training? If not, it makes sense to enlist such expertise — to put it to work for you — when you want to buy or sell investment property.

Your Investment Realtor, through study and experience, has the knowledge of financing, law, escrow, accounting, and other disciplines necessary to evaluate an investment, and to create and execute a development plan.

He knows property — knows what is for sale and all essential details about it — knows taxation, legislation, land use, planning demand, and other factors affecting property — knows up-to-the-minute market values.

And, he knows people — those who want to buy, those who want to sell.

This kind of specialized knowledge and ability takes time to acquire. All of it is at your disposal through your Realtor.

Why not call or write him today?

Hobby, Gift Boutique Opens Its Doors On Miracle Mile

A new shop opened in San Anselmo is the Gemini Hobby and Gift Boutique, located at 412 Red Hill Avenue on the Miracle Mile.

This is in the Essex Building, where sisters Mrs. Verde Suerte and Mrs. June Grime of San Rafael have taken Suite 2 on the lower floor. They sell hobbycraft goods and gifts, party centerpieces, fill special orders and do Christmas packaging. Mrs. Suerte previously has a similar store in Sacramento. This is a first venture for Mrs. Grime.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays during the Christmas shopping season. Regular store hours after that will be from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Closed on Sundays.

RETURNING TO SAN RAFAEL in a removal of its headquarters from San Francisco is Education Technology, Inc., to be located at 28 Ritter Avenue (off Lincoln Avenue at Second Street).

This company is engaged in designing and building motorized and mobile classrooms and also manufactures and installs electronic equipment for use in teaching languages. It is headed by Mrs. Babette Wurtz of Kentfield as president. Vice president Gordon Brattland lives in Carmichael and Arthur Smith, sales coordinator, is another Kentfield resident.

Education Technology has leased 2,000 square feet on Ritter Avenue through Coldwell, Banker and Co. and is expected to take occupancy right after the first of the year. The company was previously located in San Rafael before moving to San Francisco three years ago.

THE NEW MAYFAIR MARKET nearing completion at Fourth and H Streets, San Rafael is now scheduled to have its opening during the first or second week in January.

BUILDER John Ribeiro has started another combination office and warehouse building of 15,000 square feet on Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park. Completion is expected about the middle of February. Leasing is being handled by William W. Hoey and Co.

THE BOURBON SHOPS are now open until 10 p.m. during the week and until midnight on Fridays and Saturdays. They are open every day of the year including Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but close at 6 p.m. on these holidays.

In Marin, stores are located in Marinwood, Northgate Shopping Center, at 36 Medway Road and in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael and on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

LEN GROSS of Kentfield, chairman of the board of the San Francisco and Los Angeles advertising agency, Gross, Pera and Rockey, has received a certificate of appreciation from the 12th Coast Guard District for outstanding publicity work. He seves as district staff officer for public relations for the districts' Coast Guard Auxiliary and has been associated with this group for almost two years.

INSURANCE: Max Martin, Kenneth Proctor, Willis Elliott, Stuart Burt, Ivor Davies and Leonard Peck represented the Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association at the recent meeting of California Insurance Agents Association directors . . . The Marin Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. has recognized Herbert Kristal, Mrs. Beatrice Mead, Elmer Papineau, Clifford Lerud, Steen Schellenberg, Robert Lampert, Marvin Pearl, Charles Amodeo, Arthur Brody, Al Miller, James McNeil, Alan Birch, Donald Sands, Edward Mitchell, Albert E. Hand, Alder Henrie, Nicholas Dollwet, Robert Nelson, David R. St. Johnson and Mrs. Louise Lamb for their years of service in the organization.

NEW BOARD MEMBER — William M. Roth of Ross has been appointed a director of Crocker-Citizens National Bank and its parent company, Crocker National Corp. He was appointed to the board in 1963 but resigned to accept a presidential appointment as deputy special representative for trade negotiations with the rank of ambassador. As successor to the late Christian Herter he represented the United States in the conclusion of the Kennedy Round of Tariff negotiations.

Wall Street Bounds At Burns Views

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market today chalked up its best gain in months in response to comment from incoming Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns that he hopes the Fed will soon reconsider its tight credit policy. Trading was brisk.

Burn's statement to the Senate Banking Committee, which unanimously approved his nomination to the post, was construed as a sign there soon may be some relaxation of the squeeze on money, a major factor in the market's deep slide during 1969.

The UPI market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a gain of 1.02 per cent.

Of the 1,625 issues traded, 982 advanced and 409 retreated. Turnover exceeded 15,000,000 shares, well ahead of yesterday's pace.

Electronics sported impressive gains in a number of instances, while oils also followed a firmer pattern. IBM was one of the strongest features in the electronics, closing up 8¾ at 360¼.

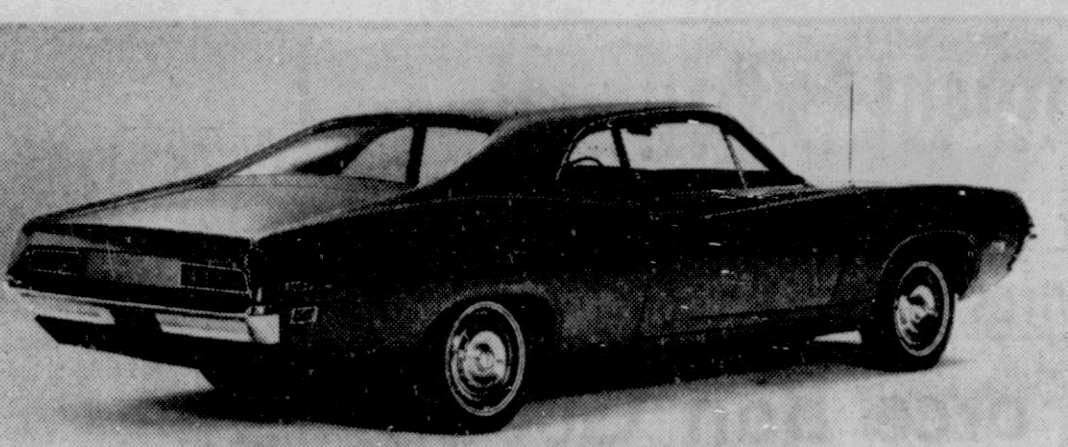
Chemicals, rails, airlines and aircrafts also pointed higher in many cases.

Among the most active issues were Atlantic Richfield, Reynolds Tobacco, and American Telephone. AT&T, closing up 3-4 at 49 1-4, reported new highs in revenues for the three months and 12 months ended Nov. 30.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading.

Purchases Chain

CHICAGO (UPI) — Household Finance Co. has bought Von's Grocery Co., operator of 87 food stores on the West Coast, for more than two million shares of preferred stock.



NEW LOOK OF THE FALCON

Ford's economy car will come in a new size and style in the 1970 models to be introduced in January. It will be offered in three models using the Ford intermediate body—a two-door sedan, four-door sedan and four-door station wagon. Sedans will have six inches longer wheelbases; the station wagon adds one inch. Cars will be sold in Marin at L. J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato; Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael; and J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Sears Enters Field Of Mutual Funds

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Sears has recently entered the mutual fund field. Will this increase their earnings substantially? — E.S.

A. Shares of Allstate Enterprises Stock Fund will be available to the public at $10 after January 1. Until March 31 there will be no sales fee on purchases. After the latter date the shares will be sold through Sears Allstate Insurance agents and its outlets at a 7 per cent load charge. The initial 7.5 million share offering will certainly not have any noticeable effect on earnings. However successful retailing of additional shares (50 million are authorized under the registration statement) and other funds that may be set up could eventually contribute significantly.

A master merchandiser, Sears should have no difficulty in selling its fund. Its insurance subsidiary, set up after World War II, earned $89 million in 1968. Its growth is directly attributed to a highly effective advertising pitch. With approximately 154 million shares now outstanding, contributions from the new venture will have to be sizable in order to filter down to the per share level.

Q. My husband and I have our own investment club. We take turns buying semiannually. For the next three years prior to retirement we will be able to double our investments. A list of our 17 holdings follows. Do these fit our needs of safety, income and growth in that order? Which could we add to? — C.W.

A. You and your husband have done an excellent job in building a portfolio of high-quality issues. Although you have a fairly large number of companies to follow, you both apparently enjoy this aspect of investing. Your purchases made periodically since 1960 have gained an average of 103 per cent, a better record than some professionals. Large gains in Coca-Cola and Kresge more than offset five small losses.

New money can be used to increase holdings in American Home Products, Duquesne Light, General Electric, General Motors, Nat'l. Distillers, Sears, Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. At retirement if greater income is needed some pruning can be done in your lower yield issues.

Gas Utility Industry Has A Good 1969

NEW YORK (UPI) — The gas utility and pipeline industry chalked up record sales and earnings in 1969, according to figures released by the American Gas Association.

The association reported revenues reached $9.4 billion, an increase of 7.5 per cent over the $8.8 billion earned in 1968. Sales also were up 7.5 per cent to a record 155.6 billion therms.

By year end the industry's customer total reached 41.5 million, most of whom were residential users. The association said by 1980 more than 50 million Americans will be using natural gas.

About 32,000 miles of new underground pipeline was added, the association said, bringing the total to 893,000 miles of pipeline. The industry spent $3 billion on new construction during the year raising total plant investment to about $38 billion.

The association noted, however, a 40 per cent drop in exploratory well drilling since 1956 with "activity markedly down the past two years."

Some Realtors Make a Life's Work Out of Knowing the Investment Market.

—Do You?

Have you this special training? If not, it makes sense to enlist such expertise — to put it to work for you — when you want to buy or sell investment property.

Your Investment Realtor, through study and experience, has the knowledge of financing, law, escrow, accounting, and other disciplines necessary to evaluate an investment, and to create and execute a development plan.

He knows property — knows what is for sale and all essential details about it — knows taxation, legislation, land use, planning demand, and other factors affecting property — knows up-to-the-minute market values.

And, he knows people — those who want to buy, those who want to sell.

This kind of specialized knowledge and ability takes time to acquire. All of it is at your disposal through your Realtor.

Why not call or write him today?

Ground Force Ban Good —As Far As It Goes

The United States Senate is to be congratulated for its vote forbidding the use of United States ground forces in Thailand and Laos.

This does not go far enough toward extricating the United States from the mess in Southeast Asia. It is much like applying the brakes to a vehicle that is already skidding downhill and out of control. But at least, it applies the brakes.

THE SENATE, we think, should follow this up with restrictions on what use — if any — may be made of U.S. arms in Vietnam after President Nixon makes good his promise to withdraw "all combat ground forces."

Our presidents, our senators, and our people seem to have great difficulty learning from experience.

Secy. of Defense Melvin R. Laird has told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in secret testimony made public last week, that the United States plans to keep somewhere under 50,000 troops in Vietnam as a training force.

Maybe, he said, if Hanoi agrees on mutual troop withdrawal, these also could be removed.

IT WOULD SEEM that almost anybody would realize by now that we got involved in Vietnam through sending a few thousand "advisers." When the South Vietnamese government and its army were in a bad way, we increased the number of "advisers." Then the fiction that they were merely advisers was dropped. We were in a war — never declared by Congress.

Leaving a "training force" there merely asks for the same thing to happen over again. It leaves us involved as an armed partisan of the government of South Vietnam. It leaves us in the role of refusing to allow the Vietnamese to settle their own family quarrel.

AND ONCE we agree to such a force, even if things quiet down, we are almost forced to leave it indefinitely.

Korea provides the example of this. When the Korean cease-fire was agreed, the United States left troops to guard the cease-fire line. That was over 15 years ago. We still have some 50,000 soldiers in Korea, guarding that line.

The line between North and South Vietnam has less reason for remaining indefinitely than does that which divides Korea. It was drawn in the first place merely as a temporary dividing line until elections could be held to unite all of Vietnam under one government. The elections have never been held. Because of what has happened, they probably never will be.

WE HAVE Air Force units in Laos and Thailand. Ostensibly they are there as part of the Vietnam involvement, to protect the so-called Ho Chi Minh Trail. But they also fly support missions regularly for defense forces of the Laos and Thailand governments, fighting their own guerrilla wars against insurgents. For the Senate to go into secret session on the premise this was "classified matter" was rather silly. It has been widely publicized.

It would seem that some day our leaders would realize that if we do not want to get involved in another country's wars, we should keep our armed forces out of that country.

They don't seem to have learned this yet. But at least the Senate has shown some recognition of the facts by banning U.S. ground troops in Laos and Thailand.

Holly—Oldest Tradition

Decking the halls with boughs of holly is one of our oldest holiday traditions — much older than the advent of Christ. Ancient peoples in different parts of the world believed holly brought good luck and protected against various kinds of evil.

Certainly, its red berries and sharp-pointed, unusual shaped leaves are extremely attractive, apart from any alleged magic properties. Native to both the Old and New Worlds, holly grows very well in Marin, though subject to smut.

The American Indians saw holly as a symbol of strength and courage. Some tribes made their tomahawk handles from holly wood. Others drank tea made from the leaves and berries.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Taxing Publicly Owned Utility Would Help Restore Equity

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Opinions differ as to whether public utilities should have to pay the same kind of taxes as private utilities, and on the "all pay" side is Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley had such a bill before the legislature during the 1969 session but the measure was not given the time of day by the state's lawmakers.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, sound state policy would appear to preclude the taxing of a business which is run by the government. Of course, the policy assumes the government has every perogative to be in business in the first place in competition with private enterprise, a question that also is highly debateable.

On the other hand, it would appear to be sounder state policy to provide that government business which is in competition with private business should be subject to the same costs and obligations which affect private business, as a matter of equity.

Now that municipalities, counties and other forms of local government have discovered they can, with impunity, levy taxes on utility bills, it appears ridiculous that in some parts of the state people pay a double tax on utilities, one for the private utility and the other a direct tax by local government on the same commodity.

THE RESULT is that with the constantly increasing inflation, it will not be long before the private utilities will be asking for increases in rates to cover the soaring costs of operation.

One reason the private utilities will make such a request is the increase in taxes that local governments are placing on virtually all property throughout the state.

It is almost a foregone conclusion that the private utilities will be granted some rate increases. And the money can come from only one place, which is the consumer.

Therefore, when Assemblyman Bagley introduces his measure to tax publically owned utilities on the same basis as those which are privately owned utilities on the same basis as those which are privately owned, the legislature should gibe the proposal more than ordinary consideration, just to even things up.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Greece And Rome Are In Courthouse

Must the courthouse really go? Greece is there and Rome. Its historic beauty adds dignity not only to San Rafael but to the county. The seven league boots of science that cry run, run or you will never make it can lead us to extremism. Much of the beauty and repose of the present lies in the past.

If the fast buck and the automobile have truly won the enchantment from our inner hearts, then farewell.

Paper Collections Helpful If . . .

The I-J has shows an awareness of the mounting chorus from the scientific community that we are using up our national resources, and this letter is a plea for you to use your influence on one small facet of this crisis.

The waste of paper — which means trees — is a national phenomenon. The I-J could help a little on this if you would run a daily box telling where paper drives are being carried on in various parts of the county. Lots of us save old newspapers, but we often can't find a place to turn them in and have to consign them to the garbage man in the end . . .

You could get a perfect example of the do's and don'ts of paper collecting from one that is being carried on now in San Anselmo. Last week I took my current stacks of neatly tied bundles to a collection point in front of Drake High School, operated by a student group that is trying to raise money for some good cause or other. The good thing about it is that you can take the papers there any time; also, the collection point is on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and readily visible to all the thousands of motorists who pass by. The bad points, however, are ferocious. There is a small trailer, but you are supposed to leave the papers in a wire enclosure which, apparently, is seldom visited by the student sponsors. The litter is dreadful — the place looks like the New York garbage strike . . .

A 'Plus' For Marin Seldom Mentioned

The sight of Tamalpais' sleeping maiden. The perfect climate. The fog-shrouded towers of the bridge. The lovely old homes of Ross and San Rafael and San Anselmo. The near-perfect climate. The "good" commute. The high standing of the schools. Sausalito. Muir Woods. The Scotch taste of Inverness. The space between the houses. The nearby everything — shore, wine country, mountains.

These are the things people talk about when they talk about the pleasures of living in Marin.

No one ever mentions a pleasure that is peculiarly Marin, and may be more important than all the others.

It's the sudden proprietary pride that pushes up inside of you when you come to San Rafael and see the blind people — young and old — learning to live with their Guide Dogs.

Doing good — even vicariously — is a nice feeling. Most of us in Marin, even without realizing it, get a thrill from the walking reminders that our county is involved in making all these visiting lives worthwhile again.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Dec. 18, 1959

Philip Gray of Tamalpais Valley, Carol Scott of San Francisco, and Burrass Smith of Corte Madera were missing aboard a chartered PBY flying boat on a trip from Fairbanks, Alaska, to San Francisco.

Kenneth Anderson, recreation consultant, recommended that San Rafael acquire six to eight acres adjoining Terra Linda High School for a city park.

20 YEARS AGO

Dec. 18, 1949

The restored Mission San Rafael Arcangel was dedicated by Archbishop John J. Mitty.

Bodies of three Hamilton Field airmen were found in the wreckage of a training plane which crashed in the Sierra Nevada.

Photos, Editorials, Story Point Moral

In Dec. 9's paper the article on Mrs. (Renee) Romack juxtaposed to the photos of 1920 and present-day Sausalito made me realize that all us too have been blind to have allowed that much of Richardson Bay to have been filled.

Mrs. Romack says, "It's all so beautiful and free. It's sad to think that people pass it all by and don't see at all," which is oh so true as thousands of people ride each day through Marin seeing their environment deteriorating and are blind to it. This too is pollution: a basic disregard for the esthetics of morality, for we all have a sense of right and wrong sadly dictated in our culture by avarice.

Too I think your editorial on the rock-concert-be-in failed to delineate the "strange commentary on our culture" for you used the violence and litter which is predominant in our whole culture to condemn something that is a growing part of our society that is indicative of a desperate need for people to get together, for the gap between those 300,000 and the "silent majority" must be resolved before all of our minds are as polluted as our countryside.

Moral: It is hard to see blindness.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Mrs. Levin sought her hostess to inquire, "What's become of that pretty little blonde waitress who was passing the cocktails?" "I'm sorry," apologized the hostess. "Were you looking for a drink?" "No," said Mrs. Levin grimly. "I was looking for my husband."

John McCarroll tells an improbable story about a Phoenix, Ariz., friend's adventure with a rattlesnake. The friend, it seems, keeps a pet rattler in his bedroom to protect the valuables he has stashed away there. Recently an unwary burglar climbed through a back window and headed for the bureau where the valuables were kept. The rattlesnake coiled and struck, on target all the way, sank his fangs into the burglar's back, wrapped himself around a bedpost to hold the intruder, and stuck his tail out the window and rattled for the police.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Import Quotas Give Another Upward Shove To Rising Prices

WASHINGTON — With the surge of Christmas shopping, nobody is looking, but if certain powerful lobbies have their way the cost of basic items in the householder's budget will take a sharp jump in the new year. The prospect is for more rather than less inflation as the sprial of rising prices becomes a political issue hardly second to the Vietnam war.

The immediate threat is in shoes. The pressure for a quota on foreign imports has grown to such a volume that 72 senators signed a petition to President Nixon calling for "voluntary" quotas. Needless to say, voluntary is a fiction, since once the United States turns on the heat the shoe-exporting countries have no choice but to accept.

From Italy, Spain, France and Britain come specialized and expensive footwear. Japan and Taiwan export low-cost shoes that, according to retailers opposing the quota, are unavailable from domestic makers. It is at the bottom of the scale that the rise in prices — perhaps as much as 15 to 25 per cent — would be most immediate if a quota greatly limited foreign imports.

LAST SPRING the shoe industry is reported to have collected a kitty of $300,000 to lobby for a "voluntary" quota. The 72 senatorial signers to the petition to the White House is one measure of the success of the drive.

Using the battered "tax reform" bill as a vehicle, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., one of the strongest backers of a shoe quota, threw in an amendment giving the president broad powers to block imports from almost any nation. It was adopted by a vote of 65 to 30 after Sen. Charles Percy, R./Ill., called it an "unconscionable" surrender of congressional powers to the executive.

The shoe industry is only the latest to move with powerful leverage against the free trade policy. A "voluntary" quota on cotton textiles, already imposed, is hurting developing countries, notably South Korea and Taiwan, where American aid has been an important factor. A "voluntary" steel quota puts a limit on imports from Japan.

IN HIS round-the-world trip early in the year, Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans made the threat clear that unless nations greatly curtailed their exports to this country in certain fields, conspicuously textiles, Congress in an increasing wave of protectionsim would clamp on tariff restrictions.

Here, as in almost every other area, the question is where Mr. Nixon really stands. How far is he willing to go in pushing for solutions that are in the national interest but that have active opposition from powerful minority interests? In his trade message to Congress, the president's rhetoric on behalf of keeping the channels clear and free in America's own self-interest was unexceptional.

Rhetoric is not enough. In a speech that got too little attention, John Gardner, head of the Urban Coalition on Action Council, said what is widely felt here but seldom expressed: that if there is to be action in solving the nation's problems, the presidemt must show far greater urgency. He must move with the kind of vigor he employed in putting over the anti-ballistic missile and in trying to get the Senate to approve the Haynsworth nomination to the Supreme Court.

THAT THE PRICE spiral is continuing upward, there can be little doubt. Cutting back or eliminating competitive imports will only kick it up faster. As the Wall Street Journal observed: "Increased restrictions of imports, with the consequent upward pressure on domestic prices, is about the last thing the inflation-ridden economy needs right now."

The rhetoric dispensed with one hand hardly conceals the counter maneuvers or the careful indifference on the other hand. In trade, in hunger, in a half-dozen areas that is the tragic duality of the Nixon administration.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Way To Win Promotion: Strike Against The School

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

This is the season for cutting the faculty promotions pie on college and university campuses. Many teachers will be awarded unearned promotions while others who have played the game according to published rules will be by-passed.

While lip service is given to such platitudinous words as "professional growth," "scholarly contributions," "teaching competence," on which promotions are said to be based, the real criterion rests on a Machiavellian principle which is that the end justifies the means. And that end being sought by the faculties is freedom from external control. The shortest route from assistant professor to associate professor and on to the full professorship is via the freeway of radicalism.

ONE OF THE MOST glaring examples of a reportedly proposed promotion reward for a professor who was militantly involved in campus disruptions within the last year is that of Dr. Eldred E. Rutherford, associate professor of psychology at San Jose State College. Dr. Rutherford was president of the American Federation of Teachers which struck SJS a year ago after the Christmas holidays. The strikers not only refused to meet their own instructional responsibilities but they disrupted the classes of colleagues by use of bullhorns and electric sound equipment.

Prior to and during the strike numerous allegations by students regarding Rutherford's absenteeism from his instructional assignments were reported in the news media.

In spite of the chaos created by the faculty strike led by Dr. Rutherford on the San Jose State College campus last year, the department of psychology now reportedly is recommending him with an urgent priority rating for promotion to full professorship. And with alleged faculty radicals virtually dominating all the promotions machinery, his advancement is likely to be accorded "routine" approval.

Rutherford is not the only college instructor recommended for promotion who engaged in activities heretofore alleged. Other departmental promotions committees elsewhere on campus are reportedly pushing militant colleagues with their "urgent" recommendation for promotion in rank.

AFTER AN indeterminate number of additional, expensive years of experimentation, the taxpaying public may find the limits of its patience. And the rather simple and obvious conclusion may come into focus that college faculty members cannot be permitted to run higher education institutions while protected by lifelong tenure.

Teachers at all levels should be given the choice of returning with tenure to their classrooms, and foregoing policy-making roles. Or of becoming teacher-administrators, giving up the protection of tenure for a role in managing the institutions.

The first panacea for a mismanaged nation is inflation of currency; the second is war. Both bring a temporary prosperity; both bring a permanent ruin. But both are the refuge of political and economic opportunists. — Ernest Hemingway.

THE SENATE, we think, should follow this up with restrictions on what use — if any — may be made of U.S. arms in Vietnam after President Nixon makes good his promise to withdraw "all combat ground forces."

Our presidents, our senators, and our people seem to have great difficulty learning from experience.

Secy. of Defense Melvin R. Laird has told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in secret testimony made public last week, that the United States plans to keep somewhere under 50,000 troops in Vietnam as a training force.

Maybe, he said, if Hanoi agrees on mutual troop withdrawal, these also could be removed.

IT WOULD SEEM that almost anybody would realize by now that we got involved in Vietnam through sending a few thousand "advisers." When the South Vietnamese government and its army were in a bad way, we increased the number of "advisers." Then the fiction that they were merely advisers was dropped. We were in a war — never declared by Congress.

Leaving a "training force" there merely asks for the same thing to happen over again. It leaves us involved as an armed partisan of the government of South Vietnam. It leaves us in the role of refusing to allow the Vietnamese to settle their own family quarrel.

AND ONCE we agree to such a force, even if things quiet down, we are almost forced to leave it indefinitely.

Korea provides the example of this. When the Korean cease-fire was agreed, the United States left troops to guard the cease-fire line. That was over 15 years ago. We still have some 50,000 soldiers in Korea, guarding that line.

The line between North and South Vietnam has less reason for remaining indefinitely than does that which divides Korea. It was drawn in the first place merely as a temporary dividing line until elections could be held to unite all of Vietnam under one government. The elections have never been held. Because of what has happened, they probably never will be.

WE HAVE Air Force units in Laos and Thailand. Ostensibly they are there as part of the Vietnam involvement, to protect the so-called Ho Chi Minh Trail. But they also fly support missions regularly for defense forces of the Laos and Thailand governments, fighting their own guerrilla wars against insurgents. For the Senate to go into secret session on the premise this was "classified matter" was rather silly. It has been widely publicized.

It would seem that some day our leaders would realize that if we do not want to get involved in another country's wars, we should keep our armed forces out of that country.

They don't seem to have learned this yet. But at least the Senate has shown some recognition of the facts by banning U.S. ground troops in Laos and Thailand.

Holly—Oldest Tradition

Decking the halls with boughs of holly is one of our oldest holiday traditions — much older than the advent of Christ. Ancient peoples in different parts of the world believed holly brought good luck and protected against various kinds of evil.

Certainly, its red berries and sharp-pointed, unusual shaped leaves are extremely attractive, apart from any alleged magic properties. Native to both the Old and New Worlds, holly grows very well in Marin, though subject to smut.

The American Indians saw holly as a symbol of strength and courage. Some tribes made their tomahawk handles from holly wood. Others drank tea made from the leaves and berries.

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Opinions differ as to whether public utilities should have to pay the same kind of taxes as private utilities, and on the "all pay" side is Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley had such a bill before the legislature during the 1969 session but the measure was not given the time of day by the state's lawmakers.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, sound state policy would appear to preclude the taxing of a business which is run by the government. Of course, the policy assumes the government has every perogative to be in business in the first place in competition with private enterprise, a question that also is highly debateable.

On the other hand, it would appear to be sounder state policy to provide that government business which is in competition with private business should be subject to the same costs and obligations which affect private business, as a matter of equity.

Now that municipalities, counties and other forms of local government have discovered they can, with impunity, levy taxes on utility bills, it appears ridiculous that in some parts of the state people pay a double tax on utilities, one for the private utility and the other a direct tax by local government on the same commodity.

THE RESULT is that with the constantly increasing inflation, it will not be long before the private utilities will be asking for increases in rates to cover the soaring costs of operation.

One reason the private utilities will make such a request is the increase in taxes that local governments are placing on virtually all property throughout the state.

It is almost a foregone conclusion that the private utilities will be granted some rate increases. And the money can come from only one place, which is the consumer.

Therefore, when Assemblyman Bagley introduces his measure to tax publically owned utilities on the same basis as those which are privately owned utilities on the same basis as those which are privately owned, the legislature should gibe the proposal more than ordinary consideration, just to even things up.

Greece And Rome Are In Courthouse

Must the courthouse really go? Greece is there and Rome. Its historic beauty adds dignity not only to San Rafael but to the county. The seven league boots of science that cry run, run or you will never make it can lead us to extremism. Much of the beauty and repose of the present lies in the past.

If the fast buck and the automobile have truly won the enchantment from our inner hearts, then farewell.

Paper Collections Helpful If . . .

The I-J has shows an awareness of the mounting chorus from the scientific community that we are using up our national resources, and this letter is a plea for you to use your influence on one small facet of this crisis.

The waste of paper — which means trees — is a national phenomenon. The I-J could help a little on this if you would run a daily box telling where paper drives are being carried on in various parts of the county. Lots of us save old newspapers, but we often can't find a place to turn them in and have to consign them to the garbage man in the end . . .

You could get a perfect example of the do's and don'ts of paper collecting from one that is being carried on now in San Anselmo. Last week I took my current stacks of neatly tied bundles to a collection point in front of Drake High School, operated by a student group that is trying to raise money for some good cause or other. The good thing about it is that you can take the papers there any time; also, the collection point is on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and readily visible to all the thousands of motorists who pass by. The bad points, however, are ferocious. There is a small trailer, but you are supposed to leave the papers in a wire enclosure which, apparently, is seldom visited by the student sponsors. The litter is dreadful — the place looks like the New York garbage strike . . .

A 'Plus' For Marin Seldom Mentioned

The sight of Tamalpais' sleeping maiden. The perfect climate. The fog-shrouded towers of the bridge. The lovely old homes of Ross and San Rafael and San Anselmo. The near-perfect climate. The "good" commute. The high standing of the schools. Sausalito. Muir Woods. The Scotch taste of Inverness. The space between the houses. The nearby everything — shore, wine country, mountains.

These are the things people talk about when they talk about the pleasures of living in Marin.

No one ever mentions a pleasure that is peculiarly Marin, and may be more important than all the others.

It's the sudden proprietary pride that pushes up inside of you when you come to San Rafael and see the blind people — young and old — learning to live with their Guide Dogs.

Doing good — even vicariously — is a nice feeling. Most of us in Marin, even without realizing it, get a thrill from the walking reminders that our county is involved in making all these visiting lives worthwhile again.

FRED CHERRY

Photos, Editorials, Story Point Moral

In Dec. 9's paper the article on Mrs. (Renee) Romack juxtaposed to the photos of 1920 and present-day Sausalito made me realize that all us too have been blind to have allowed that much of Richardson Bay to have been filled.

Mrs. Romack says, "It's all so beautiful and free. It's sad to think that people pass it all by and don't see at all," which is oh so true as thousands of people ride each day through Marin seeing their environment deteriorating and are blind to it. This too is pollution: a basic disregard for the esthetics of morality, for we all have a sense of right and wrong sadly dictated in our culture by avarice.

Too I think your editorial on the rock-concert-be-in failed to delineate the "strange commentary on our culture" for you used the violence and litter which is predominant in our whole culture to condemn something that is a growing part of our society that is indicative of a desperate need for people to get together, for the gap between those 300,000 and the "silent majority" must be resolved before all of our minds are as polluted as our countryside.

Moral: It is hard to see blindness.

Square For A Square? Thanks—But No!

That in recognition of the newspaper's decades of public service San Rafael's courthouse quadrangle be known hereafter, officially and formally, as Independent-Journal Square.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Dec. 18, 1959

Philip Gray of Tamalpais Valley, Carol Scott of San Francisco, and Burrass Smith of Corte Madera were missing aboard a chartered PBY flying boat on a trip from Fairbanks, Alaska, to San Francisco.

Kenneth Anderson, recreation consultant, recommended that San Rafael acquire six to eight acres adjoining Terra Linda High School for a city park.

20 YEARS AGO

The restored Mission San Rafael Arcangel was dedicated by Archbishop John J. Mitty.

Bodies of three Hamilton Field airmen were found in the wreckage of a training plane which crashed in the Sierra Nevada.

TRY AND STOP ME

Mrs. Levin sought her hostess to inquire, "What's become of that pretty little blonde waitress who was passing the cocktails?" "I'm sorry," apologized the hostess. "Were you looking for a drink?" "No," said Mrs. Levin grimly. "I was looking for my husband."

John McCarroll tells an improbable story about a Phoenix, Ariz., friend's adventure with a rattlesnake. The friend, it seems, keeps a pet rattler in his bedroom to protect the valuables he has stashed away there. Recently an unwary burglar climbed through a back window and headed for the bureau where the valuables were kept. The rattlesnake coiled and struck, on target all the way, sank his fangs into the burglar's back, wrapped himself around a bedpost to hold the intruder, and stuck his tail out the window and rattled for the police.

Import Quotas Give Another Upward Shove To Rising Prices

WASHINGTON — With the surge of Christmas shopping, nobody is looking, but if certain powerful lobbies have their way the cost of basic items in the householder's budget will take a sharp jump in the new year. The prospect is for more rather than less inflation as the sprial of rising prices becomes a political issue hardly second to the Vietnam war.

The immediate threat is in shoes. The pressure for a quota on foreign imports has grown to such a volume that 72 senators signed a petition to President Nixon calling for "voluntary" quotas. Needless to say, voluntary is a fiction, since once the United States turns on the heat the shoe-exporting countries have no choice but to accept.

From Italy, Spain, France and Britain come specialized and expensive footwear. Japan and Taiwan export low-cost shoes that, according to retailers opposing the quota, are unavailable from domestic makers. It is at the bottom of the scale that the rise in prices — perhaps as much as 15 to 25 per cent — would be most immediate if a quota greatly limited foreign imports.

LAST SPRING the shoe industry is reported to have collected a kitty of $300,000 to lobby for a "voluntary" quota. The 72 senatorial signers to the petition to the White House is one measure of the success of the drive.

Using the battered "tax reform" bill as a vehicle, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., one of the strongest backers of a shoe quota, threw in an amendment giving the president broad powers to block imports from almost any nation. It was adopted by a vote of 65 to 30 after Sen. Charles Percy, R./Ill., called it an "unconscionable" surrender of congressional powers to the executive.

The shoe industry is only the latest to move with powerful leverage against the free trade policy. A "voluntary" quota on cotton textiles, already imposed, is hurting developing countries, notably South Korea and Taiwan, where American aid has been an important factor. A "voluntary" steel quota puts a limit on imports from Japan.

IN HIS round-the-world trip early in the year, Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans made the threat clear that unless nations greatly curtailed their exports to this country in certain fields, conspicuously textiles, Congress in an increasing wave of protectionsim would clamp on tariff restrictions.

Here, as in almost every other area, the question is where Mr. Nixon really stands. How far is he willing to go in pushing for solutions that are in the national interest but that have active opposition from powerful minority interests? In his trade message to Congress, the president's rhetoric on behalf of keeping the channels clear and free in America's own self-interest was unexceptional.

Rhetoric is not enough. In a speech that got too little attention, John Gardner, head of the Urban Coalition on Action Council, said what is widely felt here but seldom expressed: that if there is to be action in solving the nation's problems, the presidemt must show far greater urgency. He must move with the kind of vigor he employed in putting over the anti-ballistic missile and in trying to get the Senate to approve the Haynsworth nomination to the Supreme Court.

THAT THE PRICE spiral is continuing upward, there can be little doubt. Cutting back or eliminating competitive imports will only kick it up faster. As the Wall Street Journal observed: "Increased restrictions of imports, with the consequent upward pressure on domestic prices, is about the last thing the inflation-ridden economy needs right now."

The rhetoric dispensed with one hand hardly conceals the counter maneuvers or the careful indifference on the other hand. In trade, in hunger, in a half-dozen areas that is the tragic duality of the Nixon administration.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

This is the season for cutting the faculty promotions pie on college and university campuses. Many teachers will be awarded unearned promotions while others who have played the game according to published rules will be by-passed.

While lip service is given to such platitudinous words as "professional growth," "scholarly contributions," "teaching competence," on which promotions are said to be based, the real criterion rests on a Machiavellian principle which is that the end justifies the means. And that end being sought by the faculties is freedom from external control. The shortest route from assistant professor to associate professor and on to the full professorship is via the freeway of radicalism.

ONE OF THE MOST glaring examples of a reportedly proposed promotion reward for a professor who was militantly involved in campus disruptions within the last year is that of Dr. Eldred E. Rutherford, associate professor of psychology at San Jose State College. Dr. Rutherford was president of the American Federation of Teachers which struck SJS a year ago after the Christmas holidays. The strikers not only refused to meet their own instructional responsibilities but they disrupted the classes of colleagues by use of bullhorns and electric sound equipment.

Prior to and during the strike numerous allegations by students regarding Rutherford's absenteeism from his instructional assignments were reported in the news media.

In spite of the chaos created by the faculty strike led by Dr. Rutherford on the San Jose State College campus last year, the department of psychology now reportedly is recommending him with an urgent priority rating for promotion to full professorship. And with alleged faculty radicals virtually dominating all the promotions machinery, his advancement is likely to be accorded "routine" approval.

Rutherford is not the only college instructor recommended for promotion who engaged in activities heretofore alleged. Other departmental promotions committees elsewhere on campus are reportedly pushing militant colleagues with their "urgent" recommendation for promotion in rank.

AFTER AN indeterminate number of additional, expensive years of experimentation, the taxpaying public may find the limits of its patience. And the rather simple and obvious conclusion may come into focus that college faculty members cannot be permitted to run higher education institutions while protected by lifelong tenure.

Teachers at all levels should be given the choice of returning with tenure to their classrooms, and foregoing policy-making roles. Or of becoming teacher-administrators, giving up the protection of tenure for a role in managing the institutions.

The first panacea for a mismanaged nation is inflation of currency; the second is war. Both bring a temporary prosperity; both bring a permanent ruin. But both are the refuge of political and economic opportunists. — Ernest Hemingway.

Don't Worry, Lady, They Didn't Move Avalon To Isabel Cook

No, lady, Isabel Cook School is not the Avalon Ballroom. But yes, there was a light show there Monday.

Sixth grader John Davidson (no, lady, he's no relation to the one on television) spent weeks preparing the project, and he was rewarded at the performance when not only his own class, but pupils from all the other rooms crowded in to watch the freaky lights.

It was what school people call a multi-media presentation. He first put up a giant paper tent — 9 by 36-feet — then set up two cross-firing movie projectors. As they showed simultaneous motion pictures, two other lights projected pulsating liquid globular shapes onto the movies to the sound of Tom Jones music.

YOUNG DAVIDSON thought up the project himself, got permission from teacher Marjorie Neville and principal Keith McPherson, and went to work on it. As plans progressed, the rest of the class got involved and helped complete the show.

John even made one of the films himself, carefully marking frame by frame with a felt pen. For the other films, he used a picture on caterpillars and another produced by a utility company.

And that's what your children were talking about when they came home Monday, lady.

IF COLLEGE of Marin has settled nothing else this year, it definitely has been shown that the financial aid porgram could use more money — private money, federal or state money, whatever is available.

Perhaps it hasn't been made clear enough that despite admitted shortcomings, the college has a good aid program which meets the needs of the great majority of students applying for financial help.

A letter by counselor Margaret Green in the College of Marin Times gave some facts pointing this out. Dr. Greene is a member of the financial aids committee and should know.

Among other things, her letter refuted claims by the Student Solidarity Movement that the aid program reflects administration racism. She wrote that:

Black enrollment has climbed from 12 in 1965 to 142 this year. The black student dropout rate is now lower than average. Grade point averages of black students have risen steadily for five years to an approximate match with the total enrollment.

Perhaps her most significant statement was this: "Every single black and other ethnic minority student who applied and has eligibility is receiving financial aid and, except in cases of late application, receiving close to the full package requested."

In addition, Dr. Greene wrote, the college was one of the first in California to establish a black studies major, and the college's level of student support is unsurpassed in California.

SHE SUGGESTED: "The real issue is not so much here on the campus as in the community of Marin County where there is a growing disparity between the well-to-do who give Marin County its image and the poor. The unemployment rate in Marin is 3 per cent, but it is 32 per cent for heads of family in Marin City and 47 per cent for black youth . . . Housing for ethnic minority families is substandard or nonexistent."

It is no consolation to a student needing aid and not getting it — and there are some of those — to be told that College of Marin has a good aid program. But it is some solace to know that there aren't very many in that fix.

It's A Disappointing Christmas In the Big House On The Hill

WASHINGTON — Little Dickey Nixon in his pajamas ran down the stairs of his big house on Christmas morning directly to the Christmas tree. There was one large package all wrapped up under the tree.

"What could it be?" he asked, as all the people who loved him gathered around and watched.

"It's your tax package," said David Kennedy.

"OH, BOY!" said Dickey. "I've been waiting for this some time. Look, there's a card with it. It says, 'From your loving cousins who live on the Hill.'"

Dickey started taking off all the tissue paper which was wrapped around the tax package. There were four layers of it. Suddenly his face fell with disappointment.

"This isn't the tax package I asked for," he said tearfully. "And it's all smashed up."

"IT'S THE BEST one they could find," David Kennedy said nervously.

"There's things in here I didn't even ask for," Dickey stomped around.

"Your cousins on the Hill wanted to surprise you, Dickey. That's why they put in all that Social Security."

"But I told you I didn't want more Social Security. I've got enough already."

"Your cousins are a bunch of effete snobs," Dickey's good friend, Spiro, said. "And they've given you a Rube Goldberg toy."

"BEFORE YOU GET too upset, Dickey, take a look in the package. There are some good things in it. The oil-depletion allowance has only been cut a little bit and can probably be saved, and the higher income brackets haven't been damaged much, and most of the depreciation items are in perfect working order."

"But look at the tax exemption they railroaded through," Dickey said. "I can't play with that. I specifically asked for a $600 tax-exemption gauge and they threw in an $800 gauge which doesn't fit on my tracks."

"That's your cousin, Gore, who did that," Spiro said. "If I were you, I wouldn't even wish him a Merry Christmas."

"WHY CAN'T I get what I want for Christmas?" Dickey cried as everyone stood around in embarrassed silence.

"It was a good package at the beginning," his pal, Gerry Ford, said. "It must have gotten damaged in the shipping."

"I'm going to send it back."

"Please don't, Dickey," his other pal, Hugh Scott, said. "If you send it back now, you may not get another tax package this year."

"I DON'T CARE. I have to play with it, and if they're going to change everything I asked for, I don't want their old package."

"Take it, Dickey, and try to put the pieces together with glue," Gerry said.

"No, I won't. It will cost me more money than not to have any tax present at all. I'm going to wrap it up and send it back, and I'm never going to speak to anyone on the Hill again."

"That's telling them," Spiro said.

"Waht else is there for Christmas?" Dickey asked.

21 Are Now Junior Legal Secretaries

Certificates of completion have been presented to 21 students enrolled in the Junior Legal Secretary Class, sponsored by the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association at the College of Marin.

Receiving certificates from Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, dean of the evening college, were: Sue A. Adams, Margaret B. Arms, Karen R. Avner, Mary A. Burgett, Roberta C. Burnash, Diane L. Chaney, Charlotte B. Chase, Mary J. Cox, Jeanne C. Dammarell, Myrtle H. Frasson, Liane Froerer, Marie B. Grover, Glenda Jones, Janis Burke, Vickie S. Marrs, Megan L. Nolan, Michaele A. Robinson, Janice F. Senser, Elaine B. Sims, Gayle P. Tomkin and Marilyn R. Wilson.

The association will sponsor a probate class for legal secretaries at the college starting Jan. 6 at 7 p.m. in Room 33 in the Science Building, instructor Margarte Boyden announced.

Toyota Recalls 170 Fancy Sports Cars

TOKYO (AP) — Toyota Motor Co. said today it has recalled its entire production of the type sports car used in the James Bond movie "You Only Live Twice" for repair of mechanical defects.

Toyota said it found defective parts in the steering wheels and rear axles of the 2000GT, which sell for about $6,600. The firm said 170 of the cars had been sold in Japan and only two or three had been exported as demonstration models.

"What could it be?" he asked, as all the people who loved him gathered around and watched.

"It's your tax package," said David Kennedy.

"OH, BOY!" said Dickey. "I've been waiting for this some time. Look, there's a card with it. It says, 'From your loving cousins who live on the Hill.'"

Dickey started taking off all the tissue paper which was wrapped around the tax package. There were four layers of it. Suddenly his face fell with disappointment.

"This isn't the tax package I asked for," he said tearfully. "And it's all smashed up."

"IT'S THE BEST one they could find," David Kennedy said nervously.

"There's things in here I didn't even ask for," Dickey stomped around.

"Your cousins on the Hill wanted to surprise you, Dickey. That's why they put in all that Social Security."

"But I told you I didn't want more Social Security. I've got enough already."

"Your cousins are a bunch of effete snobs," Dickey's good friend, Spiro, said. "And they've given you a Rube Goldberg toy."

"BEFORE YOU GET too upset, Dickey, take a look in the package. There are some good things in it. The oil-depletion allowance has only been cut a little bit and can probably be saved, and the higher income brackets haven't been damaged much, and most of the depreciation items are in perfect working order."

"But look at the tax exemption they railroaded through," Dickey said. "I can't play with that. I specifically asked for a $600 tax-exemption gauge and they threw in an $800 gauge which doesn't fit on my tracks."

"That's your cousin, Gore, who did that," Spiro said. "If I were you, I wouldn't even wish him a Merry Christmas."

"WHY CAN'T I get what I want for Christmas?" Dickey cried as everyone stood around in embarrassed silence.

"It was a good package at the beginning," his pal, Gerry Ford, said. "It must have gotten damaged in the shipping."

"I'm going to send it back."

"Please don't, Dickey," his other pal, Hugh Scott, said. "If you send it back now, you may not get another tax package this year."

"I DON'T CARE. I have to play with it, and if they're going to change everything I asked for, I don't want their old package."

"Take it, Dickey, and try to put the pieces together with glue," Gerry said.

"No, I won't. It will cost me more money than not to have any tax present at all. I'm going to wrap it up and send it back, and I'm never going to speak to anyone on the Hill again."

"That's telling them," Spiro said.

"Waht else is there for Christmas?" Dickey asked.

Toyota Recalls 170 Fancy Sports Cars

TOKYO (AP) — Toyota Motor Co. said today it has recalled its entire production of the type sports car used in the James Bond movie "You Only Live Twice" for repair of mechanical defects.

Toyota said it found defective parts in the steering wheels and rear axles of the 2000GT, which sell for about $6,600. The firm said 170 of the cars had been sold in Japan and only two or three had been exported as demonstration models.

City Employees Elect Officers

Larry A. Petretti of the public works department has been elected president of the San Rafael City Employees Association for 1970.

Petretti, who will succeed Regina Buchanan of the Parks and Recreation Department, was elected Tuesday night at San Rafael City Hall.

Donald Woford of the fire department was elected vice president; Evelyn Wright, typist-clerk, police department, secretary, and Vivian Byers, finance department, treasurer.

Installation of officers will be next month, date unspecified, with W.C. Cornwell, retired city clerk, as master of ceremonies.

A Lot Of Education To Collect People

By JOANNE GRANT

GWEN M. MONROE
Commission organizer

It was her love for people that led her to her initial college majors — psychology and social welfare; and to subsequent jobs such as juvenile hall counseling, probation supervision and as a parole agent.

And it brought her to Marin as coordinator of the county juvenile delinquency prevention and youth commissions.

The 44-year-old Berkeley resident is a native of Omaha, Neb., who grew up in Southern California and became a converted Bay Area resident during her undergraduate days at the University of California at Berkeley.

She wasn't really sure than that she wanted to go to college and dropped in and out of school until one day she decided she was wasting time. And then there was no stopping her.

After graduating from U.C. with a double degree, she worked for a time in Alameda County and decided it was time to go back to school.

She began attending night classes at the University of San Francisco and working days in the state parole division. Four years later she had her law degree and while she has never been in private practice, she has used it in her job with the California Youth Authority.

Miss Monroe is a delinquency prevention consultant with the CYA's division of community services. But she hasn't really done that job since April 1968.

That month she went on loan to the Richmond model cities program for a nine-month planning period. Barely back from that, she was loaned within her own agency to work on juvenile delinquency plans for the California Council on Criminal Justice.

She was looking forward to returning to her regular job when Marin's probation chief, John W. Brewer, asked her to consider a third loan period as coordinator of the two Marin commissions.

She had worked with him when he was on the adult and youth authorities: "I came because of my respect for John Brewer," she said, recalling her decision to review the job.

She interviewed in her own way, spending about two hours each with half of the juvenile delinquency prevention commissioners. "I was impressed with them and their willingness to work," she said in an interview this week.

They may have overstated their case. Miss Monroe plans to keep them and the newly formed youth commission busy as she guides them through organizational difficulties and into their first projects.

The delinquency prevention commission has been in existence for more than two years but it has fumbled about most of the time and is not much further along than the new youth commission.

The first task for both will be development of policies and goals.

As that is being done, the delinquency prevention commission will begin working on a factual survey of existing agencies and services dealing with children and youth and the youth commission will be deciding on action programs.

The survey, much of which will be done by commissioners themselves, will look at existing agencies to see what they do rather than just accepting what they say they do.

The delinquency commission has not decided how broad its work will be, but Miss Monroe believes a study covering all agencies in the field would provide the best base for future programs.

Only through such a survey can the commission determine where gaps exist and where services overlap — and become able to fulfill their charge to coordinate such services.

The youth commission is planned as more of an action agency, with one of its prime functions to be review of applications for matching funds for youth projects.

Miss Monroe thinks the commission will go far beyond that and could become an organized voice for youth in Marin.

Both commissions will be creating their own paths, deciding on their own programs and projects she said.

The function of a coordinator, she is convinced, does not include imposing her ideas.

Reagan's Son Lights Capitol Holiday Tree

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Expressing a hope for peace, Gov. Reagan let his 11-year-old son Skipper light the Capitol Christmas tree last night.

The brief ceremony took place at the north steps of the Capitol shortly after dusk, then Reagan and his family entertained his staff and state officials with a reception in his office.

The governor said that "when peace somehow seems so remote," men should remember to "follow His counsel, and it could all come about."

Because of a bout with the flu, Reagan missed traditional noontime caroling in the Capitol rotunda, but he greeted the singers when they appeared at his home early in the afternoon.

Visual Commentary On Israeli History

A visual commentary on the Masada archaeological excavations in Israel, from the book, "Masada" by Yigael Yadin, comprising 20 paintings in egg tempera by San Anselmo artist June Lederman, is on exhibit until March 1 at Temple Emanu-El in San Francisco.

The paintings, depicting relics, remnants and ramparts, may be seen at the temple at Arguello Boulevard and Lake Street on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on weekends from 9 a.m. to noon.

Christmas Programs

The Christmas vacation recreation program of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at Homestead and Edna Maguire schools for children 6 years old and over. The program consists of playground games.

Eaton Visits Hanoi; New War Analysis

TOKYO (AP) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton said today the United States should not believe that North Vietnam is "defeated or discouraged" or that it no longer has the capacity to fight.

After a week in Hanoi, the 86-year-old millionaire reported that the North Vietnamese "would be delighted to end the war, but they are prepared to fight on no matter what time is involved, and they are sure of the massive support of all the Communist countries in the world."

Eaton—sponsor of the Pugwash Conference, which periodically brings Communist and Western leaders together for discussions—said Premier Pham Van Dong and other leaders with whom he spoke appeared convinced that the United States intends to continue the war, either indirectly or through air and naval support for the Saigon government.

The Hanoi chiefs "have made plans for a couple years more of war," he said.

Eaton said the North Vietnamese do not regard the continuing withdrawal of American troops as "a serious effort" but only as a "token to impress the United States."

Eaton said the North Vietnamese told him they want the Paris peace talks to continue even though some changes in personnel may be involved.

"They want the United States to stop pretending it can't speak for the Saigon government," he added.

Eaton said that "the United States must take a more realistic view of the situation. It has got to offer terms to end this war. It cannot offer other armies to take its place."

He gathered, he said, that if President Richard M. Nixon would give a firm assurance he is willing to end the war, the North Vietnamese would respond "with all sorts of flexibility."

"I think this war could be ended overnight on terms which would be acceptable to any American businessman," he added.

Eaton said that among the Hanoi leaders the "feeling of nationalism far surpasses their attachment to communism. They don't want to be dominated by Russia, China or the United States. Every fighting instinct has been aroused by foreign soldiers on their soil."

Eaton, who organized Republic Steel Co., has for years been sympathetic to the Soviet Union and its Communist allies. He and his wife went to Hanoi via Moscow, where he conferred with Soviet leaders.

23 Favoring Vietnam Pullout

An informal poll of the 78 registered voters in the Muir Beach Community Services District has found that 23 favor withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam "as quickly as possible."

Two supported President Richard M. Nixon's policy of gradual withdrawal and continued negotiations, while two others said there should be a unilateral cease-fire and immediate withdrawal. One called for disbanding the U.S. Army.

Fifty persons failed to respond to the poll, "proving Muir Beach to be a typically apathetic American community," according to the pollster, Gerry Pearlman.

YULE SHELTER, FOOD

Marinites Come To Family's Aid

By ANNE BARDWELL

Christmas came early to the Bill Huskey family yesterday as more than 35 persons appeared at their campsite in Samuel P. Taylor Park, offering the homeless family shelter and food for the holiday season.

Bill Huskey with his wife, Joy, and their five children had been camping in the park the past two weeks because they had been unable to find a house to rent after a chain of misfortunes left them homeless, jobless and sick in early November.

Among those, who came to the Huskeys' leaky tent in the park in response to an Independent-Journal story yesterday about their plight, was a couple which offered the family temporary housing in a summer home in Inverness.

By 11 p.m., the Huskeys had been moved into the large summer house by the couple who wish to remain unidentified.

"It was beautiful, all those people and their concern," said Joy Huskey today. She explained that the couple offered them the summer home "for a couple of weeks until we can find a place of our own to rent. We still need a bouse," Mrs. Huskey said.

Response to the article came early in the afternoon when a young couple from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo appeared at the campsite with a box of Christmas presents for the Huskey children who range in age from 2 to 12.

"They were so nice; they even wanted us to move into their one bedroom apartment with them," Mrs. Huskey said.

Shortly after dark, others began appearing at the campsite including an elderly couple who wanted the family to move into their home while they were gone over Christmas, two hippie girls who were living in a house with 14 other persons and wanted the Huskeys to join them, and many others who brought food, presents and concern, sympathy and a desire to help.

At one time there were 20 people there drinking coffee and

School's Advisers Urge Black Roles

Social and economic oppression of blacks, lack of black policemen and newsmen in Marin and poor communications were blamed by a special citizens committee yesterday as major contributors to problems of Sausalito's Martin Luther King School and the surrounding community.

The committee, appointed last month by King Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr., presented a 12-point report on "community concerns" to Walton and members of the King faculty at a meeting at the school yesterday.

A public meeting to present the report to interested residents, scheduled last night, was canceled and will probably be held later, a spokesman said.

Walton, who was not available for comment on the report today, indicated earlier he would study it, and reports from other committees, with an eye towards developing his program for the second semester at King.

One of the major concerns listed by the committee of parents, newsmen and King school staff was the "need of the Sausalito and Mill Valley police departments to help present a more positive image in the school district."

The report said black policemen must be hired in the two cities, adding, "one way this might be accomplished is to do away with the present policy of not hiring people with criminal records."

Committee member Gabe Jackson said at a meeting Monday night, when the report was hammered out in a six-hour session, that it would be difficult to find an otherwise eligible young black man in Marin City who did not have some sort of police record.

The citizens group also urged the hiring of liaison people from the black commu-

Market Bounds On Strength Of Burns Statement

NEW YORK (AP) — The long-suffering stock market rallied strongly today, bolstered by statements from Arthur F. Burns, nominee for chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

The widely watched Dow Jones industrial average closed up 13.33, the best day's gain since last April.

Analysts attributed the bound upward to Burns' statement before the Senate Banking Committee that if confirmed as chairman of the Federal Reserve, he would be watching with the closest attention to see when the current tight money policy could be made less restrictive.

The Federal Reserve's tight money policies have been widely cited in the investment community as one of the main causes of the stock market's recent steep slide—as measured by the Dow—to its lowest point in more than three years.

Senators Favor Burns For Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Arthur F. Burns won speedy approval of the Senate Banking Committee today to head the Federal Reserve System after he told members he believed an economic recession could be avoided.

Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the panel was unanimous in approving Burns to succeed William McChesney Martin as chairman of the board of governors of the system.

The pipe-smoking economist, who has served as counselor to President Richard M. Nixon during the past year, won high praise from Republicans and Democrats on the committee.

Nixon Tells Congress To Forget Popularity In Curbing Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon says his fight against inflation is in danger but could be rescued if Congress forgets "the cost in political popularity" and cuts down federal spending.

"At stake is nothing less than the future of the American economy," Nixon said in a Dutch-uncle letter sent to House and Senate leaders yesterday.

The President said his $192.9 billion federal spending ceiling is threatened by $6 billion in rising costs that are beyond his control and added millions dictated by congressional action—and inaction.

The letter, timed to coincide with Congress' efforts to pass a tax reform bill and complete action on appropriation measures for the current fiscal year, also said:

"The responsible path toward protecting the buying power of the consumer's dollar is clear. But the Congress has not appeared willing to take that path."

The keynote of Nixon's 1,200-word message was responsibility. "The Congress, along with the executive branch, carries the responsibility for the economic health of the nation," he told the leaders.

Nixon coupled his plea for responsibility with a new attack on the tax reform bill, now before a conference committee for long hours each day in an effort to compromise the Senate and House versions.

"The Congress appears to be well on its way to substituting tax reduction for tax reform," he said. "This will harm rather than help the average taxpayer. Sugar-coating a bitter pill is understandable, but all sugar-coating and no pill will not help the patient.

And because of the way money multiplies as it moves from spender to spender, Nixon said, "A billion dollars of federal spending or tax relief can add many times that amount to the escalation of our rising price levels."

"Inflation—the hole in everybody's pocket—is the most unfair tax of all," he said.

Despite the fact that a combination of congressional action and inaction "would load an additional $5 billion onto an already overheated economy," Nixon said, "recent Senate tax actions . . . would, if approved, actually take $1.6 billion away from revenues."

It is this combination of added spending—such as $1 billion the Senate added Tuesday to the health and education appropriation—and revenue loss written into the tax bill that appeared to disturb Nixon most.

He has said he will veto the bill if it contains both a personal exemption increase from $600 to $800 and a 15 per cent boost in Social Security payments, as the Senate version does.

68,000 Enemy Unaccounted During '68 Viet Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence misjudged enemy strength in South Vietnam last year by at least 68,000 men.

This conclusion is inescapable after comparing a new official estimate with an earlier calculation of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong manpower for the fall of 1968.

The Pentagon said last night "revised best estimates of enemy strength in South Vietnam during the fall of 1968 now indicate an enemy force of at least 290,000."

Checking back a rundown issued in early September estimated enemy manpower in South Vietnam as of Oct. 25, 1968 ranged between 207,000 and 222,000.

There was no immediate official explanation for the wide variance in the estimates. But it tends to underscore Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's reluctance to deal publicly in numbers.

It also casts doubt on the Pentagon's new "best estimate" that there were at least 240,000 of the enemy in South Vietnam this fall.

The Pentagon put out the new figures for autumn 1968 and autumn 1969 after Laird, under questioning by newsmen said Tuesday: "I would estimate that the range of enemy presence in Vietnam is in the neighborhood of at least 40,000 below last year."

In trying to avoid citing specific figures, Laird said "it's not an easy task" to estimate enemy troop strength.

He has preferred to talk in generalities about North Vietnamese infiltration of the South, saying there has been an in-

GOP's Patronage Sweep Nearly Total

Appointive Jobs 94 Pct. Shifted; Some Demos Still

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proded by complaints from patronage-starved Republicans last spring, the Nixon administration has made a fairly clean sweep of replacing Democrats with GOP appointees in policy jobs.

Of 2,150 confidential or political posts available, Presidential Assistant Harry Flemming said in an interview, 2,020, or 94 per cent have been handed over to Republicans.

Nonetheless, dozens of holdovers from Democratic administrations remain. Some are in policy jobs, but most of them are below the "assistant secretary" level, mainly in assignments that tend to be handled by career government employees and seldom turn over with a change of administrations.

There have been some cries of foul from Democrats. Mostly they are complaints that office holders in supposedly safe career berths found their jobs "abolished"—and new posts created with Republican appointees.

One veteran Democratic holdover observed, privately, that Republicans have acted no differently than did the Democrats when John F. Kennedy became president.

"In fact," he said, "the Republicans are a little slow about it, if anything.

"The guys who are complaining are usually the ones who wouldn't be in the government except for the same kind of pull."

Flemming acknowledged that "the age old tactics of abolishing jobs" have been used in some agencies but said it "is not as common as people would think."

Asked whether President Richard M. Nixon is satisfied that Republicans have taken effective control of the government machinery, White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said:

"We are pleased with the progress. There are some exceptions, especially in agencies where reorganization plans are pending, but the major policy positions have been filled to our satisfaction."

A series of forceouts has made recent headlines. Latest was Nixon's announcement yesterday he would fire Robert M. Morgenthau as U.S. attorney for the southern New York district. Nixon is nominating Republican lawyer Whitney North Seymour to replace Morgenthau, who was Democratic candidate for governor of New York in 1961.

A few days earlier Dr. Herbert L. Ley Jr. was ousted as commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration. Two of Ley's top aides also were removed by Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch.

The two aides were offered other jobs in HEW; one is taking the offer, the other is retiring.

Raymond H. Lapin of San Francisco, fired by Nixon as president of the Federal National Mortgage Association, is putting up a battle in the courts.

Lapin, an appointee of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, is a Democrat in a post that will pay $85,000 a year when FNMA's transition from a federal mortgage banking agency to a private corporation is completed. But more than that juicy patronage plum is at stake.

Though popular in the housing and finance industry, Lapin had clashed with Secretary of Housing George Romney on how FNMA should support the housing market.

The familiar abolish-the-job device was used last week to oust Kenneth Burns, a Texas Democrat who got a $25,000 job last December, a month after Nixon's election victory. Burns was solicitor of the Federal Maritime Commission.

Mrs. Helen Bentley, Nixon's choice for commission chairman, wiped out the job.

The two Texas senators, Dem-

Church Bloc Asks Dec. 24 Peace Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prominent church leaders endorsed the idea today of making this Christmas Eve a day of prayer for peace in Vietnam.

A Christmas peace statement sponsored by the Vietnam Moratorium Committee was read by the Rt. Rev. Paul Moore, Episcopal suffragan bishop of Washington and supported in person by the president of the National Council of Churches, Mrs. Cynthia Wedel.

THE ENDORSERS

Bishop Moore, recently elected bishop coadjutor of New York, noted that the call to prayer had been endorsed by the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., Yale University chaplain; Mrs. Martin Luther King, widow of the civil rights leader; Bishop Charles Golden of the United Methodist Church, San Francisco; Auxiliary Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton of the Detroit Roman Catholic archdiocese; Father John Sheerin, editor of Catholic World, and theologian Reinhold Niebuhr.

Mrs. Wedel told a news conference she believes many members of the National Council believe "the present administration is sincrely trying to end the war" and that its efforts should be helped by prayers for peace. She said her endorsement of the Christmas Eve call "is not a blanket endorsement of Moratorium Committee activities, but we hope we can support many of them."

'GIVE UP DAY'

The moratorium statement urges Americans to "give up one day of merrymaking during this season and make it instead a day of penitence and mourning for all the victims."

It asks that "on this day of prayer you think about the immorality of this war . . . and think about our responsibility to the innocent victims of this war who want only to live in peace in their own land."

NIXON DARTBOARD?

Finch Wrestles Loyalty Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Say you are a Republican Cabinet secretary who discovers one of your department's public information officers firing darts at a picture of President Richard M. Nixon.

Or you find that a second and high ranking information official has not stopped one of his subordinates from ordering for government distribution several thousand reprints of a laudatory magazine article about Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, a potential Democratic challenger to Nixon in 1972.

And learned that a third department public information officer formerly was editor of the Democratic National Committee's official magazine.

What to do? If you are Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch, you would move to transfer these three to unglamorous new posts, presumably to encourage their resignations.

And you would cast about for ways to place more Repulicans in top information posts reserved for supposedly non-political career civil servants.

A plan now under consideration would transfer the top information jobs in seven major bureaus from civil service status to noncareer, politically appointed posts.

Baxter Omohundro, Finch's chief of information, argues the shift is logical because he said the seven information chiefs must have a good working relationship with and the absolute confidence of their agency heads.

"Rubbish," says one of Finch's bureau information chiefs, who understandably requested anonymity. "All they want to do is run party loyalists into these jobs for patronage reasons."

The girl with the Nixon dart board has been shifted from the Food and Drug Administration to the Administration on Aging.

The official involved in the Muskie reprint operation has been offered a newly created and undefined post as assistant information chief for "extradepartmental affairs." He is resisting the change.

The reprints have been confiscated and locked in a closet near Finch's office.

The one-time Democratic editor has been offered a new post with the Social Security Administration in Baltimore,

U.S. Income Rise Continues Slow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income of Americans increased $3.2 billion last month, the third consecutive month of relatively slow growth, the Commerce Department reported today.

The department said personal income hit a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $766.9 billion in November.

The figures over the past three months have been well below the monthly average increase of about $5 billion in the first eight months of the year.

Government economists concluded that the slow growth in income was evidence that inflation was gradually being slowed.

Millions See Tiny Tim's TV Nuptials

Then Tiny Tim sang "The Wedding Song for Miss Vicky" and "You Were There" in his warbling falsetto.

The ceremony, in NBC's Manhattan studios, was taped before 250 guests and telecast five hours later. NBC estimated that 30 to 35 million viewers watched the vows, stealing the top audience ratings for the night.

Tiny Tim and his 17-year-old bride had their backs to the camera throughout the nondenominational service performed by the Rev. William Glenesk of Brooklyn's Spencer Memorial Church. Then they joined Carson and his other guests in the standard lounge format.

The couple vowed to be "sweet, gentle, kind, patient, not puffed up, charitable, slow to anger and swift to forgive." They were surrounded by 10,000 tulips flown from Holland.

Miss Budinger, with hair bobbed and in an off-white Victorian-style gown of peau de soie with lace collar and sleeves, was given away by her father, Alan Budinger of Haddonfield, N.J.

Tiny Tim, whose real name is Herbert Buckingham Khaury, then kissed his bride lightly on the lips.

Carson proposed a champagne toast, but the couple said they didn't drink liquor. Tiny Tim mixed a milk-and-honey tonic that he said was "the good Lord's food."

They leave today for a Bahamas honeymoon. The first three days will be spent apart, Tiny Tim said, in accordance with the Old Testament tradition of Tobias.

"I really think there has to be l-o-v-e at first sight," Tiny Tim said, recalling how he met "Miss Vicky" in a Philadelphia department store last June as he autographed copies of his book. "It's just like a hit song, you know it right away."

Tiny Tim — whose own estimate of his age runs from 37 to "ageless" to the mid-40s — rode to fame on his warble and ukelele after years as an obscure performer in small New York music clubs.

His biggest hit was "Tiptoe Through the Tulips." Nick Lucas, who first popularized the song, was a wedding guest and sang the song on the "Tonight" show.

TINY TIM AND MISS VICKY — Herbert Buckingham Khaury and Victoria May Budinger pose in the TV studio where they were wed during a taping of the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show. Five hours later last night the wedding of the falsetto-warbling entertainer and his teen-age bride was watched by a TV audience estimated at up to 35 million.

A New TV, Radio Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional support was asked today for an expanded educational television series testing the ability of creative television to teach everything from primary to adult courses.

The success of the "Sesame Street" series for preschool children should be amplified, followed up, said John W. Macy Jr., president of the Corp. for Public Broadcasting. His remarks were prepared for his appearance before a House education and labor subcommittee.

"What is needed," Macy said, "is a dramatic example of how the techniques of television, not merely a television camera trained on an instructor, can help the teacher in the classroom reach the students with lessons of importance."

Beaks Earn Bills

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Jackdaws, magpies and a rook have collected more than 3,000 pounds (7,200 dollars) for Southampton's children's hospital. Passersby push coins for charity through the wire screens of a nearby aviary to see the birds take the money in their beaks.

Raid Across Suez

CAIRO (AP) — An Egyptian infantry unit crossed the northern Suez Canal before dawn today, attacked Israeli positions and destroyed one tank and two armored cars, the Egyptian military command claimed.

Israel denied the loss of the tank and armored cars, but admitted that about 30 raiders in two groups crossed the canal during the night. It said Egyptian fire killed an Israeli male nurse as he tended a wounded soldier, and "several" Egyptians were casualties.

The Egyptian announcement, broadcast by Cairo Radio, said there were three Egyptian casualties.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

New Rail Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The renewed threat of a nationwide railroad shutdown after New Year's poses a post-holiday hangover for the Nixon administration following union members' rejection of the biggest wage proposal in their history.

"I'm naturally disappointed," Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said yesterday. He had directed government efforts to reach the tentative settlement after three days of gruelling, marathon bargaining two weeks ago.

"The agreement was shot down by a vote of close to 2-1," said Vice President J. W. O' Brien of the AFL-CIO Sheet Metal Workers with 8,000 members involved.

Members of three other AFL-CIO shopcraft unions in the dispute — Machinest, Electricians and Boilermakers — narrowly approved the proposal, but the unions had agreed none would accept unless all did. Thus about 5,000 Sheet Metal Workers who voted "No" killed the settlement involving a total of 48,000 men.

New Batteries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas spent five days in the hospital last month having the batteries of his heart pacemaker replaced, a spokesman says.

Douglas was at Walter Reed Armu hospital from Nov. 3 to Nov. 8. The pacemaker was implanted in the 71-year-old justice in June 1968 to correct an abnormally slow pulse rate.

"He's healthier than you or I," his spokesman remarked yesterday.

Holiday Visitors

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor have flown in from Geneva for their first visit to the United States in a year.

They told reporters at Kennedy Airport yesterday they would stay a while in New York before going on to Hawaii to visit Miss Taylor's brother Howard.

Antiwar Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New Mobilization Committee has launched a month-long crusade to focus national attention on the Vietnam war, starting with a "no Christmas-as-usual" campaign and ending with massive demonstrations on Memorial Day.

The "winter-spring offensive" announced by the committee yesterday will include antiwar demonstrations on Good Friday, March 27, and an antitax demonstration on April 15, the deadline for filing federal income tax returns.

Stewart Meacham, cochairman of the committee, said at a news conference that "as long as the government is carrying on its tragically criminal policy in Vietnam, there can be no Christmas as usual."

McCloskey Urges A Federal Panel In Pollution Battle

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — U.S. Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-11th Dist. (Calif.) proposed yesterday the creation of a federal commission or cabinet office of pollution and waste disposal.

The commission, McCloskey told a Yale University audience, would have the power to tax industries for the pollution or waste they produce.

The tax, he said, would provide industries with something they now lack—an economic incentive to do something about the pollution and waste they produce.

The commission on pollution and waste disposal was one of two commissions the congressman proposed.

The second would be on national land use and would demarcate those areas in the country "which shall be agricultureal, conservation and urban."

The land use commission would have a revolving fund out of which it would pay land owners whose property decreases in value as a result of the commission's land use designations.

"All of a sudden, after 190 years," said the congressman, "conservation is the watchword, not development."

The laws that have grown out of this traditional enthusiasm for "development," he said, "are out of date and will have to be changed, tinkered with, modified."

Daylight Saving Time is not new. Benjamin Franklin wrote about it in 1784 but few took him seriously.

Cult Leader In Tate Case Asks Trial Role

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles M. Manson, facing trial on murder-conspiracy charges in seven slayings, wants to act as his own attorney.

The 35-year-old cult leader made the surprise request yesterday to Superior Court Judge William B. Keene, who said he would consider it.

Manson, bearded and long-haired, approached the bench with pad and pencil in hand and said, "Your honor, I am competent to stand and talk to you . . . I have the awareness to understand the charges against me and I have some knowledge of the law."

HIS DECLARATION

The soft-spoken defendant declared, "There is no way I can give up my own voice in this matter. If there is no way I can speak freely, it ties my hands and I might as well not have a defense."

Manson is charged along with four of his followers in the gunshot-stabbing deaths of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons at her rented Benedict Canyon estate Aug. 9.

All five also are accused in the knifing deaths the following night of wealthy Hollywood grocer Leno LaBianca and his wife, Rosemary. A sixth member of the Manson "family" is charged only in the LaBianca killings.

Manson was led into court for the specially convened hearing flanked by two attorneys, Luke McKissack, 32, and Lawrence Steinberg, 51. Court aides, and apparently McKissack and Steinberg anticipated merely a motion to substitute the private attorneys for the public defender's office as counsel for the defendant.

WOULD LIKE HELP

But Manson told Keene: "I would like to represent myself, and then I would like Mr. McKissack and Mr. Steinberg to help me if possible."

The court denied the request for the time being, saying, "This will require some interrogation by me to determine if Mr. Manson is capable of representing himself." Keene promised a decision Dec. 22, the date set for Manson's plea.

When Steinberg and McKissack objected to the delay on the decision, Manson said with a broad smile, "I think the judge has said what he has said. He is the man."

Indicted Mayor Says 'Business As Usual'

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio pledged "business as usual" today despite his indictment by a federal grand jury probing alleged official corruption in New Jersey's largest city.

Demands for the ouster of Addonizio and of other officials indicted yesterday on charges involving extortion and tax evasion drew this reply from Gov. Richard J. Hughes:

"New Jersey law does not authorize removal of a public official because he is under indictment."

Addonizio made it clear he had no intention of resigning.

The indictments allege extortion of $253,000 from the engineering firm of Constrad, Inc., a contractor on various city projects, including sewer construction and urban renewal.

The indictments contained 65 counts alleging each of the 15 defendants obtained payments of $500 to $37,000 from Constad, Inc.

The mayor surrendered about an hour after the indictments and was released on $25,000 bail by Judge Robert F. Shaw of U.S. District Court who ordered the mayor's travel restricted to New Jersey. The mayor is to be arraigned before Shaw tomorrow.

The indictments resulted from one of three investigations U.S. Atty. Frederick B. Lacey has been conducting in New Jersey. The others are aimed at gambling and alleged links between the Mafia and the U.S. Internal Revenue Service in the state.

Two former New Jersey IRS officials have been indicted, and on Tuesday a federal grand jury in Newark indicted 55 persons, including alleged Mafioso Simone "Sam the Plumber" DeCavalcante, on charges connected with an alleged $20 million a year interstate gambling operation.

The Star Ledger, a Newark morning nwespaper, said in an editorial on the indictment of the city officials that "the best interests of the city would be served if those under a cloud of suspicion were to remove themselves from office."

The Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce urged "the legally constituted authorities to suspend these men from office immediately and until these grave charges are either proven or disapproved."

Addonizio, however, said he planned to continue governing the city on an "effective and efficient basis" with "business as usual."

Declining to comment on the charges against him, he said: "I will have my day in court."

Trestle Tragedy Fatal To Child

LIVERMORE (UPI) — Robert Peck, a 10-year-old Cub Scout from Hayward, died of multiple injuries yesterday—the second victim of a tragic outing which ended when four hikers jumped from a railroad trestle to avoid a freight train.

Scoutmaster Robert Morris, 34, Hayward, was killed in the 35-foot leap to the rocky creek bed Sunday.

Morris was leading his Cub pack of six boys across a trestle in the Niles Canyon area when the train approached as they were halfway across.

Morris, the Peck boy and two other youngsters leaped from the trestle while the other three boys scrambled onto the trestle's girders, clear of the train.

The two other jumpers, including Morris' 10-year-old son, are in serious condition.

Bank Reports $20 Counterfeit Bill

The Bank of Marin in San Rafael reported receiving a $20 counterfeit bill yesterday, according to San Rafael police.

The bill, which had been changed from a one dollar denomination to $20, has been turned over to the U.S. Secret Service, police said.

CONCERN

nity who would work with the police in setting up discussion groups with students and parents.

The Independent-Journal also should hire at least two black reporters, the report said. "Most of the committee felt that the press did not always deal honestly with issues of the school district," the report said. "But it was also expressed by the press that they often had difficulty getting information and that there was a lack of honesty from the administration.

"We felt since the press helps make up the Community Concerns Committee (Mill Valley Record editor Katherine S. Mills and I-J reporter Larry D. Hatfield were named members by Walton), these concerns could possibly be solved through the committee.

"One example of concern was the printing of young people's names (in reports on felony arrests). Another was the hiring of at least two black reporters by the major newspaper of Marin who can relate to the black community."

Problems are being caused in the schools, the report said, without explaining, because "social and economic oppression keeps people in their present living conditions without choice." Jackson explained that this meant that conditions, particularly economic, in Marin City force many people to live there whether they want to or not and some of the resulting problems are carried into the classroom.

Another concern was the district's taking over of the controversial free breakfast program from the Black Panthers. "It was felt that it was being handled capably by the Panthers who are a part of the community and because of political pressure put on the administration was taken out of their hands, thereby dehumanizing a segment of our community by suggesting they were incapable."

The report also expressed concern over the recent conviction of Panther captain George Gaines on a charge of disturbing the peace as a result of an incident with a white Sausalito woman at the breakfasts last spring.

Committee members emphasized that all members of the committee did not endorse all of the points raised or recommendations made but that the report was a summary of various concerns reported to different members of the panel by people in the community.

Other concerns voiced by the committee included:

The county board of education's overruling of several denials by the Sausalito school board of interdistrict transfer requests from parents wanting to take their children out of the district.

The lack of direct involvement in the community by Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy.

The need for presenting current events — as reported from all media ranging from the Black Panther paper to John Birch publications and from the Berkeley Barb to the Catholic Monitor and Wall Street Journal — in all classes as well as history.

The lack of "visible interest" in the work of the committee by the community.

Members of the panel, which recommended that it be expanded and continued, included Brian Beard of Marin City, Alfred and Susan Lowry of Mill Valley, Lenita Thomas of Marin City and Jackson, Mrs. Mills and Hatfield. It was chaired by Dr. Edward Shev who is a consultant to the Sausalito Police Department.

New Jersey Is Decommissioned

The veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the war in Vietnam will be mothballed in the Naval Inactive Ship Maintenance Facility at Bremerton.

Her last duty was 152 days of support of ground troops in Vietnam, and she was being prepared at Long Beach for more duty there Aug. 21 when the Defense Department said she was to be decommissioned as an economy move.

GOP

ocrat Ralph Yarborough and Republican John Tower, are feuding over Republican efforts to throw Democrats out of two U.S. marshal jobs and a U.S. attorney's post. Republicans have been nominated for the jobs but Yarborough is blocking Senate action on all three.

Yarborough's nephew, Richard B. Hardee, holds the $24,450 job as U.S. attorney for the eastern district of Texas, and the senator contends he was named for a four-year term that does not expire until 1972. Tower argues that marshals and U.S. attorneys serve at the president's pleasure.

With Morganthau's ouster, 84 of the 93 U.S. attorneys would have been replaced with Nixon appointees.

Among Democratic holdovers in high places are two prominent members of the State Department. Sargent Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President Kennedy, is still U.S. ambassador to France, and Ellsworth Bunker remains as ambassador to South Vietnam. There has been no hint of any plans to replace either man.

At the Pentagon almost half the 29 top ranking civilians were held over from Democratic administrations, and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has even promoted several.

Nixon and Laird have moved more slowly than either Kennedy or Dwight D. Eisenhower in shaking up the Pentagon. To preserve continuity in wartime, Stanley S. Resor has been continued as Secretary of the Army, Robert C. Moot as Pentagon budget director and Dr. John S. Foster Jr. as research director.

Other departments, Labor and Post Office, for example, have been swept quite clean of Democrats in top brackets, and many of the independent agencies are wholly in Republican hands.

Still, said Flemming, he is deluged with requests for jobs that don't exist. He estimates there are only 150 positions left at the noncareer level, where political appointments can be made, while 1,000 to 1,500 letters a week pour into his office.

Flemming, whose White House office is a clearance point for the agency heads, who do the actual hiring, works closely with another presidential assistant, Peter M. Flanagan, and with Howard Russell, patronage aide to Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton.

Their work has largely stilled public complaints from GOP job seekers, but it took time.

FAMILY

One elderly man came with his wife and a paper bag full of food. He told Huskey: "I'm a laborer too. . .God made this green earth for us to share and I want to share with you."

Among those offering help today was Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla restaurant in Sausalito. Offering $1,000 toward payment on a new home, for the Huskeys, Miss Stanford said, "It's a helluva thing in this affluent society to have a family with five kids out in the cold like that. Government's got money to offer every nitwit for every kind of nonsense, but not for a thing like this."

Mrs. Huskey views yesterday as the turning point in the family's 10 months of bad luck and she voiced optimism that the family soon will find a permanent home at the $150 a month rent they can afford.

But, first they have to buy a car. Theirs broke down Tuesday, worn out in their continuing search for a house.

"I know we'll find a house. . .after yesterday. It was beautiful. . .So many people, rich and poor, all kinds of people caring. . ."

crease within the past few weeks.

However, his apparent lack of confidence in figures raises questions about the validity of claims that infiltration has gone up or down in any given period.

Working level officers long have indicated in private conversations they have little faith in infiltration figures.

They place greater relience on estimates of the number of enemy who have entered South Vietnam, as distinguished from those who are in the infiltration pipeline.

But obviously, based on the dramatically changed estimates of enemy manpower in South Vietnam as of a year ago, even these statistics on "order of battle" appear suspect.

Estimates of the extent of the enemy's presence in South Vietnam are made in large part following questions of enemy prisoners, identification of enemy units in the battle area and analysis of captured documents, as well as from such sources as agents.

Also reconnaissance planes and certain types of sensors scattered along the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos give a reasonable picture of truck movements.

Sources in Saigon reported yesterday North Vietnamese truck activity along the Ho Chi Minh Trail was four times heavier in October than in November and it is still increasing.

Trucks carry ammunition and supplies with most infiltrators walking to South Vietnam in a journey that takes some three months, according to expert opinion.

Experienced officers acknowledged it is very difficult to gauge the number of men moving on foot in small parties along many different routes.

Especially questionable are estimates of the number of men who may pass through the entire pipeline into South Vietnam because some North Vietnamese soldiers moving South are diverted into central and northern Laos for operations there.

out, the combination he described would total $6.6 billion in lost revenues, which is more than the $5.9 billion budget surplus the Budget Bureau predicts for the fiscal year ending next June.

No one speaking for the administration has specifically predicted a deficit, but a member of the Federal Reserve Board, J. Dewey Daane, said last month a sizable one could occur if the income surtax isn't extended, the 7 per cent investment tax credit isn't repealed and spending goes over the $192.9 billion ceiling.

The surtax and investment credit repeal are in the tax reform bill.

In his letter, Nixon said consumer prices are firmly tied to government spending and consumer confidence to a belief the "government will maintain its commitment to a responsible fiscal policy."

Three hours after the letter was released, the House voted Nixon and the Federal Reserve Board the power to impose sweeping anti-inflationary controls over all forms of credit.

OBITUARIES

Rev. O. A. Robertson Dies At 57

Funeral for Rev. O. A. (Bob) Robertson, 57, former pastor of the Southern Marin Assembly of God Church, was held today at the Eggan and Lance mortuary, Santa Rosa. Burial was at Santa Rosa Memorial Park.

Rev. Robertson died Tuesday at a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness. A native of San Jose, he had been pastor of the Calvary Assembly of God Church, Santa Rosa, for three years.

He served as pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Sausalito from 1952 to 1957. The church has since relocated to Mill Valley.

Rev. Robertson was a graduate of the Glad Tidings Bible Institute of San Francisco and has served as an evangelist and as a pastor in Salinas.

He is survived by his wife, Frances E.; two daughters, Constance Robertson of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Jewell Morris of Salinas; two sisters, Ruth G. Sander and Hildegard Snyder of San Jose; and two brothers, Ralph H. Robertson of Seattle, Wash. and Donald E. Robertson of Sacramento.

Contributions may be made to the O. A. Robertson Memorial Fund, Calvary Assembly of God Church, 1257 Valerie Way, Santa Rosa.

HOWARD MAKELIM

Funeral for Howard Grant Makelim of Santa Rosa, father of Mrs. E. J. Frideger of San Anselmo, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Welti Mortuary, Santa Rosa. Private entombment will be in Chapel of the Chimes, Santa Rosa.

Makelim, 85, died Tuesday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness.

A native of Michigan, he had lived in Sonoma County for the past 25 years.

He was the retired owner of a San Francisco automotive electrical company.

He was a 50-year member of the Automobile Old Timers Club and past president of the American Bloodhound Club.

He also is survived by his wife, Hazel; a second daughter, Dorothy Edouart of Newport Beach, Orange County, and 10 grandchildren.

His family asked that memorial contributions go to the Heart Association or to donor's favorite charity.

LILLIAN MAURICE

Lillian Maurice, amateur artist and musician, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 75.

A native of Shrewsbury, Shropshire County, England, Mrs. Maurice came to this country in 1914 settling in Milwaukee, Wis., where she resided until moving to Fairfax 10 years ago.

For the last two years she has lived with her son, Charles L. Maurice, chairman of the Art Department at San Rafael High School, at 160 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley.

She was a member of Fairfax Women's Club.

Other survivors include two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund are preferred by the family.

WARDELL BURR

Burr had collapsed at the kitchen table while writing Christmas cards and death was apparently due to natural causes, according to the Sonoma County coroner's office.

A native of Kilingworth, Conn., he had been employed as an accountant for 50 years with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. After his retirement he lived in St. Petersburg, Fla., and moved to Petaluma four years ago.

His wife, Mary, died Dec. 7. Burr was a member of the United Methodist Church of Petaluma.

He is survived by three daughters, Phyllis Ann Lando of San Francisco, Sabrina Sanders of Weatherfield, Conn., and Clarinda Philips of Clinton, N.Y.; seven grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Private inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

DANNY STEWARD

The boy, Danny Lee Steward, died in the hospital emergency room at 1:27 p.m. after being rushed from his home at 47 Woodland Avenue, apartment 10, the county coroner's office said.

The coroner said the child had suffered seizures a year ago after falling from his crib.

The child, born in Merced, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steward and a brother, Robert.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, with burial in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

GIUSEPPINA ZARO

Giuseppina Zaro, 72, of San Rafael, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long issuess.

Mrs. Zaro, a native of Lonate Pozzolo, Italy, had lived in California and in Marin for 43 years, her last residence being at 5 Wood Street, San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, Carlo Zaro of the home; a son, Eraldo Zaro of Mill Valley, three grandchildren, and two sisters and a brother in Italy. She was a member of Branch 24, Catholic Ladies Aid Society.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, in the mission chapel. Burial will be private. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Mission Chapel of St. Raphael's Church. Friends may call until 5 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Board In Cautious Tax Increase Role

Caution kept a tight rein last night, while San Rafael Board of Education members discussed a possible tax rate increase election that may be held before next July.

Repeatedly stressing determination to have firm, factural fiscal information for the taxpaying voters, the board members refused even to set an election date, much less approve staff predictions as to how much money the high school and elementary districts need in coming years.

Instead, board chairman Herman L. Childress sent Supt. John F. Plank and Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte "back to the old Ouija board" to answer questions raised by board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. and others.

Plank and Condrotte last night had already drafted one revised presentation, after the board raised questions a week earlier about their predictions of district needs and incomes.

As presented last night, Condrotte's figures estimated local tax income for the high school district at $3,370,533 for fiscal 1968-69, but dropping to $3,357-, 396, next year. This was sharply questioned, and Condrotte revised the 69-69 figure to $3,221,-000.

The board also wanted spending and income specifics to back Condrotte's predictions of deficits of $267,138 for 1970-71 and $401,310 the next year in the high schools, and $176,107 and $475,779 in the elementary district, if tax rates don't go up.

The board also wants to await the report due Jun. 13 from its citizens advisory committee. Don R. Wellington, chairman of that group's budget finance subcommittee, last night told the board that he is attempting to prepare a coast-per-pupil chart on the predictions for the district through fiscal 1971-72. He hopes to have the figures ready for the board's Dec. 23 meeting.

"We'd better be prepared" with figures to support the proposed tax rate maximum increase "or we haven't a ghost of a chance," Childress asserted. "I have a feeling we'd better practice these projections on our wives" until they are perfectly logical, Kramer said as he bored in on apparent inconsistencies in the predictions.

Board members also were worried about a propitious election day.

The earliest possible date, if the board voted next week to go ahead, would be March 17 — "Saint Patrick's Day, and I don't know if any Irishman would be unhappy," quipped Plank. If the board waits for the citizens report, April 7 would be the earliest feasible date; putting it off to April 14 would place the tax rate ballot the day before federal and state income tax deadline and four days after the April 10 deadline for local property taxes.

Either date might be bad psychologically, board members worried. But if the ballot were delayed as late as the June 2 statewide general election, next year's budget would be against the wall in terms of timing.

The board decided to wait at least for next week's re-revised fiscal predictions before wrestling further with the problem.

Reagan Told Boycott By Chavez Fails

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's farm advisers have told him the national boycott against California table grapes has failed and Reagan commented, "I'm delighted."

"The boycott has been a costly nuisance, but it has not been a success," said Allan Grant, president of the state Board of Agriculture and also president of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

At the same meeting, the advisory board agreed yesterday to conduct an information campaign in support of national farm labor legislation that — they hope — would protect growers against strikes at harvest time.

A GRAPE EATER

In expressing support for the growers, Reagan told the board meeting, "I've probably eaten more grapes during the past year than ever."

The boycott has been led by Cesar Chavez, head of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, in an effort to force big grape growers to recognize his union as a collective bargaining agent for farm laborers.

Chavez told a news conference at the University of Oregon Tuesday that his union was winning the boycott against growers in the San Joaquin Valley, one of the world's richest farm areas, and neighboring desert valleys.

'MATTER OF TIME'

"It's just a matter of time, now," Chavez said in Oregon.

But Grant told Reagan, who had been home in bed with a touch of flu most of the day, "I can say unequovically, the boycott has failed."

He added, "I cant' say it has not been costly."

Later, Grant declined to estimate the loss.

Holiday Present To Teachers In San Rafael: 1.9 Pct. Pay Hike

San Rafael high school and elementary teachers have a 1.9 per cent raise to pad their Christmas stockings.

The San Rafael Board of Education voted 4-0 last night, with member Paul L. Jones absent, to give the raise agreed on with the district teachers' negotiating committee. It was retroactive to the beginning of the school year, to go on top of the 6 per cent raise agreed on at budget time.

Board member John C. Pfeiffer, who along with Supt. John F. Plank represented the board in the negotiations, recalled last night that the teachers originally sought a 15 per cent hike, later adjusted the request to 10 per cent, and eventually agreed to a 6 per cent figure pending the adjustment that took place last night.

The negotiating committee had asked for 2.5 per cent when the adjusted districts' state income figures came in this fall, but acceded to board efforts to hold the high school district's reserves as near $100,000 as possible.

Total budget adjustments voted last night leave the high school district with $86,546 and the elementary district with $245,396 undistributed reserves remaining. The board was able to restore funds for a number of programs cut out of the original budget, because state income outpaced earlier predictions.

Adjustments included $18,000 for bus transportation in the elementary district and $12,000 in the high schools; and insurance premiums of $5,612 for the elementary and $9,621 for the high schools.

The teacher raises total $46,-359 in the elementary district and $46,930 in the high schools, according to Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte. Other budget changes to finance substitute and overtime clerical and custodial help, outdoor education classes already functioning and more single-session kindergartens, contract with KQED and to add a reading resource teacher for one half year brought the total elementary district additions to $80,711.

The teacher raises were warmly received by most of the 12-person audience — mostly teachers — and Pfeiffer and board chairman Herman L. Childress praised the cooperation of the teachers negotiating committee. Committee members said they liked the ability to communicate informally with board spokesmen at negotiating sessions.

Donald R. Wellington, chairman of the budget finance subcommittee of the board's citizen advisory group cautioned:

"A very important party is getting left out — the party that foots the bill." He added, "negotiating sessions are great," but the taxpayer must be considered. "Let the people in," he cautioned, otherwise, "they'll let the board know with a little X in a box."

"We certainly do not want to hold anything back from the taxpayer or the general public," assured Childress.

Teachers also raised the question of adjusting pay in the adult school program, and were told to make their aims known to the teachers' negotiating committee.

Chrysler Boss Sees Slight Drop In '70

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler board chairman Lynn Townsend predicted today 1970 sales of new cars will be "strong but not quite as strong as 1968 and 1969."

In his annual year-end statement, Townsend said the sales outlook for the year immediately ahead was "far from clear."

"It would be difficult to select any year-end period in the past when the prospects for the coming year were harder to assess, or when conditions affecting the automobile industry were more complex or more unpredictable," Townsend said.

He refused to join the heads of the other Big Three auto companies in setting a figure on possible sales. Last week Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. predicted 1970 sales between 9 million and 9.5 million, including imports, and yesterday General Motors board chairman James M. Roche predicted they would range from 9.2 million to 9.5 million units.

Townsend pointed out that it now takes about 7 million cars a year just to replace those being scrapped, and that about 300,000 young persons each month become old enough to drive and own an automobile.

But he pointed to tight money conditions and a general mood of uneasiness about the future among the car-buying public as negative factors.

He said that if some of the strictures of the economy were removed, 1970 sales could be better than those in 1969, "and with a combination of unfavorable developments, they could be worse."

But he predicted that in the decade ahead, the auto industry would reach sales of 15 million cars and trucks a year, compared with about 11.5 million this year. Worldwide, he said, car and truck sales should approach 40 million by 1980 compared with 30 million at the present time.

Closed Talks On Evaluation Of Employees

Trustee Glen E. Twitchell said the closed session was to "evaluate" an employee, but said there were no charges pending against the employee. He noted the employee was not a teacher.

The Brown Act allows closed meetings only to hire or fire, or to hear charges against an employee or officer, and, in the case of school trustees, to instruct staff on salary negotiations.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff, who was not present at the closed session, said it lasted about half an hour.

Twitchell told the Independent-Journal that no decisions were made at the session.

In open session, trustees postponed to their Jan. 12 meeting a decision on accepting a bid to lease the old Lagunitas School building, which was abandoned 13 months ago as unsafe under the Field Act. The act sets standards for earthquake safety in school buildings.

Two bids to lease the school were received, and trustees urged the two bidders to consider a joint lease.

The two were Jean Berensmeier, who bid $1 a day per classroom used, and the Montessori School of San Rafael, which bid on a sliding scale over a five-year period.

The Federal Communications Commission was established in 1934.

Marin Young Republicans In Revival

The Marin County chapter of the Young Republicans, moribund for almost two years after a bitter split in the last primary election, was resurrected last night with election of new officers.

Robert J. Murphy of San Anselmo was elected as president, Peter Brekhus of Greenbrae as vice president, Carol Gallagher of Novato as secretary, and Richard Hippard of San Rafael as treasurer.

Murphy is a former legislative aide to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and now is an attorney with Bagley's San Rafael law firm.

The chapter endorsed Bagley's opponent in the 1968 primary, Clay Barham, former assistant to San Rafael cosmetics tycoon William Penn Patrick.

Mrs. Gallagher was president of the chapter during the primary fight.

Murphy reported that the members, meeting at Grekhus' home, adopted a new constitution "designed to promote Republican unity." It bans endorsement of any candidate in a contested primary election without unanimous approval of the chapter's directors, he reported.

The document also bars "position papers" by the group.

Parents Recruited In Pot War

By FRANK FARRARA

Shoreline Unified School District trustees last night called for parent cooperation to halt marijuana smoking by Tomales High School students.

Tomales High is a handsome new building in rolling ranch land far from the urban drug scene, but marijuana has marred that rural scene, and trustees faced up to it last night.

Residents of small towns such as Marshall, Inverness, Bodega Bay, Point Reyes Station and Tomales gathered to tackle the marijuana problem that has plagued the big cities and the suburbs.

The gathering came less than a week after District Supt. Charles E. McCully suspended 20 Tomales High School students for use of marijuana.

Trustees backed McCully's action, and there was applause when a resident said McCully should be commended.

Board President Robert Giacomini said McCully "did a hell of a job" in stopping marijuana use before it became more widespread.

McCully said it became apparent to him about three weeks ago "there was a problem in the use of drugs by students in this district. I could have turned my head and pretended it wasn't going on, or I could take some action, and I chose to take action."

McCully said the "drug problem didn't reach this point over the last six weeks, the last two months or a year," but during the past three years.

Tomales High School was "on the verge of becoming the center for the flow of drugs, the transportation of drugs by students," he asserted.

After reports from students and residents that the problem was worse than he thought it was, he began to gather information, he said.

Students gave the information voluntarily and there was "self-admission" of marijuana smoking, he reported.

"There was no intent to place a record on any individual student, and it wasn't an attempt to build a legal case, but an attempt to build a parent case."

The aim, McCully said, "was to bring awareness to the parents and the community that the problem is here."

He said drug use at the high school "is still less than 10 per cent" as compared to "40 to 60 to 70 per cent" in other high schools in the state.

Some of the students suspended were trying marijuana for the first time, a few had been smoking it for three years and several had been smoking it for about a year, McCully reported. One student also has used LSD and methadrine, he said.

Most of the suspended students will return to school by the end of this week, and all will be back by Jan. 5, McCully said.

The support of students, staff and parents will be needed to meet the problem, he said.

"Without the help of parents, we can't move one inch, "McCully asserted. "Maybe we have caught it in the bud and we want to keep it from going farther; in fact, reduce it."

Hal Evans of Marshall pledged the cooperation of a group of six residents who "want to start the ball rolling" toward a program to meet the drug abuse problem.

Another resident, representing parents in the Point Reyes-Inverness Park area, asked board cooperation with their group "to stop the flow of marijuana in and around" the high school.

Trustee LeRoy Erickson felt the district has to take a firm stand on use of marijuana, which he pointed out is illegal.

McCully said if there were a second violation by a student, "there would be a little more severe action taken."

He said he "has reason to believe the source was from outside the district."

This led one resident to comment: "It has to come from outside, you can't grow it out here where its so damn foggy," and there was general laughter.

Giacomini said the problem is not unique, but that the district has a superintendent who was willing to dig into it. In other districts, superintendents are "afraid they would have to kick out 60 to 70 per cent of the school," he asserted.

Giacomini criticized parents who don't know where their children are, what they're doing or where they're going.

"Students have to be led to some extent. You just can't turn them loose, and I hope the school district is trying to teach them right from wrong as far as the use of narcotics," he said.

McCully said he didn't have a specific answer to the problem, but suggested that the district study drug abuse programs that have been successful in other districts, and consider a program for parents.

Donald E. Whitney of Tomales suggested that the district consider consulting the residents of Synanon House in Marshall, an organization which houses drug addicts.

McCully pointed out that conferences were held this past weekend with parents of suspended students, and he conceded "that some people weren't exactly happy with the way it was handled."

One of the parents in teh audience said he felt the crackdown was necessary and "handled pretty well," but some of his son's rights were violated. He advised against using a scare technique or threats, and advocated using a "good program" on drug abuse.

If the district's program isn't good, "they're going to laugh at you," he said.

After the meeting the board went into a closed session on hiring, and the residents gathered in small groups in the hallway and the district office to talk about youth and marijuana.

Shoreline Trustees Eye Synanon Future

Shoreline Unified School District trustees were advised last night to follow closely reported plans of Synanon to develop a city of 20,000 population at Marshall.

A member of the audience warned of the impact such a development would have on the district, particularly since Synanon has qualified as a tax-exempt organization.

If there were 20,000 persons in the proposed city, and Synanon not paying taxes it would put a burden on the district, he said.

Board President Robert Giacomini said trustees were aware of the implications such development would have for the district, but hadn't yet tackled the matter.

Shoreline Unified School District Also:

CAR RULES—Adopted regulations on use of cars and motorcycles by students, which prohibit use during the lunch period unless the parents sign a release request and it is approved by the Tomales High School office. The rules also designate the parking lot as off-limits during school hours.

FINAL PAYMENT — Authorized final payment of $93,859 to Olson and Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa for construction of the new Tomales High School, with about $9,000 to be withheld pending completion of punch list items.

ADULT EDUCATION — Heard a report from Supt. Charles E. McCully that the Marin Junior College District is interested in offering adult education courses in the district, and a questionnaire is being sent out to determine interest for having classes for 12 weeks starting March 30.

GIFTS — Accepted as a gift a generator for West Marin School from C. B. Gearhart of Point Reyes Station, and expressed appreciation to Sanderson Ford-Mercury Sales of Petaluma for loan of a pickup for the agriculture department at Tomales High School and to Pelline Chevrolet Co. for loan of a car for the high school homecoming.

TEACHERS ORGANIZATION — Officially recognized the Shoreline Education Association as the organization representing teachers. McCully said the association had 50 members, representing 96 per cent of the teaching staff.

CLOSED SESSION — Went into closed session to discuss the hiring of a teacher.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is at 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the District Office, John Street, Tomales.

East German Boss In Bonn Overture

BONN, Germany (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East German president and Communist Party chief, sent a message today to President Gustav Heinemann of West Germany, apparently setting the stage for a new dialogue between the two Germanys.

It was the first such contact between the heads of state of the two countries since November 1951, when Presidents Wilhelm Pieck of East Germany and Theodor Heuss of West Germany exchanged letters.

Unruh Raps Land Sale To Reagan Appointee

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's office had no direct comment yesterday on reports that one of his appointees bought a 29-acre tract of land and 50 homes at Lake Oroville for half the appraised value.

Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh, a candidate for governor, said earlier that the Republican governor should tell Californians why the official was allowed to bid on the land.

The winning bid was submitted by Roger Carl Chandler, 43, a Yuba City real estate man who now holds a $25,000-a-year post on the California Youth Authority Board.

Unruh said the sale showed "at best, monumentally poor judgment by an administration supposedly dedicated to economy in government."

Asked for comment, Ed Gray, Reagan's associate press secretary, said, "Our only comment on the Unruh statement would be: Sounds like politics by a man who apparently doesn't have enough to do'."

Gray was asked if the press office had any comment on the reports about the land sale itself and he said no.

Meanwhile, the State General Services Department denied a statement by one of the unsuccessful bidders for the property—used by state workers during construction of the dam—that he was not permitted to bid on the same basis as Chandler.

Milton Harmon of Sacramento said his bid would have been $279,802, or $3,464 higher than Chandler's if it had been considered on the same basis as Chandler's.

This would have included a $28,886 "bonus" submitted under one of Harmon's bids.

H. C. Vincent Jr., chief land agent for the General Services Department, said Chandler bid in two ways: one series of bids listing each parcel of land and a bid for the entire property. The second, lump-sum bid was $28,886 higher than the total of the separate bids, Vincent said, and Harmon thus argued that it should be considered a "bonus" bid which would apply to the separate parcel bid sequence.

Vincent said Harmon "did come in and discuss his contention in the department. We did offer him the opportunity to discuss it directly with the director. He so did."

But Vincent said the department's attorney held that the bid could not be considered in the method Harmon wanted because it was not submitted on that basis.

The Redding Record-Searchlight reported Tuesday that Vincent's statements about the sale conflicted with records that showed Vincent gave Golden Oaks College a full week to come up with a cash bond after the bid opening and questioned whether Harmon shouldn't have received the same consideration.

Vincent said yesterday there was no negotiation of any sort with the college because "it was our contention that they had no bid."

Unruh contended in his statement that the sale amounted to "an almost instant profit to Chandler of a quarter of a million dollars." He said he would introduce legislation to prevent state officials from bidding on surplus state property.

Alien Reports Due In January

Aliens in the United States are required to report their addresses to the nearest Immigration Office or Post Office during January, the Department of Justice announced today.

The only persons excused from reporting addresses are accredited diplomats and persons authorized by certain international organizations.

Information concerning naturalization is also available at both locations.

32-YEAR POSTAL CAREER

From Rail Car Job To Postmaster

By ALAN JONES

From Kansas City, Mo., to Corte Madera, and from the now-vanished railroad mail cars to the postmaster's office. That sums up the 32-year postal career of Edward J. Victor, newly retired after more than 16 years as Corte Madera's postmaster.

Victor was honored Monday night by the Corte Madera Town Council with a resolution of commendation for his service.

The postmaster missed this year's Christmas mail rush by retiring Oct. 31, but the timing had nothing to do with the season. By retiring before Nov. 1 he took advantage of a change in pension plans linked to the cost of living, which made a 4 per cent difference in his retirement income.

Victor spent his first Christmas with the post office in Kansas City, where he signed on as a substitute in May 1937. He worked in the postal transportation service in the Kansas City terminal. The transportation service was considered elite, he said. Beginning substitutes there earned 75 cents an hour, compared with 65 cents for substitutes in the regular post office.

When World War II came, Victor went to New London, Conn., and got his mate's ticket there, then sailed with the merchant marine out of San Francisco.

The Victor family liked the area so well that after the war he applied for a transfer to the Bay Area in the postal service.

It meant a return to the bottom of the substitute list, but the transfer came through, and in a few months Victor was back on regular status.

For several years, he was clerk in charge of a three-man crew that rode the mail car from San Rafael to Eureka, sorting mail all the way. After a 45-minute layover, they made the return run to San Rafael, which meant the crew worked straight through from 4 p.m. until 7:15 or 7:30 the next morning.

After two round trips, the crew got three days off. The mail train work was pro-rated so that a work day of six hours, 25 minutes was considered the equivalent of an 8-hour day, Victor said.

The mail trains are gone now from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and in fact from the whole 12th district — California, Nevada, and the Pacific — Victor said.

After taking a Civil Service test for the post, Victor was appointed acting postmaster at Corte Madera on Sept. 30, 1953. They had to get someone else for his Oct. 1 run to Eureka.

Victor said the postal department as a whole is on the right track in efforts to move "the tremendous volume of mail built up over the last 10 years."

The only way to keep up with the flood, he said, will be more mechanization. If mail volume keeps growing at the same rate, it won't be possible to build big enough buildings for all the people needed to handle it manually in major cities, he said.

Mail volume has doubled in 10 years, he said.

Mechanization has been slowed, however, he said, by the limited budget the department has for experiments and development of new machines.

Some of the new machinery, he said, includes a Mark Two facer and canceler, which can handle 30,000 letters a minute. Another development is an automatic sorting machine, in which one operator can key mail from a console so it is dropped in the proper bin for California or New York.

This country's postal operation can't be compared with those of other nations. The U.S. handles more mail than the rest of the world put together, Victor said.

Victor plans to "relax for a couple of months," then perhaps take a part-time job until his wife Louise retires in July from her teaching job in the Larkspur School District.

"We'll play it by ear after that," he said. They plan to travel and cultivate their hobbies. "I'm a golfer and she paints, so we'll keep busy," he said.

Moon Rock On View In Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—A walnut size scrap of the moon went on display in Saigon today and hundreds turned out to see it.

Within minutes after the U.S. Information Agency's moon rock display opened, several hundred children and a few adults had passed through the hot, steamy room in which the small gray bit of the moon rested in its top-hat shaped plastic container.

The exhibit was on the second stop of a tour of Southeast Asia. In Bangkok, it drew about 1,000 persons an hour "and we expect about the same number here," said Robert Stirling of Tucson, Ariz., the USIA rock escort.

The female python lays about 100 eggs which she keeps warm with her body until hatched all the while going without food.

Marijuana Case Goes To Juvenile Court

The case of John Keats Thomson Jr., 19, of San Rafael, has been accepted by Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

Thomson, who is accused of possessing marijuana, was arrested Nov. 19 on Tiburon Boulevard when deputies stopped his car because it had only one tail light. The deputies said they found butts of what appeared to be pot in the car.

U.S. Vietnam Death Toll Near 40,000

SAIGON (AP) — American battlefield deaths in nine years of the Vietnam War will total more than 40,000 by Jan. 1 if the current rate continues.

The U.S. Command announced today that 85 Americans were killed in action last week, 15 less than the previous week. This raised the number of U.S. battlefield dead since Jan. 1, 1961 to 39,827.

For the past six weeks, the total of U.S. combat dead has averaged about 100, and there is no expectation that this will decrease substantially any time soon.

836 WOUNDED

The U.S. Command also reported 836 Americans wounded in action last week, a sizeable increase over the 592 wounded the week before. A total of 261,256 Americans have now been wounded in the war.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 421 government troops were killed in action last week, 10 more than the week before, and 1,436 government troops were wounded.

A spokesman said South Vietnamese casualties since Jan. 1, 1960, totals 97,541 killed and 216,128 wounded. The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed 2,396 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, a slight drop from the previous week's revised toll of 2,450. The U.S. casualty summary said allied forces now have killed at least 582,378 enemy troops since Jan. 1, 1961.

OVER MILLION

These summaries add up to a total of 1,197,130 troops killed or wounded on both sides of the war since Jan. 1, 1960.

In the northern Mekong Delta, meanwhile, where South Vietnamese infantrymen from the 9th Division clashed for the second day in a row with Viet Cong forces. This time the South Vietnamese reported killing 16 of the enemy 50 miles southwest of Saigon, with government casualties three killed and four wounded.

The day before the Viet Cong ambushed a 9th Division battalion in the same region, killed 20 men and wounded 63. Two Viet Cong dead were claimed.

The U.S. Command reported 14 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the night, but said casualties were light.

Forest Knolls Burglary Charge Is Dismissed

Wagner had been arrested Nov. 30 outside Larry's Market in Forest Knolls when sheriff's deputies answered a silent burglar alarm.

Georgia Board Of Education Hit With Integration Order

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A panel of three federal judges has ordered the Georgia Board of Education to terminate state funds to school districts which have not filed desegregation plans by March 1970.

The far-reaching decision yesterday also:

Defines an integrated school system as one in which 75 per cent of all pupils of a minority race are enrolled in integrated facilities.

Requires the state board with the assistance of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), to process and review all school desegregation plans in the state before April 1, 1970.

Directs the state board, in cases where desegregation plans are not in compliance with court standards, to insure compliance by May 1, 1970.

Orders each of the desegregation plans fully implemented by Sept. 1, 1970.

The decision was believed to be the first in the nation placing the responsibility for school desegregation at the state level. In the past, such action has been directed at local boards with the possible cutoff of federal school funds used as the prime method of enforcement.

It also marked the first time a federal court has designated specific standards for school desegregation.

The decision by U.S. Dist. Court Judges Sidney O. Smith Jr., Newell Edenfield and Albert Henderson Jr. came on a Justice Department suit filed last August.

The suit, seeking state-enforced integration of all Georiga schools, was the first ever filed by the federal government against a state. It followed an announced shift in school desegregation enforcement from HEW to the Justice Department.

PROBE FATAL STORE FIRE

Authorities in Mexicali, Mexico, inspect the ground floor ruins of the three-story La Estrella Azul department store in which seven persons died and 11 othere were injured in a Tuesday night blaze. Damage has been placed at more than $1 million in what officials call the worst disaster in Mexicali's history. The fire was blamed on fumes from paint thinner which ignited display window lights, causing a violent explosion. (AP Wirephoto)

Tax Reform Conferees Set To A $6.5 Billion In Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Provisions worth about $6.5 billion in either increased benefits or tax cuts appear certain to be missing from the tax reform bill that finally emerges from a House-Senate conference committee.

The 14-member committee has finished most of its work on the measures's reform provisions and hopes to complete action on the rest of the bill by tonight.

In an effort to compromise the differences between the House and Senate versions, versions, and head off a threatened presidential veto, the conferees apparently are set to delete at least nine provisions from the Senate bill while compromising other additions passed by that chamber.

However the apparently doomed provisions do not include the proposal to increase the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $300. Although opposed by the Nixon administration, this is expected to remain in the bill, probably in reduced and postponed terms, in view of strong support in the House.

An annual tax credit up to $325 for college expenses. It would cost $1.8 billion a year.

Deductions by handicapped persons for special cost of getting to work, $90 million.

A special increase to $100 of the minimum Social Security monthly payment—in addition to the 15 per cent general increase which appears sure of approval. The extra feature would cost $2 billion.

President Richard M. Nixon has said he would veto a bill that provided a 15 per cent boost in Social Security benefits and a $200 increase in the personal exemption.

A 7.50 a month increase in welfare payments; $150 million.

Continuation of the investment credit for the first $20,000 of annual investment by a company; $720 million, and continuation of the credit for investments in depressed areas; $70 million.

Caroling Party Is Scheduled Tonight

The annual Christmas caroling party of the Homestead Valley Community Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Brown's Hall and was not held last night as erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent Journal.

Carolers will assemble at the Homestead School at 7 o'clock and stroll carrying candles and singing to the hall where refreshments will be served.

Wounded Policeman Switches Hospitals

Vilho Ahola, the Petaluma policeman shot on duty Nov. 7, has been transferred to a new hospital for more intensive therapy for his paralyzed legs.

Ahola, who had been a patient at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital, has been moved to the Oak Knoll Section of the Community Hospital of Sonoma County where more rehabilitation therapy is available.

Ahola suffered a gunshot wound of the neck which left him completely paralyzed, but he has since regained the use of his arms, back and torso. While he reports some feeling in his toes, his legs remain paralyzed.

The officer overcame two infections after the emergency surgery to remove a .25 caliber bullet lodged against the spinal cord.

His accused assailant, Walter Lee Hale, 52, is awaiting a Feb. 16 jury trial in Sonoma County Superior Court. Ahola had been helping Hale's estranged wife, Helen, remove personal items from her home at 718 I Street when the incident occurred.

Stanford Co-Ed Attacked, Beaten

STANFORD (UPI)—A 24-year-old Stanford co-ed was in fair condition today after being raped and beaten near the main entrance to the campus.

The victim, a graduate student in language, was riding her bicycle from Palo Alto to the school Tuesday evening when a man jumped out at her, threw a blue quilted jacket over her face and dragged her into the nearby bushes.

She told police she was raped and then beaten by her assailant, whom she described as white, about 30, about six feet tall and 190 pounds with close-cropped hair.

KITCHEN TREAT FOR UNUSUAL PET

Little Danny Hampton of Chadds Ford, Pa., watches Perry the opossum lick a spoon held by Mrs. Hampton. The marsupial was found injured beside a road, nursedy by the Hamptons and turned loose — but refused to return to the wilds. It now sleeps beneath a rocker most of the day and roams the house at night. It even shares a food dish with the family cat. (AP Wirephoto)

Pesticide Restrictions Are Studied

Use of pesticides will come under more restrictions and stricter enforcement from next month, two state officials warned yesterday at a gathering of about 30 pest control operators at Civic Center.

Marin Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard, who presided at the meeting, said the state officials explained the new regulations that will go into effect in January. Speakers were Rex Magee, senior analyst, and Jose Joseph Shoemaker, program supervisor for crops and agricultural chemicals, State Department of Agriculture.

Legislation passed this year strictly limits the use of DDT, and requires detailed reports from pest control operators, said Ballard. "The aim is to record what types of spray material are being used in what quantities in which locations," he added. "This is because of the danger of environmental pollution."

Beginning Jan. 1, each agricultural application of pesticide must be reported to the agricultural commissioner. In Marin, almost all pest control work is on residences. Pest control operators who work on residence will make monthly reports to the state instead of reporting each spray application separately, said Ballard.

Disposal of pesticide containers is also strictly controlled. In Southern Marin, containers must go to Richmond, and in the rest of the county, discarded containers are taken to the Redwood Sanitary fill dump, north of Novato, Ballard explained.

Pollution Measures Hit; Signature Cuts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A statewide drive to qualify two air pollution control measures for the 1970 ballot has been set back by huge cuts in the numbers of signatures on initiative petitions.

The cuts were made by county clerks checking the signatures against voter records. The deadline for the counties to certify their counts to the secretary of state's office was yesterday.

With only a handful of small counties yet to report, the totals reported by Asst. Secty. of State H. P. Sullivan were 152,922 on the petition for the first measure, and 149,240 for the second.

The first, a constitutional amendment putting the cost of eliminating pollution on the sources instead of on taxpayers and consumers, needs 525,276. The second, a statute revision giving polluters five years to end pollution, needs 325,173.

The chairman of the campaign, Edwin A. Koupal of Los Angeles, had reported last month that almost 300,000 signatures were gathered on each petition statewide. He predicted that 18 to 20 per cent would be disqualified for failure to match voter records.

Sullivan's office did not have a count of the total number of signatures filed with county clerks for verification.

Koupal's group, the People's Lobby, is using the 60-day supplementary period in a scramble to gather the rest of the signatures. These supplementary petitions must be filed with the county clerks by Jan. 26.

In Marin, more than one third of the signatures collected were disqualified, with the number of valid signatures totaling 3,171 on the amendment and 3,365 on the statute.

Chairman of the Marin campaign is Mrs. E. P. Franklin of Fairfax.

City's Sleuths Seeking Stenches

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Sanitation inspectors have been ordered to find the source of noxious odors which have enveloped parts of the city in recent weeks.

Dr. Ellis Sox, city health director, said yesterday slaughter houses and rendering plants in the Butchertown area may be responsible, but a combination of factors could be the cause of the unpleasant odors.

"We've had problems before with natural odors from the mud flats, exhaust fumes from automobiles and trains, and burning at the dumps," Sox said. "We'll just stand them (the inspectors) with their faces into the wind and find out what is causing the stink."

Hires Operators

Cycle Driver's Condition Poor From Collision

A 20-year-old San Anselmo man was reported in poor condition in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit with serious head injuries suffered when his motorcycle hit a car head-on yesterday on Lucas Valley Road near Thunder Ranch.

Robert Warren Gatson, of 462 Laurel Avenue, and a passenger, Lisa Munson, 15, of 14 Mount Susitna Court, San Rafael, were injured when their cycle crossed the center line and hit a car driven by Nicholas John Roberts, 31, of Wintergreen Terrace, San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said.

Miss Munson was under observation at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for a fractured finger and multiple cuts and bruises.

The patrol said prosecution of Gatson for felony drunken driving may be sought pending anlysis of blood samples taken at the hospital.

The mishap was at 5:15 p.m.

Belben New Head Of Gallinas Village CSD

The Gallinas Village Community Services District board last night elected Herbert C. Belben Jr. chairman for 1970, secretary Marguerite F. Clark reported.

The board also discussed plans for improvement of Rosal-Adrian Park as proposed by county planners.

Ecumenical Housing Sponsoring 280 Units

The Ecumenical Association for Housing, organized exactly one year ago, is sponsoring a total of 280 rental units for low and moderate income families, president Douglas P. Ferguson announced last night.

The association welcomed its 32nd member, Co-op-Marin, represented by Mrs. Edward (Jackie) Parnell of Tiburon.

Among housing projects underway, the most advanced are the 61 units which the First Congregational Church of Santa Venetia is sponsoring on Merrydale Road at North San Pedro Road in San Rafael. Rev. Francis Geddes reported that working drawings are one-third complete, and negotiations are under way with the builder.

Edwin Weed of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of Belvedere said rezoning hearings are proceeding before the Tiburon Planning Commission to allow moderate income housing at the Hilarita Housing Project. Weed said the preliminary drawings indicate a mixture of townhouses and apartments in clusters, interspersed with open space and greenbelts.

William Parnow of the Catholic Social Services agency reported that his board of directors has hired architects Kaplan and McLaughlin of San Francisco to proceed with preliminary plans and a feasibility study on 45 units of elderly housing at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

David Francis of Methodist Church of Mill Valley said his church, together with the Community Church of Mill Valley and three other churches, plan to sponsor 75 to 80 rental units at the Shelter Ridge Housing Project on the west side of Highway 101, south of the Mill Valley turnoff. Warner Odenthal is the developer.

Martin Mackey, executive director, announced that the annual business meeting and election of officers will be held Jan. 21 at 8 p.m. at Civic Center. Named to the nominating committee were Dean Weibel of Marin Lutheran Church, Ellen Wagner of Novato, and Neil B. Little Jr. of Sausalito.

Cong Tribunal Sentences Pair

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong tribunal, conducted on the outskirts of Saigon, sentenced one Vietnamese to death and another to five years in prison for serving as "henchmen and spies" for the United States, a Viet Cong radio broadcast said today.

The broadcast, by the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio, claimed 1,000 persons attended the trial Dec. 13 somewhere in the northern part of Long An Province, southwest of the capital.

It said Nguyen Van Tram, 31, was sentenced to death for hurling a grenade that killed a number of persons and Nguyen Van Tre, 29, was given a five-year sentence for serving as a government spy.

It's the holiday season, 1795. Jacob Beam and his family are buckboarding it around the Kentucky countryside. Chinning with the neighbors. Giving gifts. Jacob Beam is giving his closest friends a bit of himself. Some Beam Bourbon. It comes right from his own choicest grains. His own secret formula. And his secret knack for making the best-tasting, lightest Bourbon within a two days' ride. It's a rare gift, because Jacob never seems to be able to make enough to keep up with the demand.

Today, T. Jeremiah Beam, pictured here, makes Jim Beam Bourbon just like Jacob did, generations of Beams ago. And he's gift-wrapped it in a handsome holiday package. Give it to some of your friends and you'll sort of be doing what old Jacob did. You'll be giving a bit of yourself. And that's still the rarest gift of all. "World's finest Bourbon since 1795."

After 20 Years China Still A Nation Of Great Mystery

By FREDERICK NOSSAL

HONG KONG (TNS) — Twenty years after Mao Tse-tung founded the People's Republic, China remains the most remote and mysterious of all the great nations.

The enigmatic Middle Kingdom is less accessible to most foreigners than any other land on earth.

This year, two Americans landed on the moon a quarter of a million miles away, and the historic feat was watched by the whole world — except by the Chinese. Indeed to many in the West, the moon today must seem far more real than the puzzling nation that has locked itself away from the rest of mankind.

And yet the riddle of the Peking regime's behavior is easily explained. First of all, it is a reaction against the abuse and injustices piled upon China by more powerful nations last century and earlier this century.

Britain, Russia, France, Germany and Japan forced a weak China to give up territory and grant trading concessions harmful to its economy.

Secondly, by wrapping itself in a virtually impenetrable mantle of secrecy, China manges to hide many of the failures and frustrations of its revolution.

The Communist takeover in 1949 brought a great social, cultural, political and economic revolution to China, and there is not a shadow of a doubt that Mao's leadership has corrected numerous ills in the country.

But any experiment as ambitious and sweeping as the changes the Peking regime imposed upon the Chinese nation must lead also to abuses and to errors, to disenchantment and violent reactions among certain people.

China, 20 years after Mao Tse-tung's regime assumed power, is a nation of fantastic contrasts and contradictions. Mao can claim that as regards political power, his revolution has succeeded in that no other faction and no foreign nation has been able to unseat the Communist government in Peking.

But the very fact that earlier this decade some of his closest associates turned against Mao and his doctrines — following the economic failures of the Great Leap Forward — provides dramatic proof that many Chinese feel the revolution has not lived up to the initial promises made by its leaders.

Yet the basic causes for some of the setbacks lie as much with China's history and geography as with the men in Peking. China is a vast land, the second largest nation on earth after the Soviet Union. It straddles the Asian continent.

China reaches from the borders of Kazakhstan eastward almost as far as the Sea of Japan, from Siberia and Mongolia south to the Himalayan ice shield and to the jungles of Burma, Laos and Vietnam.

It is the most populous land on earth, with a population of between 700,000,000 and 800,000,000. Nobody is certain of the exact figure which is another of Peking's closely-kept secrets. Despite its size and its millions, China is not yet a very powerful nation by global standards.

Its military might is limited by economic factors. China has a small arsenal of nuclear weapons. But it does not have the means to create an ultra-modern army, navy and air force that could compete effectively with either the United States or the Soviet Union.

By world standards, China is not a big trader. Total annual trade both ways is around $4 billion — considerably less than one fifth of the total foreign trade of Canada, which has only about one fortieth of China's population.

The Peking regime's first 20 years divides readily into four distinct periods. The first is the years of the early 1950s when the Communists, flushed with victory, consolidate their national power.

They succeed in unifying China — in itself a great historic feat, for the country had been fragmented during most of this century by squabbling warlords, its economy ruined by Chiang's corrupt administration.

The world and particularly other Asian governments are dazzled by Peking's early triumphs. Mao and his more fanatic supporters become over-confident.

The second period begins with the creation of the rural communes in 1958, and the ill-fated Great Leap Forward. More than 500,000,000 Chinese peasants are lumped into about 26,000 administrative units called people's communes. The idea was to simplify and centralize Communist Party authority.

This was the third of the four distinct time spans, and it lasted from about 1961 until 1965. It is too late to do much about the Sino-Soviet split, and even the pro-Moscow factions in Peking admit that the Russians behaved abominably in withdrawing all foreign experts in a matter of weeks in 1960, and even taking away blueprints in order to sabotage industrial development and production in China.

During these years, Chairman Mao felt the leadership of the nation slipping from his hands. The economic situation in China improved, but in Mao's view the revolution had taken the wrong turning.

German Hotel Blaze Kills 3

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI) Fire swept through the five-story Hotel Albany early today, forcing guests to leap from windows.

Three persons were killed and 12 others, including two Americans, were injured.

One of the injured Americans was identified as Air Force Sgt. Timothy Spaccapelo, of Cleveland, Ohio. He suffered only cuts and bruises but was detained in a hospital for observation.

The other American was identified only as an airman from Torrejon Air Force Base in Spain. He too suffered cuts and bruises.

Marinwood Holiday Party Is Tomorrow

Marinwood's fourth annual community holiday party will be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the community center.

Besides a visit from Santa Claus, the program will include baton twirling by the Marinwood Marionettes, singing and dancing by the Marinwood Campfire Girls, ballet by the pupils of Madame Bovie, acrobatics and tap dancing by the Fields and Barker sisters and fire twirling.

Hare Quits 'Chairman In Exile' Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dr. Nathan Hare, the fired chairman of San Francisco State College's black studies department, has given up his role as "chairman in exile" to concentrate on scholarship. (See San Francisco State story, page 24.)

Hare issued a statement last night in which he said his best personal contribution to the black liberation movement could be as a scholar and social critic.

"We have failed to develop a viable ideology for black liberation," he said. "I have seen the black movement for liberation failing in this country, bit by bit."

"On the one hand, we have trained scholars with black skins secluded in the Ivory—or Ebony—Towers. On the other, the street activist running around without a plan or theory, somewhat like a chicken that has been beheaded."

Hare was fired last spring by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley for disrupting a faculty meeting. Hare pledged to stay on and run the department, but in August he abandoned that plan to work on his new magazine, "Black Scholar."

Militant students had continued to consider Hare the "chairman in exile" of the black studies department, which is embroiled in a dispute with Hayakawa and the college administration.

Hare denied he was pulling his punches or abandoning the movement in forsaking the campus disputes for a role as scholar.

"It only means that I am changing my style of fighting in the effort to help free my people," said the former prizefighter.

G.E. Product Picketing Is Scheduled

The Marin County Labor Council last night agreed to start informational picketing tomorrow evening of stores in Marin selling General Electric products, reported secretary and outgoing council president Charles B. Weers.

The pickets will be to inform shoppers of the strike against General Electric, and will not be directed against the local stores themselves. Weers said.

The council voted to support a proposal by County Administrator Alan Bruce to place Fair-Marin under control of the administrator and the supervisors. The council feels the present Fair-Marin board does not represent the people of the county but only a small group, Weers said.

The council also supported a proposal by Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. to put the director of the human rights commission in charge of the New Careers program, with authority to hire a coordinator for the program.

The council will ask the supervisors to appoint the council's new president, Thomas Beyer, to the advisory committee on aid to dependent children. The committee could use labor's experience and knowledge in the fields of employment and housing, Weers said, but there is no labor representation now.

The council also reaffirmed its support of the Delano grape strikers, and will continue to take part this weekend in picketing of Safeway stores carrying table grapes.

Drug Firms Face Giant Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five of the nation's major drug manufacturers have been accused of conspiracy and monopoly in the interstate and foreign marketing of broad spectrum antibiotics.

International Rectifier Corp. and four pharmaceutical subsidiaries filed a U.S. District Court suit yesterday seeking treble damages of $81 million. from the five.

Named defendants were American Cyanamid Co.; Bristol-Myers Co.; Chas. Pfizer Co., Inc.; E. R. Squibb & Sons, Inc.; Upjohn Co., and Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. Subsidiaries of the firms were named co-conspirators.

Peter Palmer Named Health Panel Leader

Peter W. Palmer, a former senior social worker for the county, was elected chairman of the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board last night at Marin General Hospital.

Palmer was elected in a 5 to 4 vote over incumbent chairman Paul A. Steinman.

The Advisory board members decided they would ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors for the precise wording of a new contract which the county wants to work out with the Marin General Hospital District.

County supervisors want to put mental health outpatient services, now under the hospital jurisdiction, under the control of the county director of mental health services, Dr. Leon R. Wanerman.

The advisory board members are seeking specific reasons for the proposed change; asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella's report to the supervisors, and an evaluation from the Marin General Hospital District.

The advisory board also decided to hold a special workshop session before the next regular meeting of Jan. 21 to discuss how various subcommittees will operate. Palmer will set the time and place for the workshop.

The board decided to continue investigation of mental health services in general and children's services in particular, and to send a report on children's services to each member of the board of supervisors.

Injuries Minor

Mary Ann Degenhardt, 48, of 86 Biscayne Road, San Rafael, was treated for a cut lip today after her car smashed into a traffic light on the corner of Second and Union streets at 5:04 a.m., San Rafael police reported.

Fairfax Woman's Condition Is Good

A Fairfax woman, who had apparently taken an overdose of pills, was found lying on the floor of her home by police about 1 a.m. today.

The woman, Bernice Hollis, in her 40s, of 155 Tamalpais Road, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital. Police said she had telephoned a friend or relative in San Rafael before apparently consuming the pills and San Rafael police alerted Fairfax authorities.

JUDGE ACCUSED — New Orleans Criminal District Judge Edward Haggerty Jr. (background) hides his face after being arrested. He and others were nabbed last night in a New Orleans police raid on a motel stag party. Haggerty, who presided over the trial of Clay Shaw on charges he was involved in the assassination of Persident John F. Kennedy, resisted arrest, police said.

Stag Party Raid Nabs Shaw Judge

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police crashed a stag party in a motel room last night and arrested everyone present, including the judge who presided at the Clay Shaw trial.

Newsmen who came on what they thought would be a routine raid saw silver-haired Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. struggling to get away. He was subdued and handcuffed.

Police Maj. Joseph Murry said Haggerty was booked on charges of soliciting for prostitution, obscenity, resisting arrest and four counts of assault on a policeman.

Haggerty, 55, of New Orleans, a judge in the state Criminal District Court, presided at the month-long trial of Shaw, who was cleared of a charge of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Murry said three women and 10 other men arrested at the midcity motel were each booked on the obscenity charge.

The newsmen, who included television cameramen, were allowed in the room about a minute after police broke in.

Haggerty's brief struggle with officers was in the full glare of TV cameras. The judge suffered a small cut on the forehead.

Police Sgt. William Nolan said a stag movie was being shown in conjunction with live entertainment. He did not elaborate.

Plea To Marijuana

Vehicles Barred From Part Of Tahoe Forest

I-J Special Report

NEVADA CITY — The northern portion of the Granite Chief area in the Tahoe National Forest has been declared a roadless recreation area, the Forest Service announced yesterday.

The announcement, made by Tahoe Forest Supervisor Henry Branagh, is the result of detailed studies of the 39,500 acre area west of the Lake Tahoe Basin, and a public meeting held last October in Auburn.

For study purposes, the Granite Chief area was divided into two areas: northern and southern. The decision for the northern 15,700 acres, composed of the North Fork, Picayune, and Whisky Creek Units, is to manage them as a roadless summer and winter public recreation area. All motorized vehicles will be excluded. Minimum recreation facilities will be provided as necessary to maintain the natural environmental character.

Branagh said, "There will be no harvesting of timber on National Forest land in this area. Development of resorts, residences, and commercial winter sports will not be permitted."

The decision for management of the National Forest land within the 24,000 acre southern area (Diamond Crossing, Greyhorse, and West Meadow Units) is to continue management under ranger district multiple use plans with one exception. An eight-square-mile tract lying generally north of Bear Pen Creek in the Diamond Crossing Unit will be closed to public vehicular travel. Supervisor Branagh said:

"Our reasons behind the dicision for the southern area include the extensive private land holdings in this area, the benefits such as pleasure driving, camping, and picnicking which will be provided to the public by the Lake Tahoe-French Meadows Road, and the need to properly manage and utilize the timber resources to help satisfy the nation's need for wood fiber."

Inmate Stages A Prison Crisis

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A state prison inmate, disgruntled over his failure to get a parole, held 23 persons hostage with a foot-long, homemade dagger yesterday before releasing them unharmed after five hours.

The prisoner, Haywood Quinn, 34, surrendered after state Corrections Commissioner Lake Russell agreed to his demands, which included cash payments to the hostages for their inconvenience.

Presbytery Criticizes Genesis Use In Texts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Representatives of the San Francisco Bay Area's Presbyterians have criticized the state Board of Education's recent ruling that textbooks should include the Biblical version of creation along with Darwin's theory of evolution.

It was announced yesterday that about 200 representatives of the Bay Area's 44,000 Presbyterians passed a resolution which said:

"The Presbytery of San Francisco regrets the action of the state Board of Education in specifying that the Genesis account of creation be taught in the schools of California as an alternative to the findings of scientific investigation.

"Such an action completely misunderstands the significance of the Genesis account and raises serious questions, both about the teaching of religion in the public schools and about the integrity of the education process.

"As Christians we find no conflict between the emphasis in Genesis that God is the creator and the objective findings of science that creation has occurred by means of an unimaginably long and complex evolutionary process . . ."

The resolution, however, urges teaching of the Bible as literature in public schools.

Previously the board's action was criticized by Episcopal Dean C. Julian Bartlett of San Francisco's Grace Cathedral, who called it "incredible, appalling, preposterous" and "a clear violation of the constitutional prohibition respecting the establishment of religion."

Chickens Stolen

Eight young chickens were reported stolen yesterday afternoon from the home of Mrs. L. B. Hutchings, 100 Douglas Street, Petaluma. Mrs. Hutchings told police she believed the chickens has been chased from the yard into the basement where they were captured.

THE STARS ABOVE

Andromeda In Sky Looks Unlike Girl

Andromeda, the Lady in Chains, is a constellation that does not look anything like what it is supposed to represent. It is just two lines of stars, some of which are hard to see if the night sky is the least bit hazy.

Like some other figures, it shares one of its stars with another. Alpha Andromedae, also called Alpheratz, was once considered a part of Pegasus, forming one corner of the Great Square. It still is sometimes called Delta Pegasi, even though it has definitely been given to Andromeda.

To locate Andromeda, face southward at 9 p.m., Standard Time, and look at the region of the sky that is four-fifths of the distance up from the southern horizon to the overhead point.

Andromeda is also interesting in that it contains a nebula that can be seen without telescopic aid. The nebula itself contains almost any kind of object you would ever expect to see. It has had novae, or exploding stars of extreme brightness, which to be seen at all at such a distance must have been terribly hot and bright. There are also Cepheid variables within it which are a help in computing its distance.

The distance of the nebula (M31) is now computed to be about 1.75 million light-years away. The light we see now left there before anything resembling modern man had appeared on the earth.

The symmetrical form of the galaxy and the favorable position have shown us much of the nature of our own Milky Way galaxy.

No Burglary Case Charges

No complaint has been issued against Frank J. Vargas, 19, of Petaluma, who had been held in connection with a Petaluma burglary Saturday.

Vargas, who had been away without leave for one week from Fort Lewis, Wash., was turned over to military police. It was incorrectly reported that Vargas had been arrested by Pacifica police. He had been arrested by Petaluma police on a traffic warrant issued by Pacifica police.

He had been questioned about a burglary at the home of a neighbor, Joseph M. Cabral, 95-A Corona Road, where a television set, two clocks, a portable heater and jewelry were taken.

Sanitary Board Acts On Odors

Directors authorized engineer J. Warren Nute to proceed with improvements estimated to cost $39,200 in a report submitted by Nute earlier this month, Clerk Belle Albert reported.

At the board meeting held Tuesday night, Douglas De La Fontaine was named president and Beverly Wheeler, secretary. New members Eber D. Russell, George B. Szabo and Henry C. Whitescarver were seated.

Cosmetologists Name New Officer Slate

Three incumbent officers and a newly elected secretary have been installed by Marin County Cosmetologist Affiliate No. 41.

Incumbents installed were: Ronald F. Vincent of San Rafael, president; Elizabeth Whitehall, vice president, and Ron DeArmond, treasurer. Dean Clements of Terra Linda was newly installed as secretary.

HELP THROUGH PROJECT HELP

Collecting and packing toys, household goods, clothing and furniture to be distributed to needy Marin families are volunteers for Project Help, an Economic Opportunity Council service. From left are Mrs. Richard Schwartz, Richard Nielsen, project coordinator; and Mrs. Robert Mault. Several Marin women's organizations are providing volunteers to gather articles to meet requests that come through the Project Help offices. Here the sorting is done at the Central Marin location, 918 C Street, San Rafael. Donations of foods, clothing and appliances are also collected at the Novato Center, 875 Grant Avenue, and in Southern Marin at the Manzanita Center, Marin City. Churches are also assisting, and a committee of low income persons will aid in distribution. The project is serving as a central clearing house for groups and persons who wish to donate foods and goods to other families.

Holiday Table Setting Ideas

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Let your imagination run wild in setting a holiday table, advises Beatrice Stotter, long-time designer of table accessories.

There's no need to stick with traditional Yuletide colors — reds, greens and gold. Use a color scheme selected to your taste in china, glassware, tablecloth or place mats.

"Reminders of the Yuletide season — holly in a silver bowl or an arrangement of greens in a centerpiece — may be very pretty, but a handsomely coordinated table will look festive in any season," she explains.

She offers these ideas for unusual holiday table settings:

Pink and white table: Pink and white china, pink glass, white and pink centerpiece, pink place mats or pink and white tablecloth. Fill the centerpiece with pink and white Christmas ornaments.

Blue and gold table: Blue and gold china, clear and gold glasses, gold artificial flowers in a gold-tone china bowl, blue place mats. A gold angel makes a pretty centerpiece.

WHITE AND purple: All white china on purple place mats, white cloth, a purple centerpiece and clear crystal.

Green and blue: Moss green place mats, blue plates, green glasses, a blue bowl filled with greens.

Mrs. Stotter, a well-known Cleveland hostess before she brought her talents to New York a decade ago, likes a traditional table with a white linen-like look for special occasions. She uses modern china and keeps table accessory colors "pretty much the same, but not the same tone," she says. Handsome old sugar bowls and vegetable dishes hold the flowers of the season.

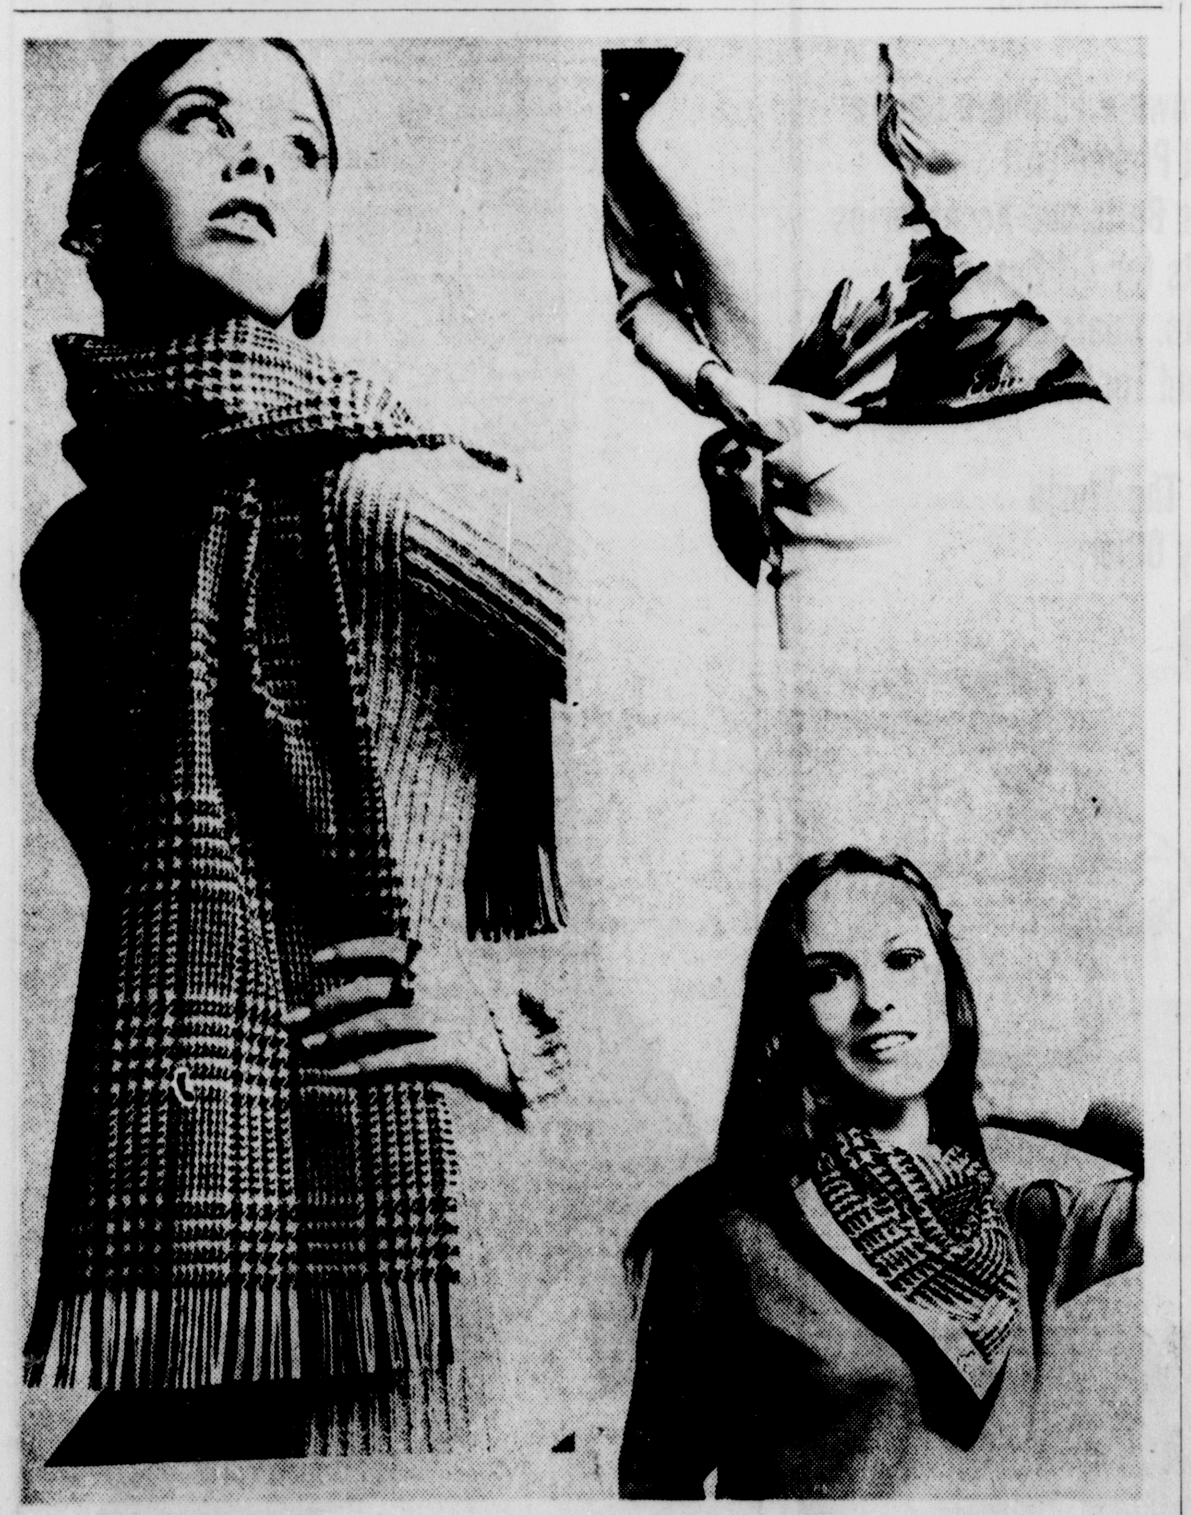
A basic white or off-white cloth is a good start toward organizing a chic table on any occasion she points out. However, she has designed pretty pastel plastic cloths with liners to be used on special occasions.

ALTHOUGH SHE favors traditional accessories, she was the first to introduce the soup-can look and other mod accessories, she says. She and her design staff have fashioned wedge-shape pizza trays, popcorn scuttles, a shrimp boat and a celery-decorated tray. She has a black and white Caesar salad container in the authentic shape and design of Rome's Coliseum. There are plastic party plates with fit-through glasses and ruby red plastic glasses with holly trim.

The table accessory business was started 15 years ago when she bought some place mats her late husband didn't like. He tried to produce something better in plastic and foam and finally after two years they had the answer. Today their firm is the largest producer of vinyl place mats in the United States.

She and her son, James, continually case the market to determine new colors and patterns. Current motifs include mushrooms, zodiac signs and the perennially popular early American. "A great many people seem to have early American dining rooms," they say.

BEST SELLING colors in place mats, are mustard gold and moss green. Brown is sold only in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Big city areas — Washington, San Francisco, New York — prefer more sophisticated combinations, such as black and white. Mrs. Stotter says Californians set the most conservative tables, "Because everything else they own is so far out." The South likes flamboyant designs, probably because they use more traditional furnishings. In the last decade there has been a nationwide trend from standard and conservative designs to contemporary color combinations such as orange and pink.



WEAR IT ANY WAY

Happy Christmas Customs

The story of this holiday spirit has provided great pleasure in the past with some very old traditions and some surprisingly recent ones.

When next you hear a Christmas carol, see a holly wreath or sniff a holiday aroma that reminds of happy times past, give a thought to the entertaining history of Christmas sights, scents and sounds.

One Swiss custom, not yet imported to the United States, has to do with the selection of a future mate. If any young boy or girl drinks from nine different fountains on Christmas Eve, while the midnight church bells are swinging and ringing and then runs to church, the future mate will be seen standing on the door steps.

ALSO JOYOUSLY affirming that the essence of Christmas is love, a Spanish custom is the Urn of Fate. Names of friends are placed in a large bowl and on Christmas Day each person draws the name of the one who shall be his best friend until next December.

A Christmas symbol in many regions, the custom of the Christmas tree is said to be of German origin from the eighth century with Martin Luther introducing the tree lighted with candles. The holly wreath goes back in time to the crucifixion. Christ's crown of thorns is reputed to have been made of holly leaves. Early Romans, ornamented their temples and homes with the pungent green boughs, decorating with the mistletoe they revered as a symbol of peace. Tremendous powers were attributed to the mistletoe by British Druids, and, today, the mighty power of the mistletoe makes kissing acquaintances out of strangers meeting under it during the holiday season of goodwill.

Love in legend and love in verse have both been associated with Christmas, and in 1775, a young Frenchman, Jean-Francois Houbigant, decided to put love in a bottle. He developed a mastery of perfumery so great that it made millions for him and his family, shook up the entire French perfume industry, and earned him the patronage of Marie Antoinette and kind words from Guy de Maupassant.

To this day — 194 years later — thousands of women who receive perfume little realize that gratitude belongs not only to the donors, but also to a 23-year-old Frenchman who decided he'd try to put love in a bottle.

IN CONTRAST TO the French concept of gift-giving, adopted by many Americans, the Mexican approach is sometimes a game played with great gusto. A large jar of earthenware, called a pinata, is filled with gifts and hung from the ceiling or a tree. Blindfolded, the children then try to break the jar with a stick. When someone succeeds, they all scramble for the candy, fruit and gifts inside, filling the air with sounds of their laughter.

Not always were Christmas sounds joyous, however. Solemnity distinguished the celebrations, prior to the 13th century. Chants and litanies were sung in Latin, too theological for popular use. Under the influence of Francis of Assisi, in 1224, carols finally arose written in the vernacular for spontaneous group singing. In England, however, the Puritans condemned such merry celebrations and carried this feeling to America where colonists forbade festivities by law. The first settlers considered them pagan. Christmas again became a time of merriment and gift-giving around the middle of the 19th century when later immigrants arrived.

Today many aspects of the Christmas celebration are enjoyed by people of all faiths, and the season includes moments of solemnity as well as festive occasions. Music, too, consists of the great works of Handel or carols adopted from many lands.

One of the most popular of all the Christmas carols, "Silent Night" ("Stille Nacht"), was written because an organ broke down. Josef Mohr, parish priest in the Austrian Tyrol, 151 years ago, feared his parishioners would be disappointed at the mishap on the day of Christmas Eve. He wrote the words, asked his friend, Franz Gruber to complete the melody and in a few hours the two men accompanied by a guitar sang the carol masterpiece for the first time on Christmas Eve in 1818. This melody has long lingered on in a world that continues to cherish a parish priest's love-gift of a song.

Unconscious Infanticide

WASHINGTON, D.C. (WMNS) — Latin American mothers of too many children engage in "unconscious infanticide" to rid themselves of burdensome babies, suggests Dr. Benjamin Viel, a distinguished medical professor at the University of Chile.

Distraught mothers in large, poor families may kill by ignoring serious illnesses, without admitting to themselves that they want their babies to die, the doctor suggests. This would explain why, in Santiago, first-born infants die at the rate of 60 per 1,000 while infant deaths rise to about 100 among the third- and fourth-born and to 300 per 1,000 in families with 10 or more children.

"We must face the shameful fact," adds Dr. Viel in a paper published by the Population Reference Bureau, "that high mortality continues through the pre-school years." Children under five account for nearly half of all Latin American deaths. Countries with lower birth rates also have lower child death rates.

Advocating contraceptives for everyone as the most "humane, effective solution," the physician notes that smaller families can relieve the family tensions that lead mothers to unconscious infanticide and abortion.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma.

Wedding forms should be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs received more than seven days after the wedding.

An engagement form may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be picked up at the I-J office after publication. Snapshots, polaroid or color pictures are not suitable.

This is confetti

It means New Year's Eve is coming. It means what dress? What wrap? What marvelous thing to do to your hair? We can't help with number three, but one and two are very much our department. Among the things we'd like to suggest. Something tunic-y over pants-that-dance. Something that glitters. (Really glitters!) Something black. Something bias cut. Something satin. And anything with a deeply V'd Chanel-ish neck. Like to see our confetti things? Do. Any one of them will make your New Year's Eve as New Year's Eve as it really should be.

See our fashions modeled informally at Holiday Inn every Tuesday luncheon.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Female Francis Worries About Being Drafted After College

DEAR HELEN:

My name is spelled Francis, but I am a girl. I guess "uncle" figures if it isn't spelled with an "e," you're draftable.

First I got a notice that I was deferred because I was still in school. I threw it away. Then I got a little nudge asking me to bring them up to date on my status. Just for fun, I did! I've been getting similar greetings from the government for about two years, and I think they're hilarious, especially since I'm a five foot two blonde with long hair and measurements of 34, 22, 34 — and pierced ears.

But now I'm out of college, and liable to be drafted. Will they believe it when I write that I'm — FRANCIS, WITH AN "E"

DEAR FRANCES:

If they won't take your written word, then toddle on down to the draft board and show them — your pierced ears — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Recently a girl wondered why newspapers don't publish the picture of the groom. It's true that space is limited, but there's another reason:

Most newspapers require wedding pictures in advance, so the story won't be delayed in printing.

You can't pose the bridegroom with his prospective bride in her gown before the ceremony, for that's against tradition, and bad luck. A man isn't supposed to see the wedding gown until she walks down the aisle.

So the bride gets her wedding photo two weeks beforehand, and the groom is the forgotten man in newspapers. — BRIDE OF ONE MONTH

Note to prospective brides: Don't take anyone's word for it. Check with your local newspaper to find out whether bride-and-groom pictures will be accepted. Rules vary, and so do reasons. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

By the time this reaches print, maybe the government will already have sentenced the soldiers who wiped out the village of My Lai.

I won't deny they're guilty of inhuman acts, but when we annihilated a whole city — Hiroshima — with an atom bomb, was anyone court-martialed? Think how many more women and children were killed on that black day than at My Lai in Vietnam. Yet somehow we cheered.

Each time bombers are ordered to attack, they know innocent people will die. But because they don't see them die, I guess the government thinks it's different. If airmen refused to fly a mission (in the same way the Army is saying enlisted men should have refused to fire their guns) it would be mutiny. From the grovelling things they make you do in basic training to the commands shouted on the battlefield, you're taught to obey, not think. But if you obey the wrong order, suddenly you're a murderer.

War is an evil, dirty, killing business; so how can they tell us to slaughter one way but not another? How can they say one company is guilty when another squadron kills thousands in a planned attack — and gets decorated for it?

Don't think I'm in favor of murder. It makes me sick at my stomach, so sick I could vomit up the whole system that insists you can set rules to kill by. I'm living for the day when they give a war and nobody comes, but I've almost given up. — PEACE

Toasting Drinks

A drink to eat was customary in old England, especially on feast days. Christmas, for one, was made merrier by breaking fruit cake into a huge wassail bowl. Then hot ale, often sugared and spiced to temper and cover the bitterness of long ago ale, was poured in to make the eat - drinks for a group. Or guests might be passed individual bowls — chilled carolers often brought their own — To be filled with the warming ale. In it they dipped their wigs, those sweet caraway buns. After eating these there was still enough pungent drink for toasting each and all a very merry Christmas.

Chicken Top Buy For The Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that broiler-fryer chickens are a top meat buy and are featured on the department's plentiful foods list for December. Roasts and steaks are beef items in best supply. Smoked picnics and hams will be the most abundant in the pork line. Fish buys to look for, according to the Interior Department, are canned Maine sardines, canned fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna.

Fresh vegetables in best supply are onions, potatoes, cabbage, and sweet potatoes. Traditional Christmas fruits now abundant are apples, oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines. Other foods on plentiful foods list for December are dry beans, dry split peas, lentils, canned peaches, canned pears, canned tomatoes, and tomato products.

IN THE WEST:

Beef, pork and turkeys are higher in all Western markets while other red meats, chickens, and butter remain mostly unchanged from last week.

Beef ribs are 1 to 7 cents a pound higher in California markets, loins are 3 to 4 cents higher in Los Angeles and most other cuts are 1 to 2 cents higher in all markets.

Pork loins are 2 cents higher and Boston butts are 1 to 3 cents higher. Sliced bacon is 1 to 4 cents higher and slab bacon is as much as 6 cents higher in Portland. Smoked hams are 1 to 3 cents higher in all markets.

Young hen turkeys are as much as 7 cents higher in Los Angeles and 2 to 3 cents higher in other markets. Young toms are 2 to 4 cents higher in most markets.

Veal is 2 cents higher in Portland.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, cabbage, onions and potatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the west are sole fillets, canned tuna, Pacific oysters, rockfish fillets, cod fillets, and Pacific snapper fillets, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Crepes

In Monaco, pousse-cafe crepes are stacked, spectacularly, with a different liqueur poured between each layer. But first powdered sugar is sprinkled on the thin pancakes to absorb and emphasize each of the 5 to 7 liqueur flavors.

Check Christmas Toys With Safety In Mind

If Santa Claus doesn't deliver the toy your child wants for Christmas, he'll have a good reason.

Each year toys get more complex and sophisticated. As fascinating as they can be, even to parents, some of these toys present a potential danger to children.

All of Santa's helpers should keep the following toy safety check list in mind.

1. Does the toy have chemicals that any explode or poison?
2. Is the toy inflammable?
3. Is the finish on the toy labeled "antitoxic"?
4. Does the toy use electricity, batteries or flame which may shock, ignite, or burn?
5. Does the toy have sharp or jagged edges that could cut and injure?
6. Does the toy have removable parts that might be swallowed and cause strangulation?
7. Is the toy too heavy for a child to lift without injuring himself?
8. Can the toy be used safely without adult supervision?

Pru Brown Heads March Of Dimes Teen Action Program

PRU BROWN, left, new Marin County chairman for the March of Dimes Teen Action Program, discusses the teen-age group's activities with the national TAP chairman, Kathy Garver, who plays Cissy on the television program "Family Affair."

The election of 17-year-old Pru Brown of Belvedere as Marin County Teen Action Program chairman has been approved by the executive chapter of the Marin March of Dimes.

Pru, the daughter of Mrs. Phoebe Brown, is a senior at Redwood High School. She has been involved in the TAP volunteer program since the beginning of the semester, and her plans for fund raising by the teen-age group include a Santa Claus pancake breakfast Saturday at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. Pancakes will be served from 9 a.m. until noon.

A wishing well will be on the mall at Northgate from Monday through Wednesday to benefit the March of Dimes.

Next month the teen-age group will stage a "drive around" to distribute information on the prevention of birth defects to North Marin residents.

"Prevention of birth defects is a problem which affects our generation," says Pru, "and we feel we can help influence what is going on in this area."

CAROLYN L. THOMPSON

Engagement Is Announced

Mrs. Carolyn Scott of Glendale has announced the engagement of her daughter Carolyn Lucille Thompson of San Anselmo to Vin Edward Howell of San Rafael.

The future bride, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, is the sister of Nellie M. Thompson of Fairfax, Arthur R. Thompson, Ramona M. McConnell and Richard Scott, all of Glendale. She is the daughter of the late Arthur R. Thompson.

Mrs. Elaine C. Howell of San Rafael is the future bridegroom's mother. He was graduated from San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin and is employed by L. P. McNear Company of San Rafael

Non-Poisonous Mushroom Rules Are Similar To Russian Roulette

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With the onset of the rainy season in California, somebody asked State Agriculture Department officials to explain how to tell a poisonous wild mushroom from one that's safe to eat.

The department issued some guidelines which it admitted are similar to the rules for Russian roulette:

"Eat only one variety at a time, and make sure they are freshly mature and free from insect larvae.

"COOK WILD mushrooms well.

"Eat only small amounts when testing an untried species, and don't overindulge under any circumstances.

"Finally, have only one member of the family at a time eat a new species of wild mushroom."

But the department says the best advice its experts can give is: do your mushroom hunting in your grocery store.

Dr. Douglas Barbe, a plant pathologist with the department, says even people in the business of telling the difference have trouble telling the difference.

"ACTUALLY THERE are relatively few deadly poisonous wild mushrooms and very few really good ones," Barbe said. "Most mushrooms are merely tasteless or bitter. It just isn't worth the risk of fatal poisoning."

He said figures show there are more deaths from mushroom poisoning than from rattlesnake bites.

The most dangerous of the poisonous mushrooms belong to the "Amanita" species. They account for 90 per cent of all mushroom poisoning deaths, Barbe said.

The "Amanita phalloides," tan to greenish-olive in color with radiating fibrils on the cap, is so deadly that only a small amount may prove fatal.

And it tastes good, so the wild mushroom fancier doesn't suspect anything, and the poisoning symptoms don't show up for eight to 12 hours.

Barbe said the palloides mushrooms peel easily, which shoots down the myth that a mushroom which peels easily is safe to eat.

Presbyterian Women Elect New President

Mrs. James W. McFarlane of San Rafael is the new president of the United Presbyterian Women of the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael. She says the purpose of the organization is to further the outreach of the Presbyterian church.

MRS. JAMES W. McFARLANE

The women have a luncheon planned next month and will continue the sale of the cook book they produced in commemoration of the church's centennial year.

A member of the organization since 1957, Willma McFarlane and her husband, who is regional co-ordinator for the American College of Hospital Administrators, have lived in Marin for 13 years. They have two daughters: Mrs. Victor Engleman of Edwards Air Force Base and Lynne, a senior at the University of California at Davis.

Mrs. McFarlane is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles. Her hobbies are golf, photography, knitting, hand stitchery, needle point and gardening.

Life May Be Better, If Not Longer

LONDON (WMNS) — Will new medical and scientific discoveries allow us to live longer or has our average life expectancy been stretched just about as far as it can go?

The crystal ball of a noted British physician, Sir Solly Zuckerman, suggests that we may all be stuck — British and American women with a life span of about 75 years, British men with about 70 years and American men with 67 years. By the year 2000, says Sir Solly, the general health will certainly be better, but people will probably live no longer than now.

Like dogs and cats and other domestic animals, says the scientist, people seem to have a natural span of life. Improvements in living conditions and in medical care can prevent premature deaths but apparently cannot affect this natural life span.

As evidence, Sir Solly points out that lavish American expenditures for medical research have not enabled American men to live as long as men in Britain, where medical research operates on a shoestring.

New Stewardess

Heidi Sue Burman, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Edward J. Burman of Kentfield, has completed training as a hostess for Braniff International airlines and has been assigned to the airline's flight crew base at Dallas, Tex.

Another Oil Leak Develops In Channel

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — An oil slick covering 50 square miles of the Pacific drifted slowly southward today after a new leak developed from an offshore drilling rig in the Santa Barbara Channel, scene of a massive oil slick early this year.

The fresh seepage, detected yesterday, spurted between 6,000 and 9,000 gallons of oil from a weld in an undersea pipe at the same Union Oil Co. platform where the disastrous blowout started last Jan. 28.

That slick spread over 1,800 square miles of the Pacific in 11 days, blackened beaches in Santa Barbara County and smirched the Southern California coast for miles north and south.

At last report, the new teardrop-shaped slick was five miles off Ventura County coastal communities as oil company crews worked to skim it up before it could reach beach areas.

The seepage was discovered by a commercial fisherman's spotter plane and confirmed by a U.S. Geological Survey inspector.

Union Oil divers told the Coast Guard there was an eight-inch split in a pipe carrying crude oil from the platform to Union's Rincon plant in Ventura County. Officials immediately stopped the flow in the pipe and said it would take about 36 hours to repair the break.

Floating booms were placed around the slick and skimmer boats began pumping the crude oil from the surface of the sea.

Thuy Once Again Boycotts Paris Session On Vietnam

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's chief negotiator boycotted the Paris peace talks for the second week today, and his deputy charged that President Richard M. Nixon is "sabotaging the conference."

Col. Ha Van Lau, substituting for Ambassador Xuan Thuy at the 47th weekly session, said Nixon "reiterates his old talk about 'negotiation from a position of strength.' . . . refuses to appoint a new head of the U.S. delegation, deliberately downgrades the Paris conference on Vietnam and carries out his scheme of sabotaging the conference."

Thuy absented himself from the negotiations a week ago when Philip C. Habib took over as acting American delegation chief after the departure of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The Viet Cong's chief delegate, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, continues to attend the meetings.

Lau said Nixon's speech Monday night announcing withdrawal of 50,000 more U.S. troops by April 15 was an example of the Nixon administration's "obstinate and perfidious" scheme of aggression in Vietnam.

He said the United States' real intention is to obtain a Pax Americana in Vietnam by maintaining troops in the South indefinitely.

He also attacked Sir Robert Thompson, the British expert on warfare in Southeast Asia who made a detailed survey of the situation in Vietnam for Nixon. Lau called him "an inveterate valet of colonialism" and said Nixon's counsulting him proved that the President "is following the path of colonialism."

Lau said the new U.S. troop withdrawal "is evidently in the framework of the policy of piece meal withdrawal, of prolongation of the U.S. military occupation and war of aggression in Vietnam."

He said Nixon feels a rapid withdrawal would mean defeat and humiliation for the United States. But the North Vietnamese delegate declared: "We have made it clear on many occasions that the Vietnamese people want in no way to humiliate anyone."

Lau also attacked Nixon's references to "honor" in relation to the American presence in Vietnam. The colonel said the only "honor" Nixon wants is the maintenance of the current regime in Saigon and the continued presence of American troops in South Vietnam.

Cable In Canal Plan Protested

Owners of Rancho del Pantano near Novato are objecting to plans by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install an underwater cable across Rush Canal, north of the city.

The objection, filed with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which issues permits for such installations, said the cable may interere with plans for dredging the canal and could be a hazard to maintenance.

An Army spokesman said the complaint will be turned over to PG&E to allow the utility to negotiate with the property owners.

Fire Engine To 'Pops' Fielder

BOSTON (UPI)—Arthur Fielder, fire buff and conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra, received a unique present yesterday on his 75th birthday —a 1938 fire engine.

Fiedler, famous for his penchant for attending fires, received the gift from his wife and son who purchased it from the Marblro, N.H., fire department.

Feidler was feted last night at a birthday party following a special concert — under his direction — at Symphony Hall.

Earlier in the day, Fiedler got a ride to work in a Brookline fire engine which met him at his front door.

Bad Checks Denied

Peter B. Maggi Jr., 38, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to two felony counts of possessing bad checks with intent to defraud San Rafael stores on Sept. 12. A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 23.

$2.5 Million In School Bonds Sold

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest yesterday sold $2.55 million worth of school construction bonds at the 5 per cent interest rate.

United California Bank bought $1.2 million worth of 15-year bonds to provide facilities for Way School District in San Diego. The bank purchased a $535,000 issue to finance compensatory education facilities for a disadvantaged area in the City of San Diego.

A third issue totaling $820,000 was bought by the Irvine Co., of Newport Beach for construction in the San Joaquin School District in Orange County.

Mrs. Priest said the state only has sold $13 million worth of bonds in fiscal 1969-70 compared to a normal volume of about $250 million. She blamed a constitution-set 5 per cent interest ceiling for the failure to sell more bonds.

San Francisco Symphony Giving Handel As A Christmas Present

By GARY TISCHLER

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's Christmas presentation this week will be a performance of Handel's "The Messiah" at the Opera House tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Josef Krips will conduct. Performing with the orchestra will be soprano Heather Harper, mezzo-soprano Birgit Finnila, tenor Richard Lewis, bass Thomas Paul and the San Francisco Opera Chorus.

A seldom-heard Vivaldi masterpiece, the sacred military oratorio "Judith Triumphaus," will be presented by the Gianni-ni Polyphonic Chorale and Chamber Orchestra Sunday at 8 p.m. at St. Ignatius Church, Fulton Street and Ash Avenue in San Francisco.

DRAMA

"The Boys in the Band" may be leaving soon.

Mart Crowley's unanimously acclaimed Off-Broadway drama about a group of homosexuals is still playing to standing-room-only crowds in New York but not at the Committee Theater. Negotiations are underway to return the West Coast company to Los Angeles' Huntington Hartford Theater, unless business picks up considerably here. Performances are nightly except Monday at 8:30, with two shows Saturday at 7:30 and 10:40 p.m. and two on Sunday at 3:30 and 8:30 p.m. No performances are set for this Tuesday and Wednesday but an extra show will be added Dec. 29 and two performances are set for New Year's Eve.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe will present a Children's Christmas Puppet Show Tuesday and Wednesday and Dec. 26, 27 and 28 at the Live Oak Park in Berkeley at 2 and 4 p.m. daily.

There will be no Christmas performance of "Oh! Calcutta!", the nude musical revue at the On Broadway Theater but a matinee will be added beginning Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Two benefit performances for St. Aidan's Church of T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" will be presented by the Theater of Man in the sanctuary of the church at 101 Gold Mine Drive and Diamond Heights Boulevard, tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m.

"Jaques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris," the musical hit currently housed at the Marines' Memorial Theater, has been extended indefinitely.

Other attractions:

Geary Theater — "Hair," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday at 2 and 7:30 p.m.; Thursday at 2 and 8:30 p.m.

On Broadway Theater — "Oh! Calcutta!" nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday at 4:45 and 10:45 p.m.

Committee Theater — "The Boys in the Band," nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday at 8 and 10:30 p.m.

San Francisco Museum of Art — Contemporary black artists, through Dec. 28; photographs by Wynn Bullock, through Jan. 4.

Guatamala Road Crash Kills 26

GUATEMALA (AP) — A bus and an automobile collided last night and crashed into a 1,200-foot ravine, killing at least 26 persons and injuring 25.

The accident happened 90 miles west of Guatemala City.

The police worked through the night recovering the dead and injured from the bushes in the bottom of the ravine. They said the toll might rise because they had not determined the total number traveling in the two vehicles.

Cinema I Opening Is Set

Workmen have been on the job long hours to get Cinema I, the new Corte Madera showhouse of Cinerama Corp. of California, completed in time for tomorrow night's opening to the public.

It will feature the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film "2001: A Space Odyssey," a drama of exploration and adventure produced by Stanley Kubrick and presented in Super Panavision Metrocolor. Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood head a cast of international stage and screen players which includes William Sylvester, Dan Richter, Douglas Rain, Leonard Rossiter, Margaret Tyzack, Robert Beatty, Sean Sullivan and Frank Miller.

Cinema I will be the newest operation of Blumenfeld Theaters, a pioneer in the showing of motion pictures in Marin County. Its first opening of the old Orpheus (now the Rafael) on Fourth Street, San Rafael, was almost a half-century ago.

From this beginning, Marin became one of the principal areas of Blumenfeld expansion, and in a chain that spreads throughout the state this county now boasts 10 of its theaters, including two drive-ins. Cinema I is one of the largest of Marin's indoor showhouses, with a seating capacity of 750 persons, all on one floor. Rows of loge-type seats are spaced farther apart than in conventional theaters. There is no center aisle, since patrons may move in freely toward the center from each side without disturbing seated occupants.

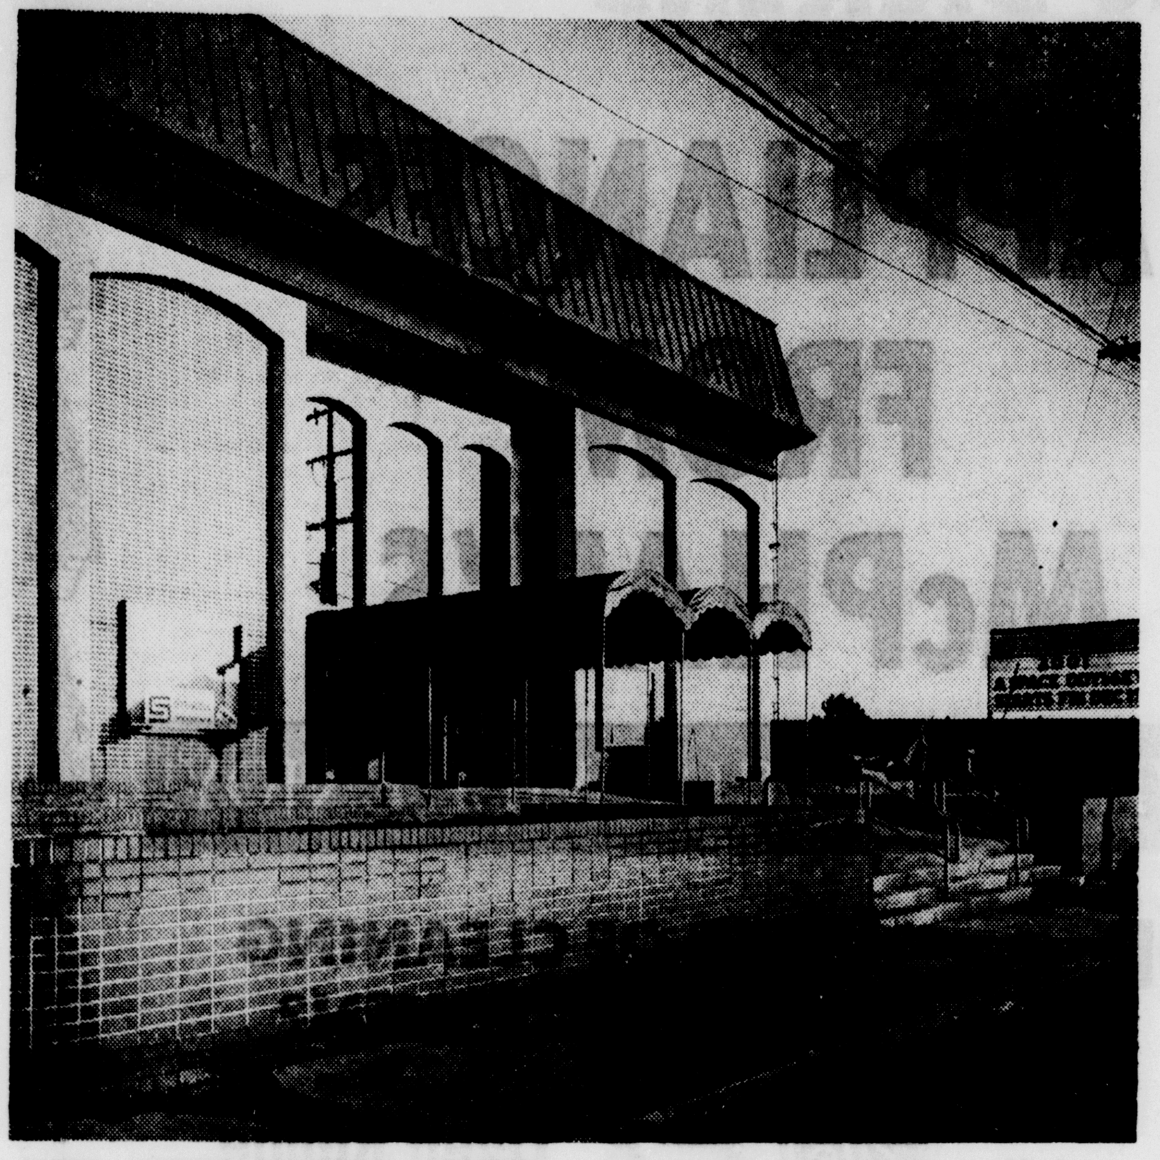
The building was constructed by Elvin Stendell, Inc., from plans by William B. David Associates. The interior decorating, which features full draping of the walls for soundproofing and acoustical balance, was supervised by Burt Franklin Design. Cost of the entire theater was reported at $750,000.

The 56-foot wide semicircular screen is believed to be the largest in California. It is designed to minimize distortion from any seat in the house.

A parking area adjoining Cinema I accommodates 200 automobiles.

Charles Whitney of Terra Linda has been selected as manager of the new showhouse. A native of New York, he has managed the Northgate Theater for the past three years. Prior to coming to Marin he was manager of the Astor Theater on Broadway, New York, for 18 years.

Cinema I is located at 4 Tamal Vista Drive in Corte Madera, between Marin Cooperative and the Corte Madera Shopping Center. It will be open seven nights a week and feature current "road shows."



NEW CORTE MADERA SHOWHOUSE — Mansard roof and elevated entrance are featured in the architecture of Cinema I, new theater opening tomorrow night on Tamal Vista Drive, Corte Madera. Owned by Cinerama Corp. of California and to be operated by Blumenfeld Theaters, it will be one of Marin's largest indoor theaters, seating 750 persons.

Countless Problems Arise In Filming Space Odyssey

The challenges confronting producer-director Stanley Kubrick and writer Arthur C. Clarke in collaborating on the screen play for "2001: A Space Odyssey," presented by MGM in Super Panavision and Metrocolor, must be counted among the most unique ever encountered by moviemakers. After examining scientific progress in each area of human activity, they had to come up with a conception of life as it will be lived 31 years from now.

On the surface, it might not appear a formidable problem. It could be pointed out that the year 2001 is no further away than 1935 in reverse. What will be so very different?

The question is related to the generally accepted premise that science will double its present store of knowledge in the next seven years. It once took man 10,000 years to accomplish this feat. Just 15 years ago, the rate of doubling was one decade. Now that it is down to seven years it seems safe to predict that this is a curve on an accelerating graph. What then will happen in 1973? Will the doubling then take just five years? If that is the case, what will life be like in 1978? By this reckoning, the year 2001 is a long way off in terms of human accomplishment.

Some of the greatest changes, as predicted by Kubrick and Clarke, will come about as a result of the computer. We already have reached third-generation machine. The computers of today are made by computers which in turn were made by computers, which means that no one today knows how to make a really complex computer. Only the machines themselves can do that.

But computers, although they will be responsible for much of the progress in the years ahead, aren't the whole story.

Marinite Wins Purchase Award

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — "Scabs Underbrush," a felt pen work on paper by Woodacre artist William T. Wiley, has been selected as one of eight purchase awards in the 1970 National Drawing Exhibition at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

The eight works, selected from 1,627 entries, will be incorporated into the permanent collection of the museum. The contest was held by the San Francisco Women Artists.

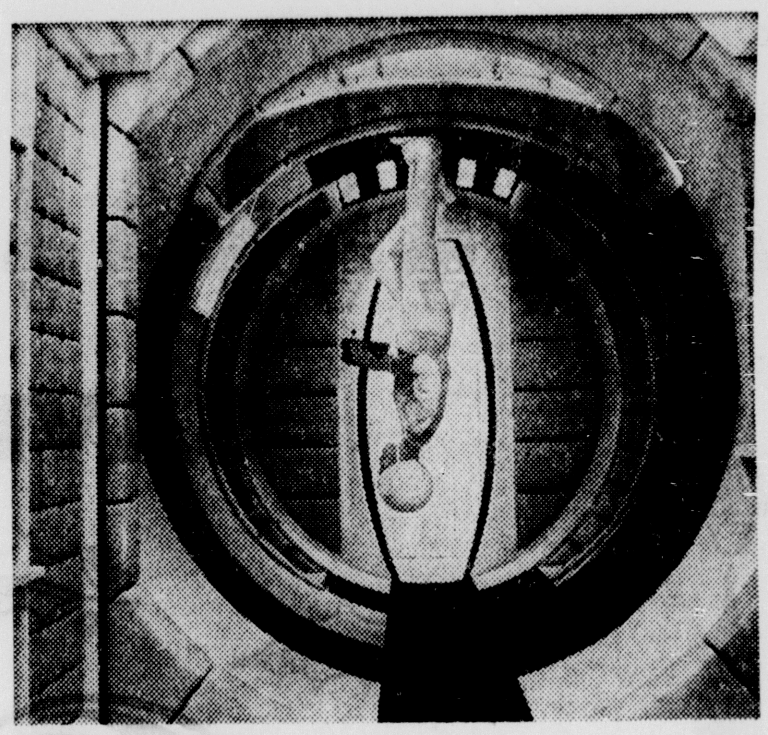
The exhibition will be on view through Jan. 4.

Dayton, Ohio was founded by a group of Revolutionary War Veterans.

Three More Pass Bar Examination

Lawrence J. Chazen of 172 Lark Lane, Mill Valley, Charles A. Black of 20 Raccoon Road, Tiburon, and Anthony L. Wright of 1748 Pine Avenue, Petaluma, passed the 1969 fall bar examination.

Their names were omitted from a list of Marin and southern Sonoma candidates passing the examination which appeared in Tuesday's Independent-Journal.



DEFIES GRAVITY — In "2001: A Space Odyssey," unfolding a drama of adventure and exploration into the future, a stewardess carrying a weightless food tray, enters the cockpit area of the spacecraft Aries to serve a meal to the crew. Special shoes enable her to cling to the walls of the vehicle in any position even when she appears to be moving upside-down.

'2001' Opener Brings Kubrick To Forefront

"2001: A Space Odyssey" marks Stanley Kubrick's first motion picture since his controversial and widely successful "Dr. Strangelove, Or How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb."

His new adventure into the future encompasses a sweep in history from the dawn of man to some 31 years in the future.

Filmed in Super Panavision and Metrocolor, it was produced and directed by Kubrick and was co-written by Kubrick and Arthur C. Clarke, noted space authority and science fiction writer.

Six months before the cameras turned, Kubrick and Clarke were joined by a team of 36 technical designers from 12 countries, whose responsibility was to anticipate and visualize in sets and props the startling technological progress of the start of the 21st Century. More than 40 major industrial and scientific concerns from the United States and Europe supported the film with design construction.

In another era of film making, the stars, Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood, could well have reached peak screen heroics with roles duplicating the feats of Christopher Columbus, Daniel Boone, Scott of the Antarctic or other explorers who have won a place in history through the enaction of their dreams.

As two astronauts involved in a deep space probe, they worked alone in a 40-foot tall set, with Kubrick directing the scenes outside with the assistance of television screens and a sound hook-up. As the action was transmitted to Kubrick on the screen, it was also videotaped, with the result that seconds later the actors were able to watch themselves in a runthrough of their scenes before trying another "take."

The space ship "Discovery" dominated one of the 11 sound stages at MGM's British studios.

Armored Truck Overturns And Money 'Flows'

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — An armored truck overturned on icy Interstate 75 near here today and a large quantity of money spilled out when the vehicle's door flew open.

Armed guards immediately took positions outside the area where the truck flipped over on the median strip and apparently all the money, said to be hundreds of thousands of dollars, was recovered.

A motorist who stopped to offer assistance was told to "move on" by the guards armed with shotguns.

One guard was hurt but not seriously.

The truck was righted and continued south.

Bolinas Board Votes Sewer Pact

A joint powers agreement with the Stinson Beach County Water District to pave the way for a joint sewer system for Stinson Beach and Bolinas was was approved by the Bolinas Public Utility District board last night, Secretary Jane Phillips reported today.

The vote for the agreement, already approved by the Stinson Beach board was 4 to 1, with new member James E. Kerr voting against it.

The agreement was a necessary step before the two communities can go ahead with securing financing and setting up a special assessment district for a joint system.

Commonwealth

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky is one of four commonwealths in the United States. The other three — Virginia, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania — all were former British colonies.

San Francisco State Still Seethes Inwardly

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — A year later, an outward calm prevails on what was once the battlefield of San Francisco State College. But below the surface simmers a war of a different kind.

The undercurrent struggle, masked by tranquility and study, is the legacy of riotous events of last winter, when curses, bombs, rocks and policy billy clubs were the way of life on the 18,000-student campus.

STORM CENTER

At the storm center of contention is the Black Students Union, the same BSU which called the shots for both black and white militants in some four months of uproar last year.

Today, the BSU repeatedly and forcefully advertises its goals: "revolution . . . struggle . . . exposure of the inequalities of a dying America . . ."

Despite the fierce words, top administration officials of the institution say they are convinced pressure by the black community will keep the lid on any renewal of major physical violence.

While sharing this view, some top faculty leaders, however, believe the campus "is a volcano ready to blow up . . . seething beneath the surface."

The tight focus of the BSU is on the college's new Black Studies Department, now accommodating 460 students, mostly black, under an all-black faculty of 12 part-time and six full-time instructors.

'LIKE . . . NO SOUL'

A recent editorial in the BSU's publication, Black Fire, said: "Students must make progress both ideologically and polictically . . . not to have a correct political point of view is like having no soul."

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, president of the college, said in a news conference that campus black militants were carrying on a "reign of terror" among Negro faculty members in an attempt to take over the department.

Urban Whitaker, dean of undergraduate studies and acting dean of ethnic studies, said intimidation of faculty members has included smashing of car windows, slashing of tires, the beating of two white students, interceptions of mail and attempts at class disruption.

"The problem is not black versus white," he said. "It's over a difference of opinion among black students and black faculty over the purpose of the (Black Studies) program. That program has to be educational as opposed to revolutionary indoctrination."

The administration, appraised that the militants were going off the campus to recruit support within the black community, decided to do the same thing.

The Baptist Ministers Union of 108 pastors, leaders of most of the church-going Negro community, were asked to investigate the "reign of terror" charges.

CLERIC SPEAKS UP

On Nov. 18, the Rev. G. L. Bedford, president of the union and a disciple of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., announced virtually looking the campus black militants in the eye:

"Let me make it crystal clear, as a militant advocate of peace, that we Christian clergymen do not condone violence as a measure of reason on any level, at any place, or at any time . . . we of the Baptist Ministers Union are not separatists and neither do we subscribe to the separatist ideology of racism—black or white."

A year ago, the violence and uproar on the San Francisco State campus embroiled people of every stripe—radical left, liberal, conservative and ultra-right.

Today, it appears to have boiled down to black versus black in the new Black Studies Department.

A college spokesman today confirmed a story in Black Fire that Whitaker has threatened to cut off salaries of the entire Black Studies faculty.

The spokesman also said Whitaker has ordered paychecks for Black Studies student employees held up under the Economic Opportunity Program and has fired radical student administrator Nesbit Crutchfield.

In a "restricted" confidential memo reprinted in Black Fire, Whitaker called the situation in Black Studies "an extreme emergency" and said he did not know whether it "can be resolved peacefully."

Whitaker said he had informed the Black Studies faculty that unless they agree to meet with either him or Hayakawa to discuss their differences with the administration, he would cut off their pay.

"The basic necessity for these unhappy decisions is that what is being forced upon us is not student involvement but student control," he said in his memo.

"The fact of the matter is . . . that a group of students is in substantial control of some vitally important activities. The fact is, further, that they are performing important duties in a subprofessional manner.

"And it seems possible that the actions I am taking to relieve this problem will be part of a chain . . . leading to some severe confrontations with potentially very serious side effects."

NEW CROSSING BRINGS POSSIBLE HAZARD

Opening of the new Highway 101 overcrossing to Coleman School in San Rafael (left) has apparently brought a traffic hazard to pupils approaching the overcrossing from the west side of Highway 101. To reach the bridge, pupils must enter the street and cross unguarded Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on Paloma Avenue, near Lincoln. Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori said a crossing guard will be placed at the location when Coleman School buses, which pick up pupils on Lincoln are discontinued because of the new overcrossing. More safety precautions also may be taken, he said. Students bounded across the $140,000 overcrossing—first tubular girder bridge in the country—this week after its official opening on Tuesday. Bridge Toll Boosts 'Appall' McCarthy

Hikes in Golden Gate Bridge tolls for commuters and busses, approved last Friday by bridge district directors, should be rescinded, Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, said today.

"I am appalled by the action," McCarthy said in a press statement. "Tolls should be kept as low as possible," he said.

"It has been suggested that the bridge directors are trying to perpetuate themselves in office, and in my opinion, there is a great deal of truth of this suggestion," he said.

(The Marin County Board of Supervisors, however, consistently has favored continuation of the bridge district after its bonds are repaid in 1971. Continuation of the district would be the surest way to keep its revenue for solving Marin-San Francisco traffic congestion, the supervisors have said.)

McCarthy's statement said the bridge could be put into the state highway system, predicting "we could make certain bridge revenues are used for improving transportation between Marin County and San Francisco."

McCarthy has tried unsuccessfully for years to win passage of legislation to put all transportation facilities in the Bay Area under a regional authority.

As of Dec. 26, commuter books on the bridge will go from $6.50 to $10 for a 25-round trip book. After June 1970, commuter books will be eliminated The bus tolls, effective Jan. 1, go from 26 cents to $2 for each round trip, which has triggered a Greyhound Lines West move to add a flat $1 charge to all coupon books for Marin commute passengers.

Marijuana-By-Mail Leads To San Rafael Arrest

A 23-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of having marijuana for sale and possessing other dangerous drugs after San Rafael police, tipped-off by the U.S. Customs Bureau, discovered 14 ounces of pot in a package mailed to the suspect from a serviceman stationed overseas.

Police Inspector Gilbert F. Freitas said Gary Michael Lindsey was arrested at his home at 12:40 p.m. at 9½ F Street shortly after the parcel arrived from an S. D. Thompson apparently stationed in Asia.

Police found pot hidden in a pillow in the package, Freitas said. Other dangerous drugs, including mescaline, were also discovered inside Lindsey's home, he added.

Police had been alerted by customs agents who had intercepted the package, Freitas explained. Letters found in Lindsey's house indicated, according to Freitas, that Thompson had been supplying the suspect with as much narcotics "as you can sell," Frietas said.

Army investigators are continuing the investigation overseas, according to Freitas. It is believed Thompson is stationed in Korea, but this fact has not been verified, he added.

Lindsey, who was booked in Marin County Jail, is free after posting $1,000 bail. Heis scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Youth To Sponsor A Rock Concert

The Mill Valley Youth Commission last night voted to sponsor a benefit rock dance for the Mill Valley Drop-In House, secretary Kim Ritter reported.

The dance, tentatively set for Feb 13, will be held at the community recreation center and will feature Marin County rock bands.

Commissioners also voted to sponsor a county music festival in the spring which would include the Marin Symphony, various rock bands, country and western and other musical groups, Miss Ritter said.

2,000 SPEAK TO ST. NICK

More than 2,000 Marin and Southern Sonoma children spoke to Santa Claus last night, bringing to 3,957 the number of youngsters who participated in the "Call Santa" project sponsored by the Independent-Journal and three junior chambers of commerce.

Helping with the two-day telephone project were the San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley Junior chambers.

Posse Combs Tam Valley For Fugitive

Southern Marin law enforcement officers converged on a heavily wooded section of Tamalpais Valley shortly before noon today in an attempt to capture a possible burglar who was considered possibly armed and dangerous.

At least two shots had been fired, according to sketchy police reports.

The suspect was still at large at noon. Armed units of the sheriff's office, California Highway Patrol and the Mill Valley Police Department were combing the heavily populated area near Shoreline Highway and Loring Avenue for the man whose car ran off the road there.

Sheriff's deputies said the suspect apparently was surprised during an attempted burglary of a San Geronimo Valley home when the occupant returned. The man fled west and roadblocks were thrown up at Marshall and further south on Shoreline Highway.

A deputy's patrol unit then picked up the suspect car somewhere west of Mill Valley and followed in hot pursuit, deputies said. It was not immediately clear whether the suspect was forced off the road or drove off deliberately.

Three sheriff's units, three Mill Valley units and several CHP units were on the scene at noon. Police were armed with shotguns in their search for the man, who at that time was on foot, deputies said.

Conservationist Alliance Folds

Alliance For Conservation decided to go out of business last night, reported Kay Spitler of Mill Valley.

The organization was dissolved after a unanimous vote decided the alliance had served its original purpose in having various conservation groups get to know each other, Mrs. Spitler explained.

The alliance is hoping that its function of serving as an information body and coordinator between conservation groups will be taken over by a newly formed speakers bureau of the Marin Conservation League, she added.

Evidence Insufficient To Continue Toliver Pay Probe

The Marin County district attorney's office said today there was insufficient evidence for a criminal complaint to be issued against Sausalito School District charging illegal action in raising the salary of James T. Toliver Jr., a principal's assistant.

"It is the opinion of this office that the evidence presented is insufficient to prove that Toliver's salary was set in executive session and for that reason no criminal complaint for a violation of the Brown Act will be issued," announced Joshua Thomas, deputy district attorney.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales ordered an inquiry into the matter after the Independent-Journal disclosed in October that Toliver's pay had been increased more than that of other teaching employees in the district, without knowledge of the public.

Thomas blamed the lack of public knowledge on the procedure used by the district board.

At the board's budget sessions last June, he said, "neither the press nor the public was supplied with a copy of a line-item budget which contained the amount that Toliver and other employees of the district were to receive. Although the district board, at those sessions, was aware of what Toliver's salary was to be, the public was not.

"None of the tape records of the school board meetings reviewed indicated that the board specifically discussed Toliver's salary . . . In addition, the budget required to be forwarded to the Marin County superintendent of schools is in a form that merely contains a general statement of amounts budgeted for certain personnel classifications with no specific names mentioned.

"Although the board's action in adoption of the proposed budget containing Toliver's salary and those of the other employees was legal, having been done in open session, the failure to supply detailed information to the public prevented its being aware of the action taken and created the impression that the action was taken in executive meetings."

Thomas suggested that "residents of the Sausalito School District may wish to have this procedure changed in the future."

The Sausalito School District board on June 16 agreed to a 7.5 per cent salary scale increase for teaching employees. Toliver, however, was raised from $12,500 to $14,024 — a 12.2 per cent increase.

Last year, Toliver received a raise from $9,650 to $12,500, an increase of 29.5 per cent. The district attorney's investigation did not go into whether last year's increase was granted properly in open board session.

More Volunteer Firemen Sought

The Stinson Beach volunteer firemen last night decided to launch a recruiting drive to expand the number of people available to fight fires in the shore area, Fire Chief Col. George White reported today.

White said anyone interested in taking the training for the volunteers should call him in Stinson Beach. The department now has about 14 members although all of them are not active, he said.

"It's difficult to get people out," he said, "But if they realize this is the only fire protection they have, they might come. The whole idea is to protect our own homes and there's no reason why a dozen guys should do all the work."

Revolver Stolen

A loaded .38 caliber revolver was stolen Friday or Saturday from Gallagher's Hardware and Lumber, 4224 Redwood Highway, San Rafael police reported today.

Hashish Raid Trio Charged, Girl Freed

Three men arrested in a raid on a Tamalpais Valley motel Tuesday where narcotics agents said they seized a large quantity of hashish was well as more than $24,000 in cash were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on drug charges.

David Stuart King, 25, of Billings, Mont., and Jeffrey David Wyard, 25, of Missolua, Mont., were charged with possessing marijuana for sale, and George S. Garr, 23, who gave the Fountain Motel as his address, was accused of possessing marijuana.

No charge was filed against a young woman, Linda Ann Reinbold, 19, who was also arrested at the motel.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein refused to release the men on their own recognizance and set bail for King and Wyard at $7,500 and at $5,000 for Garr.

They were to appear in court today to enter pleas to the charges.

Marinwood CDS Panel Rejects Ditch Plan

Marinwood Community Services District directors declined last night to accept a proposed offer of a drainage ditch alongside a townhouse development on the south side of Miller Creek Road at Las Gallinas Avenue.

The developer had suggested that he deed the ditch to the district instead of meeting its proposal that the ditch be fenced or covered, reported the district's business manager-secretary, Genevieve T. Bolding.

But the directors agreed that maintenance of the ditch would be beyond the district's responsibilities for fire protection and recreation, she said.

The net result of the board's decision was to make the issue moot, since the development has been approved by the Marin County Planning Commission, she said.

Marinwood Community Services District directors also:

REAPPOINTED — Reappointed, for 1970, fire commissioners Boyd Wells, Kenneth Katz and Dale Schmidt and park and recreation commissioners Richard O'Brien, Henry Fuqua and Mrs. Duncan Gordon.

CADET — Received a $610 check from the Marin County Juvenile Court Auxiliary to meet the cost for the rest of this fiscal year of paying a cadet fireman $1.65 an hour.

PAY — Approved extra steps in pay grade for fireman Kenneth Fowler, from $687 to $732 a month, for doing an "outstanding" job as training officer, and for fireman Eugene Reed, from $663 to $697 a month.

End To Saucer Probe Welcomed By Association

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A 10,000-member saucer-watching association today welcomed the Air Force's decision to stop its investigation of flying saucers. It paves the way for a fresh, more thorough scientific study, the group said.

The National Investigations Committee for Aerial Phenomena (NICAP) said Air Force abandonment of a 21-year-old Project Bluebook program means unidentified flying objects (UFOs) "can now be given the serious, scientific attention they require, free from military considerations."

Bonn Puts Ban On Use Of DDT

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government today banned the use of DDT and other pesticides because their side effects are damaging to humans.

In announcing the ban, the Ministry of Agriculture said the use of DDT had declined in West Germany in recent years.

The United States has banned DDT and the British government put curbs on its use last night.

Could The Pill End Marin Dog, Cat Population Boom?

Birth control pills for animals are entirely possible, a Marin veterinarian asserted today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" — but in the meantime a subsidized sterilization clinic might be worthwhile.

The speaker, Dr. William E. Rushworth of San Rafael, said it really should be called " a hysterectomy program rather than a spaying program" because of the surgery involved. In this he agreed with a fellow veterinarian on the program, Dr. Rombert M. Bramman of San Rafael.

Research in birth control pills for animals is now going on, Rushworth reported.

The two veterinarians said they and their colleagues would support a subsidized spaying clinic to help reduce the excess of cats and dogs in Marin. Both stressed, however, that the operation is not a simple one which can be done quickly and cheaply.

The two joined Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, and Earl C. Codding of San Anselmo in discussion of a petition campaign by Margaret Goodyear of Mill Valley for a county-subsidized spaying clinic.

Codding said he felt such a clinic should not be free, but should be subsidized to the extent that the cost would not prevent pet owners from participating. He urged licensing of cats to help pay the costs, in which he was joined by Rushworth.

Bramman noted many problems in connection with a sterilization program: funding, what owners would be eligible, where the operations would be done,etc.

Morse devoted his talk principally to setting forth the problem of unwanted pets. The Humane Society, he said, "will wholeheartedly cooperate with anything that will help cut down the problem."

Volks Bus Stolen

A 1958 Volkswagen bus, license BCT 372, was stolen between 9 p.m. yesterday and 7 a.m. today from 65 Millard Road, Larkspur police reported. The bus is owned by John R. Warne of 26 Madera Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Okinawa has been called by military men "the keystone of the Pacific."

Condominium Gains Nod In Sausalito

A 12-unit condominium development proposed for 319 Sausalito Boulevard was sent to the Sausalito City Council last night with a unanimous recommendation by the city planning commission for approval, City Clerk Miriam Ansell reported today.

The development will be built by developer Malcolm Dewees and Mini Spice, Inc.

The planning commission delayed action, pending more study, on another use permit application for a 431 -unit apartment development of the old American Distillery property adjacent to the north city limits.

Mrs. Ansell said the commission wants more time to study height, parking and other plans for the multi million dollar development proposed by Lafayette builder Joseph Duffell.

In other action, the commission set 8 p.m. Jan. 7 at city hall for a public hearing on proposed amendments to the city's ordinance relating to enlargement, extension or reconstruction of buildings which have nonconforming uses.

New Plea For TV Teaching

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has kicked off an investigation of broadcast operations of the parent companies of six major radio and television station licensees.

The FCC said yesterday it will probe problems raised by ownership of broadcast stations by conglomerates and other companies with nonbroadcast enterprises.

Questionnaires sent to the six firms call for submission of documents containing their instructions to broadcast subsidiaries. These include arrangements for preclearance of programs and safeguards to prevent companies' nonbroadcast interest from affecting station programming.

The six firms chosen for the pilot study are Avco Corp., Chris-Craft Industries Inc., Cox Enterprises Inc., Fuqua Industries Inc., E.W. Scripps Co. and Travelers Insurance Co.

San Marin Players To Open Trilogy Tonight

The San Marin High School Players will present "The World of Sholom Aleichem" at 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Saturday at the Novato Community House.

The play is directed by D. Nancy De Luca. Kathryn Scarabino is stage manager and Nancy Paris and Eric Prohaska are assistant directors.

"Bontche Schweig" a dream play displays a courtroom scene in heaven. The cast is Elaine Womack, Teri Loegering, Gail Guiliano, Emily Eckhoff, Lars Ehrnstrom, Luc Nixon, Eric Prohaska, Carol Child, David Gregory, Aila Karpio and Patricia Herrington.

In the play "High School" Nancy Paris and Daniel Sill attempt to get their son, Luc Nixon, into a good high school, Emily Eckhoff, Rick Wilson, Kathryn Scarabino, Eric Prohaska, Terri Loegering, Dave Gregory, Peter Homer and Harold Amolsch add to the plot as complications set in.

Station Wagon Reported Taken

A station wagon stolen at 2 a.m. today in Larkspur was recovered at 4:45 a.m. parked outside a Corte Madera apartment building, police reported.

Owner Patricia Halbe of 105 Baltimore Avenue, Corte Madera, told Larkspur police the car was stolen at 445 Magnolia Avenue when she stopped at a tavern for a few minutes.

House Of Lords Bans Death Penalty

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords today permanently banished the death penalty for murder in Great Britain after a two-day debate that crossed party lines.

The Lords approved without a formal vote count a Labor government motion to make permanent a four-year experiment idling the hangman despite strong conservative opposition and public opinion polls showing renewed support for using the gallows.

A key to the abolition victory in what both parties called a matter of conscience appeared to be the alternative: a return to the unpopular 1957 Homicide Act. Even the hanging lobby wanted to avoid that because of complicated definitions in it of which murders could be punished by death.

Stubborn attempts by Lords who still favored the gallows failed to delay the showdown verdict proposed by Home Secretary James Callaghan.

Lord Brooke of Cumnor proposed that the vote be delayed until murder and violence statistics for 1969 were available in mid-1970. Lord Dilhorn, former Conservative lord chancellor, moved that the experimental abolition be continued until 1973.

The abolition, which may last only until a Conservative government gains power, covered only murder, not capital crimes of state or of the armed forces.

The actual voting, figured to be close, came on an amendment to the government's original motion proposed by Lord Dilhorn. This would have extended to 1973 the experimental abolition of hanging in order to compile statistics on the deterrent value of the noose.

The Lords voted against it, 220-174.

Lords backing hanging then gave up the battle and the government motion was declared approved "without division," a parliamentary phrase meaning no further vote was needed.

The vote climaxed 40 years of attempts to root out the death penalty for murder. The House of Lords delayed even an experimental recess for 20 years until 1964. It finally approved temporary abolition to end July 31, 1970, beginning in November 1965.

If Parliament had taken no action, the Homicide Act would have returned as law, a result apparently pleasing to neither side. The act divided murder into capital and noncapital categories.

Capital crimes were defined as murders committed in the course of theft, by shooting or explosion, to prevent arrest, of policemen and prison officials and second murders.

BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA APPLICATION

No. 51552

Application of Pacific Gas and Electric Company for authority, among other things, to increase its rates and charges for electric service. (Electric)

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY hereby gives notice that in Application No. 51552 filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on December 15, 1969, it has requested authorization to increase its rates and charges for electric service and to make various changes in its electric rate schedules.

The proposed rates will increase PGandE's electric revenues about 9½% to meet the increasing costs of providing electric service to the Company's more than 2.5 million electric customers. The proposed increase to domestic customers will average $1.12 per month over present rates. This is the first request by PGandE to increase its electric rates since 1957.

The principal increase in PGandE's expenses causing this proposal is the cost of money necessary to pay for the construction of facilities which are required to provide adequate electric service to PGandE's customers. The cost of bond money, which is a major source of such funds, has recently risen to more than 9%. Because of the existing and prospective future status of the financial market, a rate of return of not less than 7.8% on the depreciated original cost rate base of PGandE's Electric Department is required. The proposed rates are intended to produce such a rate of return. Rate zone changes to reflect changes in population and customer densities are also proposed. Various rate schedules are proposed to be consolidated and closed to new customers. Wording changes in the rate schedules are proposed to make them more meaningful and easier to understand.

A copy of the application and related exhibits may be examined at the offices of the California Public Utilities Commission, State Building, 350 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California 94102; at Pacific Gas and Electric Company, 245 Market Street, San Francisco, California 94106, Room 832; and c/o the Division Managers in PGandE's Division Headquarters in Eureka, Red Bluff, Chico, Marysville, Sacramento, Auburn, San Rafael, San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Salinas, Fresno, and Stockton.

This notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Rule 24 of the revised Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission.

$2 Million Center Gets Shot Down

The Larkspur City Council last night pretty well shot down plans for a $2 million shopping center proposed for a site at Doherty Drive and Magnolia Avenue by requiring that a gas station be eliminated and more parking spaces added.

Stewart Bowie, president of SDC, a corporation with headquarters in Corona del Mar, Orange County, said after a conditional use permit for the project had been approved, that "I doubt that we'll be back."

He had earlier in the meeting said that the gas station was economically necessary for the center. Councilmen objected to the service station because there is another one nearby, because of access and because they wanted more parking spaces.

SDC's plans called for 23,000-square-foot Alpha Beta supermarket supported by 15,500 square feet of smaller shops and the gas station on a site now occupied by the Larkspur Lumber Co.

A use permit allowing commercial use in an area planned for industrial uses was denied 2-2 by the Larkspur Planning Commission last month. The developers were appealing that decision last night.

The Larkspur City Council also:

OVERCROSSING — Asked the County of Marin to allocate $50,000 from County Urban Thoroughfare Funds for the city's share in the cost of reconstruction of the railroad overcrossing on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the Greenbrae Interchange.

IMPROVEMENTS — Accepted street improvements on Oak Road and Redwood Avenue.

GIFT — Accepted and thanked the Niven family for a gift of a $35,400-piece of land for the Ward Street extension.

SALARY — Voted to raise City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst's salary from $1,450 a month to $1,550 with Mayor Neil Brixon voting no.

PARKING BAN — Moved the no parking zone from the east side to the west side of Redwood Avenue.

STREET — Voted to repair Magnolia Avenue between Branch and Alexander avenues after learning that the Larkspur-Corte Madera School District will pay for a sidewalk.

MEMORY — Adjourned in memory of H. H. (Steve) Wheeler, former mayor who died Dec. 3.

Correct Date For Health Panel Session

The annual meeting of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council will be held Jan. 14, not Jan. 24, as incorrectly reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The meeting, at which board members will be elected, will begin at 8 p.m. in the administration building of the Civic Center.

Doctors Urging State Health Cabinet Rank

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Medical Association is proposing creation of a new cabinet-level state health agency consolidating all state health and health-related activities.

The proposal was presented yesterday to the State Health Planning Council by Dr. Malcolm Todd of Long Beach, past president of the CMA.

He told the council, an advisory board to Gov. Ronald Reagan and Human Relations Secretary Spencer Williams, that health services, including Medi-Cal, now total 18 per cent of the state budget and warrant agency status.

The council referred the proposal to its task force on organization, which also is considering a plan presented five months ago by Williams' agency to consolidate health services into one department.

"We felt that the philosophical approach taken in that document had as a net effect lowering the status of health. In effect it made the Department of Health into a bureau," said Richard W. Lemos, CMA director of government relations.

He said the CMA proposal would upgrade health services in state government.

"As the Human Relations Agency is now constituted, it does not give to the health elements all the attention which they should receive," Lemos said.

"The Health Agency should serve as the vehicle for consolidation of some of the 86 boards, committees and councils (relating to health) . . ." the CMA proposal said.

"This includes 33 boards, committees and councils which relate to the State Department of Public Health, 25 to the Department of Mental Hygiene, and 20 to the Department of Health Care Services. Eight statutory boards are associated with the healing arts element of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards which will be included in the health agency," the report added.

Monagan Slated To Propose Major Legislative Reshuffle

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The biggest legislative reorganization since 1966 will be proposed tomorrow by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

Monagan will go before a Capitol news conference and propose a constitutional amendment revising the present methods of holding legislative sessions.

If adopted by the lawmakers and approved by the voters in June 1970, the plan would mean the biggest change for the legislature since Californians enacted Prop. 1-A in 1966 and gave the state annual legislative sessions.

Under the latest plan, Capitol sources said, sessions would last for two years. Now, they last for only part of a year.

Under the present system, a bill that hasn't passed at adjournment is automatically dead. Under the new plan, a bill that cleared the Assembly one year but failed to pass the Senate would still be alive the following year. If it then passed the Senate, it would go to the governor.

Advocates say it would save time and state printing costs.

In addition, Monagan plans to propose that the Legislature be given complete control of when it meets.

At present, the Legislature must hold daily sessions of the Senate and the Assembly, even if there is no business to transact. Critics have said this time often should be spent in more productive committee hearings.

MARIN CIVIC BALLET

'Nutcracker' To Be Danced On Saturday And Sunday

An energetic, dedicated group of young dancers is polishing the "Nutcracker" in preparation for four performances Saturday and Sunday.

Fairies and flowers and snowflakes and dozens of other characters will fill the stage of the Fine Arts Theater at College of Marin, dancing out the whimsical ballet to the strains of Tchaikovsky's composition.

The young people are members of the Marin Civic Ballet, a group which emphasizes excellence and keeps the young people busy practicing their movements.

The ballet opens with a Christmas party, moves into the snow forest and later to the palace of the sugar plum fairy.

Performances will be presented at 2:30 and 8 p.m. both days.

Leona Norman is director of the production, with Charles Hoeppner as stage director and Alonzo Gonzales as stage manager.

Members of the cast and the parts they will play are Richard Hein, burghermeister; Gretchen Antonioli, his wife; Ellen Frank, Clara; Craig Randolph, Franz; Ruth Syndon, the Duchess; Ernest Widlund, Drosselmeyer; Holly Berryman, governess; Irmgard and William Koller, Sara McKinnon and Rocky White, all guests;

Katharin Donaldson, Devra Jarvis, Nancy Klamons, Marianne Knox, Jennifer Nicolaisen, Lynn Rothmann, Michele Shibata, Lisa Vukisevich, Kathy Bell, Mindy Jonas, Sharon Jupp, Jill Kamler, Carolyn McCarthy, Moira MacMahon and Christina Rolling, all children;

Jennifer Palo, harlequin doll; Jennifer Deane, Wendy Gates and Michele Sabella, columbines; Corinne Dermott, Katie Dougherty, Andrea Fish and Alison Leidel, soldiers;

Theresa Glasner, Celeste Henninger, Carrie Ives, Karen Koster, Susan Lenoff, Ann Little, Piper Mertie, Gretchen Phils and Carmelita Quiros, all mice;

Lauren Doyle, Jennifer Greva, Cecelia Hayward, Cornelia Puffe, Beth Tannehill, Susan Weisenburg, Jennifer Booth, Carol Emery, Kim Habenicht, Nancy Hall, Leslie Staller, Carol Webb, Karen Davis, Camille Duffin, Karen Fox and Amoret Thissell, all pages;

Rocky White, Spanish; Cynthia Harvey and Nancy Jones, Chinese; Craig Randolph and Paul Ricci, Russian; Holly Berryman, Arabian; Bonnie Bent and Jane Thelen, ribbon candy;

Alison Potter, Laurie Antonioli, Alison Hoover, Cindy Shatz, Susan Swieconek, Jody Marvin, Robin Frederick, Diane Loriano, all members of the circus;

Carol Brannon, Susi Bondi, Kerry Burcham, Lori Crichton, Melinda Leoncini, Kathi McCormich and Sara McKinnon, all flowers.

THE ARABIAN — Holly Berryman moves through her paces as the Arabian dancer in the "Palace of the Sugar Plum Fairy," in this scene from the upcoming presentation of the "Nutcracker."

A BALLET GARDEN — The flowers from the "Palace of the Sugar Plum Fairy" whirl around stage, circling soloist Carol Brannon. Other flowers are (from left) Lori Crichton, Sara McKinnon, Kerry Burcham, Susi Bondi, Kathi McCormich and Melinda Leoncini. The scene is from the "Nutcracker" to be presented Saturday and Sunday by the Marin Civic Ballet on the College of Marin campus. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

SNOW PEOPLE — Becky Jones and Paul Ricci, the snow queen and prince, rehearse a scene from "The Snow Forest," part of the "Nutcracker" to be presented by the Marin Civic Ballet.

A FLOATING FAIRY—Laurie Berryman, the sugar plum fairy in the "Nutcracker," floats with the help of her cavalier, Charles Perrier in a scene from the "Nutcracker."

POISED FOR TAKE-OFF—Spanish dancer Rocky White appears ready to fly in this scene from the "Nutcracker," to be presented Saturday and Sunday. He appears in the second act, the "Palace of the Sugar Plum Fairy."

1968 Station Wagon
Unusual circumstances enable us to offer this rare vehicle at an extraordinary low price. V-4 engine, 4-speed transmission, with free-wheeling option, rear 3rd seat, FM-AM radio, Michelin tires, low 1-owner mileage. Lovely white with flawless red vinyl interior. Superb Swedish craftmanship. Our sale price of only $1999 can be financed at low bank rates with a very small trade-in equity or cash down. YWG 893.

If you're fussy and particular and looking for the best and cleanest older station wagon for the money—see this wagon before you buy any.

Local, one-owner wagon that defies the fact that it's 6 years old. There isn't a speck of wear anywhere inside or out, and if you've looked at any wagons, this is a rare trait.

Legal Notices

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that the City of San Anselmo will receive bids for Placing 72,000 square feet of base rock and armor coat and necessary ditch cleaning on Redwood Road between Fernwood Drive and Melville Avenue in the City of San Anselmo, California, each bid to be in accordance with plans and specifications and other contract documents now on file in the City Clerk's Office at the City Hall, San Anselmo, California, where they may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per set which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within seven (7) days after the bid opening.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local laws thereto applicable, the City Council of San Anselmo has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or Mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder. A copy of these rates is on file in the City Engineer's Office, City Hall, San Anselmo.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any sub-contractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the Office of the City Clerk, City Hall, San Anselmo, California; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for ten (10) per cent of the amount of the bid made payable to the order of the City of San Anselmo, San Anselmo, California, on or before 4:00 p.m., December 23, 1969, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud in the aforementioned office of the City Clerk.

The above-mentioned check or bond shall be as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded to him, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the City of San Anselmo, California.

The City of San Anselmo, California, reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or waive any informality in a bid.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening hereof.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN, CALIFORNIA

RESOLUTION NO. 69-372
RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO DISPOSE OF SURPLUS REAL PROPERTY.

WHEREAS, the County of Marin is the owner of certain hereinafter described real property not necessary for its use which is hereby declared surplus;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED as follows:

1. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, pursuant to Sections 25520, et seq., of the Government Code, does hereby declare its intention to sell said property. A public meeting of the Board will be held at the Chambers of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on the 10th day of February, 1970, at 11:30 o'clock A.M., at which time sealed proposals to purchase said property will be received and considered. Said property intended to be sold is generally known as the "COURTHOUSE SQUARE" and is described as follows:

That certain real property situate in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

Block 31 as shown on "Plat of the Townsite of the Town of San Rafael, "filed October 14, 1873, in Rack 1 of Maps at Pull 4, Marin County Records.

2. The minimum acceptable price for said property is Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($750,000).

3. The terms of sale shall be as follows:

(a) All bids must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check payable to "COUNTY OF MARIN" in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the amount bid. This sum shall be deposited in an escrow opened to complete the purchase and sale. If the purchase is not consummated, as specified herein, for any reason whatsoever, County shall be entitled to retain $10,000 of said sum as reimbursement of the loss County will suffer if the sale is not completed.

(b) The remainder of the purchase price, including the amount on deposit, must be paid to County, through escrow, within nine months from the date of award. The purchaser may, at his option, pay the purchase price in full, in advance of the above dates. Until the sale is actually completed, purchaser shall have no interest in the property.

(c) A grant deed to the property will be delivered to escrow by County with instructions to the escrow holder to record and deliver the deed to the purchaser immediately after the County certifies that full payment of the purchase price has been received. County shall pay all escrow charges except title insurance premiums. County shall be entitled to retain all interest earned on the funds deposited in escrow.

(d) Possession of said property will be delivered upon consummation of the sale.

4. All bidders will be required to submit bids on a form supplied by County. Oral bids will be considered in the manner provided by law, but no oral bids will be accepted from bidders who have not established their responsibility by submission of a written bid and deposit. An additional deposit need not be made for an oral bid, but the successful bidder's original deposit must be increased to five per cent (5%) of his bid within five (5) days after award.

5. The County reserves the right to remove and retain the memorial statue located on the grounds. If the Courthouse Building is demolished at any time, the cornerstone thereof shall be returned to County.

6. No real estate commission shall be paid in connection with said sale.

7. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any errors or irregularities in any bid. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of ten (10) days after submission.

8. The Clerk of this Board shall cause three copies of the within resolution, signed by the Chairman of this Board, to be posted in three public places within the County at least fifteen (15) days before the date of said hearing and the opening of said bids and shall cause notice of the adoption of this resolution to be published once a week for three (3) consecutive weeks prior to the hearing on said matter, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, held on the 9th day of December, 1969, by the following vote:

AYES: SUPERVISORS William A. Gnoss, Louis H. "Bud" Baar, Peter R. Arrigoni, John F. McInnis.
NOES: NONE.
ABSENT: SUPERVISOR Michael Wornum.
/s/ JOHN F. McINNIS
Chairman of the Board
ATTEST:
/s/ GEO. H. GNOSS, Clerk

All persons who desire a bid form and/or additional information relating to the foregoing are directed to contact the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Bellach's

Isn't THIS the recliner Dad really wants?
You bet it is--and a FANTASTIC VALUE

SAVE $40 Regular $159⁹⁵ value NOW $119⁹⁵

- Generous proportions, 41" tall x 33" wide.
- 3-way mechanism, perfect support in each position.
- Luxurious foam padding in seat, back, arms, footrest.
- Magnificent good looks.
- Sumptuous, practical, leather-look vinyl.
- Rich, clear colors; Charcoal Brown, Charcoal Olive.
- Solidly braced all-hardwood frame.
- Substantial savings — priced now at what you'd expect to pay in an after Christmas clearance.

Probably only once or twice in a lifetime will you buy a chair for Dad. So naturally you want it to be a good one — one Dad himself would pick for comfort, durability, for value. Well, here it is. Utteryly superb in every way. Sure to please Dad on Christmas. Certain to make him think of you each time he settles into its relaxing comfort through the years.

Yes, this is a noble chair indeed. Some recliners are a wee bit skimpy for total relaxing, but not this one. It's a full 41" high, a generous 33" wide. The seat is a roomy 21"x21". Some chairs tilt without changing the tilter's position — but this chair's back and seat move independently. Thus, whether Dad leans back to watch TV or reclines fully for a snooze, the back and seat adjust perfectly to assure his total comfort. Some chairs feel pretty hard after you've been sitting for awhile, but not this chair. It's foam-lavished. Yes, every point of contact is deliciously foam padded, from deeply tufted back to the 5" thick foam seat. Even the arms and footrest are comfortably foam padded. And every ounce of foam is effectively supported and permanently anchored to always stay in place without every becoming lumpy.

Oh, this is a handsome chair, too. Dad will surely be the envy of his friends when they see it. You'll be proud you gave it to Dad, proud of the way it looks in your home. The fabric has the appearance of fine leather, but it's really a far more practical plastic. Not ordinary plastic, mind you, but supple, luxurious vinyl that's also tough and resistant to snags. Easy to keep clean, too — just wipe soil away with a damp cloth. The colors are rich and clear.

Like we said, this is THE recliner Dad wants. We bought enough to get the price way down, so you can buy for Christmas giving at a clearance price. But the VALUE here is so sensational our supply won't last forever. So don't disappoint DAD — don't miss this FANTASTIC RECLINER VALUE. Make your selection NOW (phone your order if you can't come in). We'll hold your chair and deliver before Christmas — you tell us when. One more thing: you can give Dad this chair without wrecking your Christmas budget. Just place it on our Revolving Charge Plan, BankAmericard or Master Charge. But do it NOW.

TV REVIEW

'Hee Haw' Back With Its Corn

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hee Haw" returned to CBS last night with all the characters and jokes that made the program a summer-season hit. The question, which only time can answer, is whether the barnyard humor that charmed the hot-weather audience bored by reruns will exert the same fascination at another season.

Most attractive aspect of the show is its music. The beat was infectious and the tunes attractive. There was even a song with off-beat lyrics, "Okie From Muskogee," sung by Merle Haggard—a pro-Establishment song that condemned pot and advocated respect for the flag.

The viewer must react to the show's jokes in one of three ways. Take a sample one-liner: "People in the roofing business tend to get shingles." The viewer must find this (A) novel and funny, (B) corny and square, or (C) so corny and square that it is funny.

At least, "Hee Haw" is honest. When the jokes are old and pretty bad, the jokesters are likely to be standing in the middle of a cornfield when they tell them.

Roy Clark, who is more interesting when he is playing the guitar than when clowning, and Buck Owens, who has an interesting singing style, are the stars of the show. They are surrounded by a large assortment of country-style comic and excellent country-western singers, including Haggard and Tammy Wynette.

The program has been called, imprecisely, a country-style "Laugh-In"—but it had what sounded like an enthusiastic studio audience laughing its old, old jokes.

Tam Valley Youth Denies Assault Count

Michael James Locatelli, 19, of Tamalpais Valley, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 2.

Locatelli was arrested Tuesday after he allegedly shot at a friend who had been visiting him and his wife as the friend drove away from the Locatelli residence.

Gabriel Named NFL's Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Gabriel, the sturdy Los Angeles Rams' quarterback who reached his peak in 1969, has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by a 48-man panel of writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

The 6-foot-4, 220-pound former North Carolina State passer led the Rams to the Coastal Division title with room to spare and was roaring toward an unbeaten season until upended by the Minnesota Vikings Dec. 7.

Gabriel received 21 full votes and a portion of another ballot that was split among Gabriel, Calvin Hill of Dallas and Joe Kapp of Minnesota.

Kapp, the man who helped engineer the Rams' defeat at the hands of the Vikings, was Gabriel's closest competitor with eight votes. Carl Eller, the Minnesota defensive end who leads the charge of the Purple Gang, was next with seven, an unusually high total for a defensive player.

Sonny Jurgensen, called by Washington Coach Vince Lombardi the greatest quarterback in the game, and perhaps ever, had four votes for his efforts in leading the Redskins to their best record since 1955.

Calvin Hill, the surprising Dallas rookie from Yale, also had four votes and a portion of a fifth.

Deacon Jones, veteran Los Angeles defensive end, Dick Butkus, the Chicago Bears' super middle linebacker, and Alex Garras, Detroit's fine defensive tackle, each had one.

The honors were won last year by Earl Morrall, who led Baltimore to the league title as a fill-in for the injured John Unitas. Morrall, used sparingly this year, did not get a vote.

Gabriel, an eight-year veteran, got his big chance in 1965 when Bill Munson suffered a knee injury. Gabriel refused to give the job back to Munson the following year. Eventually, Munson was traded to Detroit, leaving Gabriel in control.

Some knowing football people put Gabriel in the same class with Green Bay's Bart Starr in his mastery of ball-control plays. In addition to throwing 23 touchdowns and completing 204 of 375 passes for 2,439 yards, Gabe also can take off with the ball.

He ranks third on the team as a rusher and has carried the ball into the end zone for five touchdowns.

Gabriel was interviewed in mid-season and asked about the improvement in his play.

"I think my play-calling and over-all generalship are improving," he said. "I'm more experienced in getting rid of the ball.

"I was taught in college that if all the receivers are covered, it's best to eat the ball. Now I'm usually able to throw it safely. It hurts my percentage but it saves yardage."

Gabriel was a first-round draft pick by the Rams for 1962. A native of North Carolina, he and his wife and three sons now live in Long Beach.

NO GO FOR THE GOAL — Minnesota's Claude Larose (16) fires a shot at the goal as Oakland Seal Doug Roberts makes an over-the-shoulder block on the play in Oakland. The shot was foiled, however. (AP Wirephoto)

Oilers Hoping To Prove Oddsmakers All Wrong

Raiders 13-Point Picks To Win Playoff Battle

OAKLAND (AP) — Houston doesn't dispute the odds listing the Oakland Raiders as 13-point favorites to win their American Football League playoff game in the Coliseum Sunday, but the Oilers still think they can prove them wrong.

"Off the comparative records of the two teams," said Houston publicist Jim McLemore, who preceded the team here, "I would say the spread seems about right. But I think the game may be a lot closer."

BEATHARD

The Oilers pin much of their hopes for an upset — which would get them into the AFL title game against the winner of Saturday's New York-Kansas City game—on the performance of quarterback Pete Beathard.

"In the last five games," said McLemore, "Pete has looked the best since we've had him. He's beginning to arrive at being the football player people expected him to be."

Benched in favor of Bob Davis at the start of a game with Boston last week, Beathard came on to complete 17 of 24 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns as the Oilers made up a 16-point deficit and beat the Patriots 27-23.

GOOD SHAPE

In addition, the Oilers, 6-6-2, will be in their best physical condition of the year. Beathard suffered an ankle sprain late in the game last week, but it turned out to be minor and he will start against the Raiders, who finished the regular season at 12-1-1.

Nor does the Houston quarterback lack for receivers. Alvin Reid leads the AFL's tight ends in receptions with 51. Jerry Levias and Jim Beirne each have 42.

Levias, also the Oilers' top punt and kickoff return man, has moved in at one of the starting wide receiving slots after a shaky start.

NEW DIMENSION

"Jerry gives us a new dimension," said McLemore, "since he's moved in as a starter. He's the most exciting player we've ever had."

The Raiders also are concerned about Houston's ground game.

Hoyle Granger, healthy for the first time last week, gained 139 yards on 25 carries. Woody Campbell has also come on strong in the Oilers' backfield after returning from 10 months duty in Vietnam.

THE SNOW KING—Bud Grant, coach of the Minnesota Vikings, looks like the sage king of winterland. He's also the Associated Press' NFL Coach of the Year. (AP Wirephoto)

Football Is 2nd Choice For NFL's No. 1 Coach

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — If Harry "Bud" Grant had been, in his own words, "good enough" as a professional basketball player, he might not have ever gotten involved with professional football.

But Grant wasn't, at least in his own mind, so after two years in the National Basketball Association with the Minneapolis Lakers, he became a Philadelphia Eagle, later switched to Canadian football, became a coach and came back to the National Football League three years ago.

Grant, now coach of the Minnesota Vikings, was named Coach of the Year in the NFL by an overwhelming vote of a panel for The Associated Press.

The former basketball player received 42 full votes to two for his nearest competitor, Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

Receiving one ballot each were Vince Lombardi of Washington, Blanton Collier of Cleveland and George Allen of Los Angeles. One vote was split three ways among Grant, Landry and Allen.

After earning his fourth letter in football at Minnesota, Grant joined the Lakers because "I could play pro basketball in Minneapolis, which was my home, and my wife was pregnant, and besides pro football didn't pay very much in those days."

But after two years of sitting on the bench watching the great Laker quintet of that era headed by George Mikan, Jim Pollard and Vern Mikkelsen, Grant decided to join the Eagles, who had drafted him No. 1 two years before.

He played for Philadelphia two years, earning All-Pro honors his first season as a defensive end and playing offensive end the second.

In 1954 he jumped to Canada to play for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers and in 1957 took over as head coach when Allie Sherman former New York Giants coach, left.

In 1967, Grant, then 40, took over as head coach of the Vikings, succeeding stormy Norm Van Brocklin.

Make Mine Basketball, Says DeMaestri's Son

Life is sometimes like this:

Joe DeMaestri Jr., whose dad played a lot of shortstop for 11 years in the major leagues, is quite an all-star basketball player at Novato High but doesn't cotton to the national pastime. . . .

Beth Kaufman of Greenbrae, who founded the tremendous Age-Group swimming program and has spent a lifetime devoted to water safety and sports, tells about three of her grandsons who have earned block letters, none in swimming. . . .

NEWEST Burma Shave-type road signs at Sears Point International Raceway: "Rolling Stones Gather Elsewhere. . . ."

Speaking of such, SPIR's young president, Craig Murray, says he'll pass this Sunday's Raiders-Oilers game in Oakland because, "I can't stand the traffic jams," Murray being an expert in traffic problems at the Sonoma motorsports complex. . . .

DEANNE BROWN of San Rafael is organizing a fastpitch softball team open to all femmes aged 14 and older to compete in a Bay Area league next spring. The team will be called "The Spinnakers" because, says the skipper, "The name fits our canal area of San Rafael and also sounds graceful, lithe and feminine." Also, she adds, "Our uniforms will be bristol blue with bright lemon yellow trim. The shorts will be 'short' (for those who have the figure to wear such shorts). The others will be slightly longer."

Ah, the Bloomer Girls are alive and playing softball in San Rafael.

THE MARIN 49ER Boosters Club's post-season dinner Jan. 9 at Marin Country Club in Novato will be coeducational, which should be good news to Judy Todt of San Rafael, who earlier this year complained:

Shouldn't Be Just For Men

"The fact the Boosters Club excludes women is not only more than discrimination, but seems to me extremely bad business. When the 49ers could use every fan they can get, it would seem to me ladies should be welcome with open arms. (Seconded.)

"When the booing begins in the stands, who is it but the little woman who turns to her mate to try and calm the fever. Good grief, we should be public relations emissaries for the 49ers.

"Needless to say, if I were the type to start a Carrie Nation crusade, the Marin Boosters would be number one on my list.

"Incidentally, the San Francisco 49er Boosters Club is crying for broads to attend their luncheons."

It should be noted here that Judy is secretary-treasurer of the John Brodie Fan Club. Her husband, James S., is founder and president.

Seals Find The Right Combo

OAKLAND (AP) — A new front line appears to be just what the Oakland Seals needed to get back to winning.

Center Earl Ingarfield scored twice in the third period last night to give the Seals a 3-1 National Hockey League victory over the Minnesota North Stars.

It was Oakland's second straight victory and left them undefeated in three games — counting a tie — since veteran defenseman Carol Vadnais joined Ingarfield and Bill Hicke on the front line.

The Seals try to run the string to four tomorrow night against the Chicago Blackhawks.

Ingarfield's scoring gave him eight points — counting five assists — for the last three games. In the previous nine games before the switch, Ingarfield had gone scoreless.

Ingarfield, Vadnais and Hicke have produced 15 points altogether since the switch.

Minnesota took a 1-0 lead at 10:23 of the first period on Danny Grant's goal and Gary Jarrett of Oakland tied it at 11:58 of the second period.

Tamalpais Cage Team Tops Galileo

John Earl Huff hit on 11 of 12 shots from the field and finished with 24 points to spark Tamalpais High School's basketball team to a 62-55 win over Galileo of San Francisco in Mill Valley yesterday.

The Indians, now 5-2, led by as much as 11 points late in the game. Bill Secor, after a great tournament at Healdsburg last week, came down to earth with a five-point output. Ken Gommeringer added 12 points for the Indians.

Brodie, Mira, Spurrier Set For Reunion

REDWOOD CITY. (AP) — There may be a variety of quarterbacks in Sunday's game between the Philadelphia Eagles and San Francisco 49ers.

Coach Dick Nolan of the 49ers said yesterday he has not yet decided whether to start Steve Spurrier or John Brodie, who still limps from an injured knee.

Eagle coach Jelly Williams has his No. 1 thrower, Norm Snead, ready but also promises to use George Mira, who sat on the San Francisco bench for six years.

The Eagles, who arrived at nearby Palo Alto yesterday, have a front four made up of men familiar with the San Francisco Bay Area—end Tim Tossovich, who grew up in Mountain View; end Floyd Peters, who is from the East Bay and attended San Francisco State College; tackle Mel Tom, who attended San Francisco State College; and tackle Gary Pettigrew, who played at Stanford.

Moody Tees Off Against Writers

LA COSTA. (AP) — U.S. Open golf champion Orville Moody, who has faced many perils of the game, encounters a new kind of challenge here today.

The 35-year-old ex-Army sergeant will play 18 holes with members of Southern California's golf writers clan—three holes with each group. Most of the writers' handicaps are astonishing.

Marin Cagers Extend Win Streak To Five

And the Tars keep rolling along.

The busy cagers of College of Marin won their fifth straight game last night, ripping into Napa, 84-69, in a game that saw 11 Tars hit the scoring column.

The Tars, after starting out losing three of their first four games, are now 6-3 on the season, with a chance to win four games in one week. They'll host Yuba at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Cabrillo at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Four Tars hit in double figures last night, headed by Tom Seidenberg's 17 points. Pat Schafer added 16 points, Pat Purcell put through 12 points and Chip Tyson had 10.

"That wasn't one of our best games," Tar coach John Panagakis said. "And things could get rough for us tomorrow. Yuba's scrappy and we're awfully tired."

Santa Clara's Cage Dreams Go Up In Smoke

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Santa Clara's dreams of a high national basketball ranking have been shattered by a tough Houston squad.

The Cougars hosted the eighth ranked Broncs in a high-powered cage tussle last night and took a convincing 91-76 triumph. It was the seventh straight win for Houston, apparently back among the basketball elite again.

Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey combined for 44 points, but Awtrey got in foul trouble early which hurt the Broncs.

It will take just about an unbeaten season the rest of the way for Santa Clara to get them back in the national picture.

Ex-Marin Swim Star Heads Chico St. Team

Dennis Good, former Junior College All-American swimmer with College of Marin, has been elected captain of the Chico State College swim team for the 1969-1970 season.

Good, a Tamalpais High School grad, finished second in the 400 individual medley in the Far Western Conference and took All-American honors in the event at last year's small college national meet in Springfield Mass.

You Should Get Proper Grip On Those Ski Poles

Copyright 1969, International Literary Management, Inc.

Very early in my racing career, I lost a race because I was careless about how I gripped my poles. I had allowed my leather straps to stretch so much that when the tip of my pole held to the snow more than I expected it to, the pole was wrenched free of my hand. Ever since then, you can believe that I make sure that the straps fit tightly — are short enough to fit as snugly to my hand as my hand fits my glove.

Many ski instructors have told me how important it is for novice skiers to hold their poles right. When they don't, the fingers have to squeeze the grip and this tenses up the arm and makes all movements stiff. I know that if an advanced skier hasn't a good grip on his poles, he won't be able to rely on their support during le moment critique — that critical moment that occurs every time you make a fast, sharp turn. Here's how you should grip your poles:

1. If the strap is leather, give the smooth side a half twist inwards so that the loop formed will rest smooth and flat around your glove. Some of the poles which now come with plastic straps have them pre-twisted to conform to your grip. Always slip your hand, including the thumb, through the loop made by the strap by passing it up from underneath.

2. Then pull back on the strap so it rests against the back of your hand.

3. Grasp the pole with your thumb on one side, fingers on the other. Both parts of the strap should now rest between your hand and the pole.

4. Now press down on the strap to take up any slack. The top of your hand with the glove on should now rest no more than one-half inch from the top of the ski pole. If more of the pole protrudes above the top of your hand, then the strap should be shortened.

Some Ski Resorts Closed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Several ski resorts in the Northern California mountains announce they'll be closed until the next storm brings nore snow, but a number of others are still operating.

Yesterday's report from the California State Automobile Association:

Highway 50; Heavenly Valley, closed till next snow; Echo Summit, daily after Saturday; Sierra Ski Ranch, daily.

Highway 4: Bear Valley 27 inches, good, daily.

Yosemite: Badger Pass, closed till next snow.

Mount Shasta: Ski Bowl, snowing, 48 inches, daily from Saturday.

Nevada: Slide Mountain, Mount Rose, Incline Village, Tannenbaum, closed till next snow.

Highway 395: Mammoth Mountain, 21 inches, fair to good, rocks showing, daily.

Packers' Jim Grabowski Expects To Be Traded

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Running back Jim Grabowski, the Green Bay Packers' No. 1 choice in the National Football League's 1966 draft, has been relegated to the roll of a sub and he expects to be traded before next season.

But, though he claims he's tempted to make public statements complaining about it he won't.

Grabowski opened the season as a starter and had been a starter ever since the year after he signed for a reported $400,000.

Now he is a substitute and all he did in last Sunday's game was act as deep blocker on punts.

FOOTBALL

CLEMSON, S.C. — Cecil Wayne "Hootie" Ingram, an assistant on the University of Arkansas staff, was named the head coach at Clemson, succeeding Frank Howard.

PHILADELPHIA — George Makris, head coach at Temple University, resigned after 10 years of coaching the Owls.

AUTO RACING

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Richard Petty announced he was leaving the Ford stock car racing team to return to the Plymouth team.

HIGHLAND PARK, N.J. — Harvey Harman, 69, executive director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and former coach at Rutgers, Penn, Sewanee and Haverford, died at his home after a long illness.

GOLF

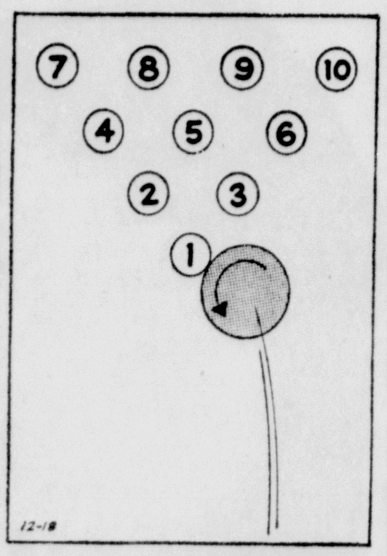
AUCKLAND, New Zealand — John Lister of New Zealand, held the lead in the New Zealand Golf Tournament with a second-round 71, and a 36-hole total of 138.

HORSE RACING

SAN MATEO — Juan Gonzalez rode five winners at Bay Meadows, including City Glitter, $16.80 in the feature.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



For a normal strike pattern, the ball must hit the 5-pin. That's why it's called the "king pin." The good hook "digs into" the 1-3 pocket. The ball is not excessively deflected and carries directly into the 5-pin. A straight ball or big curve will deflect.

MEET AT THE TROPHY—Bill Cargill of Tiburon and Ruth Hjeresen of Sausalito, two Marin members of the Swingers Ski Club, get together at the club's annual Christmas party. (Independent-Journal Photo)

YEAR-ROUND GROUP

A Ski Club For Swingers

By GARY TISCHLER

Santa Claus, in traditional basic red and flowing white, ambles in between people and tables, ho-hoing all the way.

"Where are you going, Santa?" somebody asks.

The scene is a rather spacious ballroom on the ninth floor of the Merchandise Mart on Market Street in San Francisco. Christmas presents, all home-made, or home-bought, that will later be raffled off with proceeds going to the U.S. Ski team, occupy one table up front by the microphone, along with a trophy for a future race. There are some 100 people present, most of them reasonably young, all single, all avid but not necessarily great skiers.

SKIT

They elect a snow queen, leggy Jutta Smith, double their bar guarantee, and stumble merrily through a fashion show-skit which features a fictional ski instructor named Stupor Stud, who plies his trade at someplace called Mountain Mountain, N.M.

Is that any way to run a ski club?

You bet it is, at least if it's close to Christmas, and it's the Swingers Only Ski Club, a slightly different sort of club for singles, which manages to get in some skiing in the winter.

This particular meeting (nobody wore skis) was the club's annual Christmas Party, and also a regular weekly meeting. If it was not typical, it's because it was Christmas, and the place was full of cheer and holiday music.

EXPECTED

The San Francisco club, which has its duplicate in the peninsula and is expected to have another offshoot in Marin County in the near future, is a growing, going thing that fits the need of people who are both single and like to ski and don't like to lose touch after the snow has disappeared.

It's only a couple of years old, but it is mushrooming. This particular chapter includes several Marinites and one half of one, Jan Ruth, the club's energetic booster, whose parents live in Sleepy Hollow.

Despite the name of the club, there are no people lounging around nibbling on grapes. They all seem like very pleasant and amiable people, who span certain age groups, a variety of white collar occupations and any number of nationalities. The lead role in the skits, which ambled along good naturedly for all of an hour, for instance is Igor Goulaevsky, the club's only Russian, and there are Swedes, like Ruth Hjeresen of Sausalito, Germans, Italians, and British lassies like newcomer Margaret Downs, who is attacking the slopes again this year despite breaking a leg last season, according to the club's mimeographed newspaper, the S.O. Skigram.

Other Marinites include Bill Cargill of Tiburon, Bonny Lynn Adami of Corte Madera, Dick Forster of Tiburon, Helen Liton of Sausalito, Mary Ann Gallardo of San Rafael and Dick Ferrero of Sausalito.

The club's main charm and advantage seems to be that it's an easy, attractive and reasonably inexpensive way ($20 in dues) for ski nuts or even beginners to get together and go together to the ski spas by way of charter and group rate set ups. And some of the trips are far flung, such as the planned outings to Jackson Hole, Wyo., Jan. 31-Feb. 8 and Whistler Mountain, B.C., Feb. 28-March 7. And there is skiing almost every weekend in the Tahoe area, including such items as the Aristocrat Race later next year, which is for beginners or intermediate skiers only.

The club doesn't die and fade away when the skis are packed away. There's other things — party-meetings or get togethers, such as a recent softball game in San Anselmo, hiking, car rallies, camping, scuba diving, wine-tasting, tennis, water-skiing and canoe trips.

Redwood Runner On Norcal Team

By GARY TISCHLER

Whatever else you might want to say about Redwood High School's cross-country season, one thing is fairly certain — the Giants had what you could call reasonably good personnel.

In particular, they had Kevin Pusser, whom Northern California coaches apparently considered a decent sort of runner, since they have named him to a 22-man first team of All-Northern California runners.

The poll covered the Northern, Central, North Coast, San Joaquin, San Francisco, and Oakland sections. Ron Elijah of Novato, the Marin County Athletic League champ, was named to the second team and Mike Arago of Tamalpais was given honorable mention.

Elijah, incidentally, took high school honors in the recent 26-mile Petaluma marathon, finishing fourth overall for the Marin Athletic Club.

Steve Dean of Sacramento State won that race and Darrell Beardall of Santa Rosa and the Marin A. C. took a third. Don Makela, former Novato distance standout, finished seventh.

TOURNAMENT LEFTOVERS —The Drake Tournament produced its share of oddities, and that's not including San Rafael's upset win over Lowell of San Francisco in the finals.

Gordon Glasgow, the Lowell forward who was the tournament's most valuable player last year, didn't even make the all-tournament team this season.

Drake's team brought a perfect 2-0 record into the tournament, the only team with an unblemished mark. The Pirates came out with a 2-3 record.

The Berkeley team which dealt Redwood only its second loss of the year at the Fresno Tournament is reputed to be the best ever at that school, which should be something else, since coach Skip Hensley's Yellow Jackets did have something of a powerhouse for two years running not too long ago, when Phil Chenier was there. Chenier is now playing with the University of California varsity.

Redwood's Bill Challender, the 6-7 junior center, may have come of age in Fresno.

Challender came up against 6-10 John Lambert of Berkeley and outscored him 19-17, proving that, when he wants to, Challender can hold his own.

Bill Secor of Tamalpais, scored 78 points over three games at the Healdsburg Tournament, just four points shy of the tournament scoring record.

NOVATO HIGH SCHOOL'S wrestling loss to John F. Kennedy of Fremont was something of a rarety, and not just by the score, which was a convincing 36-16 count.

"They destroyed us," Novato coach Ralph Cutler said. "They really did a job on us."

It was only the second loss in 52 matches for the Hornets, who had a 40-dual meet streak snapped by a one-point loss to Montgomery of Santa Rosa last year.

MARIN CATHOLIC won a soccer game Tuesday but lost a goalie. The Wildcats upset Tamalpais, 2-0, for only their second win of the season, but goalie Dave Lemont suffered a broken collarbone when he was kicked in the shoulder.

BROADHEADSVILLE, Pennsylvania, is alive and well, finally.

Pleasant Valley High School, from the town of the above name, hadn't won a basketball game in 88 tries, but all that's changed since the school downed Notre Dame of East Stroudsburg Tuesday, 63-40. No matter that Notre Dame has nothing to do with the Irish or that it doesn't have a senior class as yet. Broadheadsville would probably have taken a win over the local kennel club.

NFL Games Reduced To Pure Pantomime

Expansion is a wonderful thing. How else can you turn 17 regular-season football games into exhibition games?

They quit using real bullets in the NFL several weeks ago. The games you have just seen are pure pantomime and any resemblance to real ones, living or dead, is purely coincidental.

THE NFL has now played a total of 80 exhibition games — 63 of them pre-season, and the rest of them, so to speak, post-season.

They play 112 regular season games. Subtract the 17 charades, games played after the championships were decided, and you get 95 contests vs. 80 ballets.

In the AFL, the outcome was as foregone as a cowboy movie. At the fadeout, Joe Namath, as usual, got the girl, rounded up the rustlers, and ran the bad guys out of town. They've stacked that division with so many stiffs, Caltech is trying to get in. It's the Ivy League of the Professionals. For the Jets, it was 14 weeks of shadow-boxing. They have now lost nine games in two years, yet are the "world champions." The funny part of it is, they could have lost 12 games in two years and still made it.

FOR THE Rams, the Vikings, Browns and Cowboys, the last few weeks of the season are like fighting a war after armistice has been declared. The "tilt" sign went on the season as early as Thanksgiving.

IT IS well-established that a soldier's, or an army's, morale is better when on the attack. Any football coach or player knows you get more injuries when you're not trying. Once you stop hitting in the game and start punching, you listen for the bones to crack. Remove incentive, and it becomes like a card game with your wife or a golf game with the boss. You don't want to win, but you don't want anybody to know it. You keep up appearances. You play 14 games to eliminate three teams, and then only two games to eliminate three teams. It's as cockeyed as playing four days of sleepless poker, then the winners match high card for the whole table. It's like deciding a heavy-weight championship fight in the final two minutes of fighting, even though one guy is ahead 14 rounds to none.

BUT, THE nice part about it is, it's going to get worse. Expansion is like taking one peanut. Once you get a taste of it, you keep going.

Next year, all pro football comes under one blanket — security blanket. The first casualty will be the Jets. In a division which will include the Baltimore Colts (and the oncoming Boston Patriots), they may have to work up a sweat on the way to the title. They may have to bleed a little. The Cleveland Browns, on the other hand, just got a pass to the playoffs. Their division includes Houston, Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh, a lot of teams that wouldn't be two-point favorites over their tackling dummies.

THE NFL portion of the new football congomerate is no nearer alignment than the Balkans. That's because every team wants to get in a division that has lots of seats and sunlight and a scarcity of players. New Orleans is the darling of the stag line at this dance. Atlanta is admirable. Dallas is everybody's second-choice. But, the way things shape up, Minnesota may find itself in a division by itself. It is geographically, athletically, financially, and aesthetically undesirable, football's stepchild. Minnesota is too good, too cold, too inaccessible — and too far from the Ed Sullivan Show. It is like a southpaw in the ring game — nobody wants to fight it.

SO, WITH every major team trying to get in a division with teams that draft from Harvard, the prospect is that, any year now, all the divisional championships will have been decided by Columbus Day and, for the last 50 games, we may not only have Paper Lions, we may have a Paper League.

Brave Texas Football Star Walks Around On Crutches

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fred Steinmark, the starting safety for the national champion Texas Longhorns who had a cancerous leg amputated less than a week after the regular season ended, walked around on crutches last night.

A spokesman for M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston said Steinmark "has begun his rehabilitation." It was the first time Steinmark has been out of his hospital bed since his cancerous left leg was removed at the hip last Friday.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, one of Steinmark's regular visitors, watched his former junior defensive standout hobble about the fourth floor hospital corridor.

"The kid's amazing," Royal said.

Royal is one of only two persons outside the Steinmark family allowed to see the 20-year-old Steinmark. The other is Linda Wheeler, Steinmark's sweetheart from Wheatridge, Colo.

The hospital spokesman said it was not known how long the preliminary rehabilitation would take or at what pace doctors plan to exercise Steinmark.

Gridder Drowns

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) — Richard Grammer, starting center on the 1969 Alabama football team, accidentally drowned Wednesday while on a duck hunting trip on the Tennessee River. Grammer was a three letter man at Alabama.

Five Distance Runners Added To Indoor Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five more outstanding middle distance runners will compete Jan. 3 in the All-American Games indoor track and field meet at the Cow Palace, it was announced today.

The latest additions are Czechoslovakian star Jozef Plachy, veteran American runners Wade Bell and John Lilly and newcomers Pat Collins and Bill Wehrwein.

Plachy ran the 800 meters in 1:45.4 twice last season, fastest time in the world at that distance during the year. Bell has gone that distance in 1:45.1.

Lilly, with an outdoor half-mile best of 1:48.4, will join Plachy and Bell in the 1,000. Collins and Wehrwein will compete in the 600.

Tourney Time For Two Prep Cage Teams

Marin Catholic and San Marin high schools, two of the less succcsssful basketball teams in the Marin County Athletic League, will take their chances in a pair of tournaments this weekend, while the rest of the prep teams will be going in single non-league games.

Marin Catholic opens tonight in the Cardinal Newman Rose City Tournament in Santa Rosa with a game against Eureka High School at 8 o'clock. If the Wildcats, who have won only one game this year, win this one, they may get a crack at meeting two early season foes, Cardinal Newman and St. Patrick's of Vallejo. The Wildcats lost to both.

San Marin, 2-3 on the season, will be competing in the four-team Sugar City Tournament at John Swett High School in Crockett tomorrow and Saturday. The Mustangs meet John Swett at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow while Benicia plays Lick Wilmerding at 7 p.m.

Redwood High meets its alumni in Larkspur tomorrow at 7 p.m. and coach Dick Hart reports that any and all alumni, no matter when they were graduated, will be allowed to play for the alumni squad.

Salesian of Richmond is at Drake in a 3:30 afternoon game tomorrow while in night games at 8:15 tomorrow, Balboa of San Francisco visits Novato, Petaluma goes to Santa Rosa to meet Piner, Terra Linda is at Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park, San Rafael plays host to Vallejo and St. Vincent's of Petaluma is at Mendocino.

Celtics Streak Ended

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a typical Boston scoring streak—except that it was against the Celtics and not by them.

The Celtics were trailing Milwaukee 75-72 last night, when the Bucks outscored them 16-2 and went on to a 124-106 victory.

However, Boston stayed out of last place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division as Detroit lost to San Diego 114-107.

Baltimore outlasted Atlanta 138-133 and Seattle topped Cincinnati 117-104 in the other NBA games.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana nipped Miami 101-100, Kentucky took Washington 124-117, New Orleans downed the New York Nets 111-100 and Los Angeles beat Carolina 105-98.

Lew Alcindor, Flynn Robinson and Jon McGlocklin sparked the Milwaukee streak that beat Boston with four points each. Alcindor finished with 29 points, Robinson 27 and McGlocklin 20. Henry Finkel scored 23 for the Celtics who had a three-game winning streak snapped.

San Diego kept Detroit in the Eastern Division cellar by sending the Pistons to their fourth straight loss as Jim Barnett scored seven of the Rockets' nine points in the last 2½ minutes. Barnett scored 21 points and Bernie Williams added 19 for San Diego. Jimmy Walker topped Detroit with 21.

Baltimore, second in the East, jumped to a 39-25 lead after one quarter by hitting 16 of 24 field goal attempts and Western Division-leading Atlanta could not get the lead although the Hawks tied the game six times in the last half.

Jack Marin scored 32 points and Gus Johnson set up many baskets and led the assault on the boards for Baltimore. Lou Hudson fired in 44 points for Atlanta.

Rookie Lucius Allen scored a career high of 23 points, 10 in the third period, as Seattle overcame a 17-point deficit in defeating Cincinnati. Oscar Robertson led the Royals with 28 points.

HOW TO PLAY BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Player Takes Risk To Stop Long Suit By Refusing Trick

By refusing to win the first trick you may prevent an opponent from running his long suit. There is no risk in your holdup play when you have the ace of the enemy's suit; if you don't take your ace early, you can get it later on. There is more danger when you hold the king because if you don't take it immediately, you may never win a trick with it.

BIG DECISION

West leads the queen of spades, and South must make his big decision at the first trick. If South doesn't take the king, he may never win a spade trick.

Let's see what happens if South does take the king of spades at the first trick. South must get three diamond tricks to make his contract, and he will land on his feet if he can guess which opponent has the queen of diamonds. South can therefore afford to take the first spade trick if he is the sort of genius who never misguesses the location of a queen.

If South has been known to misguess a queen he can make sure of his contract by refusing the first spade trick. He may never win a spade trick, but his contract is still safe.

LEADS HEART

Assume that West shifts to a heart at the second trick. Declarer wins in dummy and leads the jack of diamonds for a finesse through East. If this finesse happened to lose, West would be unable to do any damage since South still has his spade stopper.

Since the diamond finesse happens to win, declarer continues with the ten of diamonds for another finesse. South gets five diamonds and makes his game very easily.

CONTINUES SPADES

If West continues the spades at the second trick, South takes the diamond finesse through West. The finesse loses to East's queen, but East is out of spades, thanks to the holdup at the first trick. South can win any return and make game with four diamonds, one spade, three hearts and two clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold:
♠ 6 4 2
♥ A Q J
♦ K J 10 9 3
♣ K 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. You have the high-card requirements for a jump to two notrump, but there is no advantage in suppressing the fine diamond suit. If you partner has a good hand, you might be able to make a slam in diamonds. If partner shows no dramatic interest in diamonds, you can try notrump next.

India Buys Rice

NEW DELHI (AP) — India has signed agreements to buy 100,000 tons of rice from Thailand this year according to a joint commuinque from the two nations.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 18, the 352nd day of 1969 with 13 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1787, New Jersey ratified the proposed Constitution of the United States.

In 1865, the 13th Amendment to the Constitution which abolished slavery in the United States, became law.

In 1915, President Woodrow Wilson, then a widower for more than a year, married Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, widow of a Washington jeweler.

In 1936, the first giant panda was imported to America from China.

In 1965, Gemini 7 returned to earth after 14 days in orbit where it completed the first manned space rendezvous with Gemini 6.

A thought for the day: American novelist Gertrude Franklin Atherton wrote, "No matter how hard a man may labor, some woman is always in the background of his mind. She is the one reward of virtue."

Mint Building For Museum Use Urged

A San Rafael man is spearheading Marin efforts to turn the old U.S. Mint building in San Francisco into a western branch of the Smithsonian Institute.

Angelo Turrini said he plans to ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors in January to adopt a resolution requesting that the building be turned over to the institute.

Hobby, Gift Boutique Opens Its Doors On Miracle Mile

A new shop opened in San Anselmo is the Gemini Hobby and Gift Boutique, located at 412 Red Hill Avenue on the Miracle Mile.

This is in the Essex Building, where sisters Mrs. Verde Suerte and Mrs. June Grime of San Rafael have taken Suite 2 on the lower floor. They sell hobbycraft goods and gifts, party centerpieces, fill special orders and do Christmas packaging. Mrs. Suerte previously has a similar store in Sacramento. This is a first venture for Mrs. Grime.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays during the Christmas shopping season. Regular store hours after that will be from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Closed on Sundays.

RETURNING TO SAN RAFAEL in a removal of its headquarters from San Francisco is Education Technology, Inc., to be located at 28 Ritter Avenue (off Lincoln Avenue at Second Street).

This company is engaged in designing and building motorized and mobile classrooms and also manufactures and installs electronic equipment for use in teaching languages. It is headed by Mrs. Babette Wurtz of Kentfield as president. Vice president Gordon Brattland lives in Carmichael and Arthur Smith, sales coordinator, is another Kentfield resident.

Education Technology has leased 2,000 square feet on Ritter Avenue through Coldwell, Banker and Co. and is expected to take occupancy right after the first of the year. The company was previously located in San Rafael before moving to San Francisco three years ago.

THE NEW MAYFAIR MARKET nearing completion at Fourth and H Streets, San Rafael is now scheduled to have its opening during the first or second week in January.

BUILDER John Ribeiro has started another combination office and warehouse building of 15,000 square feet on Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park. Completion is expected about the middle of February. Leasing is being handled by William W. Hoey and Co.

THE BOURBON SHOPS are now open until 10 p.m. during the week and until midnight on Fridays and Saturdays. They are open every day of the year including Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but close at 6 p.m. on these holidays.

In Marin, stores are located in Marinwood, Northgate Shopping Center, at 36 Medway Road and in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael and on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

LEN GROSS of Kentfield, chairman of the board of the San Francisco and Los Angeles advertising agency, Gross, Pera and Rockey, has received a certificate of appreciation from the 12th Coast Guard District for outstanding publicity work. He seves as district staff officer for public relations for the districts' Coast Guard Auxiliary and has been associated with this group for almost two years.

INSURANCE: Max Martin, Kenneth Proctor, Willis Elliott, Stuart Burt, Ivor Davies and Leonard Peck represented the Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association at the recent meeting of California Insurance Agents Association directors . . . The Marin Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. has recognized Herbert Kristal, Mrs. Beatrice Mead, Elmer Papineau, Clifford Lerud, Steen Schellenberg, Robert Lampert, Marvin Pearl, Charles Amodeo, Arthur Brody, Al Miller, James McNeil, Alan Birch, Donald Sands, Edward Mitchell, Albert E. Hand, Alder Henrie, Nicholas Dollwet, Robert Nelson, David R. St. Johnson and Mrs. Louise Lamb for their years of service in the organization.

NEW BOARD MEMBER — William M. Roth of Ross has been appointed a director of Crocker-Citizens National Bank and its parent company, Crocker National Corp. He was appointed to the board in 1963 but resigned to accept a presidential appointment as deputy special representative for trade negotiations with the rank of ambassador. As successor to the late Christian Herter he represented the United States in the conclusion of the Kennedy Round of Tariff negotiations.

Wall Street Bounds At Burns Views

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market today chalked up its best gain in months in response to comment from incoming Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns that he hopes the Fed will soon reconsider its tight credit policy. Trading was brisk.

Burn's statement to the Senate Banking Committee, which unanimously approved his nomination to the post, was construed as a sign there soon may be some relaxation of the squeeze on money, a major factor in the market's deep slide during 1969.

The UPI market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a gain of 1.02 per cent.

Of the 1,625 issues traded, 982 advanced and 409 retreated. Turnover exceeded 15,000,000 shares, well ahead of yesterday's pace.

Electronics sported impressive gains in a number of instances, while oils also followed a firmer pattern. IBM was one of the strongest features in the electronics, closing up 8¾ at 360¼.

Steels attracted good demand, with U.S. Steel leading the way with a gain to 35⅛ at the close, up 2⅛. The No. 1 steel producer confirmed a report of an extensive iron ore find in Nevada.

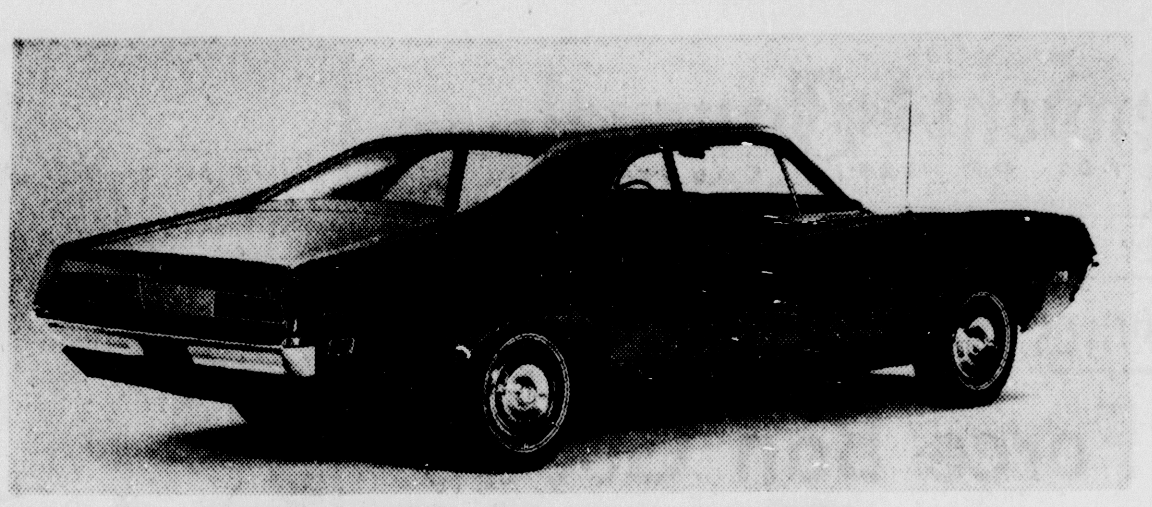
Chemicals, rails, airlines and aircrafts also pointed higher in many cases.

Among the most active Issues were Atlantic Richfield, Reynolds Tobacco, and American Telephone. AT&T, closing up 3-4 at 49 1-4, reported new highs in revenues for the three months and 12 months ended Nov. 30.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading.

Purchases Chain

CHICAGO (UPI) — Household Finance Co. has bought Von's Grocery Co., operator of 87 food stores on the West Coast, for more than two million shares of preferred stock.



NEW LOOK OF THE FALCON

Ford's economy car will come in a new size and style in the 1970 models to be introduced in January. It will be offered in three models using the Ford intermediate body—a two-door sedan, four-door sedan and four-door station wagon. Sedans will have six inches longer wheelbases; the station wagon adds one inch. Cars will be sold in Marin at L. J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato; Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael; and J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera.

Sears Enters Field Of Mutual Funds

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Sears has recently entered the mutual fund field. Will this increase their earnings substantially? — E.S.

A. Shares of Allstate Enterprises Stock Fund will be available to the public at $10 after January 1. Until March 31 there will be no sales fee on purchases. After the latter date the shares will be sold through Sears Allstate Insurance agents and its outlets at a 7 per cent load charge. The initial 7.5 million share offering will certainly not have any noticeable effect on earnings. However successful retailing of additional shares (50 million are authorized under the registration statement) and other funds that may be set up could eventually contribute significantly.

A master merchandiser, Sears should have no difficulty in selling its fund. Its insurance subsidiary, set up after World War II, earned $89 million in 1968. Its growth is directly attributed to a highly effective advertising pitch. With approximately 154 million shares now outstanding, contributions from the new venture will have to be sizable in order to filter down to the per share level.

Q. My husband and I have our own investment club. We take turns buying semiannually. For the next three years prior to retirement we will be able to double our investments. A list of our 17 holdings follows. Do these fit our needs of safety, income and growth in that order? Which could we add to? — C.W.

A. You and your husband have done an excellent job in building a portfolio of high-quality issues. Although you have a fairly large number of companies to follow, you both apparently enjoy this aspect of investing. Your purchases made periodically since 1960 have gained an average of 103 per cent, a better record than some professionals. Large gains in Coca-Cola and Kresge more than offset five small losses.

New money can be used to increase holdings in American Home Products, Duquesne Light, General Electric, General Motors, Nat'l. Distillers, Sears, Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. At retirement if greater income is needed some pruning can be done in your lower yield issues.

Gas Utility Industry Has A Good 1969

NEW YORK (UPI) — The gas utility and pipeline industry chalked up record sales and earnings in 1969, according to figures released by the American Gas Association.

The association reported revenues reached $9.4 billion, an increase of 7.5 per cent over the $8.8 billion earned in 1968. Sales also were up 7.5 per cent to a record 155.6 billion therms.

By year end the industry's customer total reached 41.5 million, most of whom were residential users. The association said by 1980 more than 50 million Americans will be using natural gas.

About 32,000 miles of new underground pipeline was added, the association said, bringing the total to 893,000 miles of pipeline. The industry spent $3 billion on new construction during the year raising total plant investment to about $38 billion.

The association noted, however, a 40 per cent drop in exploratory well drilling since 1956 with "activity markedly down the past two years."

Saturn Airways Buys Three Lockheed Craft

OAKLAND (BW) — Purchase of three Lockheed L100-30 turbo-prop cargo aircraft by Saturn Airways has been announced by Howard J. Korth, chairman of the board and president of the U.S. supplemental air carrier.

According to Korth, the three all-cargo aircraft are scheduled for delivery in mid-1970. The purchase price for the three aircraft and related spare parts amounted to $13 million.

Some Realtors Make a Life's Work Out of Knowing the Investment Market.

—Do You?

Real Estate investments are a specialized business — one that takes special training, special know-how, years of experience.

Have you this special training? If not, it makes sense to enlist such expertise — to put it to work for you — when you want to buy or sell investment property.

Your Investment Realtor, through study and experience, has the knowledge of financing, law, escrow, accounting, and other disciplines necessary to evaluate an investment, and to create and execute a development plan.

He knows property — knows what is for sale and all essential details about it — knows taxation, legislation, land use, planning demand, and other factors affecting property — knows up-to-the-minute market values.

And, he knows people — those who want to buy, those who want to sell.

This kind of specialized knowledge and ability takes time to acquire. All of it is at your disposal through your Realtor.

Ground Force Ban Good —As Far As It Goes

The United States Senate is to be congratulated for its vote forbidding the use of United States ground forces in Thailand and Laos.

This does not go far enough toward extricating the United States from the mess in Southeast Asia. It is much like applying the brakes to a vehicle that is already skidding downhill and out of control. But at least, it applies the brakes.

THE SENATE, we think, should follow this up with restrictions on what use — if any — may be made of U.S. arms in Vietnam after President Nixon makes good his promise to withdraw "all combat ground forces."

Our presidents, our senators, and our people seem to have great difficulty learning from experience.

Secy. of Defense Melvin R. Laird has told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in secret testimony made public last week, that the United States plans to keep somewhere under 50,000 troops in Vietnam as a training force.

Maybe, he said, if Hanoi agrees on mutual troop withdrawal, these also could be removed.

IT WOULD SEEM that almost anybody would realize by now that we got involved in Vietnam through sending a few thousand "advisers." When the South Vietnamese government and its army were in a bad way, we increased the number of "advisers." Then the fiction that they were merely advisers was dropped. We were in a war — never declared by Congress.

Leaving a "training force" there merely asks for the same thing to happen over again. It leaves us involved as an armed partisan of the government of South Vietnam. It leaves us in the role of refusing to allow the Vietnamese to settle their own family quarrel.

AND ONCE we agree to such a force, even if things quiet down, we are almost forced to leave it indefinitely.

Korea provides the example of this. When the Korean cease-fire was agreed, the United States left troops to guard the cease-fire line. That was over 15 years ago. We still have some 50,000 soldiers in Korea, guarding that line.

The line between North and South Vietnam has less reason for remaining indefinitely than does that which divides Korea. It was drawn in the first place merely as a temporary dividing line until elections could be held to unite all of Vietnam under one government. The elections have never been held. Because of what has happened, they probably never will be.

WE HAVE Air Force units in Laos and Thailand. Ostensibly they are there as part of the Vietnam involvement, to protect the so-called Ho Chi Minh Trail. But they also fly support missions regularly for defense forces of the Laos and Thailand governments, fighting their own guerrilla wars against insurgents. For the Senate to go into secret session on the premise this was "classified matter" was rather silly. It has been widely publicized.

It would seem that some day our leaders would realize that if we do not want to get involved in another country's wars, we should keep our armed forces out of that country.

They don't seem to have learned this yet. But at least the Senate has shown some recognition of the facts by banning U.S. ground troops in Laos and Thailand.

Holly—Oldest Tradition

Decking the halls with boughs of holly is one of our oldest holiday traditions — much older than the advent of Christ. Ancient peoples in different parts of the world believed holly brought good luck and protected against various kinds of evil.

Certainly, its red berries and sharp-pointed, unusual shaped leaves are extremely attractive, apart from any alleged magic properties. Native to both the Old and New Worlds, holly grows very well in Marin, though subject to smut.

The American Indians saw holly as a symbol of strength and courage. Some tribes made their tomahawk handles from holly wood. Others drank tea made from the leaves and berries.

Taxing Publicly Owned Utility Would Help Restore Equity

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Opinions differ as to whether public utilities should have to pay the same kind of taxes as private utilities, and on the "all pay" side is Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley had such a bill before the legislature during the 1969 session but the measure was not given the time of day by the state's lawmakers.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, sound state policy would appear to preclude the taxing of a business which is run by the government. Of course, the policy assumes the government has every perogative to be in business in the first place in competition with private enterprise, a question that also is highly debateable.

On the other hand, it would appear to be sounder state policy to provide that government business which is in competition with private business should be subject to the same costs and obligations which affect private business, as a matter of equity.

Now that municipalities, counties and other forms of local government have discovered they can, with impunity, levy taxes on utility bills, it appears ridiculous that in some parts of the state people pay a double tax on utilities, one for the private utility and the other a direct tax by local government on the same commodity.

THE RESULT is that with the constantly increasing inflation, it will not be long before the private utilities will be asking for increases in rates to cover the soaring costs of operation.

One reason the private utilities will make such a request is the increase in taxes that local governments are placing on virtually all property throughout the state.

It is almost a foregone conclusion that the private utilities will be granted some rate increases. And the money can come from only one place, which is the consumer.

Therefore, when Assemblyman Bagley introduces his measure to tax publically owned utilities on the same basis as those which are privately owned utilities on the same basis as those which are privately owned, the legislature should gibe the proposal more than ordinary consideration, just to even things up.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Greece And Rome Are In Courthouse

Must the courthouse really go? Greece is there and Rome. Its historic beauty adds dignity not only to San Rafael but to the county. The seven league boots of science that cry run, run or you will never make it can lead us to extremism. Much of the beauty and repose of the present lies in the past.

If the fast buck and the automobile have truly won the enchantment from our inner hearts, then farewell.

Paper Collections Helpful If . . .

The I-J has shows an awareness of the mounting chorus from the scientific community that we are using up our national resources, and this letter is a plea for you to use your influence on one small facet of this crisis.

The waste of paper — which means trees — is a national phenomenon. The I-J could help a little on this if you would run a daily box telling where paper drives are being carried on in various parts of the county. Lots of us save old newspapers, but we often can't find a place to turn them in and have to consign them to the garbage man in the end . . .

You could get a perfect example of the do's and don'ts of paper collecting from one that is being carried on now in San Anselmo. Last week I took my current stacks of neatly tied bundles to a collection point in front of Drake High School, operated by a student group that is trying to raise money for some good cause or other. The good thing about it is that you can take the papers there any time; also, the collection point is on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and readily visible to all the thousands of motorists who pass by. The bad points, however, are ferocious. There is a small trailer, but you are supposed to leave the papers in a wire enclosure which, apparently, is seldom visited by the student sponsors. The litter is dreadful — the place looks like the New York garbage strike . . .

A 'Plus' For Marin Seldom Mentioned

The sight of Tamalpais' sleeping maiden. The perfect climate. The fog-shrouded towers of the bridge. The lovely old homes of Ross and San Rafael and San Anselmo. The near-perfect climate. The "good" commute. The high standing of the schools. Sausalito. Muir Woods. The Scotch taste of Inverness. The space between the houses. The nearby everything — shore, wine country, mountains.

These are the things people talk about when they talk about the pleasures of living in Marin.

No one ever mentions a pleasure that is peculiarly Marin, and may be more important than all the others.

It's the sudden proprietary pride that pushes up inside of you when you come to San Rafael and see the blind people — young and old — learning to live with their Guide Dogs.

Doing good — even vicariously — is a nice feeling. Most of us in Marin, even without realizing it, get a thrill from the walking reminders that our county is involved in making all these visiting lives worthwhile again.

FRED CHERRY

San Anselmo.

Photos, Editorials, Story Point Moral

In Dec. 9's paper the article on Mrs. (Renee) Romack juxtaposed to the photos of 1920 and present-day Sausalito made me realize that all us too have been blind to have allowed that much of Richardson Bay to have been filled.

Mrs. Romack says, "It's all so beautiful and free. It's sad to think that people pass it all by and don't see at all," which is oh so true as thousands of people ride each day through Marin seeing their environment deteriorating and are blind to it. This too is pollution: a basic disregard for the esthetics of morality, for we all have a sense of right and wrong sadly dictated in our culture by avarice.

Too I think your editorial on the rock-concert-be-in failed to delineate the "strange commentary on our culture" for you used the violence and litter which is predominant in our whole culture to condemn something that is a growing part of our society that is indicative of a desperate need for people to get together, for the gap between those 300,000 and the "silent majority" must be resolved before all of our minds are as polluted as our countryside.

Moral: It is hard to see blindness.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Dec. 18, 1959

Philip Gray of Tamalpais Valley, Carol Scott of San Francisco, and Burrass Smith of Corte Madera were missing aboard a chartered PBY flying boat on a trip from Fairbanks, Alaska, to San Francisco.

Kenneth Anderson, recreation consultant, recommended that San Rafael acquire six to eight acres adjoining Terra Linda High School for a city park.

20 YEARS AGO

Dec. 18, 1949

The restored Mission San Rafael Arcangel was dedicated by Archbishop John J. Mitty.

Bodies of three Hamilton Field airmen were found in the wreckage of a training plane which crashed in the Sierra Nevada.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Mrs. Levin sought her hostess to inquire, "What's become of that pretty little blonde waitress who was passing the cocktails?" "I'm sorry," apologized the hostess. "Were you looking for a drink?" "No," said Mrs. Levin grimly. "I was looking for my husband."

John McCarroll tells an improbable story about a Phoenix, Ariz., friend's adventure with a rattlesnake. The friend, it seems, keeps a pet rattler in his bedroom to protect the valuables he has stashed away there. Recently an unwary burglar climbed through a back window and headed for the bureau where the valuables were kept. The rattlesnake coiled and struck, on target all the way, sank his fangs into the burglar's back, wrapped himself around a bedpost to hold the intruder, and stuck his tail out the window and rattled for the police.

Import Quotas Give Another Upward Shove To Rising Prices

WASHINGTON — With the surge of Christmas shopping, nobody is looking, but if certain powerful lobbies have their way the cost of basic items in the householder's budget will take a sharp jump in the new year. The prospect is for more rather than less inflation as the sprial of rising prices becomes a political issue hardly second to the Vietnam war.

The immediate threat is in shoes. The pressure for a quota on foreign imports has grown to such a volume that 72 senators signed a petition to President Nixon calling for "voluntary" quotas. Needless to say, voluntary is a fiction, since once the United States turns on the heat the shoe-exporting countries have no choice but to accept.

From Italy, Spain, France and Britain come specialized and expensive footwear. Japan and Taiwan export low-cost shoes that, according to retailers opposing the quota, are unavailable from domestic makers. It is at the bottom of the scale that the rise in prices — perhaps as much as 15 to 25 per cent — would be most immediate if a quota greatly limited foreign imports.

LAST SPRING the shoe industry is reported to have collected a kitty of $300,000 to lobby for a "voluntary" quota. The 72 senatorial signers to the petition to the White House is one measure of the success of the drive.

Using the battered "tax reform" bill as a vehicle, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., one of the strongest backers of a shoe quota, threw in an amendment giving the president broad powers to block imports from almost any nation. It was adopted by a vote of 65 to 30 after Sen. Charles Percy, R./Ill., called it an "unconscionable" surrender of congressional powers to the executive.

The shoe industry is only the latest to move with powerful leverage against the free trade policy. A "voluntary" quota on cotton textiles, already imposed, is hurting developing countries, notably South Korea and Taiwan, where American aid has been an important factor. A "voluntary" steel quota puts a limit on imports from Japan.

IN HIS round-the-world trip early in the year, Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans made the threat clear that unless nations greatly curtailed their exports to this country in certain fields, conspicuously textiles, Congress in an increasing wave of protectionsim would clamp on tariff restrictions.

Here, as in almost every other area, the question is where Mr. Nixon really stands. How far is he willing to go in pushing for solutions that are in the national interest but that have active opposition from powerful minority interests? In his trade message to Congress, the president's rhetoric on behalf of keeping the channels clear and free in America's own self-interest was unexceptional.

Rhetoric is not enough. In a speech that got too little attention, John Gardner, head of the Urban Coalition on Action Council, said what is widely felt here but seldom expressed: that if there is to be action in solving the nation's problems, the presidemt must show far greater urgency. He must move with the kind of vigor he employed in putting over the anti-ballistic missile and in trying to get the Senate to approve the Haynsworth nomination to the Supreme Court.

THAT THE PRICE spiral is continuing upward, there can be little doubt. Cutting back or eliminating competitive imports will only kick it up faster. As the Wall Street Journal observed: "Increased restrictions of imports, with the consequent upward pressure on domestic prices, is about the last thing the inflation-ridden economy needs right now."

The rhetoric dispensed with one hand hardly conceals the counter maneuvers or the careful indifference on the other hand. In trade, in hunger, in a half-dozen areas that is the tragic duality of the Nixon administration.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Way To Win Promotion: Strike Against The School

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

This is the season for cutting the faculty promotions pie on college and university campuses. Many teachers will be awarded unearned promotions while others who have played the game according to published rules will be by-passed.

While lip service is given to such platitudinous words as "professional growth," "scholarly contributions," "teaching competence," on which promotions are said to be based, the real criterion rests on a Machiavellian principle which is that the end justifies the means. And that end being sought by the faculties is freedom from external control. The shortest route from assistant professor to associate professor and on to the full professorship is via the freeway of radicalism.

ONE OF THE MOST glaring examples of a reportedly proposed promotion reward for a professor who was militantly involved in campus disruptions within the last year is that of Dr. Eldred E. Rutherford, associate professor of psychology at San Jose State College. Dr. Rutherford was president of the American Federation of Teachers which struck SJS a year ago after the Christmas holidays. The strikers not only refused to meet their own instructional responsibilities but they disrupted the classes of colleagues by use of bullhorns and electric sound equipment.

Prior to and during the strike numerous allegations by students regarding Rutherford's absenteeism from his instructional assignments were reported in the news media.

In spite of the chaos created by the faculty strike led by Dr. Rutherford on the San Jose State College campus last year, the department of psychology now reportedly is recommending him with an urgent priority rating for promotion to full professorship. And with alleged faculty radicals virtually dominating all the promotions machinery, his advancement is likely to be accorded "routine" approval.

Rutherford is not the only college instructor recommended for promotion who engaged in activities heretofore alleged. Other departmental promotions committees elsewhere on campus are reportedly pushing militant colleagues with their "urgent" recommendation for promotion in rank.

AFTER AN indeterminate number of additional, expensive years of experimentation, the taxpaying public may find the limits of its patience. And the rather simple and obvious conclusion may come into focus that college faculty members cannot be permitted to run higher education institutions while protected by lifelong tenure.

Teachers at all levels should be given the choice of returning with tenure to their classrooms, and foregoing policy-making roles. Or of becoming teacher-administrators, giving up the protection of tenure for a role in managing the institutions.

The first panacea for a mismanaged nation is inflation of currency; the second is war. Both bring a temporary prosperity; both bring a permanent ruin. But both are the refuge of political and economic opportunists. — Ernest Hemingway.

"Poverty has its rewards — it's hard to be a stuffed shirt if you don't own a shirt."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ALAN JONES

Don't Worry, Lady, They Didn't Move Avalon To Isabel Cook

No, lady, Isabel Cook School is not the Avalon Ballroom. But yes, there was a light show there Monday.

Sixth grader John Davidson (no, lady, he's no relation to the one on television) spent weeks preparing the project, and he was rewarded at the performance when not only his own class, but pupils from all the other rooms crowded in to watch the freaky lights.

It was what school people call a multi-media presentation. He first put up a giant paper tent — 9 by 36-feet — then set up two cross-firing movie projectors. As they showed simultaneous motion pictures, two other lights projected pulsating liquid globular shapes onto the movies to the sound of Tom Jones music.

YOUNG DAVIDSON thought up the project himself, got permission from teacher Marjorie Neville and principal Keith McPherson, and went to work on it. As plans progressed, the rest of the class got involved and helped complete the show.

John even made one of the films himself, carefully marking frame by frame with a felt pen. For the other films, he used a picture on caterpillars and another produced by a utility company.

And that's what your children were talking about when they came home Monday, lady.

IF COLLEGE of Marin has settled nothing else this year, it definitely has been shown that the financial aid porgram could use more money — private money, federal or state money, whatever is available.

Perhaps it hasn't been made clear enough that despite admitted shortcomings, the college has a good aid program which meets the needs of the great majority of students applying for financial help.

A letter by counselor Margaret Green in the College of Marin Times gave some facts pointing this out. Dr. Greene is a member of the financial aids committee and should know.

Among other things, her letter refuted claims by the Student Solidarity Movement that the aid program reflects administration racism. She wrote that:

Black enrollment has climbed from 12 in 1965 to 142 this year. The black student dropout rate is now lower than average. Grade point averages of black students have risen steadily for five years to an approximate match with the total enrollment.

Perhaps her most significant statement was this: "Every single black and other ethnic minority student who applied and has eligibility is receiving financial aid and, except in cases of late application, receiving close to the full package requested."

In addition, Dr. Greene wrote, the college was one of the first in California to establish a black studies major, and the college's level of student support is unsurpassed in California.

SHE SUGGESTED: "The real issue is not so much here on the campus as in the community of Marin County where there is a growing disparity between the well-to-do who give Marin County its image and the poor. The unemployment rate in Marin is 3 per cent, but it is 32 per cent for heads of family in Marin City and 47 per cent for black youth . . . Housing for ethnic minority families is substandard or nonexistent."

It is no consolation to a student needing aid and not getting it — and there are some of those — to be told that College of Marin has a good aid program. But it is some solace to know that there aren't very many in that fix.

ART BUCHWALD

It's A Disappointing Christmas In the Big House On The Hill

WASHINGTON — Little Dickey Nixon in his pajamas ran down the stairs of his big house on Christmas morning directly to the Christmas tree. There was one large package all wrapped up under the tree.

"What could it be?" he asked, as all the people who loved him gathered around and watched.

"It's your tax package," said David Kennedy.

"OH, BOY!" said Dickey. "I've been waiting for this some time. Look, there's a card with it. It says, 'From your loving cousins who live on the Hill.'"

Dickey started taking off all the tissue paper which was wrapped around the tax package. There were four layers of it. Suddenly his face fell with disappointment.

"This isn't the tax package I asked for," he said tearfully. "And it's all smashed up."

"IT'S THE BEST one they could find," David Kennedy said nervously.

"There's things in here I didn't even ask for," Dickey stomped around.

"Your cousins on the Hill wanted to surprise you, Dickey. That's why they put in all that Social Security."

"But I told you I didn't want more Social Security. I've got enough already."

"Your cousins are a bunch of effete snobs," Dickey's good friend, Spiro, said. "And they've given you a Rube Goldberg toy."

"BEFORE YOU GET too upset, Dickey, take a look in the package. There are some good things in it. The oil-depletion allowance has only been cut a little bit and can probably be saved, and the higher income brackets haven't been damaged much, and most of the depreciation items are in perfect working order."

"But look at the tax exemption they railroaded through," Dickey said. "I can't play with that. I specifically asked for a $600 tax-exemption gauge and they threw in an $800 gauge which doesn't fit on my tracks."

"That's your cousin, Gore, who did that," Spiro said. "If I were you, I wouldn't even wish him a Merry Christmas."

"WHY CAN'T I get what I want for Christmas?" Dickey cried as everyone stood around in embarrassed silence.

"It was a good package at the beginning," his pal, Gerry Ford, said. "It must have gotten damaged in the shipping."

"I'm going to send it back."

"Please don't, Dickey," his other pal, Hugh Scott, said. "If you send it back now, you may not get another tax package this year."

"I DON'T CARE. I have to play with it, and if they're going to change everything I asked for, I don't want their old package."

"Take it, Dickey, and try to put the pieces together with glue," Gerry said.

"No, I won't. It will cost me more money than not to have any tax present at all. I'm going to wrap it up and send it back, and I'm never going to speak to anyone on the Hill again."

"That's telling them," Spiro said.

"Waht else is there for Christmas?" Dickey asked.

"Nothing else, Dickey. That's all your cousins decided to give you this year."

21 Are Now Junior Legal Secretaries

Toyota Recalls 170 Fancy Sports Cars

TOKYO (AP) — Toyota Motor Co. said today it has recalled its entire production of the type sports car used in the James Bond movie "You Only Live Twice" for repair of mechanical defects.

Toyota said it found defective parts in the steering wheels and rear axles of the 2000GT, which sell for about $6,600. The firm said 170 of the cars had been sold in Japan and only two or three had been exported as demonstration models.

City Employees Elect Officers

Larry A. Petretti of the public works department has been elected president of the San Rafael City Employees Association for 1970.

Petretti, who will succeed Regina Buchanan of the Parks and Recreation Department, was elected Tuesday night at San Rafael City Hall.

A Lot Of Education To Collect People

By JOANNE GRANT

GWEN M. MONROE
Commission organizer

It was her love for people that led her to her initial college majors — psychology and social welfare; and to subsequent jobs such as juvenile hall counseling, probation supervision and as a parole agent.

And it brought her to Marin as coordinator of the county juvenile delinquency prevention and youth commissions.

The 44-year-old Berkeley resident is a native of Omaha, Neb., who grew up in Southern California and became a converted Bay Area resident during her undergraduate days at the University of California at Berkeley.

She wasn't really sure than that she wanted to go to college and dropped in and out of school until one day she decided she was wasting time. And then there was no stopping her.

After graduating from U.C. with a double degree, she worked for a time in Alameda County and decided it was time to go back to school.

She began attending night classes at the University of San Francisco and working days in the state parole division. Four years later she had her law degree and while she has never been in private practice, she has used it in her job with the California Youth Authority.

Miss Monroe is a delinquency prevention consultant with the CYA's division of community services. But she hasn't really done that job since April 1968.

That month she went on loan to the Richmond model cities program for a nine-month planning period. Barely back from that, she was loaned within her own agency to work on juvenile delinquency plans for the California Council on Criminal Justice.

She was looking forward to returning to her regular job when Marin's probation chief, John W. Brewer, asked her to consider a third loan period as coordinator of the two Marin commissions.

She had worked with him when he was on the adult and youth authorities: "I came because of my respect for John Brewer," she said, recalling her decision to review the job.

She interviewed in her own way, spending about two hours each with half of the juvenile delinquency prevention commissioners. "I was impressed with them and their willingness to work," she said in an interview this week.

They may have overstated their case. Miss Monroe plans to keep them and the newly formed youth commission busy as she guides them through organizational difficulties and into their first projects.

The delinquency prevention commission has been in existence for more than two years but it has fumbled about most of the time and is not much further along than the new youth commission.

The first task for both will be development of policies and goals.

As that is being done, the delinquency prevention commission will begin working on a factual survey of existing agencies and services dealing with children and youth and the youth commission will be deciding on action programs.

The survey, much of which will be done by commissioners themselves, will look at existing agencies to see what they do rather than just accepting what they say they do.

The delinquency commission has not decided how broad its work will be, but Miss Monroe believes a study covering all agencies in the field would provide the best base for future programs.

Only through such a survey can the commission determine where gaps exist and where services overlap — and become able to fulfill their charge to coordinate such services.

The youth commission is planned as more of an action agency, with one of its prime functions to be review of applications for matching funds for youth projects.

Miss Monroe thinks the commission will go far beyond that and could become an organized voice for youth in Marin.

Both commissions will be creating their own paths, deciding on their own programs and projects she said.

The function of a coordinator, she is convinced, does not include imposing her ideas.

Reagan's Son Lights Capitol Holiday Tree

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Expressing a hope for peace, Gov. Reagan let his 11-year-old son Skipper light the Capitol Christmas tree last night.

The brief ceremony took place at the north steps of the Capitol shortly after dusk, then Reagan and his family entertained his staff and state officials with a reception in his office.

The governor said that "when peace somehow seems so remote," men should remember to "follow His counsel, and it could all come about."

Because of a bout with the flu, Reagan missed traditional noontime caroling in the Capitol rotunda, but he greeted the singers when they appeared at his home early in the afternoon.

Visual Commentary On Israeli History

A visual commentary on the Masada archaeological excavations in Israel, from the book, "Masada" by Yigael Yadin, comprising 20 paintings in egg tempera by San Anselmo artist June Lederman, is on exhibit until March 1 at Temple Emanu-El in San Francisco.

The paintings, depicting relics, remnants and ramparts, may be seen at the temple at Arguello Boulevard and Lake Street on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on weekends from 9 a.m. to noon.

Christmas Programs

The Christmas vacation recreation program of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at Homestead and Edna Maguire schools for children 6 years old and over. The program consists of playground games.

Eaton Visits Hanoi; New War Analysis

TOKYO (AP) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton said today the United States should not believe that North Vietnam is "defeated or discouraged" or that it no longer has the capacity to fight.

After a week in Hanoi, the 86-year-old millionaire reported that the North Vietnamese "would be delighted to end the war, but they are prepared to fight on no matter what time is involved, and they are sure of the massive support of all the Communist countries in the world."

Eaton—sponsor of the Pugwash Conference, which periodically brings Communist and Western leaders together for discussions—said Premier Pham Van Dong and other leaders with whom he spoke appeared convinced that the United States intends to continue the war, either indirectly or through air and naval support for the Saigon government.

The Hanoi chiefs "have made plans for a couple years more of war," he said.

Eaton said the North Vietnamese do not regard the continuing withdrawal of American troops as "a serious effort" but only as a "token to impress the United States."

Eaton said the North Vietnamese told him they want the Paris peace talks to continue even though some changes in personnel may be involved.

"They want the United States to stop pretending it can't speak for the Saigon government," he added.

Eaton said that "the United States must take a more realistic view of the situation. It has got to offer terms to end this war. It cannot offer other armies to take its place."

He gathered, he said, that if President Richard M. Nixon would give a firm assurance he is willing to end the war, the North Vietnamese would respond "with all sorts of flexibility."

"I think this war could be ended overnight on terms which would be acceptable to any American businessman," he added.

Eaton said that among the Hanoi leaders the "feeling of nationalism far surpasses their attachment to communism. They don't want to be dominated by Russia, China or the United States. Every fighting instinct has been aroused by foreign soldiers on their soil."

Eaton, who organized Republic Steel Co., has for years been sympathetic to the Soviet Union and its Communist allies. He and his wife went to Hanoi via Moscow, where he conferred with Soviet leaders.

Restoration Set

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A foundry which once produced the only iron west of the Alleghenies will be restored by the state. It is near Owingsville in Eastern Kentucky.

23 Favoring Vietnam Pullout

An informal poll of the 78 registered voters in the Muir Beach Community Services District has found that 23 favor withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam "as quickly as possible."

Two supported President Richard M. Nixon's policy of gradual withdrawal and continued negotiations, while two others said there should be a unilateral cease-fire and immediate withdrawal. One called for disbanding the U.S. Army.

Fifty persons failed to respond to the poll, "proving Muir Beach to be a typically apathetic American community," according to the pollster, Gerry Pearlman.
